B. Maintain a bond ledger, prepare monthly listings of open items, and reconcile this listing to monies held in trust.

C.1. Assess the CVC and LET fees in accordance with state law.

2. Remit CVC fees in accordance with state law.

D. Require the judge's signature on the court dockets.

Status:

A.1. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

A.2, C.& D. Implemented.

B. Partially implemented. A bond ledger is maintained; however, a monthly listing of open items (liabilities) is not prepared and reconciled to monies held in trust by the city. See MAR No. 2.

3. City of Bell City Municipal Division

A.1. Receipts were not issued for all monies collected. In addition, receipt slips issued were not prenumbered.

2. Receipts were not deposited intact and the composition of receipt slips was not reconciled to the composition of deposits.

B. CVC fees were not assessed in accordance with state law.

C. Records of convictions on traffic tickets were not forwarded to the MSHP on a timely basis.

D. The Municipal Judge had not issued a court order to formally establish the TVB, and a schedule of fines and costs had not been posted.

E. Monthly reports of all cases heard in court were not filed with the city.

Recommendation:

The city of Bell City Municipal Division:

A.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence of receipt slips.

2. Discontinue the practice of cashing checks from daily collections and deposit all receipts intact and reconcile the composition of receipt slips to bank deposits.

B. Assess, collect, and remit CVC fees in accordance with state law.

C. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

D. Issue a court order to formally establish the TVB and post a schedule of fines and court costs at the TVB.

E. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these with the city in accordance with state law.

Status:

A.1. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

2. Partially implemented. Receipts are deposited intact; however, the compositions of receipt slips were not reconciled to deposits. See MAR No. 3.

B&E. Implemented.

C. Partially implemented. Traffic tickets are forwarded to the MSHP; however we noted one ticket that was not forwarded. Although not repeated in our current MAR, the municipal division should still consider fully implementing this recommendation.

D. Partially implemented. A schedule of fines and costs is posted; however, the Municipal Judge has not issued a court order to formally establish the TVB. See MAR No. 3.

4. City of Bloomfield Municipal Division

A.1. The numerical sequence of receipt slips was not accounted for and monthly reports were not reconciled to deposits in the city treasury.

2. Method of payment was not indicated on bond forms and deposit slips were not reconciled to receipt slips and bond forms.

B. The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk were husband and wife.

C. The court did not record the disposition of all cases on the docket and the Municipal Judge did not sign the docket after dispositions were recorded.

D. Neither the police department nor court maintained adequate records to account for traffic tickets assigned and issued and their ultimate disposition.

E. LET fees were not assessed in accordance with state law.

Recommendation:

The city of Bloomfield Municipal Division:

A.1. Account for the numerical sequence of bond forms issued and reconcile the monthly report to monies deposited in the city treasury.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each bond form issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

B. Review and discuss this situation with the Mayor and the City Council to determine the proper resolution of any conflict.

C. Document all case dispositions on the court docket and ensure that the Municipal Judge signs the docket.

D. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all tickets issued. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

E. Collect LET fees on all violations of general city ordinances.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The municipal division no longer accepts bond monies; however, total cash, checks and money orders received and monthly reports are not reconciled to deposits into the city treasury. See MAR No. 4.

B. This recommendation does not apply to the current Municipal Judge and Court Clerk.

C. Partially implemented. Case dispositions are documented on the court docket; however, the Municipal Judge does not sign the court docket after case dispositions are recorded. See MAR No. 4.

D&E. Implemented.

5. City of Campbell Municipal Division

A.1. Deposit slips did not indicate the composition of receipts and receipt slips were not reconciled to deposits.

2. Monthly reports of all cases heard in court were not filed with the city.

3. The numerical sequence of receipt slips was not accounted for properly.

B. Adequate records were not maintained to document amounts due from defendants.

C.1. The municipal division's bank account was reconciled once a year and a running balance was not maintained.

2. An adequate bond ledger was not maintained and monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

3. Bond refund checks were cashed out of court receipts; thus, fines and court costs were not deposited intact.

4. The municipal division's bank account included bonds totaling $663 for bonds that should have been refunded.

5. The police department collected some cash bonds that were not turned over to the court and deposited; they were given directly to the applicable law enforcement agency.

D.1. CVC and LET fees were not assessed in accordance with state law.

2. The state's portion of CVC fees was remitted to the state approximately twice a year.

E. Records of convictions on traffic tickets were not always forwarded to the MSHP.

F. The Municipal Judge had not issued a court order to formally establish the TVB, and the schedule of fines and costs had not been posted.

Recommendation:

The city of Campbell Municipal Division:

A.1. Reconcile the composition of receipt slips to bank deposits.

2. Include the collections on the monthly reports and reconcile to transmittals to the city.

3. Account for the numerical sequence of receipt slips.

B. Maintain complete detailed records of amounts due from defendants.

C.1. Reconcile the Bond Escrow Account on a monthly basis, record all transactions timely, and maintain a running balance in the checkbook register.

2. Maintain a bond ledger, prepare monthly listings of open items, and reconcile this listing to monies held in trust.

3. Discontinue the practice of cashing bond refund checks out of other cash collections.

4. Dispose of unclaimed bonds in accordance with state law.

5. Deposit all bond collections into the Bond Escrow Account and issue checks to applicable law enforcement agencies as needed.

D.1. Assess CVC and LET fees in accordance with state law.

2. Remit CVC fees in accordance with state law, including all past due amounts.

E. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

F. Issue a court order to formally establish the TVB and post a schedule of fines and costs at the TVB.

Status:

A.1,C.1,
C.3,C.4,
& D.1. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

A.2,A.3,
B, C.5,
D.2,
& E. Implemented.

C.2. Partially implemented. A bond ledger is maintained; however, no monthly listing of open-items is maintained and the ledger is not reconciled to monies held in trust. See MAR No. 5.

F. Partially implemented. A court order to formally establish the TVB was issued; however, a schedule of fines and costs has not been posted at the TVB. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the municipal division should still consider fully implementing this recommendation.

6. City of Cardwell Municipal Division

A.1. Receipt slips did not indicate the method of payment.

2. Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

B. Adequate records were not maintained to account for all traffic tickets and complaint forms assigned, issued, and their ultimate disposition.

C. Adequate records were not maintained to document amounts due from defendants.
D. The state's portion of CVC fees was remitted to the state approximately five times for a two year period and the amount remitted did not reconcile to total collections.

E. The Municipal Judge did not sign the docket after dispositions were recorded.

F. Monthly reports of all cases heard in court were not filed with the city.

Recommendation:

The city of Cardwell Municipal Division:

A.1. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued, and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

2. Deposit all receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all tickets and complaint forms assigned and issued. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets and complaint forms.

C. Maintain detailed records of amounts due from defendants.

D. Determine and pay amounts due to the state for CVC, and in the future, ensure CVC fees are remitted to the state in accordance with state law.

E. Require the judge's signature on the court dockets.

F. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these in accordance with state law.

Status:

A.1. & F. Implemented.

A.2, C-E. Not implemented. See MAR No. 6.

B. Partially implemented. The police department does maintain a log that accounts for the numerical sequence off all tickets assigned and issued. However, the log does not include the ticket issuance date or the ultimate disposition of the ticket. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the municipal division should still consider fully implementing this recommendation.

7. City of Clarkton Municipal Division

A.1. Prenumbered receipt slips were not issued and police department receipt slips did not provide a duplicate copy.

2. Method of payment was not indicated on receipt slips and receipts slips were not reconciled to deposits.

3. Receipts slips were not issued for all monies collected.

4. Deposit slips did not indicate individual receipts, and receipts were not deposited intact.

5. Court receipt slips were not issued to the police department for monies transmitted to the court.

6. Cash bonds were not always deposited into the city's bank account but were held by the Court Clerk until disposition of the case.

B. Adequate records were not maintained to account for all traffic tickets issued by the police department. In addition, ticket books were not assigned in sequential order.

C. A bond ledger was not maintained and monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

D. Adequate records were not maintained to document amounts due from defendants. The court did not have procedures to maximize collections of amounts due to the court.

E.1. CVC and LET fees were not assessed in accordance with state law.

2. CVC and LET collections were not documented.

3. CVC fees were not disbursed to the state. The estimated amount the city owed the state was approximately $700 for the two years ended December 31, 1992.

F.1. The Municipal Judge did not sign the docket after dispositions were recorded.

2. The court did not record the disposition of all cases on the docket.

G. The Municipal Judge had not issued a court order to formally establish the TVB, and the schedule of fines and costs had not been posted.

H. Monthly reports of all cases heard in court were not filed with the city.

I. Records of convictions on traffic ticket offenses were not forwarded to the MSHP.

Recommendation:

The city of Clarkton Municipal Division:

A.1. Issue prenumbered, duplicate receipt slips and account for their numerical sequence.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip and reconcile total cash, checks and money orders received to amounts deposited.

3. Issue receipt slips for all monies received.

4. Deposit receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100, record the composition of the deposit on the deposit slips and reconcile to the composition of the receipt slips, and separately record the receipts on the deposit slips or otherwise indicate which receipts make up a deposit.

5. Issue receipt slips or other documentation to the police department for all monies transmitted to the court.

6. Deposit all cash bonds in the city's bank account and make all subsequent disbursements of the bonds by check.

B. Work with the police department to ensure ticket books are issued in order and records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all tickets issued. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

C. Maintain a bond ledger, prepare monthly listings of open items, and reconcile this listing to monies held in trust.

D. Maintain detailed records of amounts due from defendants and establish procedures to maximize the collection of fines and court costs owed to the court.

E.1. Assess the CVC and LET fees in accordance with state law.

2. Maintain classified schedules of receipts to document amounts collected for fines, court costs, CVC, LET, and bonds.

3. Determine CVC fees due to the state and remit those amounts.

F.1. Require the judge's signature on the court dockets.

2. Include all cases and their dispositions in the court docket.

G. Issue a court order to establish the TVB and post a schedule of fines and costs at the TVB.

H. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these in accordance with state law.

I. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

Status:

A.1. Partially implemented. The court issues prenumbered, duplicate receipt slips; however, the numerical sequence is not accounted for. In addition, the police department does not retain a copy of receipt slips issued. See MAR No.7.

A.2, A.3,
A.5, C,
F.-I. Not implemented. See MAR No. 7.

A.4. Partially implemented. Receipts are deposited three to four times a week and court receipts are recorded on a separate deposit slip; however, the composition of the deposit is not indicated on the deposit slip, monies are not deposited intact, and the deposit slips do not indicate the individual receipts composing the deposit. See MAR No. 7.

A.6. Implemented.

B. Partially implemented. Traffic ticket books are issued in order; however, no records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all tickets issued and the ultimate disposition. See MAR No. 7.

8. City of Hornersville Municipal Division

A.1. Duplicate copies of receipt slips issued by the police department were not retained.

2. Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

3. Court receipt slips were not issued to the police department for monies transmitted to the court.

4. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed until deposited.

5. The numerical sequence of receipt slips was not accounted for and receipt slips were not reconciled to deposits. The method of payment was not always correctly recorded on the receipt slips. In addition, deposit slips did not indicate individual receipts and the composition of the deposit.

6. Police department receipt slips were not prenumbered and did not provide a duplicate copy.

B. Adequate records were not maintained to account for all traffic tickets and complaint forms assigned, issued and their ultimate disposition. In addition, complaint forms were not prenumbered.

C.1. The Municipal Judge did not include all cases in the official court docket.

2. The court did not maintain case files for documents which supplemented the official court docket.

D. Adequate records were not maintained to document amounts due from defendants. The court did not have procedures to maximize collections of amounts due to the court.

E. The schedule of fines and costs was not posted at the TVB.

F. Records of convictions on traffic ticket offenses were not always forwarded to the MSHP.

G. Monthly reports of all cases heard in court were not filed with the city.

Recommendations:

The city of Hornersville Municipal Division:

A.1. Retain copies of all receipt slips.

2. Deposit receipts at least monthly.

3. Issue receipt slips to the police department for all monies transmitted to the court.

4. Restrictively endorse all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

5. Accurately record the composition of receipts and deposits and reconcile the two records. List individually each receipt included in the deposit.

6. Work with the police department to issue prenumbered, duplicate receipt slips and account for their numerical sequence.

B. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all tickets and complaint forms issued. A system should be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets and complaint forms.

C.1. Include all cases and their ultimate disposition in the court docket.

2. Retain all court documents.

D. Maintain complete detailed records of amounts due from defendants.

E. Post a schedule of fines and costs at the TVB.

F. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

G. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these in accordance with state law.

Status:

A.1-A.5,
B-D,
F&G. Not implemented. See MAR No. 9.

E. Implemented.

A.6. Partially implemented. The police department issues prenumbered, duplicate receipt slips; however, the numerical sequence is not accounted for properly. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the municipal division should still consider fully implementing this recommendation.

COLFAX TOWNSHIP

HARRISON COUNTY, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-62
August 26, 1999

AUDIT REPORT

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to petitioners from Colfax Township in Harrison County, Missouri.

Colfax Township did not prepare a budget for 1998. While a budget was prepared for 1997, various problems were noted including budgetary overspending and a lack of sufficient and accurate information in the budget document. Actual expenditures in 1997 exceeded the budgeted amount by $11,881. Missouri state law requires townships to keep expenditures within budgeted amounts, unless the governing body approves a resolution authorizing the additional expenditures.

The former township trustee was overpaid $3,150 in commissions during the period from January 1996 to April 1999. The township collector's commissions were incorrectly calculated in 1998 and other compensation paid to township officials did not appear to be in accordance with state law. The township did not properly report compensation and withhold payroll taxes related to compensation paid to township officials.

The former township president was paid $1,475 during 1997 for operating the township's equipment. There was no documentation these services were competitively bid. Such compensation is prohibited unless the transaction is competitively bid. The township does not have a formal bidding policy and has not entered into written contracts for various services received or performed.

The township board does not publish annual financial statements and inventory listings as required by state law. Annual financial statements and inventory listings should be published in a local newspaper which serves the township. In addition, the township's 1997 annual financial report submitted to State Auditor's office was not accurate and an annual financial report for 1998 has not been filed as required.

The board has not held public hearings regarding the township's proposed property tax levies as required. Notices of regular meetings were not posted as required by state law.

An independent review of the records of the township trustee is not performed. Monthly bank reconciliations had not been performed since June 1998, and the receipts and disbursements ledger was not up-to-date. Checks were not restrictively endorsed and voided checks were not retained. In addition, the trustee and other township officials were not properly bonded.

The township does not maintain property records and a formal maintenance plan for township roads has not been prepared.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

To the Board of Directors
Colfax Township
Harrison County, Missouri

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit Colfax Township, Harrison County, Missouri. Our audit of the township included, but was not limited to, the year ended December 31, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, policies, and various township financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the township and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the township.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

COLFAX TOWNSHIP
HARRISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

Colfax Township is one of 20 townships in Harrison County and is located in the northern part of that county. Harrison County elected a township organization in 1845. There are approximately 62 miles of gravel roads maintained by the township. The population of the township in 1990 was 512.

The township's elected Board of Directors (governing body) consists of the township trustee (board member), who serves as the ex officio treasurer, and two members of the township board. One of these two board members is appointed by the board as president. Other officers are the township clerk and the township collector. All officers are elected biennially and take office in April following the election.

Officers at December 31, 1998 were as follows:

	Term Expires	Actual Compensation For the Year Ended December 31, 1998	Amount of Bond

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

COLFAX TOWNSHIP
HARRISON COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Township Officials' Compensation (pages 9-11)

The former township trustee was overpaid $3,150 in commissions during the period from January 1996 to April 1999. The township has not established policies and procedures regarding the township trustee's commissions. The township collector's commissions were incorrectly calculated, resulting in $862 in excess commissions being retained. In addition, other compensation paid to township officials did not appear to be in accordance with state law. The township did not properly report compensation and withhold payroll taxes related to compensation paid to township officials.

2. Expenditures (pages 12-15)

In 1997, the former board president was compensated $1,475 for operating the township's equipment, without adequate documentation indicating these services were bid. Disbursements approved by the board for payment were not adequately documented. Various disbursements were made without board approval, receipt of goods or services was not always documented, invoices were not always marked paid, and adequate supporting documentation was not retained for some expenditures. The township does not have a formal bidding policy and has not entered into written contracts for various services received or performed. The township did not properly report payments for nonemployee services to the Internal Revenue Service.

3. Budgets and Financial Reporting (pages 15-17)

The township did not prepare a budget for 1998. While a budget was prepared for 1997, various problems were noted including budgetary overspending and a lack of sufficient and accurate information in the budget document. The township does not publish annual financial statements and inventory listings as required by state law. The township's 1997 annual financial report submitted to the State Auditor's office was not accurate and an annual financial report for 1998 has not been filed as required.

4. Accounting Records and Procedures (pages 17-19)

An independent review of the records of the township trustee is not performed. Monthly bank reconciliations had not been performed since June 1998, and the receipts and disbursements ledger was not up-to-date. Checks were not restrictively endorsed and voided checks were not properly retained. The township trustee did not file an annual statement of financial activity with the township clerk as required. The township trustee has not been bonded as required, nor have other authorized check signers been bonded. The township does not maintain property records.

5. Township Collector's Accounting Controls (pages 19-20)

Formal bank reconciliations are not performed. Monies received are not always deposited intact or on a timely basis. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt and voided checks are not always retained.

6. Minutes, Meetings, and Access to Records (pages 20-21)

Board minutes are generally not signed by the clerk or a member of the board and minutes do not generally include sufficient detail of matters discussed and actions taken. The board has not held public hearings regarding the township's proposed property tax levies as required. Notices of regular meetings were not posted as required by state law. The township does not have a formal policy regarding public access to township records.

7. Road Maintenance Plan (page 22)

A formal maintenance plan for township roads has not been prepared.

1. Township Officials' Compensation

A. The township trustee, as ex officio treasurer, receives commissions for receiving and disbursing the monies of the township. We noted the following concerns regarding the commissions paid to former Trustee and Ex Officio Treasurer Bergman:

1) During the period from January 1996 through April 1999, former Trustee Bergman received commissions totaling $4,559. However, this official only earned $1,409 in commissions during this period (based on actual disbursements), resulting in an overpayment of $3,150.

The amounts paid to former Trustee Bergman included three payments made in 1998, totaling $1,400, which were apparently made without the board's knowledge or approval. This was possible because both Mr. Bergman and his wife (the former township clerk) served as authorized signers on the township bank account.

It appears this situation occurred because former Trustee Bergman did not properly follow the statutes in determining the commissions owed. Section 65.230(2), RSMo 1994 and Cumulative Supp. 1998, provide for the township trustee to be compensated two percent on the first $1,000 and one percent on all amounts above $1,000 for receiving and disbursing all monies as ex officio treasurer.

Former Trustee Bergman indicated that he believed he was entitled to a two percent commission on all amounts disbursed. In addition, he indicated that the additional payments made to himself in 1998 were for commissions earned but not taken in previous years. Trustee Bergman held that position from 1977 until April 1999. While it appears there were some years where commissions were not paid, the additional payments made in 1998 were not justified. Based on a worksheet prepared by Trustee Bergman documenting the township's expenditures and commissions paid to himself over the past twenty-two years, had the commissions been calculated correctly, the amount of excess commissions received by Trustee Bergman would be even greater than the $3,150 noted above.

The board should review this situation and ensure the amount of excess commissions paid to former Trustee Bergman are recovered.

2) The township has not established any policies and procedures requiring the township trustee to take commissions when they are earned or to ensure the commissions claimed by the trustee are properly calculated.

Payments to former Trustee Bergman were made sporadically and did not appear to correlate with the expenditures of any particular year. In some years no commissions were paid, and in recent years the payments were generally in even dollar amounts. The township could not locate documentation to support how the various commission payments were determined.

The board should establish policies and procedures regarding the commissions due to the township trustee. Such policies and procedures should require the board to ensure the commissions are paid when earned, are properly calculated, and fully documented.

B. Commissions due Township Collector Osborn were incorrectly computed for December 1998. As a result, $862 was improperly retained and not distributed to other county funds and political subdivisions, including the township. Even though the County Clerk in Harrison County calculated the commissions owed to the township collector, the township collector should review the commissions owed to her to ensure proper commissions are withheld from taxes collected and all county funds and political subdivisions receive the proper share of taxes collected.

After we noted this error, the township collector repaid the $862 in excess commissions in April 1999, and this amount was distributed to the various political subdivisions.

C. Other concerns were noted regarding compensation paid to township officials. Prior to August 1998, Section 65.230(1), RSMo 1994, established certain compensation for various township officials. That statute provided that each township board member (including the trustee) and the clerk were to receive a $6 fee for the first board meeting in a month and $2.50 for each subsequent board meeting that month. This section was revised in August 1998 and authorized the township board and clerk to receive up to $25 per day for the first meeting each month and up to $10 for each meeting thereafter during the month.

Compensation paid to township officials did not comply with the above statute. It appears for a number of years the township's policy has been to pay the board members and the clerk $10 per meeting. In November 1998, the board changed this policy to $25 per meeting (in accordance with the revised statute). In addition, the township clerk has received an additional twenty-five cents for each check written, even though this fee does not appear to be authorized by statute. Further, the township clerk and trustee received fees for meetings on several occasions when no official board meeting was held. It appears the payment of this compensation is authorized only if an official meeting of the board is held.

Although the amount of additional compensation paid to township officials as a result of these matters does not appear significant, the township board should review this situation and ensure any future compensation paid to township officials is in accordance with the law.

D. The township does not properly report compensation, withhold payroll taxes, or pay the employer's share of social security on the commissions and/or fees paid to the board members, trustee and ex officio treasurer, and the township clerk.

The Internal Revenue Code requires employers to report such compensation on W-2 forms and withhold federal income taxes. Similarly, Chapter 143, RSMo 1994, includes requirements for reporting such compensation and withholding state income taxes. State and federal laws require employers to withhold payroll taxes and pay the employer's share of social security on the compensation paid to employees. Section 105.300, RSMo 1994, defines an appointive officer or employee of a political subdivision as an employee for social security tax purposes.

WE RECOMMEND the Township Board:

A.1. Review this situation and ensure the amount of excess commissions paid to former Trustee Bergman is recovered.

2. Establish policies and procedures which ensure the commissions earned by the township trustee are taken when earned, are properly calculated, and are fully documented.

B. And the township collector ensure commissions retained on property tax collections are calculated correctly.

C. Review this situation and ensure any compensation paid to township officials complies with the law.

D. Ensure payroll taxes are properly withheld and remitted for any commissions or fees paid to township officials. In addition, the board should ensure that such compensation is properly reported.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A.1. The Township Board indicated it will take this matter under consideration.

A.2.,C, & D. The Township Board concurs.

B. The Township Board and the Township Collector concur.

2. Expenditures

A. Former Board President Henson was paid $1,475 during the year ended December 31, 1997, for operating the township's equipment. According to the township minutes, the board president provided these services because the township could not find anyone else to perform them; however, there was no documentation these services were competitively bid or indicating what efforts were made to obtain these services from other individuals/entities.

At the time these expenditures occurred, Section 105.454, RSMo 1994, prohibited an elected or appointed official of any political subdivision from performing any service for that political subdivision for compensation in excess of $500 per year unless the transaction(s) was made pursuant to an award on a contract made after public notice and competitive bidding, provided that the bid or offer was the lowest received. In 1998, this threshold was changed to $500 per transaction or $1,500 per year.

B. Although there was an occasional reference to a specific invoice being approved for payment, the board minutes usually made only a general reference that expenditures were approved by the board for payment. A listing of the specific expenditures approved by the township board for payment was not prepared and signed by the board members documenting their approval.

To adequately document the board's review and approval of all disbursements, a complete and detailed listing of bills should be prepared, signed or initialed by the members to denote their approval, and retained with the official minutes. In addition, supporting documentation should be reviewed by the township board before payment is made to ensure all disbursements represent valid and reasonable operating costs of the township.

C. The following concerns were noted during a review of paid bills:

1) In addition to the three unauthorized payments discussed in MAR No. 1.A., we noted a number of other disbursements made by the township trustee and the clerk without the board's approval. It appears that a lack of regular monthly meetings may have contributed to this situation. During 1998, meetings were held sporadically, making it difficult to ensure the prompt and timely processing and payment of invoices.

Procedures should be established to ensure all expenditures are reviewed and approved by the township board on a timely basis. This may require the board to hold meetings on a more frequent (such as monthly) basis.

2) Acknowledgment of receipt of goods or services is not always documented on invoices. This is necessary to ensure that all goods or services paid for are actually received.

3) Invoices are not always marked paid or otherwise canceled upon payment. Although no duplicate payments were noted, the possibility of this is increased when invoices are not properly canceled.

4) Vendor invoices or other supporting documentation were not retained for some expenditures. These expenditures included $4,221 in contracted labor and other services, as well as several payments to township officials. All expenditures should be supported by adequate supporting documentation to ensure the obligations were actually incurred and the expenditures represent appropriate uses of public funds.

D. The township does not have formal written bidding policies and procedures. As a result, the decision of whether to solicit bids for a particular purchase is made on an item by item basis. Bids were not solicited or bid documentation was not retained for the following purchases:

Motor grader	$41,075 (represents total payments related to a six year lease purchase contract entered into in 1997).
Equipment repair	1,759
Contract labor	2,262
Snow removal	1,444
Insurance	5,381
Fuel	1,902

Formal bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of township resources and help ensure the township receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding also helps ensure all parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in the township's business. Not only can bids be obtained by telephone quotation, but bids can also be obtained by written quotation, by sealed bid, or by advertised sealed bid. Various approaches are appropriate, based on the dollar amount and type of purchase. Whichever approach is used, complete documentation should be maintained of all bids received and the reasons for selecting the winning bid.

E. The township has not entered into written contracts for various contracted services received. For example, the township has not entered into formal written contracts for repairs to bridges, road maintenance, snow removal, or equipment repair. In addition, we noted an instance where the township decided to upgrade a road and an adjacent landowner agreed to pay a portion of the costs. However, this agreement was not in writing.

Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, requires contracts of political subdivisions be in writing. The township should enter into written contracts for services rendered or obtained. A written contract, signed by the parties involved, should specify the services to be rendered and the manner and amount of compensation to be paid. Written contracts are necessary to ensure all parties are aware of their duties and responsibilities and to provide protection to both parties.

F. The township did not prepare Forms 1099-Miscellaneous as required. In addition to the payments to the board member noted in A. above, the township also paid $5,465 for other nonemployee services during 1998 which was subject to Form 1099-Miscellaneous reporting.

Sections 6041 through 6051 of the Internal Revenue Code require nonemployee payments of at least $600 in one year to an individual or unincorporated business be reported to the federal government on Forms 1099-Miscellaneous.

WE RECOMMEND the Township Board:

A. Refrain from paying township officials for services provided to the township (or entering into any other business transaction with a township official) unless such services or transactions are properly bid in accordance with state law.

B. Ensure the approval of all disbursements is adequately documented by including a complete list of approved bills with the minutes. Such lists should be signed by the board members documenting their approval.

C.1. Establish procedures to ensure all expenditures are properly reviewed and approved by the board on a timely basis.

2. Require evidence of receipt of goods or services on each invoice before making payment.

3. Ensure all invoices or other supporting documentation are canceled or marked paid upon payment.

4. Ensure adequate supporting documentation is maintained for all expenditures.

D. Establish a formal bidding policy and procedures, including documentation requirements regarding the bids or quotes received and justification for the bid selected.

E. Enter into written contracts, which specify the goods or services to be provided and the amount of compensation. These contracts should adequately detail the rights and duties of all parties to the respective contracts and should be properly updated and/or extended when necessary.

F. Ensure Forms 1099-Miscellaneous are prepared and submitted to the Internal Revenue Service as required.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Township Board concurs.

Former Board President Henson indicated the Township Board tried to find a responsible individual to operate the township's equipment but was unsuccessful in doing so. He indicated that he and former Board Member Hoffman then met with the Harrison County Commission and discussed this matter. The commission indicated that having a township official perform and be compensated for this work would not be a problem if the township could not find anyone else to perform these services. The commission also indicated that the situation should be documented in the township board's minutes.

Former Board President Henson indicated that the Township Board discussed the matter of him performing these services on several occasions and this was approved by the entire board prior to him actually performing the work. However, former Board President Henson agrees the board minutes do not include adequate detail to explain and document this situation.

B-F. The Township Board concurs.

3. Budgets and Financial Reporting

A. The township board did not prepare a budget for the year ended December 31, 1998. While a budget was prepared for 1997, a review of that budget document and related practices disclosed the following concerns:

1) Actual expenditures in 1997 exceeded the budgeted amount by $11,881.

Section 67.040, RSMo 1994, requires a political subdivision to keep expenditures within budgeted amounts, unless the governing body adopts a resolution documenting the reasons making any additional expenditures necessary and approves or adopts a resolution to authorize the expenditures.

2) The 1997 actual and estimated revenues and expenditures as well as the prior year actual amounts were presented only in total and not by major revenue and expenditure category.

3) The 1996 actual amount reported for expenditures was not presented accurately, but was $5,339 more than actual expenditures.

4) The board did not periodically compare actual revenues and expenditures to amounts budgeted.

5) The board did not formally approve the budget. Indication of approval of the budget should be documented in the official minutes of the board.

Section 67.010, RSMo 1994, requires each political subdivision to prepare an annual budget, and Sections 67.010 to 67.080, RSMo 1994, set specific guidelines for the format, approval, and amendments of the annual operating budget. A complete budget should include separate revenue and expenditure estimations, and include the beginning available resources and reasonable estimates of the ending available resources. The budget should also include a budget message and comparisons of actual revenues and expenditures for the two preceding fiscal years.

A complete and well-planned budget, in addition to meeting statutory requirements, can serve as a useful management tool by establishing specific cost and revenue expectations for township operations. A budget can also provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs by periodically comparing budgeted amounts to actual expenditures. Further, Section 65.380, RSMo 1994, requires the township board of directors to prepare and file with the county clerk an annual estimate of the amount of money required to defray the expenses of the township.

B. The township board does not publish annual financial statements and inventory listings as required by law. Section 231.280, RSMo 1994, requires the township to publish annual financial statements and inventory listings in any newspaper of general circulation within the township which is published in the county. Publication of an annual financial statement would allow residents to be better informed as to the township's financial activity and condition.

At a minimum, the published financial statements should contain the beginning cash balance, actual receipts by source for the year, actual expenditures by major category for the year, and the ending cash balance.

C. Section 105.145, RSMo 1994, requires the township to file a financial report with the State Auditor's office annually. It appears the 1997 annual financial report was not accurate and overstated receipts and expenditures by $594 and $4,042, respectively. In addition, the annual report for 1998 had not been prepared and submitted to the State Auditor's office as of June 1, 1999. The financial report is to be filed within four months after the end of the township's fiscal year (the requirement is six months after the end of the fiscal year if an audit report prepared by a certified public accountant (CPA) is filed).

The township should ensure the annual financial reports required to filed with the State Auditor's office pursuant to Section 105.145, RSMo 1994, are complete and accurate.

WE RECOMMEND the Township Board:

A. Ensure complete and accurate budgets are prepared annually. The board should ensure actual expenditures do not exceed budgeted amounts and periodically compare actual revenues and expenditures with budgeted amounts to monitor township finances. In addition, the board's approval of the budget should be documented.

B. Ensure annual financial statements and inventory listings are published in accordance with state law.

C. Ensure the annual financial reports filed with the State Auditor's office accurately present the financial activity of the township and are filed within four months after the end of the township's fiscal year (or six months after the end of the fiscal year if a CPA audit report is filed).

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-C. The Township Board concurs.

4.	Accounting Records and Procedures

A. The township trustee is responsible for the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing receipts, preparing checks, recording disbursements, reconciling bank accounts, and serving as co-signer on some checks. While it appears the trustee is statutorily responsible for these duties, internal controls could be improved if the township board required someone having no access to cash and no record keeping responsibilities to receive and review the bank statements and bank reconciliations and review other accounting records on a periodic basis.

B. Bank reconciliations had not been performed and documented by the township trustee since June 1998. In addition, a current book balance has not been maintained in the check book.

Monthly bank reconciliations should be prepared to ensure that all accounting records balance, that transactions have been properly recorded, and any errors or discrepancies are detected on a timely basis. Complete documentation of the reconciliations should be retained. In addition, a book balance should be maintained to facilitate the reconciliations.

C. The township trustee did not adequately maintain the accounting records. Receipts were posted to the ledger maintained by the trustee; however, the date the monies were received was not always indicated. In addition, as of April 1999, the trustee had not recorded any receipts or disbursements in the ledger since November 1998.

To ensure all receipt and disbursement transactions are properly accounted for, records should be maintained up-to-date and include all necessary information.

D. Checks were not restrictively endorsed. The township trustee just signed his name on the back of the checks being deposited. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

E. Voided checks were not properly retained. To ensure all checks are properly accounted for, all voided checks should be properly defaced and retained.

F. The township trustee did not file an annual statement of financial activity with the township clerk as required by law. It appears this was not done because the two officials who held these offices during the audit period were married and worked together in maintaining the records.

Section 65.500, RSMo 1994, requires the trustee to file with the township clerk a detailed statement of all money received and paid out during the year, and the cash balance on hand. This statement should be filed in April of each year.

G. It appears the township trustee has not been bonded for many years even though a bond is required by law. In addition, the president of the board and the clerk were co-signers on the bank account but were not bonded.

Section 65.460, RSMo 1994, requires the township trustee and ex officio treasurer to be bonded in an amount equal to one-half the largest amount on deposit during the year preceding his election or appointment. In addition, although two signatures are required on each check, failure to properly bond any individuals who have check signing authority exposes the township to risk of loss.

H. The township does not maintain property records to account for fixed assets owned by the township. In addition, the fixed assets have not been tagged or otherwise identified as property of the township.

Adequate fixed asset records are necessary to secure better internal control over assets and provide a basis for determining adequate insurance coverage. Additionally, properly tagged items help assure the township that all fixed assets are included on the fixed asset records, and are identified as belonging to the township.

WE RECOMMEND the Township Board:

A. Consider requiring that the bank statements be received and the bank reconciliations should be reviewed by someone having no access to cash, and no record keeping responsibilities. Other accounting records should also be periodically reviewed by an independent person.

B. Ensure monthly bank reconciliations are properly prepared. In addition, a book balance should be maintained to facilitate the reconciliations.

C. Ensure the township's accounting records are maintained up-to-date and include all necessary information.

D. Require all checks to be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

E. Require all voided checks be defaced and retained.

F. Require the trustee to file an annual statement of financial activity with the township clerk each April, as required by statute.

G. Ensure the township trustee is bonded in accordance with statutory requirements. In addition, the board should consider obtaining adequate bond coverage for any other individuals who are authorized check signers.

H. Establish a record of the fixed assets owned by the township. Additionally, the township should properly tag, number, or otherwise identify all township property above an established dollar limit.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Township Board will consider this recommendation; however, it indicated that the Township Clerk is now also involved in some of these record keeping duties.

B-H. The Township Board concurs.

5. Township Collector's Accounting Controls

A review of the township collector's records and procedures disclosed the following concerns:

A. Formal bank reconciliations are not performed. Monthly reconciliations, reconciling the bank balance to the check book balance and to the amount of the monthly turnovers, should be prepared to ensure that all accounting records balance, transactions have been properly recorded, and any errors or discrepancies are detected on a timely basis. Complete documentation of the reconciliations should be retained.

B. Monies received are not always deposited intact or on a timely basis. During our review, we noted the collector withheld $100 in cash from receipts for commissions, instead of disbursing this amount to herself by check. In addition, only three deposits, totaling $22,037, were made during November 1998. The last of these deposits was made on November 18, 1998, with the next deposit not being made until December 17, 1998.

To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, all receipts should be deposited intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. In addition, all disbursements should be made by check.

C. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt, but upon preparation of the deposit. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. Voided checks are not always retained. To ensure all checks are properly accounted for, all voided checks should be properly defaced and retained.

WE RECOMMEND the Township Board ensure the Township Collector:

A. Prepares formal bank reconciliations monthly.

B. Deposits all receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. In addition, all disbursements should be made by check.

C. Restrictively endorses all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

D. Properly retains all voided checks.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A, C, & D. The Township Board and the Township Collector concur.

B. The Township Board and the Township Collector indicated an effort will be made to deposit on a more timely basis. In addition, all disbursements will be made by check.

6. Minutes, Meetings, and Access to Records

A. Board minutes were prepared by the township clerk; however, they were not generally signed by the clerk. In addition, no member of the township board signed the minutes. The board minutes should be signed by the clerk and a designated member of the board to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board meetings.

B. The board minutes did not generally include sufficient detail of matters discussed and actions taken at the board's meetings. For example, in January 1997 the township entered into a lease-purchase agreement for a new motor grader; however, the minutes did not include any details regarding the acquisition of the grader or the related lease agreement. In addition, the minutes of the board meetings did not always contain information required by statute. When the minutes indicated a motion had been passed, the minutes did not generally indicate the number of votes for and against.

   Complete and accurate minutes provide an official record of board actions and decisions. In addition, Section 610.020, RSMo 1994, states that "the minutes shall include the date, time, place, members present, members absent, and a record of votes taken."

C. The board has not held public hearings on the township's proposed property tax levies. Section 67.110, RSMo 1994, requires each governing body to hold at least one public hearing prior to approval of the proposed tax rates at which citizens may be heard. This section also provides guidance on what information is to be included at the public hearing.

D. Notices of the regular board meetings were not posted as required by law. Section 610.020, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998, requires all public governmental bodies to give advance notice of their meetings. The notice is to include the time, date, and place of the meeting, as well as the tentative agenda, and should be given in a reasonable manner. This section of law describes reasonable notice as making available copies of the notice to any representative of the news media, and the posting of such notice at the building where the meeting is to be held.

E. The township does not have a formal policy regarding public access to township records. A formal policy regarding access to township records would establish guidelines for the township to make records available to the public. This policy should establish a person to contact and an address to mail requests for access to records. Section 610.023, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998, lists requirements of making township records available to the public.

WE RECOMMEND the Township Board:

A. Ensure the township clerk and a designated member of the board sign the minutes to attest to their completeness and accuracy.

B. Ensure all significant discussions, actions taken, and information required by state law are included in the minutes.

C. Hold a public hearing on proposed property tax rates as required by state law.

D. Ensure that notices of board meetings are posted as required by law.

E. Establish a formal policy and procedures regarding public access to township records.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-E. The Township Board concurs.

7. Road Maintenance Plan

A formal maintenance plan for township roads is not prepared. A maintenance plan should be prepared in conjunction with the annual fiscal budget and include a description of roads to be worked on, the type of work to be performed, an estimate of the quantity and cost of materials needed, the dates such work could begin, the amount of labor required to perform the work, and other relevant information. The plan should be included in the budget message and be approved by the board. In addition, the board should consider holding a public hearing to obtain input from township residents.

A formal maintenance plan would serve as a useful management tool and provide greater input into the overall budgeting process. Such a plan provides a means to more effectively monitor and evaluate the progress made in the repair and maintenance of roads throughout the year.

WE RECOMMEND the Township Board prepare and document a maintenance plan at the beginning of the calendar year and periodically update the plan throughout the year. In addition, the board should review the progress made in the repair and maintenance of roads to make appropriate decisions on future projects.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Township Board concurs.

This report is intended for the information of the township's management and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

HOWELL COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-61
August 24, 1999

AUDIT REPORT

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Howell, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Howell County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

There were no new findings or additional comments made during this audit.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Howell County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Howell County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Howell County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Howell County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Howell County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Howell County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 20, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Howell County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Howell County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 20, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Howell County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Howell County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Howell County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Howell County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Senate Bill 40 Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
911 Special Equipment Fund	1997
Sheriff Special Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the Assessment Fund and 911 Emergency Telephone Fund in 1997. Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Senate Bill 40 Board Fund, Circuit Clerk Interest Fund, Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund, and Law Library Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $295,276 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $156,335. As of December 31, 1998, $69,487 remains to be paid.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are an integral part of this schedule.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

HOWELL COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Howell County, Missouri, except for the programs accounted for in the Howell County Public Housing Agency Fund. Federal awards for that fund have been audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors for its years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Because Howell County expended no noncash awards for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, the schedule includes expenditures of cash awards only.

C. Basis of Accounting

The schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided federal awards to subrecipients as follows:

Federal CFDA Number	Program Title	Amount Provided Year Ended December 31, 1998	1997
14.231	Emergency Shelter Grants Program	$ 24,320	16,976
16.579	Byrne Formula Grant Program	64,046	0

FEDERAL AWARDS -
SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Howell County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Howell County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Howell County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Howell County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Howell County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like St. Clair, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of St. Clair County was a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds.

There were no new findings or additional comments made during this audit.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT
ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of St. Clair County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of St. Clair County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of St. Clair County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of St. Clair County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of St. Clair County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

St. Clair County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 13, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of St. Clair County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of St. Clair County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 13, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of St. Clair County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of St. Clair County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of St. Clair County, Missouri and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of St. Clair County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board of Trustees. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Sheriff's Civil Fees Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund	1998
Domestic Violence Fund	1998
County Clerk Grant Fund	1997
Federal Prisoner Medical Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund. However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Circuit Clerk Interest Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The Health Center Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depository insurance. However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

VILLAGE OF PASCOLA, MISSOURI

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-59
August 24, 1999

AUDIT REPORT

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to petitioners from the Village of Pascola, Missouri.

On March 23, 1998, the village purchased the former Pascola Elementary School building and surrounding property for $11,000. According to board members, the purchase was primarily made to ensure that the owner would not locate a junkyard on the site. The board has not established a plan to utilize the property. The building, in its current condition, creates a significant risk for the village. It is also doubtful that the village has sufficient unrestricted revenues to repair and maintain the property. We recommend the Board of Trustees establish a plan for the use of the school property, ensuring the property is adequately insured against loss, damage, or liability and that revenues are sufficient to repair and maintain the property, or consider getting rid of the property.

The village has not prepared or adopted annual budgets, published semi-annual financial statements, or submitted annual financial reports to the State Auditor's Office for fiscal years 1996 and 1997, as required by state law.

No notices are posted for meetings held during the year. The board only meets when village business needs to be discussed. During the last three years, the minutes indicate the board has met a total of four times. State law requires notices (including tentative agendas) to be posted in a prominent place which is easily accessible to the public, at least twenty-four hours in advance of the meeting.

The board does not sign the minutes to approve them and the minutes do not include a list of bills approved for payment.

In 1998, the village received approximately $4,700 in motor vehicle-related revenues from the state. The village has not established a separate fund or accounting for these revenues and the related expenditures to ensure these revenues are used only for the purposes allowed by the constitution. Since street-related expenditures are normally less than motor vehicle receipts each year, it is important to establish adequate records to track the unexpended balance.

Village officials have not been elected to office in compliance with state law. The village only holds elections every other year, electing all five members of the Board of Trustees at the same time to the same two-year terms of office. To ensure compliance with state law and to provide for continuity on the board, staggered terms of office should be established and elections of applicable board members should be held each year.

We recommend the village consider appointing separate individuals to the positions of Village Clerk and Village Treasurer. If this is not possible, at a minimum, procedures for an adequate independent review of the record keeping functions should be established.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

To the Honorable Chairman
and
Board of Trustees
Village of Pascola
Pascola, Missouri 63871

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the village of Pascola, Missouri. Our audit of the village included, but was not limited to, the year ended December 31, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, ordinances, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, village policies and ordinances, and various village financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the village and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the village.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

VILLAGE OF PASCOLA, MISSOURI
HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

The village of Pascola was incorporated in 1893 and is located in Pemiscot County. The population of the village in 1990 was 120.

The village government consists of a five-member board of trustees. The board is elected for two-year terms. The chairman is appointed by the board from the members. The village board of trustees at December 31, 1998, was:

Elected Officials	Term Expires	Actual Compensation for the Year Ended December 31,1998

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

VILLAGE OF PASCOLA, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. School Property (page 8)

   In 1998, the village purchased the former Pascola Elementary School building for $11,000, but has no specific plans for the property's future use.

2. Budgets, Minutes, Meetings, and Financial Reports (pages 8-10)

   The village did not prepare or adopt annual budgets. The board does not sign the minutes to approve them and the minutes do not include a list of bills approved for payment. The village did not submit annual financial reports to the State Auditor's office for years ended December 31, 1997 and 1996 and has not separately accounted for restricted use revenues. Semiannual financial statements are not prepared and published as required by law. The board does not have regular meetings and does not post notices of board meetings.

3. Accounting Controls and Procedures (page 11)

   The Village Clerk also serves as the Village Treasurer. The Village Clerk and Board Chairman have check signing authority, but neither party is bonded.

4. Bidding (page 12)

   The village did not solicit bids for paving services in 1995 in the amount of approximately $41,000.

5. Terms of Office (pages 12-13)

   The village only holds elections every two years, rather than electing applicable board members each year to staggered two-year terms of office.

1. School Property

On March 23, 1998, the village purchased the former Pascola Elementary School building and surrounding property for $11,000. According to board members, the purchase was primarily made to ensure that the owner would not locate a junkyard on the site. The board has not established a plan to utilize the property. The building, in its current condition, creates a significant liability risk for the village. It is also doubtful that the village has sufficient unrestricted revenues to repair and maintain the property.

The school building is in very poor physical condition. Numerous windows are broken or missing and, due to a fire several years ago, the roof and part of the exterior wall on one section of the building are gone. The condition of the building makes repairs expensive and creates a public hazard and potential liability for which the village is not insured. In addition, franchise tax receipts and related interest earnings are the only unrestricted revenue source the village has to spend on the property. Based on average annual franchise tax receipts totaling approximately $2,300, it took the village approximately five years to accumulate enough unrestricted franchise tax monies just to purchase the property. At December 31, 1998 the village had only $28,585 in its bank account and certificates of deposit, some of which is restricted by law for use only on street-related purposes. To ensure village assets are effectively utilized and related liabilities are minimized, the board needs to develop a plan for the use of the property.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees establish a plan for the use of the school property, ensuring the property is adequately insured against loss, damage, or liability and that revenues are sufficient to repair and maintain the property, or consider disposing of the property.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The mayor has been reviewing the possibility of having someone demolish the building and will discuss it with the board.

2. Budgets, Minutes, Meetings, and Financial Reports

A. The village does not prepare or adopt annual budgets. Section 67.010, RSMo 1994, requires the preparation of an annual budget which shall present a complete financial plan for the ensuing budget year. Section 67.080, RSMo 1994, provides that no expenditure of public monies shall be made unless it is authorized in the budget.

A complete and well-planned budget, in addition to meeting statutory requirements, can serve as a useful management tool by establishing specific cost and revenue expectations for each area of the village operations and provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs and revenues. It will also assist in informing the public about the village's operations and current finances.

B. The board of trustees meets on an as-needed basis to do the business of the village. We noted the following concerns with the minutes maintained for those meetings.

1) The board minutes are prepared and signed by the Village Clerk, but the minutes are not signed by the chairman or any other board trustees. The board minutes should be signed by the chairman or a designated board member to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board's meetings.

2) The board of trustees does not document its approval of bills. The village writes approximately sixteen checks per year for monthly street light costs, mowing, elections, and miscellaneous expenses. According to the chairman, the board has given verbal approval to the Village Clerk to pay routine bills such as the street light bill and the yearly mowing fee. The board has not documented its standing approval of routine bills. The board also has no documentation of approving other non-routine bills including election costs. The board should include a list of approved bills in the board's minutes. By signing the minutes, the board would also document its approval of the list of bills for payment.

C. The village did not submit annual financial reports for the years ended December 31, 1997, and 1996, to the State Auditor's office pursuant to Section 105.145, RSMo 1994. The village should take care to ensure the annual reports required by state law are submitted to the State Auditor's office.

D. During the year ended December 31, 1998, the village received approximately $4,700 in motor vehicle-related revenues from the state. Article IV, Section 30 of the Missouri Constitution, requires that motor vehicle-related revenues apportioned by the state of Missouri be expended for street-related purposes, including policing, signing, lighting, and cleaning of roads and streets. The village has not established a separate accounting for these revenues and the related expenditures to ensure compliance with the constitutional obligation.

To ensure compliance with the Missouri Constitution, the village should establish a separate fund or accounting of motor vehicle-related revenues and ensure these revenues are used only for the purposes allowed by the constitution. Since street-related expenditures are normally less than motor vehicle receipts each year, it is important to establish adequate records to track the unexpended balance.

E. Semiannual financial statements are not prepared and published or posted as required by law. Section 80.210, RSMo 1994, provides that the board of trustees in March and September, is to prepare and publish semiannual financial statements in a local newspaper or to post semiannual financial statements in six public places within the village.

F. The board does not have a regular monthly meeting. The board only meets when village business needs to be discussed. During the past three years, the minutes indicate the board has met a total of four times. No notices are posted for meetings held during the year. Section 610.020, RSMo, 1994 requires notices (including tentative agendas) to be posted in a prominent place which is easily accessible to the public, to be given at least twenty-four hours in advance, or if not feasible, reasons are to be documented in the board minutes. In addition, more frequent regular meetings would allow the public a forum for addressing concerns and questions to the board.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Prepare and adopt annual budgets as required by state law.

B. Document its review and approval of the board minutes and list of bills by signing, or designating a board member to sign, the official copy of the minutes which includes the list of bills maintained by the Village Clerk.

C. Ensure that annual financial reports are filed with the State Auditor's office.

D. Establish the necessary funds to account for motor vehicle-related revenues restricted for street related purposes.

E. Ensure semiannual financial statements are published or posted in accordance with state law.

F. Ensure notices of the board meetings are posted in accordance with state law. In addition, the board should consider holding more frequent, regularly scheduled meetings to allow for public participation.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We agree and will try to prepare a budget for next year.

B-F. We agree.

3. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The village has one person that serves as the Village Clerk and Treasurer. The duties of this official include maintaining receipt and disbursement records, making bank deposits, preparing and signing checks, receiving bank statements, and preparing financial reports.

Neither the board nor other personnel independent of the cash custody and the record-keeping functions provide adequate supervision or review of the work performed by the Village Clerk.

Attorney General's Opinion No. 24, 1955 to Dodds, concluded that in a fourth-class city the holding of the positions of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Collector, or any two of these three offices, by the same person at the same time would be incompatible. The statutes pertaining to villages are similar to those cited in this opinion and, thus, the opinion's conclusion appears applicable to villages.

Holding two of these offices does not allow the separation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions. The current procedures jeopardize the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

B. The Village Clerk and Board Chairman are authorized to sign checks. However, the village does not have bond coverage for them. Section 80.250, RSMo 1994, requires the Village Clerk to be bonded in a sum not less than one thousand dollars. Failure to properly bond all persons with access to assets exposes the village to risk of loss. Currently, dual signatures on checks are not required. Requiring two signatures on all checks would also provide additional controls over the use of the funds.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Provide for an adequate segregation of duties. If this is not possible, at a minimum, procedures for adequate independent review of accounting records should be established.

B. Obtain adequate bond coverage for all persons handling village monies and require two signatures on all checks.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We agree.

4. Bidding

The village usually expends monies each year on small, routine items such as street lights, elections, mowing services, street signs, and minor street repair. However, the village paid approximately $41,000 to a paving company for paving services in 1995 without soliciting competitive bids.

While the village appears to accumulate its monies and only occasionally makes large purchases, competitive bidding for major purchases would help ensure the village receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding would also help ensure all parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in the village's business. Due to the village's small amount of annual receipts, it is important that it ensures it is getting competitive prices on its large purchases.

Bids can be handled by telephone quotation, by written quotation, by sealed bids, or by advertised bids. Various approaches are appropriate, based on the dollar amount and type of purchase. Whichever approach is used, complete documentation should be maintained of all bids received and reasons noted why the winning bid was selected.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees ensure future major purchases are competitively bid.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We agree.

5. Terms of Office

Village officials have not been elected to office in compliance with state law. The village only holds elections every other year, electing all five members of the Board of Trustees at the same time to the same two-year terms of office. Section 80.040, RSMo 1994, requires board members to be elected to staggered two-year terms, with two members being elected in one year and the other three being elected the next.

To ensure compliance with state law and to provide for continuity on the board, staggered terms of office should be established and elections of applicable board members should be held each year.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees establish staggered terms of office and ensure elections are held each year for applicable board members.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will take this recommendation under advisement.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the village of Pascola and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

Report No. 99-58

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Pulaski, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Pulaski County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

< Although many internal control problems in the County Collector's office were noted in the prior audit, little attempt was apparently made to implement prior recommendations. This audit again noted weaknesses such as not properly reconciling daily paid tax receipts to deposits and computer reports. Bank reconciliations when attempted were not properly prepared and reconciliations had not been attempted since June 1998. There was $26,000 of unidentified monies in the bank at February 28, 1999. The County Collector had not filed annual settlements for the years ended February 28, 1998 and 1999.

< The county was withholding a 10% collection fee from tourism tax collections. The audit questioned the statutory authority to withhold this fee and recommended the County Commission review this situation with its Prosecuting Attorney to ensure monies collected for tourism were being properly handled.

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve budgetary procedures and to better monitor collateral securities pledged by the county banks. The audit also suggested improvements be made by the Circuit Clerk and the Prosecuting Attorney in preparing timely bank reconciliations and reconciling liability listings to cash balances.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Pulaski County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Pulaski County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Pulaski County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 1, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Pulaski County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Pulaski County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 1, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted another matter involving the internal control over financial reporting which is described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Pulaski County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Senate Bill 40 Board, or the Senior Citizens Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Country Hills NID Fund	1998
Dye Estates NID Fund	1998
Eagle Point NID Fund	1998
Timbers NID Fund	1998
Tourism Board Fund	1998
Sewer Grant Fund	1998
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Family Court Fund	1998 and 1997
Civil Fees Fund	1997
Law Library Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998
Local Use Tax Fund	1998 and 1997
H Highway NID Fund	1998
Civil Fees Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

Although Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, requires a balanced budget, a deficit balance was budgeted in the 911 Emergency Service Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Law Library Fund, Senate Bill 40 Board Fund, Senior Citizens Services Board Fund, Circuit Clerk Interest Fund, and Family Court Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's, Senior Citizens Board's, and Senate Bill 40 Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's or board's custodial bank in the county's or board's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances for the county existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $361,353 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $184,523. As of December 31, 1998, $82,011 remains to be paid.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are an integral part of this schedule.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

PULASKI COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Pulaski County, Missouri, except for the program accounted for in the Pulaski County Public Housing Agency Fund. Federal awards for that fund have been audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors for its years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) and the amounts for the surplus property program passed through the state Department of Public Safety (CFDA number 12.unknown) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $9,653 and $8,547 to a subrecipient under the Emergency Shelter Grants Program (CFDA number 14.231) during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively.

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Pulaski County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Pulaski County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Pulaski County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. However, the results of our auditing procedures disclosed an instance of noncompliance with those requirements, which is required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Pulaski County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Pulaski County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section II - Financial Statement Findings

This section includes no audit findings that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

Section III - Federal Award Findings and Questioned Costs

This section includes the audit finding that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

98-1. Emergency Shelter Grants Program

Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
Pass-Through Grantor: State Department of Social Services
Federal CFDA Number: 14.231
Program Title: Emergency Shelter Grants Program
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: ERO1640156
Award Year: 1998 and 1997
Questioned Costs: $18,200

Pulaski County received $9,653 and $8,547 in Emergency Shelter Grant monies during 1998 and 1997, respectively. The county then granted the Emergency Shelter Grant monies to the Pulaski County Crisis Center (Crisis Center). The county does not have a contract with the Crisis Center regarding the use of these funds. As a result, we questioned the entire $18,200 received during the audit period.

Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, requires all agreements to be in writing. Furthermore, Section 410(d) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the county to inform the Crisis Center of various information about the award and requirements imposed on them by Federal laws and regulations.

Written agreements and periodic monitoring would help ensure that monies distributed to the Crisis Center are expended in accordance with grant requirements and as intended by the County Commission. In addition, written agreements are necessary to clearly outline the expectations and responsibilities of each party, establish time frames for project completion, and specify services to be provided and the related compensation.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission enter into a written agreement with the Crisis Center regarding the use of Emergency Shelter Grant monies.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

We have held discussions with the Crisis Center regarding obtaining a contract and have reached a verbal agreement with them. A written contract will be obtained shortly.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings for an Audit of Financial Statements Performed in Accordance With Government Auditing Standards

PULASKI COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS FOR AN
AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

Our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

PULASKI COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

3. Written Agreements

Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
Pass-Through Grantor: State Department of Social Services
Federal CFDA Number: 14.231
Program Title: Emergency Shelter Grants Program
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: ERO1640156
Award Year: 1996 and 1995
Questioned Costs: $18,722

The county did not have a written agreement with the Pulaski County Crisis Center to ensure that funds provided to the Pulaski County Crisis Center were used in accordance with the grant requirements.

Recommendation:

The County Commission enter into formal written agreements when providing or receiving goods or services and resolve the questioned costs with the grantor agency.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

PULASKI COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Pulaski County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 1, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Pulaski County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 1, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Health Center Board and the Pulaski County Public Housing Agency are audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related funds are not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed those audit reports and the substantiating working papers.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Pulaski County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Budgetary Practices

A. Formal budgets were not prepared and filed with the State Auditor's Office for various county funds for the years ended December 31, 1998, or 1997.

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires preparation of annual budgets for all funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year. In addition, by preparing and obtaining budgets for all county funds and activities, the County Commission is able to more effectively evaluate all county financial resources.

B. Warrants were issued in excess of approved budgeted expenditures in the following funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998, as follows:

Fund	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997
Law Enforcement Training Fund	$ 2,874	N/A
Local Use Tax Fund	14,433	311,300
H Highway NID Fund	421	N/A
Civil Fees Fund	13,919	N/A

It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo. 1122, 273 SW2d 246(1954), that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's Office.

C. Although Section 50.610, RSMo 1994, requires balanced budgets, the County Commission budgeted for a deficit of $128,099 for the 911 Emergency Service Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998. Article VI, Section 26(a) of the Missouri Constitution prohibits deficit budgeting.

Similar conditions were also noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds.

B. Not authorize disbursements in excess of budgeted expenditures.

C. Discontinue deficit budgeting.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission provided the following responses:

A. All the funds noted in the report were budgeted for calendar year 1999.

B. We will monitor these funds more closely to ensure budgeted amounts are not exceeded.

C. The budget deficit occurred due to start up costs, which exceeded the budget estimates. These costs were funded by a loan from the General Revenue Fund. It is the County Commission's intent that this loan be repaid with interest to the General Revenue Fund. We are attempting to obtain additional revenue sources for the 911 Emergency Service Fund so this loan can be repaid. The budget document will be prepared in the future, to not show a deficit budget.

2. Collateral Securities

At January 19, 1999, the amount of collateral securities pledged was insufficient by approximately $2.8 million to cover monies in the custody of the County Collector. On January 19, 1999, the County Collector turned over $2.9 million to the County Treasurer which represented property tax collections for December 1998. As a result, the amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary bank at January 21, 1999, was insufficient by approximately $1.7 million to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer. It appears these situations occurred because bank balances are not being monitored by the county officials.

Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, provides that the value of the securities pledged should at all times be not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the FDIC. Inadequate collateral securities leave county funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of a bank failure.

WE RECOMMEND the County Treasurer and County Collector ensure collateral securities pledged by the depositary bank are sufficient to protect monies at all times.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Treasurer provided the following response:

I now have a computer spreadsheet to track collateral securities and county cash balances to ensure the collateral pledged is sufficient to cover county cash balances at all times.

The County Collector provided the following response:

I will check into setting up a computer spreadsheet to track collateral securities to ensure they are sufficient to cover cash balances.

3. Tourism Tax Collection Fees

In August 1998, the voters of Pulaski County authorized a tourism tax to promote tourism in the county. According to the ballot issue and Section 67.1000, RSMo Supp. 1998, this tax is to be used solely for funding a convention and visitors bureau to promote tourism. The county contracted with the Pulaski County Visitors Bureau (Bureau) to promote tourism in the county and remits ninety percent of monies collected to the Bureau. The remaining ten percent of monies collected are retained by the county as a collection fee. The county indicated they were informed that the state's Department of Revenue (DOR) would not collect the tax so the county established a collection fee to recoup the county's costs related to the tax collections. Although Section 69.1000 provides for the (DOR) to withhold a collection fee of between 1% and 3%, there does not appear to be any statutory authority for the county to retain a collection fee for these tourism taxes collected. Additionally, there is nothing to support the 10% fee established by the county.

To ensure all monies collected for the tourism tax are being appropriately handled, the county needs to review this situation with its Prosecuting Attorney.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission review this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney to ensure monies collected for the tourism tax are being handled correctly.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission provided the following response:

We will review this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney and take appropriate action.

4. County Collector's Controls and Procedures

The County Collector is responsible for collecting and distributing property taxes for most political subdivisions within the county. During the years ended February 28, 1999 and 1998, the County Collector collected property taxes totaling approximately $6.4 and $6.1 million, respectively.

During our review, we noted many serious problems in the control procedures used by the County Collector to account for this money. Although many of these problems were noted in the prior audit, little attempt was apparently made to implement our prior recommendations. As a result, there is limited assurance that all property tax monies have been accounted for properly. We noted the following problems during our review:

A. The County Collector has not established effective controls over monies received for tax payments in his office. Our review of the controls used by the County Collector to process tax payments revealed the following concerns:

1) The County Collector compares the money he deposits to the daily abstract of taxes paid from the computer system. However, the amounts rarely agree and the County Collector recalculates the deposits and the abstract amounts to attempt to reconcile the amounts. If the amounts can not be readily reconciled the differences go unreconciled and an attempt is not made to reconcile these amounts until after the end of the year.

2) Each paid tax receipt is given a sequential number when it is marked paid by the County Collector. The County Collector does not account for the numerical sequence of these numbers for the taxes that are paid each day or reconcile the paid tax receipts to the daily abstracts of taxes paid.

3) The County Collector receives a large volume of mail at the end of December and early January. This mail is bundled together by date received; however there are no procedures in place to ensure this mail is processed sequentially or in a timely manner. On February 8, 1999, the County Collector was holding 200 pieces of unopened mail dating back to January 4, 1999. Mail received for about half of the dates between January 4, 1999, and February 8, 1999, had been processed and deposited into the County Collector's bank account. However, there was no explanation why mail received for 11 dates haphazardly spread throughout this time period was not processed.

4) The County Collector has a change fund, however it is not maintained at a constant amount. Unless the change fund is maintained at a constant amount, the County Collector cannot be assured that all cash received during the day is later deposited into the bank account.

5) The County Collector occasionally accepts partial payments of taxes. On January 26, 1999, the County Collector could identify five partial payments totaling $1,153. Partial payments are attached to the County Collector's copy of the tax bill and filed with all the other unpaid tax bills. No other record is kept for partial payments. As a result, partial payments are not deposited into the bank account until the taxes are paid in full and monies are unsecured throughout the office.

Many of the problems in the County Collector's office are the result of not properly reconciling monies received each day to the amount of paid tax receipts and the daily abstract of taxes paid from the County Collector's computer system. These reconciliations, along with processing all payments timely, maintaining the change fund at a constant amount, and maintaining records of partial payments, would help the County Collector ensure all tax payments have been properly processed, recorded in the computer system, and deposited in the bank account. In March 1999, the County Collector started accounting for the numerical sequence of paid tax statements, reconciling daily collections to the total of the paid tax statements and to the daily abstract of taxes paid, and maintaining the change fund at a constant amount. It is essential that the County Collector continue to perform these reconciliations daily.

B. The County Collector maintains a deposit account which is interest bearing and all deposits are made into this account. When the County Collector needs to disburse property taxes, he transfers money from this account to another account (the disbursement account), which is not interest bearing. Our review of the County Collector's records for these accounts revealed the following concerns:

1) Bank reconciliations are periodically attempted; however, they are not properly prepared on a monthly basis for either bank account. The last reconciliation that was completed as of January 1999 was for June 1998. This reconciliation included only an outstanding check list that was not correct and was not totaled correctly. It did not reconcile the bank's balance with the balance in the County Collector's records. Furthermore, we noted several bank statements had not even been opened by the County Collector.

   Timely bank reconciliations are necessary to ensure bank and book records are in agreement and to ensure errors are detected and corrected in a timely manner.

2) The County Collector receives a significant number of checks each year that are returned by the bank due to insufficient funds. The County Collector does not have any policies or procedures in place to account for these checks, or to ensure the checks are collected. The checks, copies of letters sent by the County Collector, and notices from the bank are placed haphazardly in a box. Our review noted this box contained documentation for approximately $10,900 in insufficient funds checks and included checks which were collected as well as checks that were unpaid. There is no consistent methodology used by the County Collector to record collection efforts or payments. In addition, there are no standard procedures to add the amounts back to the tax books or turn checks over to the Prosecuting Attorney for collection.

In order to properly account for these checks and to maximize collections, the County Collector should establish appropriate procedures and accurate recordkeeping for these checks.

Failure to adequately perform basic accounting procedures and reconciliations, and establish proper controls severely lessens the County Collector's ability to adequately account for monies received and disbursed and hampers the office's ability to function efficiently. Timely action should be taken to correct these deficiencies.

C. At February 28, 1999, the County Collector had an unidentified balance of approximately $26,000 in the bank accounts. The unidentified balance in the County Collector's bank accounts fluctuates each month as a result of errors made by the County Collector in processing tax payments, entering them in the computer system, and reconciling them to deposits. As noted in our prior two audit reports, some tax payments were not entered in the computer system and distributed, and are unidentified in the County Collector's bank account. This unidentified balance decreased approximately $12,000 during the audit period as the County Collector apparently identified several old tax receipts that had been paid and deposited but had not been entered into the computer system or distributed to the taxing authorities. Had the County Collector performed the reconciliations noted in A above, these errors could have been detected and corrected more timely rather than waiting several years to make the correction.

D. The County Collector is required by Section 139.160, RSMo 1994, to file an annual settlement with the County Clerk by the first Monday in March of each year. The County Collector has not filed an annual settlement for either of the two years ended February 28, 1999. The annual settlement for the year ended February 28, 1998, is over 15 months late. In order for the County Clerk to properly verify the various tax books, it is imperative the County Collector file annual settlements on a timely basis with the County Clerk. In addition, timely annual settlements are an essential part of the checks and balances system established by state law.

WE RECOMMEND the County Collector:

A.1. Reconcile daily cash collections to the daily abstract of taxes paid from the computer system.

2. Account for the numerical sequence of numbers assigned to paid tax receipts and reconcile paid tax receipts to daily cash collections.

3. Establish procedures to ensure the processing of collections received in the mail is performed in a timely manner.

4. Maintain the change fund at a constant amount.

5. Not accept partial payments of taxes. If partial payments are accepted, the County Collector should keep adequate records of partial payments.

B.1. Reconcile all bank accounts monthly and agree reconciled bank balances to all liabilities of the office.

2. Maintain adequate records of insufficient funds checks and remit all insufficient funds checks to the Prosecuting Attorney for collection.

C. Attempt to identify liabilities for all amounts in the bank account. Any amounts remaining unidentified should be distributed to the political subdivisions in the county on a pro-rata basis.

D. File annual settlements in a timely manner.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Collector provided the following responses:

A.1-4. These recommendations were implemented in March 1999.

A.5. I am no longer going to accept partial payments.

B.1. I am now doing these reconciliations monthly.

B.2. I will establish a standard procedure and form to follow-up on insufficient funds checks and will remit checks which remain unpaid to the Prosecuting Attorney.

C. The current unidentified balance has been reduced to approximately $6,000. I will continue to attempt to identify the remaining unidentified balance.

D. I am currently working on the settlements for the years ended February 28, 1999 and 1998, and will try to file the annual settlements more timely in the future.

5. Circuit Clerk's Controls and Procedures

The Circuit Clerk is responsible for assessing, collecting, and distributing monies in connection with circuit court proceedings. Our review of the Circuit Clerk's records and procedures revealed significant concerns, particularly with procedures pertaining to the civil fees account. The cash balance of the civil fees account was approximately $260,000 at December 31, 1998. Essential reconciliation procedures were not being performed throughout much of the audit period.

A. The Circuit Clerk has not reconciled open items listings to the bank balance for the civil fees account since January 1997. Open items listings were prepared from February 1997 through June 1997, but were not reconciled to the bank balance. No open items listings have been prepared since June 1997.

Only by preparing accurate listings of open items and agreeing the total with the reconciled cash balance can the Circuit Clerk be assured that sufficient assets exist to cover liabilities and all monies in her custody can be properly identified. Such reconciliations also allow for the prompt detection and correction of errors.

B. Formal bank reconciliations for the civil fees account were not prepared on a timely basis. In November 1998, the bank reconciliations for the prior three months had not been prepared. As of March 1999, the bank reconciliations were still three months behind. At this time, we discussed the problem with the Circuit Clerk and she did not appear to be aware that there was a problem. However, she ensured that the reconciliations were completed within a week following our discussion.

Timely preparation of bank reconciliations is necessary to ensure accounting records and bank records are in agreement and allows for timely detection and correction of errors. In addition, the Circuit Clerk should review the bank reconciliations monthly to ensure they are properly prepared.

C. At December 31, 1998, checks totaling $2,003 on the civil fees account had been outstanding for more than one year. Some of these checks date back to 1994. The Circuit Clerk does not routinely follow up on old outstanding checks.

The Circuit Clerk should adopt procedures to routinely follow up on old outstanding checks and reissue the check if the payee can be located. If the payee cannot be located, various statutory provisions provide for the disposition of unclaimed monies. Among them are Sections 50.470 through 50.500, RSMo 1994, which provide for certain monies to be turned over to the County Treasurer for credit to the Unclaimed Fees Fund. In addition, Sections 447.500 through 447.595, RSMo 1994, provide for some unclaimed property to be distributed to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk:

A. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile such listings to the cash balance. Any differences should be investigated and resolved.

B. Ensure formal bank reconciliations are prepared on a monthly basis and review the reconciliations for propriety.

C. Adopt procedures to routinely follow up on old outstanding checks. Any remaining unclaimed amounts should be disbursed in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Circuit Clerk provided the following responses:

A. We have prepared an open items listing for May 1999 and we are in the process of reconciling it to the cash balance. Future open items listings will be prepared and reconciled to the cash balance.

B&C. These have already been implemented.

6. Prosecuting Attorney's Procedures

A. The Prosecuting Attorney maintains a bank account for the collection of court ordered and bad check restitutions. Approximately $200,000 to $300,000 in restitution is processed through this account each year. The Prosecuting Attorney does not prepare bank reconciliations or maintain a book balance. As of February 1999, no book balance had been determined or bank reconciliation prepared since February 1998. A bank reconciliation was attempted in March 1998, but was not completed. After we assisted the Prosecuting Attorney's staff with several of the bank reconciliations, all bank reconciliations were completed through February 1999.

At December 31, 1998, the balance in the Prosecuting Attorney's bank account contained approximately $30,000 of unidentified monies. Unidentified monies have hampered the ability to prepare open item listings. Since he took office in 1995, the Prosecuting Attorney has identified a substantial portion of the unidentified monies that was turned over to him when he took office. These efforts to identify the money should continue to the extent practical; however, funds which cannot be identified should be turned over to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

Monthly bank reconciliations and reconciliations of open items to the cash balance are necessary to provide assurance that receipts and disbursements have been accurately handled and recorded, and that cash balances can be properly identified to appropriate liabilities and other reconciling items.

B. The Prosecuting Attorney is the custodian of the Law Library Fund. Our review of the Law Library Fund revealed the following concerns:

1) The bank account for the Law Library Fund is not reconciled with the accounting records. As a result, a deposit in the account made in January 1998 in the amount of $2,150 was not recorded in the accounting records and was not detected until we informed the Prosecuting Attorney about this recording error in March 1999.

Complete and accurate bank reconciliations are necessary to ensure all monies have been properly deposited, accounting records are in agreement with the bank, and errors or discrepancies are detected and corrected timely.

2) Monies received from the Circuit Court for the Law Library Fund are not deposited timely. We noted several checks totaling several thousand dollars were held for a few months and deposited together. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, all receipts should be deposited intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

3) During our review, we noted that the Prosecuting Attorney did not maintain original invoices to support any disbursements. The invoices are used to verify the vendors' billing statements and are then discarded. To ensure all purchases made from the Law Library Fund are reasonable and valid, original invoices should be retained for all disbursements.

WE RECOMMEND: the Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Prepare monthly bank reconciliations and open items listings, and reconcile them to the cash balance. Any discrepancies should be investigated and resolved.

B.1. Prepare monthly bank reconciliations for the Law Library Fund and reconcile them to the cash balance. Any discrepancies should be investigated and resolved immediately.

2. Deposit receipts for the Law Library Fund daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

3. Retain original invoices to support all disbursements made from the Law Library Fund.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Prosecuting Attorney provided the following responses:

A. I will ensure monthly bank reconciliations and open items listings are prepared and reconciled to the cash balance in a timely manner.

B. I will implement these recommendations.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Pulaski County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

PULASKI COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Pulaski County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Budgetary Practices

   A. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds.

   B. Warrants were issued in excess of approved budgeted amounts for various funds.

   C. The County Commission budgeted a deficit balance for the 911 Emergency Service Fund for the year ended December 31, 1996.

   Recommendations:

   The County Commission:

   A. Ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds.

   B. Keep expenditures within the total amount budgeted. Extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and the budgets properly amended following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's Office.

   C. Discontinue deficit budgeting.

   Status:

   A-C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

2. Elected Officials Salaries

   Salaries of elected officials were increased without a vote of the salary commission or a written opinion from the Prosecuting Attorney to support the salary increase.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission review this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney. In addition, all further actions of the salary commission should be clearly understandable to all officials as well as county taxpayers.

Status:

Implemented. The Prosecuting Attorney provided the County Commission with a written opinion to support all salary increases.

3. Written Agreements

The county provided funding to the Fort Leonard Wood Regional Commerce and Growth Administration (FLWRCGA) but did not have a contract with these agencies to ensure county monies were used appropriately.

Recommendation:

The County Commission enter into formal written agreements when providing or receiving goods or services.

Status:

Implemented. The county did enter into a contract with the FLWRCGA.

4. Road and Bridge Procedures

A. The road and bridge department did not maintain complete maintenance and repair records for all road maintenance equipment.

B. The road and bridge department did not have a road maintenance schedule.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Maintain equipment maintenance logs and review these records periodically for reasonableness.

B. Develop a county road maintenance schedule.

Status:

A. Implemented.

B. Partially implemented. Although the county did not develop a road maintenance schedule, they did develop other records that allow them to track the maintenance of county roads. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

5. County Collector's Controls and Procedures

A.1. The County Collector did not reconcile monies collected, paid tax receipts, and daily reports of collections to deposits in the bank account.

2. The County Collector did not reconcile cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits and did not maintain a constant amount in the change fund.

B.1. The County Collector did not maintain a book balance for the deposit account.

2. Bank reconciliations were not completed properly or timely.

3. Checks totaling approximately $10,500 returned by the bank due to insufficient funds were held by the County Collector and not turned over to the Prosecuting Attorney for collection.

C. The County Collector had unidentified monies in his bank account.

D. Monthly and annual settlements were not filed timely.

Recommendation:

The County Collector:

A.1. Reconcile monies collected to daily reports of collection deposits in the bank account and to the paid tax receipts. Any differences should be fully investigated and documented on the reconciliation.

2. Deposit all receipts intact, indicate the mode of payment on the paid tax statements, and reconcile the composition of cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

B1&2. Maintain book balances for all bank accounts and reconcile the accounts to the bank balance monthly.

3. Turn over insufficient funds checks to the Prosecuting Attorney for collection.

C. Monthly reconcile cash balances to all liabilities and distribute any unidentified monies on a pro-rata basis to all the political subdivisions.

D. File monthly and annual settlements in a timely manner in accordance with state law.

Status:

A-C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 4.

D. Partially implemented. Monthly settlements were filed more timely during the audit period, but annual settlements are still not filed. See MAR No. 4.

6. Prosecuting Attorney's Restitution Account

The restitution account had a balance of $48,493 which included a large amount of unidentified monies.

Recommendation:

The Prosecuting Attorney make additional efforts to identify the source of these unidentified monies. After making these efforts, the Prosecuting Attorney should remit any remaining unidentified monies to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

Status:

Partially implemented. The Prosecuting Attorney did identify the source of some of these monies; however, there are still unidentified monies in the bank account. See MAR No. 6.

7. Sheriff's Procedures

A. Phone commission checks were not remitted to the county treasury in a timely manner.

B. Receipt slips were not issued immediately upon receiving monies.

C. Monies received for calendar sales were not remitted to the county treasury.

Recommendation:

A. Remit all phone commissions monthly to the County Treasurer.

B. Write receipt slips immediately upon receiving money.

C. Remit calendar commission monies to the county treasury and request the County Commission to establish a petty cash fund in the Sheriff's Department.

Status:

A-C. Implemented.

8. Circuit Clerk's Unpaid Court Costs

The Circuit Clerk did not update a computer listing of amounts owed to the court for payments and mailed delinquent notices to individuals who had already paid their court costs in full.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk update the computerized listing of delinquent court costs as payments are made and review the case fee sheets and reconcile these sheets with the computer listing before mailing any delinquent notices.

Status:

Implemented.

9. Senate Bill 40 Board

The Senate Bill 40 Board did not have a contract with the sheltered workshop.

Recommendation:

The Senate Bill 40 Board enter into a formal written contract with the sheltered workshop.

Status:

Implemented.

10. Pulaski County Health Department Procedures

A.1. Receipt slips were not prenumbered and receipt slips were not issued for some monies received. In addition, the mail log was not reconciled with the receipt slips.

2. The method of payment was not always noted on receipt slips.

B. Some transactions for the Irene Mahoney Fund were not recorded on the ledger and the ledger was not periodically reconciled to the cash on hand.

Recommendation:

The Health Department's Board of Trustees:

A.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received, account for the numerical sequence and reconcile the mail log to receipt slips.

2. Indicate the method of payment on all receipt slips and reconcile the composition of receipt slips to the composition of deposit slips.

B. Record all transactions in the ledger for the Irene Mahoney Fund and perform periodic reconciliations between the ledger balance and the amount of cash on hand.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

PULASKI COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1833, the county of Pulaski was named after Polish Count Casimir Pulaski, a Revolutionary War General. Pulaski County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the 25th Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Waynesville.

Pulaski County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Pulaski County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
Property taxes	$ 289,417	9	293,772	9

In addition, the county pays a proportionate share of the salaries of other circuit court-appointed employees. Pulaski County's share of the 25th Judicial Circuit's expenses is 38.97 percent.

During 1998 and 1997, Pulaski County formed five neighborhood improvement districts. The county issued temporary notes to pay for the improvements made in each district and subsequently issued general obligation bonds to pay off the temporary notes. The county will use special assessments on the land owners in the respective districts to pay off the general obligation bonds over the next twenty years. The five neighborhood improvements districts and the costs of the improvements were as follows:

Northwood Estates	$ 138,722
Eagle Point	69,207
Timbers	137,240
Dye Estates	56,411
Country Hills	73,220

On August 4, 1998, the voters of Pulaski County authorized a tourism tax of three percent to be assessed against each sleeping room occupied and rented by transient guests of hotels and motels located in the county where the proceeds are expended for the promotion of tourism. The county began collecting the tourism tax in October 1998 and contracted with the Pulaski County Visitors Bureau to promote tourism.

HENRY COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

AUDIT REPORT

Report No. 99-57
August 20, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Henry, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Henry County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

- As of December 31, 1998, the county had not reduced property tax revenues by $109,732 as the result of excess property tax revenues collected in prior years. By leaving the 1998 General Revenue levy at $.00 the county could have reduced excess property tax collections by approximately $72,000. However the county set the 1998 General Revenue levy at $.04 believing that going without a levy in 10 of the prior 17 years was sufficient.

- Many prior audit recommendations were implemented, however the county still needs to ensure that expenditures from all county funds are necessary for county operations and are a prudent use of county monies.

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve budgetary procedures and county fixed asset procedures and to better monitor collateral securities pledged by county banks. The audit also suggested improvements in the Juvenile Office's accounting controls.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Henry County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Henry County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Henry County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Henry County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Henry County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Henry County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 4, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Henry County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Henry County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Henry County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Henry County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Henry County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Juvenile Office DYS Grant Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

Sheriff's Special Project Fund	1998
Local Emergency Planning Commission Fund	1997
Federal Grant Fund	1997
Recorder's Records, Storage, and Preservation Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Juvenile Office DYS Grant Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Health Center Fund	1997
Sheriff's Drug Dog Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The financial statements do not include the cash balances of the Ex Officio County Collector, who collects and distributes property taxes as an agent for various local governments. However, for the purpose of these risk disclosures, the Ex Officio County Collector's cash balances are included since collateral securities to cover amounts not covered by federal depositary insurance are pledged to the county rather than to specific county officials.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1998, $2,760,903 was covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, $100,000 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by an affiliate of the same bank holding company, and $228,546 was uninsured and uncollateralized.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1997, $2,537,474 was covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name, $100,000 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by an affiliate of the same bank holding company, and $24,492 was uninsured and uncollateralized.

Furthermore, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, the amounts of uninsured and uncollateralized balances were substantially higher at those times than such amounts at year-end.
To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The Health Center Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997 were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $186,054 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $92,169. As of December 31, 1998, $40,961 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

HENRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Henry County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) and the Department of Public Safety Surplus Property Program (CFDA number 12.unknown) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $350,000 and $450,000 to subrecipients under the Community Development Block Grants/State's Program (CFDA number 14.228) during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Henry County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Henry County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Henry County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Henry County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Henry County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

HENRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

HENRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Henry County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Henry County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Henry County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. County Sales Tax

The county has not sufficiently reduced its property tax revenues by 50 percent of the sales tax revenues as provided in the ballot issue passed by the Henry County voters under the provisions of Section 67.505, RSMo 1994.

Following are the calculations used in determining excess property tax revenues collected for the two years ended December 31, 1998:

		Year Ended December 31,
		1998		1997
Actual sales tax revenues	$	858,895		866,483
Required percentage of revenue reduction	X	50	%	50	%
Required property tax revenue reduction		429,448		433,242
Assessed valuation		200,429,479		193,688,689
General Revenue Fund tax levy reduction (per $100 of assessed valuation)	X	0.21		0.24
Actual property tax revenue reduction		420,902		464,853
Excess property tax revenues collected		8,545		(31,612)
Excess property tax revenue collections from prior years		101,187		132,799
Excess at December 31,	$	109,732		101,187

Although the County Commission rolled the General Revenue Fund tax levy back to $.00 for the 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, and 1997 tax years, the amount of property tax revenue reduction was less than the required 50 percent of the actual sales tax revenues. As of December 31, 1997, the county was still required to reduce property taxes by $101,187. However, the county did not consider this cumulative liability when establishing the 1998 General Revenue Fund levy. The County Clerk indicated he considered only the 1997 required and actual property tax reductions when determining the General Revenue Fund levy allowed for 1998. As a result, the County Commission set the 1998 General Revenue Fund tax levy at $.04. The County Commission should have left the General Revenue Fund tax levy at $.00 until property taxes had been reduced as required by statute.

The County Commission needs to continue reducing its tax levies to offset the $100,000 accumulation of excess property taxes over a reasonable period of time.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission reduce the county property tax levy adequately to meet the sales tax reduction requirements, including reductions for excess property taxes collected in prior years.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

On August 3, 1982, the people of Henry County passed a 1/2 cent Local Sales Tax for the county general revenue. Since that time the county property tax levy has been as follows:

1982 = $.40
1983 = $.15
1984 = $.15
1985 = $.02
1986 = $.02
1987 = $.00
1988 = $.00
1989 = $.00
1990 = $.00
1991 = $.00
1992 = $.01
1993 = $.00
1994 = $.00
1995 = $.00
1996 = $.00
1998 = $.04

As you can see, nearly all revenues collected through the county property tax were accumulated in the first three years of the sales tax collection. In the 17 years of county sales tax existence, ten years the county has had a $.00 tax levy. As stated in your audit, the county should reduce its tax levy to offset the accumulation of excess property taxes over a reasonable period of time. We consider the past fourteen years to be more than a reasonable amount of time.

AUDITOR'S COMMENT

Although the County Commission significantly reduced the property tax levy for several years, as of December 31, 1997, the county was still required to reduce property tax revenue by $101,187. If the County Commission had levied $.00 for 1998, they could have reduced excess property tax collections by $71,627. Under this scenario, the required reduction for prior years would have been reduced to under $30,000 as of December 31, 1998, and the County Commission probably could have a property tax levy for 1999. The County Commission should levy a $.00 property tax levy for 1999. This should significantly reduce the amount of required property tax reduction.

2. Budgetary Practices and Published Financial Statements

Our review of the county budgets and published financial statements revealed the following concerns:

A. Disbursements were made in excess of approved budgeted amounts for the following funds during the two years ended December 31, 1998, as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,
Fund	1998	1997
Assessment	$ 224	N/A
Law Enforcement Training	1,678	842
Prosecuting Attorney's Delinquent Tax	1,053	N/A
Tri-County Child Support	131	1,391
Victims of Domestic Violence	443	N/A
Federal Drug Forfeiture Program	30	574
Local Emergency Planning Commission	N/A	753
D.A.R.E.	1,935	7,883
Recorder's Records, Storage, and Preservation	N/A	6,687
Federal Grant	N/A	763
Sheriff's Special Project	6,766	N/A
Health Center	32,729	5,033

It was ruled in State ex rel. Strong v. Cribb, 364 Mo. 1122, 273 S.W.2d 246 (1954) that strict compliance with the county budget law is required by county officials. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, budget amendments should be made following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office. In addition, Section 50.622, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998, provides that counties may amend the annual budget during any year in which the county receives additional funds which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted and that the county shall follow the same procedures required for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget.

B. Formal budgets were not prepared and filed with the State Auditor's office for several county funds for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. These funds are used for specific purposes and are held by various county officials outside the County Treasurer's control. No documentation was available to indicate the County Commission obtained financial information regarding these funds prior to preparing the county's consolidated budget.

Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires preparation of annual budgets for all funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year. By preparing and obtaining budgets for all county funds and activities, the County Commission is able to more efficiently evaluate all county financial resources.

C. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required. Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, provide that the financial statements are required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for all county funds. For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

D. The county has been significantly overestimating the amounts budgeted for Road and Bridge Fund expenditures for several years as follows:

	Expenditures
Year Ended December 31,	Actual	Budget	Difference
1998	$ 950,290	1,435,717	485,427
1997	740,155	1,376,080	635,925
1996	1,240,604	1,696,150	455,546
1995	695,115	1,400,027	704,912

As the chart indicates, during the last four years, actual expenditures have been only 50 to 73 percent of budgeted expenditures, so it is apparent the county could have prepared a more reasonable estimate of Road and Bridge Fund expenditures.

Each year the county transfers approximately 3 percent of the budgeted Road and Bridge Fund expenditures to the General Revenue Fund for administrative fees. Section 50.515, RSMo Cum. Supp. 1998, allows the county to impose an administrative service fee not to exceed 3 percent of the total budget of the Special Road and Bridge Fund to generate reimbursement sufficient to recoup actual expenditures made from the General Revenue Fund for applicable administrative services.

Because estimates of expenditures for the Special Road and Bridge Fund are significantly in excess of actual expenditures, the amounts transferred to the General Revenue Fund during 1997 and 1998 were approximately $31,000 higher than they would have been had the transfers been based on more reasonable amounts.

In addition, as noted in our prior report, $105,000 was due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund at December 31, 1996 for excess administrative transfers. This amount was not repaid and at December 31, 1998, $136,000 is due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

Conditions similar to A-D were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. And the Health Center Board of Trustees not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures. Extenuating circumstances should be fully documented and, if necessary, the budgets properly amended following the same process by which the annual budget is approved, including holding public hearings and filing the amended budget with the State Auditor's office.

B. Ensure that budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds in accordance with state law.

C. And the Health Center Board of Trustees ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

D. Base administrative transfers on actual or reasonable budgeted expenditures of the Special Road and Bridge Fund. In addition, a transfer of $136,000 should be made from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission provided the following responses:

A. The budgets were exceeded primarily because additional revenues were received. In the future, we will try to amend the budget when additional revenues are received.

B. We will attempt to obtain financial information from the various officeholders in charge of these funds, and will forward this information with the consolidated budget.

C. The Henry County Health Center is a political entity unto itself, with its own elected board of directors and its own tax levy. It does not fall under the responsibility of the Henry County Commission, and therefore has not been included in the county's annual financial statement.

We will try to include these other funds in the published financial statements.

D. We will take this recommendation into consideration when the budget is prepared.

The Health Center Administrator provided the following responses:

A. If additional revenues are received, we will amend the budget and file it with the County Clerk's office and the State Auditor's office.

C. The Health Center published financial statements for 1998 and will continue to do so.

3. County Expenditures

Our review of county expenditures during the two years ended December 31, 1998 revealed the following concerns:

A. Bids were not always solicited nor was bid documentation always retained for various purchases made by the county during the audit period. Examples of items purchased for which no evidence of bidding could be located are as follows:

Item Purchased	Amount
Steel	$ 13,860
Demolition of barn	7,524
Ballot printing	6,992
Computers	6,265
Mapping services	6,010
Radio equipment	5,426
Beams	5,054

The County Commission indicated that some items were available only from one vendor in the area; however, documentation of sole source procurements was not maintained.

Section 50.660, RSMo Supp. 1998, requires the advertisement for bids for all purchases of $4,500 or more, from any one person, firm, or corporation during any period of ninety days.

Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for the economical management of county resources and help assure the county that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidder. In addition, competitive bidding ensures all interested parties are given an equal opportunity to participate in county business.

Documentation of bids should always be retained as evidence the county's established purchasing procedures as well as statutory requirements are being followed. Documentation of bids should include, at a minimum, a listing of vendors from whom bids were requested, a copy of the request for proposal, a newspaper publication notice, a copy of all bids received, a summary of the basis and justification for awarding the bid, and documentation of all discussions with vendors.

B. The county's policy for meal reimbursements states county employees shall be reimbursed to a maximum of $5.50 for breakfast, $5.50 for lunch, and $12 for dinner based on the submission of appropriate receipts. From the warrant requests reviewed for the Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund, it appears the Prosecuting Attorney was reimbursed in excess of the county's policy for meal expenditures. Our review of expenses claimed by the Prosecuting Attorney to attend the spring and fall training seminars indicated approximately $79 was claimed and reimbursed in excess of the county meal policy.

C. IRS Forms 1099-MISC were not issued for payments made from the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund totaling $2,561 to a special prosecutor for services rendered during the two years ended December 31, 1998. Sections 6041 and 6051 of the Internal Revenue Code require nonemployee payments of at least $600 in one year to an individual or unincorporated business be reported to the federal government on Form 1099-Miscellaneous.

Conditions similar to B and C were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for all items in accordance with state law. Documentation of bids solicited and justification for bid awards should be retained by the County Clerk. If it is not practical to obtain bids in a specific instance, or if sole source procurement is necessary, the circumstances should be thoroughly documented.

B. Ensure the county's policy for reimbursement of meal expenditures is followed and obtain reimbursement for any of the excess meal reimbursements that cannot be justified.

C. Issue IRS Forms 1099-MISC as required by the Internal Revenue Code.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission provided the following responses:

A. The vendor used for the ballot printing is the sole source for these services in our area. We buy used steel and beams when we can get it cheaper than the bid received. In the future, we will better document these purchases.

B. The county's policy on meal reimbursement was changed January of 1999, to pay for meals based on a daily allowance instead of a per meal allowance.

C. We will cooperate with the Prosecuting Attorney's office to get these forms filed.

The Prosecuting Attorney provided the following responses:

B. We intended to pay the meal expenses from the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund and funds have been transferred from the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund to the Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund to reimburse these expenditures.

C. It was my understanding that the 1099 forms would be prepared by the County Clerk's office.

AUDITOR'S COMMENT

B. The County Commission and the Prosecuting Attorney need to ensure that expenditures made from all county funds, including the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund and the Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund, are necessary for county operations and a prudent use of public monies.

4. Collateral Securities

The amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary banks in December 1998 and December 1997 were insufficient by approximately $228,000 and $24,000, respectively, to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer and Ex Officio County Collector. It appears this situation occurred because bank balances are not being properly monitored by the county.

Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, provides the value of securities pledged should at all times be not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. Inadequate collateral securities leave the county funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of a bank failure.

WE RECOMMEND the County Treasurer and Ex Officio County Collector ensure collateral securities pledged by the depositary banks are sufficient to protect county monies at all times.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We have a depositary agreement that requires the bank to pledge securities as necessary to cover county funds. I have contacted the individual at the bank who is in charge of this and we have each made notations on our calenders to remind us to review coverage in November.

5. General Fixed Assets

Our review of the county's general fixed asset records and procedures indicated the following areas in which improvements are needed:

A. General fixed asset items are not numbered, tagged or otherwise identified as county property. Property control tags should be affixed to all fixed asset items to help improve accountability and to ensure that assets are properly identified as belonging to the county.

B. An annual inventory of all general fixed assets is not conducted. During the audit period, each officeholder was asked to prepare a listing of general fixed assets. However, there was no documentation that personnel in the County Clerk's Office reviewed or verified the listings prepared by the officeholders. The listings prepared appeared to be primarily for insurance purposes and included computer equipment, vehicles, and road and bridge equipment. The County Clerk does not reconcile general fixed asset purchases to additions to the general fixed asset inventory, and thus there is no assurance the listings are complete.

Adequate general fixed asset records and procedures are necessary to meet statutory requirements, secure better internal controls over county property, and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage of county property. Annual inventories of county property are necessary to ensure the fixed asset records are accurate, identify any unrecorded additions and deletions, detect theft of assets, and identify obsolete assets.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Clerk:

A. Ensure all fixed asset items are properly numbered, tagged, or otherwise identified as county property.

B. Perform and document annual inventories of county-owned property and update the fixed asset records for unrecorded property additions and dispositions.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The General Assembly of 1999 addressed this issue and new legislation will become effective in August of 1999. Inventory of general fixed assets will no longer be the responsibility of the County Clerk. Under the new legislation, the implementation of inventorying of assets will finally become feasible to monitor.

6. Juvenile Officer's Accounting Controls and Procedures

Our review of the Juvenile Office revealed the following concerns:

A. The Juvenile Office does not issue receipts for some monies received for the Division of Youth Services account. To adequately account for all collections, receipt slips should be issued for all monies received. In addition, the method of payment indicated on each receipt slip should be reconciled to the composition of the monies deposited.

B. The Juvenile Office provides gas credit cards to each of the 13 office employees and the Circuit Judge. The gas cards are used to fuel personal vehicles and the gas purchased is billed to the Juvenile Office. At the end of the month, each employee using a gas card reimburses the Juvenile Office for his/her share of the gas bill and submits a mileage report for miles traveled between the three counties in the circuit. Employees are reimbursed $.28 per mile for miles traveled in personal vehicles for the Juvenile Office.

Since the Juvenile Office is recognized as a governmental entity, it is given a tax exemption for federal gas taxes of approximately $.18 per gallon. However, since the gas is purchased for personal vehicles, it is used for both business and personal purposes. For one month reviewed, we noted the Circuit Judge and Juvenile Office employees saved $233 as a result of not paying federal gas tax. We also noted one secretary who saved $22 during the same month but does not drive any business miles.

Governmental entities are exempt from paying federal gas taxes, but individuals purchasing gas for personal vehicles are not. Thus it does not appear proper for the Juvenile Office to allow its employees to benefit from the use of these gas cards.

C. Checks and money orders made out to the Juvenile Office, and deposited into the Juvenile Court account, are not always restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

To reduce the risk of loss, or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

WE RECOMMEND the Juvenile Officer:

A. Issue receipts for all monies received and the method of payment indicated on each receipt slip should be reconciled to the composition of the monies deposited.

B. Review the practice of allowing employees to use Juvenile Office gas cards to purchase gas for personal use.

C. Ensure all checks and money orders are restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Juvenile Office now issues receipts for all monies received.

B. Effective July 6, 1999, the Juvenile Office no longer uses the petro cards for employees. All employees' gas cards were collected and the practice of charging fuel and then collecting payments from employees was stopped. The Juvenile Office continues to maintain one gas key and card for use in fueling the Juvenile Office van. The van is used exclusively for Juvenile Office business and transportation of youths who come under the jurisdiction of the court.

C. All checks and money orders made payable to the Juvenile Office are now restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Henry County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

HENRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Henry County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Budgetary Practices and Published Financial Statements

   A. Warrants were issued in excess of approved budgeted expenditures.

   B. Formal budgets were not prepared for various county funds for the years ended December 31, 1996, 1995, and 1994.

   C. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required.

   D. At December 31, 1996, $105,000 in excess administrative transfers was due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. And the Health Center not authorize warrants in excess of budgeted expenditures.

   B. Ensure budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds.

   C. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

   D. Base administrative transfers on actual or reasonable budgeted expenditures of the Special Road and Bridge Fund. In addition, a transfer of $105,000 should be made from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

   Status:

   A, B, C&D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

2. County Expenditures

   A. The county's policy for meal reimbursements was not being followed.

   B. Supporting documentation was not available for expenditures incurred by the Prosecuting Attorney for various funds.

C. Some expenditures from the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund apparently were not a prudent use of public funds.

D. 1) IRS Forms 1099-MISC were not issued for services rendered by two special prosecutors.

2) Payments for extra work performed by a part-time employee of the Prosecuting Attorney's Office were not included on the payroll records or W-2 form. In addition, no withholdings for applicable federal and state income taxes or social security were made from those payments.

E. The county paid the Sheriff's deputies based on miles driven to transport prisoners, rather than on hours worked; therefore, any overtime incurred was not calculated.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Ensure the county's policy for reimbursement of meal expenditures is followed and obtain reimbursement for any of the excess meal reimbursements that cannot be justified.

B. Require adequate supporting documentation be submitted and retained for all expenditures.

C. Review the need for such expenditures with the Prosecuting Attorney and ensure all future expenditures represent a prudent use of public monies.

D.1. Issue IRS Forms 1099-MISC as required by the Internal Revenue Code.

2. Ensure all employee compensation is reported on employees' payroll records and W-2 forms. All taxes should be properly withheld and paid to the appropriate authorities.

E. And Sheriff review the overall procedures for paying deputies who perform guard duties to ensure compliance with FLSA provisions.

Status:

A. Not implemented. The County Commission did not obtain reimbursement for excessive meal reimbursements and excessive reimbursements continued to be made. See MAR No. 3.

B, D.2, & E. Implemented.

C. Not implemented. We noted some meal reimbursements which appeared excessive but the County Commission verbally indicated their policy does not apply to this fund. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

D.1. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

3. General Fixed Assets

A. Some fixed asset items were not numbered, tagged, or otherwise identified and the source of acquisition by fund was not recorded in the fixed asset records for any of the fixed assets.

B. No documentation existed that an annual inventory of general fixed assets had been performed and the general fixed asset records had not been updated to reflect additions and dispositions of assets which occurred during 1995 and 1996.

Recommendation:

The County Clerk:

A. Ensure all fixed asset items are properly numbered, tagged, or otherwise identified and ensure the source of acquisition by fund is recorded in the fixed asset records.

B. Perform and document inventories of county-owned property and update the fixed asset records for unrecorded property additions and dispositions.

Status:

A&B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

4. County Clerk's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Inventory records were not maintained to account for the number of plat books purchased, sold, given away, or on hand.

B. Checks were not restrictively endorsed upon receipt and receipts were not turned over to the County Treasurer daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Receipt slips issued were not prenumbered.

D. The method of payment received was not indicated on the County Clerk's receipt slips and the composition of the payments received was not reconciled to the composition of the turnovers to the County Treasurer.

Recommendation:

The County Clerk:

A. Maintain inventory records of plat books and periodically reconcile the number of plat books purchased, sold, or given away to the number on hand.

B. Restrictively endorse checks immediately upon receipt and turn over all receipts to the County Treasurer daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

D. Indicate the method of payment on receipt slips and reconcile the composition of payments received to amounts turned over to the County Treasurer.

Status:

A, B, C&D. Implemented.

5. Health Center

A. Prenumbered receipt slips were not always issued for monies received by the Health Center sanitation clerk.

B. Accounting and bookkeeping duties were not adequately segregated. There was no independent review of the accounting records or reconciliations by a supervisor or other independent individual.

Recommendation:

The Health Center Board of Trustees:

A. Require the sanitation clerk to issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

B. Segregate the record keeping duties of the clerk, or at a minimum, require that a supervisor or an independent person perform and document a periodic review of the bank reconciliations and accounting records.

Status:

A. Implemented.

B. Implemented. The Health Center now has an independent review of deposits and checks are signed by the Board of Trustees. Beginning in March 1999, the administrator performs a review of the bank reconciliations.

6. Treasurer Ex Officio Collector's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Monies received by the Ex Officio Collector were not deposited intact.

B. The Ex Officio Collector did not issue receipt slips for or maintain a log of fees received for issuing duplicate copies of paid tax receipts.

C. The method of payment received was not indicated on the Treasurer’s receipt slips.

Recommendation:

The Treasurer Ex Officio Collector:

A. Maintain a change fund at a constant amount and deposit all receipts intact.

B. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for monies received for duplicate copies of paid tax receipts, or at a minimum, maintain a log of the monies received for such fees.

C. Indicate the method of payment on receipt slips and reconcile the composition of payments received to amounts deposited in the bank.

Status:

A, B, & C. Implemented.

7. Statutory Salaries

Increases were given to some officials during their term of office with no support for such increases and different salary amounts were paid to the two associate commissioners, even though both should have been computed under the same statute.

Recommendation:

The County Commission ensure future salary commission actions clearly document the amounts to be paid to each official and when increases in compensation will take effect. Officials should then be paid in accordance with such provisions.

Status:

Implemented. While the previous salary amounts were not reduced, the Salary Commission met in 1997 and voted to set salaries at 85 percent of the salary authorized by statute along with an annual cost of living adjustment. The County Clerk prepared a worksheet to document each official's 1999 salary.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

HENRY COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1834, the county of Henry was named after Patrick Henry. Henry County is a township-organized, third-class county and is part of the twenty-seventh Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Clinton.

Henry County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows where Henry County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
Property taxes	$ 84,337	3	65,731	3
Sales taxes	858,895	29	866,483	32
Federal and state aid	1,334,161	46	1,068,646	40
Fees, interest, and other	653,543	22	666,992	25
Total	$ 2,930,936	100	2,667,852	100

The following chart shows how Henry County spent monies in 1998 and 1997 from the General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
USE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
General county government	$ 874,965	31	928,742	36
Public safety	967,214	35	917,727	35
Highways and roads	950,290	34	740,155	29
Total	$ 2,792,469	100	2,586,624	100

The county maintains approximately 145 county bridges and has 748 miles of county roads which are maintained by the various townships.

::
The county's population was 18,451 in 1970 and 20,044 in 1990. The following chart shows the county's growth in assessed valuation since 1970:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997	1985*	1980	1970

Total	$ 200.4	193.7	121.0	65.8	48.0

* First year of statewide reassessment.
 Prior to 1985, separate assessments were made for merchants' and manufacturers' property. These amounts are included in real estate.

Henry County's property tax rates per $100 of assessed valuations were as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997
General Revenue	$ 0.04	0.00
Health Center Fund	0.10	0.10

Property taxes attach as an enforceable lien on property as of January 1. Taxes are levied on September 1 and payable by December 31. Taxes paid after December 31 are subject to penalties. The county and townships bill and collect property taxes for themselves and most other local governments. Taxes collected were distributed as follows:

	Year Ended February 28,
	1999	1998
State of Missouri	$ 59,582	58,018

(1) Includes one part-time employee.
(2) Includes three part-time employees.
(3) Includes four part-time employees.
(4) Includes six part-time employees.

In addition, the county pays a proportionate share of the salaries of other circuit court-appointed employees. Henry County's share of the twenty-seventh Judicial Circuit's expenses is 46.05 percent.

AUDIT REPORT

LAWRENCE COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-56
August 19, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Lawrence, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Lawrence County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

< As similarly recommended in prior audit reports the County Commission should require all county employees to complete time sheets which reflect actual time worked and leave taken. Centralized leave records should be maintained for county employees, a comprehensive employee manual needs to be developed and the county needs to ensure overtime and compensatory time policies comply with federal law.

< The county did not always solicit bids nor was bid documentation always kept for various purchases. The County Commission and the County Clerk indicated they had procedures in place to ensure the best price obtained, but will work on retaining the necessary documentation.

Also included in the audit are recommendations regarding revenue maximization, county officials' compensation, property tax system and computer controls and general fixed assets. The audit also suggested improvements in controls and procedures of the County Treasurer, Health Center, County Collector, Recorder of Deeds, Sheriff, and Public Administrator.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Lawrence County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Lawrence County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Lawrence County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 5, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Lawrence County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Lawrence County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 5, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Lawrence County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Developmentally Disabled Board or the Senior Citizens Service Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and the Senior Citizens Service Fund, Sheriff Special Fund, and Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund for the year ended December 31, 1997.

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the Law Enforcement Training Fund in 1998, and the Emergency 911 Fund and Law Library Fund in 1997. Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

A deficit budget balance is presented for the Common #2 Road District Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998. However, the budget of that fund also included other resources available to finance current or future year disbursements. Generally, other available net resources represented current year property taxes not received before December 31. Such resources were sufficient to offset the deficit budget balance presented.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Developmentally Disabled Fund	1998 and 1997
Senior Citizens Service Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Recorder User Fee Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The Developmentally Disabled Board's and Senior Citizens Service Board's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance. However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $383,186 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $175,408. As of December 31, 1998, $75,776 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

LAWRENCE COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Lawrence County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Food Distribution Program (CFDA number 10.550) represent the dollar value assigned to commodities based on prices provided by the state Department of Social Services. Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Lawrence County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Lawrence County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Lawrence County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Lawrence County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Lawrence County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

LAWRENCE COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

LAWRENCE COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Lawrence County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 5, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Lawrence County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated April 5, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audits of the special-purpose financial statements of Lawrence County and of its compliance with the types of compliance requirements applicable to each of its major federal programs but does not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written reports on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting or compliance that are required for audits performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations.

1. County Expenditures

A. The county did not always solicit bids nor was bid documentation always retained for various purchases. Examples of items purchased for which bid documentation could not be located are as follows:

Item Purchased	Cost
Gravel & base rock (1998 and 1997)	$121,947
Road sign repairs (1998 and 1997)	32,920
Recorder indexing equipment	19,476
Computer equipment	15,706
Emergency 911 communications equipment	13,186
Electrical and wiring services	8,905
Printing of assessment forms	6,630
Printer for assessor's office	5,502

The County Commission and the County Clerk indicated that bids were often solicited through telephone calls or the needed items were only available from one vendor in the area; however, documentation of these calls and sole source procurement situations were not maintained.

Section 50.660, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires bids for all purchases of $4,500 or more from any one person, firm, or corporation during any period of ninety days. Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of county resources and help assure the county that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding ensures all parties are given equal opportunity to participate in county business.

B. The Sheriff's Office uses reserve officers to transport prisoners to the state penitentiary. Drivers are paid 30 cents per mile to reimburse them for using their personal vehicles and are also paid $7 per hour for their time worked. Guards are paid 25 cents per mile to reimburse them for their time. The county records all amounts paid as mileage; however, amounts paid to drivers as an hourly wage and amounts paid to guards represent compensation and should be subject to payroll withholdings and reported on W-2 forms.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for all purchases in accordance with state law and maintain documentation of bids. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the official commission minutes should reflect the necessitating circumstances.

B. Ensure amounts paid to reserve officers are properly reported on W-2 forms. Amended W-2 forms should be prepared for amounts paid to reserve officers in prior years.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We have procedures to ensure the best price is obtained for purchases; however, we will work on retaining documentation of all bids or quotes obtained, and on retaining documentation of decisions made.

B. This has already been implemented.

2.	Revenue Maximization

During 1997, the county completed a federal bridge project which was administered by the Missouri Department of Transportation (MODOT). The county was to receive reimbursement of 80 percent of the approved total cost from MODOT on related bridge project expenditures. The county did not reconcile project expenditures to the amounts reimbursed by MODOT, and as a result, did not request nor receive reimbursement of $5,528 for which it was entitled.

To ensure revenues are maximized, the county should compare expenditures to the related reimbursements. In addition, the county should seek reimbursement for the $5,528 from MODOT.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission develop procedures to ensure all federal grant reimbursements are requested and received, and seek reimbursement of the $5,528 from MODOT.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We have already sought reimbursement for the $5,528. We believed we had procedures in place to monitor the billings and reimbursements; however, we will reexamine our procedures and make corrections as necessary.

3. Personnel Policies and Procedures

A. Time sheets or other records of actual time worked are not maintained by employees of the County Clerk, County Assessor, County Collector, Recorder of Deeds, and Prosecuting Attorney. As a result, the County Commission has no documentation of work performed to support some payroll expenditures.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) requires employers to keep accurate records of actual time worked by employees, including compensatory time earned, taken, or paid. The time records should be prepared by the employee, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed in a central location with the county's payroll records.

B. Records of vacation or sick leave earned, taken, and accumulated are not maintained for some county employees. Currently, each individual officeholder or department is responsible for maintaining leave records. The Health Center, Public Administrator, and Sheriff are the only county offices which maintain leave records.

Without centralized leave records, the County Commission cannot ensure that employees' annual and sick leave balances are accurate and that all employees are treated equitably. Centralized leave records will also aid in determining final pay for employees leaving county employment.

C. The county does not have a comprehensive employee manual. Such a manual should detail personnel matters, such as vacation and sick leave policies, overtime and compensatory time policies, employee duties and responsibilities, lines of authority, grievance procedures, and any other items of interest to employees. Currently, individual officeholders or departments provide their employees with procedures which vary from office to office.

A comprehensive employee manual which summarizes both written and unwritten policies can benefit both county officials and employees by providing a basic understanding between management and employees regarding each other's rights and responsibilities. It can also help ensure that management's policies are fairly and consistently applied to all county employees.

D. The Health Center and the Prosecuting Attorney have written policies that prohibit employees from carrying any compensatory time balances for more than 60 days. Any compensatory time accrued and carried for more than 60 days is lost. In addition, the Prosecuting Attorney’s policy prohibits employees from accruing more than eight hours of compensatory time. The Prosecuting Attorney indicated he does not follow this policy; however, there has been no formal amendments to change his policy. These policies may not comply with the FLSA.

The County Commission should review the policies of the Prosecuting Attorney and Health Center, and adopt overtime and compensatory time policies which comply with the FLSA.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior three reports and the County Commission responded that they would implement these recommendations; however, no action has been taken to implement these recommendations.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Require all county employees to complete time sheets which reflect actual time worked and leave taken. The records should be prepared by employees, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed in a central location with the county's payroll records.

B. Maintain centralized leave records for all county employees.

C. Develop a comprehensive employee manual.

D. Ensure overtime and compensatory time policies adopted by the Prosecuting Attorney and Health Center comply with the FLSA.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We see a need for all of these items and will try to implement these recommendations. Time sheets will be required for all employees effective July 1, 1999. In addition, we are working on developing an employee manual.

4. County Officials' Compensation

A. The county salary commission met on November 1, 1995, and approved the following:

> "Salaries shall be adjusted each year on the official's incumbency for any change in the last applicable decennial census or any change in the last completed assessment that would affect the maximum allowable compensation for that office."

Adjustments were made to applicable officials' salaries on their incumbency, except for the former County Collector. His term began on March 1, 1995; however, adjustments were made to his salary on January 1, 1997 and 1998. In addition, the county made a retroactive adjustment to the County Assessor's salary as of January 1, 1996, to be consistent with the other officials; however, the County Assessor's term began on September 1, 1993.

Based on the wording of the salary commission minutes noted above, it would appear that annual salary adjustments on the official's incumbency would allow for adjustments on March 1 for the County Collector, September 1 for the County Assessor, and January 1 for the remaining officials. The County Commission should review this situation with the Prosecuting Attorney and determine whether the proper adjustments were made to the applicable officials' salaries.

B. In December 1996, the former County Treasurer received a salary payment of $500 which was processed manually outside the normal payroll process and was not recorded on the payroll register (although it was reported on the applicable W-2 form). The County Clerk and former County Treasurer indicated the payment was to correct the 1996 salary but could not provide documentation of their calculation. Based on the salary commission minutes, it appears the former County Treasurer was paid the correct salary in 1996 and the $500 appears to be an overpayment. In addition, it appears the former County Treasurer's salary for 1997 and 1998 was not computed in accordance with salary commission minutes, and he may have received a total of $1,230 in salary overpayments for 1996 through 1998.

The County Commission should review the salary payments and calculations with the Prosecuting Attorney and determine whether the former County Treasurer was overpaid, and seek reimbursement of any overpayments.

C. The Public Administrator receives fees from the various cases which are assigned to him. In addition, Section 473.739, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, states the Public Administrator shall be paid an annual salary of $4,000 if his fees do not exceed $25,000.

During the year ended December 31, 1998, the Public Administrator received fees totaling $25,342, and the county paid him a salary of $4,000 in January 1999 as compensation. Because the Public Administrator received more than $25,000 in fees during 1998, it is questionable whether any additional salary was allowable for that year.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission review these matters with the various officials and Prosecuting Attorney to ensure the proper amounts were paid to the various officials and seek reimbursement for any overpayments.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will review these matters with the Prosecuting Attorney and take appropriate action.

5. Property Tax System and Computer Controls

The county's assessment lists and tax books are maintained on a computerized property tax system. The County Assessor is responsible for entering the assessed valuation data. The County Clerk enters the tax rates and extends and prints the tax books. In addition to the property tax computer system, the County Clerk maintains a computer system for preparing checks and maintaining receipt and disbursement information. In our review of controls relating to the two computer systems, we noted the following concerns:

A. The County Assessor is responsible for entering the assessed valuation data from the assessment sheets. This data is to be completed by May 31 of each year. In addition, the County Assessor has access to the assessment data in the property tax system during the meetings of the county Board of Equalization so he can change assessed valuations when approved by the board. After the meetings of the Board of Equalization are completed, the County Assessor has no statutory authority to make changes to the assessment data. However, the County Assessor and his staff are allowed access to the assessment data at all times. As a result, there is an increased risk that unauthorized changes can be made to the assessment data.

B. Controls over property tax additions and abatements are not adequate. The County Collector makes manual changes to the property tax records for additions and abatements occurring throughout the year, while the County Assessor makes these changes to the computer property tax data files. The County Collector provides monthly totals of abatements and additions to the County Commission for their approval. However, the manual changes to the tax books are not compared to the actual changes in the tax data files or to amounts reflected on the County Collector's annual settlement by someone independent of tax collection duties.

   Since the County Collector is responsible for collecting the taxes, this procedure for making changes, without independent and subsequent review of actual changes made, weakens controls over the collection of taxes.

   Section 137.260, RSMo 1994, requires the tax books only be changed by the County Clerk under order of the County Commission. Controls should be established so that the County Clerk periodically reconciles all additions and abatements to changes made to the property tax system and charge these amounts to the County Collector.

C. The County Clerk does not maintain an account book with the County Collector. An account book would summarize all taxes charged to the County Collector, monthly collections, delinquent credits, abatements and additions, and protested amounts by tax book. These figures would be verified by the County Clerk from aggregate abstracts, court orders, monthly statements of collections and the tax books. These verifications are the County Clerk's means of ensuring the amount of taxes charged to the County Collector is complete and accurate.

Section 51.150(2), RSMo 1994, requires the County Clerk to maintain accounts with all persons chargeable with monies payable into the county treasury. A properly maintained account book can be used by the County Commission to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

D. The county does not have an adequate password system or procedures to restrict access to the computer systems. Passwords are not kept confidential and are not changed on a regular basis. In addition, user identification codes (IDs) are not used.

User IDs should identify the employee signing on to the computer system and should restrict each employee's access to only his or her assigned responsibilities. Confidential passwords should be used to authenticate these claimed identities by helping to ensure the person using the ID has the authority to use it. Since user IDs are not needed to gain access to the system, the county does not have an effective method to verify the identity of those using the system. In addition, the sharing of passwords can significantly reduce the effectiveness of the security because confidentially is lost. As a result, there is an increased risk of unauthorized changes to the computer files.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission work with the applicable county officials to:

A. Restrict access to the assessment data during periods when changes to the data are not statutorily allowed.

B. Establish controls over the property tax addition and abatements process that would allow the County Clerk to periodically reconcile all additions and abatements to changes made to the property tax records and charge these amounts to the County Collector.

C. Ensure the County Clerk maintains an account book with the County Collector.

D. Implement a password system which requires each user be assigned a unique user ID and password, and require passwords to be changed periodically.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We have discussed this with the Assessor and will work toward complying with this recommendation.

B. We will discuss this matter with the applicable officials and attempt to implement this recommendation.

C. We are looking into developing a computerized account book.
D. We will check with our programmer and determine whether this can be implemented.

6. General Fixed Asset Records and Procedures

The county maintains manual general fixed asset records; however, the records have not been updated for property acquired or disposed of since June 1997. In addition, the County Clerk does not perform physical inventories of assets and compare the results to the property records.

Also, most fixed assets are not properly numbered, tagged, or otherwise identified as county owned property. Property control tags should be affixed to all fixed asset items to help improve accountability and to ensure that assets are properly identified as belonging to the county.

Adequate general fixed asset records and procedures are necessary to secure better internal control over county assets and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk maintain general fixed asset records on a current basis, periodically reconcile these records to property purchases and deletions, and conduct annual physical inventories of all county-owned property. In addition, property control tags should be affixed on all fixed assets immediately upon receipt.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We are in the process of computerizing the records and are about 75 percent complete with this process.

7. County Treasurer's Procedures

A. The county has not established procedures to monitor collateral securities pledged by the county's depository bank, and as a result, the county's funds were under-collateralized by over $2,600,000 for a few days in January 1998.

Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires the value of securities pledged at all times be not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the FDIC. Inadequate collateral securities leave county funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of a bank failure.

B. Interest earned on the County Treasurer's general checking account is not allocated properly. Various funds, including schools, special road and bridge, assessment, and prosecuting attorney bad check, are combined into the checking account; however, earnings on this account are credited to the General Revenue Fund.

Section 110.150, RSMo 1994, and Attorney General's Opinion No. 126, 1981 to Antonio; No. 148, 1980 to Antonio; No. 108, 1981 to Busker; and No. 40, 1965 to Owensby, provide the interest on school funds shall be placed to the credit of those funds, the interest on county hospital funds and hospital district funds to the credit of those funds, the interest on the county health center funds to the credit of those funds, the interest on the county library fund to the credit of that fund, the interest on the Special Road and Bridge Fund to the credit of that fund, the interest on the Assessment Fund to the credit of that fund, and all other interest to the credit of the county General Revenue Fund. In addition, Section 570.120, RSMo. 1994, requires that the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund be maintained by the County Treasurer in an interest-bearing account.

WE RECOMMEND the County Treasurer:

A. Work with other applicable officials and establish monitoring procedures to ensure the depositary bank pledges adequate collateral securities at all times.

B. Distribute all interest earned in accordance with statutory provisions and opinions of the Attorney General.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We have a plan where the bank will provide the Collector and Treasurer a monthly print-out of all securities pledged and the total of all county account balances. Copies of releases will be provided to the Collector and Treasurer as they occur.

B. At this time, we plan to follow current procedures, but will consider distributing interest to the various funds in the future.

8. Health Center's Controls and Procedures

Employees of the Health Center handle receipts for donations, sanitation permits, health inspections, and birth and death certificates of approximately $64,000 annually. We noted the following concerns regarding receipts:

A. Monies received for death and birth certificates, sanitation permits, and health inspections are recorded on a daily receipt log. In addition, separate logs documenting the number of birth and death certificates, sanitation permits, and health inspections issued are maintained. The number of certificates, permits, and inspections issued per the logs did not always agree with the corresponding receipts on the daily receipt log. In addition, donation receipts are not recorded on the daily receipt log and the method of payment received (cash, check, money order, etc.) is not always indicated on the receipt log.

To ensure receipts are accounted for properly and transmitted intact, all receipts should be recorded on the receipt log and the method of payments received should be recorded and the composition of recorded receipts should be reconciled to the composition of amounts transmitted to the County Treasurer. In addition, the number of certificates, permits, and inspections issued should be reconciled to monies received.

B. Receipts are not always transmitted to the County Treasurer intact on a timely basis. Receipts are transmitted approximately once per week, and the Health Center retains small cash amounts from transmittals to provide change. As a result, the change fund is not maintained at a set amount. In addition, receipts are kept in a file room accessible to all employees.

To adequately safeguard against theft or misuse of funds and to provide assurance that all receipts are properly transmitted, all receipts should be maintained in a secure location, receipts should be transmitted intact on a daily basis or when accumulated receipts exceed $100, and the change fund should be maintained at a constant amount.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission require the Health Center to:

A. Record all receipts, including method of payment, on the receipt log and reconcile the composition of receipts to the composition of transmittals to the County Treasurer. In addition, the number of certificates, permits, and inspections issued should be reconciled to applicable receipts.

B. Maintain receipts in a secure location, transmit all monies intact to the County Treasurer on a timely basis, and maintain the change fund at a constant amount.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated they will discuss these matters with the health center administrator and comply with the recommendations.

The health center administrator provided the following response:

A. This recommendation has been implemented.

B. We will try to deposit more timely, and we will establish the change fund at a set amount.

9. County Collector's Controls and Procedures

A. The current and former County Collectors perform monthly reconciliations of the bank account but do not reconcile the bank balance to existing liabilities. We compared the reconciled bank balance to known liabilities at February 28, 1999, and noted that liabilities exceeded the reconciled bank balance by $117, as follows:

Reconciled bank balance	$ 236,396
NSF checks	7,247
February collections distributed in March	(231,473)
Accumulated interest	(12,053)
Unidentified balance	$ 117

In addition, the former County Collector did not distribute interest earned on the bank account on a timely basis and did not attempt to collect on insufficient funds (NSF) checks on a timely basis. The current and former County Collectors indicated two-years' accumulation of interest is maintained to cover NSF checks. The current County Collector has performed follow-up procedures and has collected on the majority of these NSF checks.

Adequate reconciliations are necessary to ensure receipts and disbursements are properly accounted for and the cash balance agrees to liabilities and other reconciling items. In addition, timely disposition of interest income and NSF checks reduces the amount of reconciling items and helps ensure proper accounting for these items.

B. Although the County Collector's office has procedures to indicate the method of payment received on the tax receipts, the method of payment was not always indicated on some receipts. In addition, the former County Collector and his employees routinely cashed personal checks from tax receipts for themselves, friends, and other courthouse employees. Cash refunds were also made for overpayments of taxes and licenses paid by check.

To ensure receipts are deposited intact, the method of payment should be indicated on all tax receipts and the composition of receipts should be reconciled to the composition of the bank deposits. In addition, personal checks should not be cashed with official tax receipts and refunds should be made by check.

C. Receipts are not always deposited on a timely basis. During October through January of each year, deposits are made daily; however, at other times, deposits are generally made once or twice a week. For instance on February 25, 1999, $46,228 was deposited which included some receipts held as long as seven days. To adequately safeguard cash receipts and reduce the potential for loss, theft, or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. In addition, timely deposit of monies would increase interest income.

D. The former County Collector accepted partial payments on property taxes. These monies are held in the collector's vault until the taxes are paid in full. The former County Collector indicated that if such payments were made by check, he deposited the check and withheld a corresponding amount of cash from tax collection monies and retained it in the vault until the entire tax amount is paid in full. At February 8, 1999, partial payments totaling $2,282 were held in cash.

No ledger is maintained to account for the partial payments received. Although dates and amounts of payments are noted on the envelopes where the money is kept, there is no record showing the cumulative amount of monies on hand, and the corresponding amounts still due. This weakness, and the fact that such monies are held in cash, greatly increases the possibility of loss or misuse of such monies without detection.

E. State law requires five percent commission to be added on all delinquent and back tax payments. Two-fifths of the amount collected is paid into the General Revenue Fund and three-fifths into the County Employees' Retirement Fund (CERF). The former County Collector did not believe the five percent additional commission was being calculated correctly by his computer system, so he made manual calculations on both current and delinquent taxes and adjusted distributions of commissions during July 1997 through August 1998 by increasing the amounts distributed to the CERF and decreasing the amounts distributed to the General Revenue Fund. He discontinued this because he realized the commission was being calculated correctly; however, he did not adjust distributions to reverse the effects of the manual adjustments. The manual adjustments resulted in overpayments of approximately $19,471 to the CERF. The current County Collector should adjust subsequent distributions made to the CERF and distribute these monies to the General Revenue Fund to correct this error.

Conditions similar to Parts B. & C. were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Collector:

A. Reconcile the amounts in the bank account to related liabilities and other reconciling items on a monthly basis. In addition, interest income should be distributed on a timely basis and follow-up on NSF checks should be performed on a timely basis.

B. Indicate the method of payment on each tax statement issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits. In addition, the County Collector should discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from tax receipts, and make refunds by check.

C. Deposit all receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

D. Deposit partial payments into the bank and maintain records of total partial payments held in the bank.

E. Withhold $19,471 of future distributions from the CERF and distribute this amount to the General Revenue Fund.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The current County Collector provided the following response:

A. We currently reconcile our account monthly. We have collected all of the NSF checks and plan to monitor interest balances and distribute interest at least annually.

B. We are indicating method of payment received. Our current practice is to cash small checks for county employees only as a convenience to them.

C. Our current practice is to deposit twice a week and we plan to continue this practice until we see a need for daily deposits. We plan to deposit daily when we start collecting current taxes.

D. We have opened a partial payment bank account and have deposited all of the partial payments. We have also developed a ledger system to keep track of the partial payments.

E. We have discussed this with applicable employees of the retirement system and they indicated they will refund the overpayment to the county.

10. Recorder of Deeds' Controls and Procedures

A. Receipts are not always deposited intact. Employees are allowed to cash personal checks from official receipts. To adequately safeguard against theft or misuse of funds and to provide assurance that all receipts are accounted for, all receipts should be deposited intact and employees should not be allowed to cash personal checks from official receipts.

B. All receipts are recorded in a daily receipt book which is reconciled to total bank deposits. When the related document is filed and recorded, the document and fee are recorded on an abstract sheet. The abstract sheet is totaled each month and the fees are disbursed to the applicable parties. In most instances, the document and fee are recorded in the abstract book at the same time the fee is received. However marriage licenses are not recorded in the abstract book until the license is returned. In some cases, the marriage license is never returned and the marriage license fee remains in the bank account.

Total receipts are not reconciled to total fees abstracted and disbursed, and listings of marriage license fees remaining in the bank account are not prepared. In January 1999, the former Recorder of Deeds distributed $2,600 to the County Treasurer which remained in his bank account but could not be identified.

Monthly reconciliations between total receipts, total fees abstracted, and undistributed marriage license fees would provide assurance that the records are in balance and that sufficient cash is available for fees which will be distributed at a later date.

C. The Recorder of Deeds maintains custody of the Recorder User Fee Fund. Section 59.319, RSMo 1994, requires the Recorder User Fee Fund to be maintained by the County Treasurer.

In addition, the former Recorder of Deeds paid approximately $24,000 during 1998 from this fund for computer indexing equipment and software. Bids were not solicited for this purchase. Section 50.660, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires bids for all purchases of $4,500 or more, from any one person, firm, or corporation during any period of ninety days.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Recorder of Deeds:

A. Deposit monies intact and discontinue the practice of allowing employees to cash personal checks from official receipts.

B. Perform monthly reconciliations of total receipts and total fees abstracted, and prepare monthly listings of undistributed marriage license fees to ensure the cash balance agrees to the amount of undistributed fees. Any amounts remaining unidentified should be investigated to determine the proper disposition.

C. Turn custody of the Recorder User Fee Fund to the County Treasurer and solicit bids for all purchases as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Cashing personal checks will no longer be allowed.

B. We will review this and try to develop a system to implement this recommendation.

C. We plan to follow our current procedures; however, we will try to obtain bids for applicable expenditures in the future.

11. Sheriff's Controls and Procedures

A. One employee in the Sheriff's office is responsible for recording receipts, depositing receipts, preparing and signing checks, and maintaining the accounting records. To safeguard against loss, theft, or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Proper segregation of duties helps provide this assurance. This could be achieved by designating an employee who does not have access to cash receipts to perform reconciliations of accounting records to bank statements. At a minimum, there should be a review made and documented by a supervisor or by someone independent of these duties.

B. Civil process fees are not recorded and deposited until the related process papers are served. Most fees are received by check, and the Sheriff's bookkeeper indicated the checks are returned to the payor if papers cannot be served. A cash count on February 1, 1999 noted cash and checks for civil process fees totaling $574 that had not been recorded.

   To ensure civil process fees are accounted for properly, receipt slips should be issued immediately upon receipt and the monies deposited into the Sheriff's bank account. If it is later determined that the related process papers cannot be served, refund checks should be issued.

C. Receipts are not deposited on a timely basis. Deposits are made approximately once a week and average from $1,500 to $2,000. In addition, checks are not restrictively endorsed when received. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100, and checks should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

Conditions similar to Parts A. and C. were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Sheriff:

A. Segregate the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling. If segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum the accounting records should be periodically reviewed by a supervisor or someone independent of those duties.

B. Issue receipt slips for civil process fees immediately upon receipt and deposit them in the bank account. Any refunds should be made by check.

C. Restrictively endorse checks as received and deposit monies daily or when accumulated receipts exceeds $100.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. I will review the records monthly.

B. We will follow this recommendation.

C. We will follow this recommendation and make deposits when receipts exceed $100.

12. Public Administrator's Controls and Procedures

A. The value of some assets was not included in some settlement balances or otherwise reported. Examples include real estate valued at $30,000, and a vehicle valued at approximately $10,000. Also, another vehicle purchased in 1996, valued at $5,900, was not listed on the settlement until 1998. The settlements filed by the Public Administrator should be complete and accurate reports of the applicable estates' assets, receipts, and disbursements.

B. The Public Administrator did not always file annual settlements by the required due dates. The Probate Division sends notices to the Public Administrator when the settlements are due; however, some annual settlements were filed between two and seven months after the due date.

Section 473.540, RSMo 1994, states that every personal representative shall file with the court an annual statement of accounts for settlement. Timely, accurate and complete settlements are necessary for the court to properly oversee the administration of these estates.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Public Administrator:

A. File settlements which are accurate and include all assets of the respective estates.

B. File annual settlements on a timely basis as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. I agree with the recommendation.

B. I agree with the recommendation and have started a new procedure that the attorneys are to complete the settlements within two weeks of receiving them, or a new attorney will be appointed.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Lawrence County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

LAWRENCE COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Lawrence County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. County Expenditures

   A. The County Commission obtained two loans payable over a two-year period. These loans may have constituted long-term debt and the County Commission had no legal authority to enter into such agreements.

   B. Bids were not always solicited nor was bid documentation always retained for various purchases made by the county.

   C. The county did not issue Forms 1099-MISC as required.

   D. Reserve officers were paid fees to serve as guards which represented compensation which was not subjected to payroll withholdings and reported on W-2 forms.

   E. A reserve officer was paid $300 per month in mileage for patrolling and answering disturbance calls in his area. Although he used his personal vehicle, he did not prepare reports of mileage incurred. In addition, these payments were not reported as compensation on W-2 forms.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A. Ensure monies are borrowed in accordance with the provisions of state law.

   B. Solicit bids for all purchases in accordance with state law and maintain documentation of bids. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the official commission minutes should reflect the necessitating circumstances.

   C. Ensure Forms 1099-MISC are filed as required by the Internal Revenue Code, and file amended forms for payments made in prior years.

   D. Ensure amounts paid to reserve officers are properly reported on W-2 forms. Amended W-2 forms should be prepared for amounts paid to reserve officers in prior years.

   E. Obtain monthly mileage reports to support mileage paid to the reserve officer and report undocumented payments on W-2 forms. Amended W-2 forms should be prepared for undocumented expense payments made in prior years.

Status:

A, C,
& E. Implemented.

B&D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

2. Distributions to Special Road Districts

The County Commission distributed road funds from the Special Road and Bridge Fund to the special road districts without written agreements. In addition, the county did not monitor the special road districts' use of these funds.

Recommendation:

The County Commission obtain written agreements with each special road district and establish a system to monitor the special road districts' expenditures of county monies, including capital improvement sales tax monies.

Status:

Implemented.

3. Budgets and Published Financial Statements

A. The County Commission annually estimated to spend all available cash resources of the Special Road and Bridge Fund, resulting in significant over-budgeting of disbursements and unreasonable estimates of ending cash balances.

B. As a result of a budget amendment, the County Commission approved a budget deficit for Common #2 Road District Fund for the year ended December 31, 1996.

C. The county's annual published financial statements did not include the financial activity of several county funds.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Estimate receipts and disbursements as closely as possible to the anticipated actual amounts so that reasonable estimates of the county's financial position are presented in the Special Road and Bridge Fund budgets.

B. Discontinue deficit budgeting.

C. Ensure financial information for all county funds is reported in the annual published financial statements in accordance with state law.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

C. Not implemented. Six funds held outside the county treasury were not included in the 1997 or 1998 published financial statements. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

4. Personnel Policies and Procedures

A. Time sheets or other records of actual time worked were not maintained by employees of the County Clerk, County Assessor, County Collector, Recorder of Deeds, and Prosecuting Attorney.

B. Records of vacation or sick leave earned, taken, and accumulated were not maintained for some county employees.

C. The county did not have a comprehensive employee manual.

D. The Health Center and the Prosecuting Attorney had overtime and compensatory time policies that did not appear to comply with the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA).

E. The county did not have a drug-free workplace policy or awareness program for its employees as required by federal guidelines.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Require all county employees to complete time sheets which reflect actual time worked and leave taken. The records should be prepared by employees, approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed in a central location with the county's payroll records.

B. Maintain centralized leave records for all county employees.

C. Develop a comprehensive employee manual.

D. Ensure overtime and compensatory time policies adopted by the Prosecuting Attorney and Health Center comply with the FLSA.

E. Develop a drug-free workplace policy and an awareness program in compliance with federal requirements.

Status:

A-D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

E. Implemented.

5. Property Tax System and Computer Controls

A. The County Assessor and his staff were allowed access to the assessment data at times when they had no statutory authority to make changes to the assessment data.

B. The County Collector made manual changes to the property tax records for additions and abatements; however, there was no independent comparison of these to the changes in the tax data files or to the amounts reflected on the County Collector's annual settlements.

C. The County Clerk did not maintain an account book with the County Collector.

D. The county did not have an adequate password system or procedures to restrict access to the computer systems.

Recommendation:

The County Commission work with the applicable county officials to:

A. Restrict access to the assessment data during periods when changes to the data are not statutorily allowed.

B. Establish controls over the property tax addition and abatements process that would allow the County Clerk to periodically reconcile all additions and abatements to changes made to the property tax records and charge these amounts to the County Collector.

C. Ensure the County Clerk maintains an account book with the County Collector.

D. Implement a password system which requires each user be assigned a unique user ID and password, and require passwords to be changed periodically.

Status:

A-D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

6. Health Center's Controls

A. Receipts were not transmitted to the County Treasurer intact, and employees were allowed to cash personal checks from official receipts. Receipts were kept in an area accessible to all employees.

B. The method of payment received was not always indicated on the receipt log.

C. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

Recommendation:

The County Commission require the Health Center to:

A. Maintain receipts in a secure location and transmit all monies intact to the County Treasurer. In addition, the practice of cashing personal checks from official receipts should be discontinued.

B. Record the method of payment for all receipts and reconcile the composition of receipts to the composition of transmittals to the County Treasurer.

C. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The Health Center discontinued the practice of cashing employee's personal checks; however, receipts are not transmitted intact nor maintained in a secure location. See MAR No. 8.

B Not implemented. See MAR No. 8.

C. Implemented.

7. County Collector's Controls and Procedures

A. Tax statements issued by the County Collector did not indicate the method of payment received.

B. The County Collector and his employees routinely cashed personal checks from tax receipts.

C. Receipts were not always deposited on a timely basis.

Recommendation:

The County Collector:

A. Indicate the method of payment on each tax statement issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

B. Discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from tax receipts.

C. Deposit all receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Procedures exist to record the method of payment on the tax statements; however, method of payment is not always indicated and the composition of receipts is not reconciled to the composition of bank deposits. See MAR No. 9.

B&C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 9.

8. County Assessor's Controls and Procedures

A. Rediform receipt slips were issued only when requested by the payor, and the receipt slips did not always indicate the method of payments received. The County Assessor did not maintain summary records of receipts nor ensure all receipts were transmitted to the County Treasurer.

B. Some receipt slips could not be located.

C. The County Assessor did not file monthly reports of fees collected.

Recommendation:

The County Assessor:

A. Adopt accounting procedures and records to ensure all receipts are recorded, including the method of payments received, and all amounts transmitted to the County Treasurer agree to the accounting records.

B. Retain all accounting records.

C. Prepare monthly reports of fees as required by state law.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

C. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

9. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Receipts were not always recorded and deposited immediately upon receipt.

B. One employee was responsible for recording and depositing receipts, preparing and signing checks, and maintaining the accounting records.

C. The Sheriff maintained a Prisoner Seizure Account which appeared to have partial payments and overpayments on board bills which should have been distributed.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Issue receipt slips immediately upon receipt for all monies and deposit all monies intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. Segregate the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling. If segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum the accounting records should be periodically reviewed by a supervisor or someone independent of those duties.

C. Attempt to identify the balance remaining in the Prisoner Seizure Account, distribute amounts to the appropriate parties, and close the account.

Status:

A&B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 11.

C. Implemented.

10. Recorder of Deeds' Controls and Procedures

A. Receipts were not always deposited intact. Employees were allowed to cash personal checks from official receipts.

B. The Recorder of Deeds did not reconcile total receipts to total fees abstracted and disbursed, nor did he prepare a listing of marriage license fees remaining in the bank account.

C. The Recorder of Deeds served as custodian of the Recorder User Fee Fund although there was no statutory authority to allow this.

Recommendation:

The Recorder of Deeds:

A. Deposit monies intact and discontinue the practice of allowing employees to cash personal checks from official receipts.

B. Perform monthly reconciliations of total receipts and total fees abstracted, and prepare monthly listings of undistributed marriage license fees to ensure the cash balance agrees to the amount of undistributed fees. Any amounts remaining unidentified should be investigated to determine the proper disposition.

C. Turn custody of the Recorder User Fee Fund to the County Treasurer, as required by state law.

Status:

A-C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 10.

11. Public Administrator's Controls and Procedures

A. Supporting documentation was not available for some expenditures.

B. Voided checks were not retained for some estate files. In addition, checks were sometimes signed in advance so bills could be paid in the Public Administrator's absence.

C. The cash value of burial policies was not included in some settlement balances or otherwise reported.

D. The Public Administrator did not always file annual settlements by the due date.

Recommendation:

The Public Administrator:

A. Retain supporting documentation for all expenditures.

B. Deface and retain all voided checks and discontinue signing checks in advance.

C. File settlements which are accurate and include all assets of the respective estates.

D. File annual settlements on a timely basis as required by state law.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

C&D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 12.

12. Senior Citizens Service Board

A. The budgets prepared by the board did not include estimated revenues or projected ending fund balances. In addition, the budgets were not filed with the County Clerk and did not include actual revenues and expenditures for the two preceding years.

B. A member of the board was appointed treasurer and served as custodian of the Senior Citizens Service Fund. There appeared to be no statutory authority to allow this.

C. Collateral securities were not pledged by the board's depositary bank for deposits in excess of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) coverage.

Recommendation:

The Senior Citizens Service Board:

A. Prepare annual budgets as required by state law and submit a copy to the County Clerk.

B. Turn over custody of the Senior Citizens Service Fund to the County Treasurer.

C. Ensure adequate collateral securities are pledged for all deposits in excess of FDIC coverage, if the board maintains custody of its funds.

Status:

A&C. Implemented.

B. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

LAWRENCE COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1845, the county of Lawrence was named after James Lawrence, a naval hero of the War of 1812. Lawrence County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Thirty-Ninth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Mount Vernon.

Lawrence County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Lawrence County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
Property taxes	$ 282,605	7	264,533	6
Sales taxes	1,915,181	43	1,874,932	43

Total	$ 4,447,963	100	4,314,004	100

The following chart shows how Lawrence County spent monies in 1998 and 1997 from the General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
USE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
General county government	$ 932,270	21	838,561	21
Public safety	1,130,802	26	1,075,181	26
Health and welfare	308,916	7	291,984	7
Highways and roads	1,997,897	46	1,878,598	46
Total	$ 4,369,885	100	4,084,324	100

The county maintains approximately 118 county bridges and 1,067 miles of county roads.

The county's population was 24,545 in 1970 and 30,236 in 1990. The following chart shows the county's change in assessed valuation since 1970:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997	1985*	1980	1970
			(in millions)
Real estate	$ 163.2	157.1	91.1	35.3	23.4

Total	$ 256.1	245.1	130.6	64.8	37.6

* First year of statewide reassessment.

 Prior to 1985, separate assessments were made for merchants' and manufacturers' property. These amounts are included in real estate.

Lawrence County's property tax rates per $100 of assessed valuations were as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997
General Revenue Fund	$ 0.09	0.1
Special Road and Bridge Fund*	0.07	0.07
Developmentally Disabled Fund	0.07	0.07
Senior Citizens Service Fund	0.05	0.05

* The county has thirteen special and two common road districts that receive 80 percent of the tax collections from property within the districts, and 20 percent is retained in the County Special Road and Bridge Fund. The two common road districts and most special road districts have additional tax levies which are distributed entirely to those districts.

Property taxes attach as an enforceable lien on property as of January 1. Taxes are levied on September 1 and payable by December 31. Taxes paid after December 31 are subject to penalties. The county bills and collects property taxes for itself and most other local governments. Taxes collected were distributed as follows:

	Year Ended February 28,
	1999	1998
State of Missouri	$ 77,442	75,453

AUDIT REPORT

MARION COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-55
August 18, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Marion, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Marion County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

< Several prior recommendations had not been implemented and weaknesses were again noted with the accounting controls and procedures of the Circuit Clerk, District 2 (Hannibal). Formal bank reconciliations were not prepared on a timely basis for the child support account, numerous checks were outstanding for more than a year in the fee account and child support account, and an open items listing was not prepared on a timely basis for the fee account. The Circuit Clerk's bank accounts were not always adequately covered by collateral securities.

< The amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary banks in January 1999 and January 1998, was insufficient by approximately $2.2 and $1.5 million, respectively, to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer and County Collector. The county needs to better monitor securities pledged to protect county bank balances.

The report also included recommendations for improvements related to bidding procedures, preparing county budgets, verification of back tax books, contractual agreements, and personnel policies and procedures.

Other comments in the report related to the Emergency Service (E-911) Board's practice of paying bonuses and the failure of the Associate Circuit Division, District 2 (Hannibal) to reconcile open items to the cash balance.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Marion County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Marion County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Marion County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 4, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Marion County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Marion County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Marion County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, or the Emergency Telephone Service (E-911) Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Domestic Violence Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division, District 1, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division, District 2, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Probate Division, District 2, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Juvenile Justice Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit, District 1, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit, District 2, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
CDBG Commercial Flood Buyout Fund	1998 and 1997
Family Access Fund	1998
Flood Buyout Fund	1997
CDBG Residential Flood Buyout Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Assessment Fund	1997
Emergency Telephone Service (E-911) Fund	1998
EDA Cyanamid Road Project Fund	1997
Local Use Tax Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

Deficit budget balances are presented for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
General Revenue Fund	1998 and 1997
Special Road and Bridge Fund	1998 and 1997

However, the budgets of those funds also included other resources available to finance current or future year disbursements. Generally, other available net resources represented current year property taxes not received before December 31. Such resources were sufficient to offset the deficit budget balances presented.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Associate Circuit Division, District 1, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division, District 2, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Probate Division, District 2, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Juvenile Justice Center Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit, District 1, Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county’s custodial bank in the county's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

The health center board’s deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the board's custodial bank in the board's name. However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The E-911 board’s deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the board's custodial bank in the board's name.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

MARION COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Marion County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Food Distribution Program (CFDA number 10.550) represent the dollar value assigned to commodities based on prices provided by the state Department of Social Services.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Marion County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Marion County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Marion County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. However, the results of our auditing procedures disclosed an instance of noncompliance with those requirements, which is required to be reported in accordance with OMB Circular A-133 and which is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1.

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Marion County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

We noted a certain matter involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be a reportable condition. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over compliance that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the county's ability to administer a major federal program in accordance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants. The reportable condition is described in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs as finding number 98-1.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we do not believe that the reportable condition described above is a material weakness.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Marion County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Section .310(b) of Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, requires the auditee to prepare a schedule of expenditures of federal awards (SEFA) for the period covered by the auditee's financial statements. The county is required to submit the schedule of expenditures of federal awards to the State Auditor's Office as a part of the annual budget.

The county does not have a procedure in place to track federal assistance for preparation of the SEFA. The county did not prepare and submit a SEFA to the State Auditor's Office for the year ended December 31, 1997. Upon our request during the audit fieldwork, the county did provide the schedule for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Without an accurate and timely SEFA, federal financial activity may not be audited and reported in accordance with federal audit requirements which could result in future reductions of federal funds.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk prepare a complete and accurate schedule of expenditures of federal awards and submit the schedule to the State Auditor's Office as part of the annual budget.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE AND PLAN FOR CORRECTIVE ACTION

The County Clerk will try to prepare an accurate SEFA. The County Clerk's deputy will maintain a file of all federal contracts to help identify federal dollars. The County Clerk is the contact person and the anticipated completion date of the next SEFA is January 2000.

Our prior audit report for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Government Auditing Standards, requires to be reported for an annual audit of financial statements.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

MARION COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

2. County Expenditures (Federal Portion)

Federal Grantor:	U.S. Department of Justice
Pass-Through Grantor:	Department of Public Safety
Federal CFDA Number:	16.579
Program Title:	Drug Control and System Improvement- Formula Grant
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number:	94-NCD2-0021& 93-NCD2-0008
Award Years:	1995 and 1994
Questioned Costs:	Not Applicable

Federal Grantor:	Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA)
Pass-Through Grantor:	Department of Public Safety
Federal CFDA Number:	83.516
Program Title:	Disaster Assistance
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number:	FEMA-995-DR-MO
Award Years:	1996, 1995 and 1994
Questioned Costs:	$534,926

B. The county was the grant recipient for a Drug Control and System Improvement Grant, passed through the state Department of Public Safety (DPS). Marion County made disbursements for payroll expenses for the Northeast Missouri (NEMO) Drug Task Force employees; however, the county did not require documentation of time worked. In addition, the County Commission approved reimbursement requests from the NEMO Task Force without reviewing documentation which supported Task Force expenditures. Also, the County Commission did not ensure the NEMO Task Force obtained an audit.

C. The county did not advertise or solicit bids for flood debris clean up services costing $534,926 which was claimed as a FEMA expenditure.

Recommendation:

B&C. The County Commission contact state and federal grantor agencies to resolve the questioned costs. In addition, the County Commission should adequately review supporting documentation for all expenditures prior to approving such expenditures or reimbursement requests and ensure subrecipients of federal financial assistance comply with federal regulations, including obtaining an annual audit when necessary.

Status:

B&C. Implemented. The Drug Control and System Improvement grant is now administered by another political subdivision. Department of Public Safety personnel indicated that questioned costs have been resolved. Due to an emergency situation and the need to complete the project promptly, State Emergency Management Agency personnel indicated that bids were not required in this situation.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

MARION COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Marion County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Marion County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Marion County Services for the Developmentally Disabled Board is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed that audit report and the substantiating working papers for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials and the county board referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Marion County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Circuit Clerk, District 2 (Hannibal) Accounting Controls and Procedures

For the year ended December 31, 1998, the Circuit Clerk's, District 2 (Hannibal) office received approximately $500,000 in fees, bonds and interest. The circuit clerk has a fiduciary responsibility to ensure all monies in her custody are accounted for properly. During our review we identified the following significant weaknesses:

A. Monies received are not deposited on a timely basis. Deposits to the fee account are made every two to three days. In addition, receipts are not posted to the computerized accounting records until the deposit is made. To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100 and receipts should be posted to the accounting records daily.

B. Formal bank reconciliations were not prepared on a timely basis for the child support account. As of December 1998, the child support account bank reconciliations were completed through August 1998. Failure to prepare timely formal bank reconciliations increases the risk that errors or irregularities will not be detected on a timely basis.

C. The Circuit Clerk's fee account has 28 checks totaling $7,188 which have been outstanding for more than one year. In addition to the current fee account, an inactive fee account is maintained which has 47 outstanding checks totaling $6,979. The inactive fee account has outstanding checks dating back to July 1992.

The Circuit Clerk should investigate old outstanding checks that have not cleared the bank, and determine proper disposition. Procedures should be adopted to periodically follow up on old outstanding checks.

D. An open-items listing for the fee account is not maintained. The Circuit Clerk's fee account cash balance was approximately $212,000 at December 31, 1998. Although an open items listing is maintained for the child support account, a reconciliation of the open items listing to the reconciled bank balance has not been performed since August 1998. The Circuit Clerk indicated that reconciliations have not been performed because of computer system problems.

Monthly listings of open-items are necessary to ensure the proper disposition of cash balances. The periodic reconciliation of liabilities with the cash balance provides assurance that the records are in balance and that sufficient cash is available for payment of all liabilities. Unidentified differences should be investigated and resolved.

E. During a review of case files we noted cases for which monies were not disbursed timely and remained in the Circuit Clerk's fee account. Two cases reviewed had been closed for over one year prior to the case being processed and any remaining monies being disbursed. Upon disposition of a case, the case should be properly processed and any remaining funds should be distributed on a timely basis. Continuing to account for monies which could be disbursed results in an unnecessary administrative burden.

F. The Circuit Clerk's bank accounts were not adequately covered by collateral securities, and therefore, monies were unsecured by various amounts during the audit period. In September 1998 and December 1997, when balances were at their highest, approximately $90,000 was unsecured.

Section 483.312, RSMo 1998, requires the value of securities pledged by banks holding circuit court fund shall at all times be not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the FDIC. Inadequate collateral securities leave public funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of bank failure.

To ensure sufficient collateral securities are pledged, the Circuit Clerk should enter into depositary agreements with the banks to require collateral securities to be pledged whenever balances exceed FDIC coverage. In addition, total amounts on deposit should be routinely monitored to ensure amounts pledged are sufficient.

These conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk, District 2 (Hannibal):

A. Deposit monies received intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. In addition, receipts should be recorded daily.

B. Ensure formal bank reconciliations are prepared on a monthly basis.

C. Investigate all old outstanding checks and either reissue the check or consult with legal counsel as to the appropriate disposition. In the future, outstanding checks should be investigated and resolved on a periodic basis.

D. Prepare accurate monthly listings of liabilities and reconcile the listings to book and bank balances.

E. Ensure all cases are processed and monies are distributed on a timely basis.

F. Ensure the depositary bank pledges adequate securities at all times in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Circuit Clerk indicated:

A. The office has started to try and make general account deposits on a timely basis. Receipts are being posted in the computer before deposits are made.

B. Reconciliations have been prepared.

C. She is in the process of investigating old outstanding checks.

D. She is in the process of updating open items.

E. She has disbursed the last several months of cases.

F. The bank has secured deposits in excess of the FDIC coverage.

2. County Expenditures

Bids were not always solicited, nor was bid documentation always retained, for various purchases made by the county during the audit period.

Examples of items purchased, for which bid documentation could not be found or was not sufficient, are as follows:

Item Purchased	Cost
Jail kitchen supplies (audit period total)	$ 178,368
Gravel (audit period total)	146,318
Reassessment Map Maintenance	18,118

Section 50.660, RSMo 1994, requires the advertisement of bids for all purchases of $3,000 or more, and the solicitation of bids for purchases greater than $1,000 from any one person, firm, or corporation in any period of 90 days. Effective August 28, 1998, a change in state law raised the limit for solicitation of bids to $4,500. Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of county resources and help ensure the county receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding ensures all parties are given equal opportunity to participate in county business.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission solicit bids for all items in accordance with state law. Documentation of bids and the reasons for selecting other than the lowest bid should be retained by the County Clerk. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the official minutes should reflect the necessitating circumstances.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission will try to maintain better documentation of the bidding process.

3. Budgetary Practices

A. Budgets were not prepared for some funds for the years ended December 31, 1998, and 1997.

By obtaining or preparing budgets for all county funds, the County Commission would be able to more effectively evaluate all county resources. In addition, Chapter 50, RSMo 1994, requires preparation of annual budgets for all county funds to present a complete financial plan for the ensuing year.

B. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required. Section 50.800, RSMo 1994, provides that the financial statements are required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for all county funds. For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

C. Deficiencies were noted in the budgets prepared by the County Clerk and approved by the County Commission as follows:

1) For some funds budgeted expenditures significantly exceeded actual expenditures. For many of the same funds, it appears budgeted expenditures were based strictly on total beginning available resources and anticipated revenues. As a result, the anticipated ending fund balance was understated.

2) Significant expenditure amounts were sometimes budgeted in broad categories with no detail provided. Failure to provide detailed budget categories reduces the effectiveness of the budget as a management tool.

By not presenting all financial information in a complete and accurate manner, the effectiveness of the budget as a management tool is decreased. To be of maximum assistance to the county and its taxpayers, a complete and accurate budget document is needed.

These conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission:

A. Ensure that budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds in accordance with state law.

B. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

C. And County Clerk ensure budget documents are accurate and complete.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission will attempt to conform with state law.

The County Clerk indicated the several funds listed by the auditors are of the more obscure variety and very small in sum. They are controlled by various county and judicial officials and will be included in the county budget document and financial statement if and when these officials submit budget estimates of revenues and expenditures. It would seem to the County Clerk that auditors should transmit their opinions and comments regarding this need, not only to the County Commission and Budget Officer, but also to the officials in control of these funds, thereby enlightening them of the need for cooperation in an effort to present a complete financial plan for a given year.

3.B. The County Clerk indicated, it is likely, if county and judicial officials are not submitting these obscure funds to the budget officer for inclusion in the county budget, they will not end up in the financial statement either. This situation will be corrected when 3.A. is corrected.

3.C. The County Clerk indicated:

The funds to which the auditor refers to in C. 1) are single-purpose funds. The controlling officer of that particular fund, such as the Sheriff or Prosecuting Attorney, usually submits their budget-request forms for revenues and expenditures showing all resources budgeted out as expenditures. Since these funds cannot be spent for purposes other than that for which they were intended, the County Clerk agrees with them that this practice is responsible and acceptable. The County Clerk agrees that the ending fund balance becomes understated, but as long as it is not a deficit, and all expenditures are accounted for in a lawful manner, he sees no problem, especially with these smaller insignificant funds representing far less than 1% of the county's total budget.

Actually the budget document to which the auditor refers plays a very small role as a "management tool." In fact, the county uses it very little as a "management tool." The county's AS-400 computer's financial package form greatly surpasses the state document form in its informational content for detail, and it is at the County Clerk's fingertips. All of its financial information is presented in a complete and accurate manner. Its ease of presenting complete detail of every Marion County expenditure is easily shown upon the request of any county official, auditor or taxpayer. An accurate budget document is a reality. The county has it now.

4. Collateral Securities

Our review of pledged collateral for county funds revealed the following concerns:

A. The amount of collateral securities pledged by the county's depositary banks in January 1999 and January 1998, was insufficient by approximately $2.2 and $1.5 million, respectively, to cover monies in the custody of the County Treasurer and County Collector.

B. The amount of collateral securities pledged by the Health Center Board's depositary banks in February of 1998 was insufficient by approximately $117,000, to cover monies in the Health Center account.

It appears these situations occurred because bank balances are not monitored by the county or health center board, respectively. Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, provides that the value of the securities pledged should at all times be not less than 100 percent of the actual amount on deposit less the amount insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation(FDIC). Inadequate collateral securities leave county funds unsecured and subject to loss in the event of a bank failure.

WE RECOMMEND :

A. The County Commission ensure collateral securities pledged by the depositary banks are sufficient to protect monies at all times.

B. The health center Board of Trustees ensure collateral securities pledged by the depositary banks are sufficient to protect monies at all times.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The County Commission indicated the recommendation has been implemented.

B. The health center Administrator indicated the health center monies are now adequately collateralized. She stated deposits are being monitored to ensure all deposits are collateralized throughout the year.

5. Prosecuting Attorney Rent

The Prosecuting Attorney maintains an office outside the county courthouse. In addition to his duties as the county Prosecuting Attorney, he operates a private law practice from this office. Currently, the county pays 100 percent of all rent and utilities (excluding telephone) expense. The county does not have a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney regarding the share of office expenses the county should pay. During the year ended December 31, 1998, rent and utilities (exclusive of telephone) totaled $7,200 and $3,475, respectively.

Since county resources should be used for county business, the county should enter into a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney outlining what the arrangements are, what rent and/or equipment will be provided by the county and what will be provided by the private practice. The basis for the arrangements should be documented and retained.

To ensure the Prosecuting Attorney is not personally benefiting from this arrangement, it is important to document the adequacy of the financial arrangement and the basis for the allocation of resources between county and private use. There needs to be a clear distinction made between county and private practice resources and work efforts to avoid the appearance of impropriety, and alleviate questions regarding possible inappropriate use of public resources. This situation was noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Commission establish a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney for the county's share of overhead costs (rent, utilities, etc.). In addition, the basis for the reimbursement rate should be documented and monitored.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated they have discussed this with the Prosecuting Attorney. The Prosecuting Attorney uses personal property for county use and the county believes this offsets the amount paid for rent and utilities. The County Commission will contact the Prosecuting Attorney to obtain written documentation on this matter.

6. Personnel Policies and Procedures

Our review of employee time cards and leave records revealed that compensatory time is accumulated for time worked in excess of eight hours per day even when 40 hours were not worked during the week. The County Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual states that overtime compensation will be rewarded at one and a half times the usual rate of pay, in the form of compensatory time off, for hours worked in excess of 40 per week. The manual states that an employee must meet the 40-hour plus work week, not simply exceed an 8-hour day, before being eligible for overtime compensation.

According to the manual, compensatory time can accumulate to a maximum of 240 hours for all nonemergency personnel and compensatory time for each employee will then be reduced to 40 hours on an annual date supplied by the elected official. With the exception of road and bridge employees, we noted that employees' accumulated compensatory time was not being reduced to 40 hours. At December 31, 1998, the county's records reflected accumulated compensatory time totaling 1,031 hours (exclusive of the Sheriff's office and road and bridge employees). Three employees had balances exceeding 100 hours.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission review the policy and ensure compliance with the County Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated the personnel policy has been changed to allow compensatory time as noted above and will ensure compliance with the policy. The County Commission will review compensatory time accumulation and the reduction to forty hours on an annual date with the county officials.

7. Property Tax Books

The back tax books are prepared by the County Collector; however, no procedures are performed by the County Clerk to verify the accuracy of the back tax books.

Section 140.050, RSMo 1994, requires the County Clerk to charge the County Collector with the aggregate amount of taxes, interest, and clerk's fees contained in the back tax books. Failure to perform reviews of the tax books may result in errors and irregularities going undetected. The procedures outlined in the statutes for the preparation of the tax books provide for the separation of duties and acts as a form of checks and balances over the County Collector.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk verify the totals of the back tax books for accuracy and document the procedures performed.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Clerk indicated he will implement the recommendation.

8. Emergency Telephone Service (E-911) Board

In December of 1998 and 1997, the E-911 Board paid a $50 bonus to each employee for a total of $1,100. These payments represent additional compensation in the form of a bonus for services previously rendered and, as such, are in violation of Article III, Section 39 of the Missouri Constitution which states, in part:

> "The general assembly shall have no power...To grant or to authorize any county or municipal authority to grant any extra compensation, fee or allowance to a public officer, agent, servant or contractor after service has been rendered or a contract has been entered into and performed in whole or in part..."

WE RECOMMEND The Emergency Telephone Service (E-911) Board discontinue the practice of paying employee bonuses.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The E-911 Board Treasurer indicated the Board will comply with the recommendation.

9. Associate Circuit Division, District 2 (Hannibal) Open Items

The December 31, 1998, and 1997 listings of open items exceeded the reconciled bank balance by $2,793, and $1,908, respectively. As noted in the prior report, open items exceeded the reconciled bank balance by $2,103 at December 31, 1996. There is no indication that the open items listing is compared to the reconciled bank balance or that differences are investigated.

The periodic reconciliation of liabilities with the cash balance provides assurance that the records are in balance and that sufficient cash is available for payment of all liabilities. Unidentified differences should be investigated and resolved on a timely basis.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Associate Circuit Judge:

Require a detailed monthly listing of open items be prepared on a timely basis and periodically reconciled to the cash balance. Any unidentified differences should be investigated and resolved on a timely basis.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Associate Circuit Judge indicated the court has instructed the court clerks to reconcile open items to the bank balance and investigate any unidentified differences as well as investigate any differences in prior years. The court has been working to reconcile open items. The open items discrepancy has been carried forward from prior to the time the current Judge took office. The Office of State Courts Administrator has been contacted by the court and they advised they would provide auditing and accounting services to reconcile any perceived potential difficulties.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Marion County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

MARION COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Marion County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. Finding numbers 2.B&C. are omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Circuit Clerk, District 2 (Hannibal) Accounting Controls and Procedures

   A. Accounting duties were not segregated for fee account transactions. There was no documentation that personnel independent of the accounting duties performed reconciliations of the records or reviews of the work performed.

   B. Monies received were not deposited on a timely basis.

   C. Formal bank reconciliations were not prepared on a timely basis for the fee account and the child support account.

   D. The Circuit Clerk's fee account and child support account had numerous checks which had been outstanding for more than one year.

   E. The Circuit Clerk had not prepared an open items listing for the fee account since December 31, 1993. As of March 31, 1997, the reconciled cash balance exceeded the total identified open items by $17,571. In addition, the open items listing for the child support account was not prepared on a timely basis.

   F. Several cases were noted where monies were not disbursed timely and remained in the Circuit Clerk's fee account.

   G. Disbursements to the state and county for fees collected were untimely.

   H. For most of the audit period, the Circuit Clerk's bank accounts were not covered by collateral securities.

   I. The Circuit Clerk earned interest on the various accounts maintained, but did not maintain an interest ledger which summarized interest revenues, disbursements, and the balance.

   Recommendation:

   The Circuit Clerk, District 2 (Hannibal):

A. Provide for adequate segregation of duties and performance of independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records.

B. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Ensure formal bank reconciliations are prepared on a monthly basis.

D. Investigate all old outstanding checks and either reissue the check or consult with legal counsel as to the appropriate disposition. In the future, outstanding checks should be investigated and resolved on a periodic basis.

E. Prepare accurate monthly listings of liabilities and reconcile the listings to book and bank balances.

F. Ensure all cases are processed and monies are distributed on a timely basis.

G. Ensure fees are turned over on a monthly basis.

H. Ensure the depositary bank pledges adequate securities at all times in accordance with state law.

I. Deposit and account for the sources and uses of all interest monies and, if necessary, consider depositing all interest monies into one account.

Status:

A. Not implemented. Although duties are not adequately segregated, all employees may receive monies and perform bank reconciliations. The Circuit Clerk indicated she reviews bank reconciliations; however, the review is not documented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Partially implemented. Child Support monies received are deposited on a timely basis; however, monies received for circuit court fees are not. See MAR No. 1.

C. Partially implemented. Bank reconciliations are being performed monthly for the fee account. However, as of December 1998, bank reconciliations had not been performed for the child support account since August 1998. See MAR No. 1.

D-F, & H. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

G&I. Implemented.

2. County Expenditures

A. Bids were not always solicited, nor was bid documentation always retained, for various purchases made by the county during the audit period.

D. Distributions were made to various not-for-profit corporations and political subdivisions without monitoring the expenditures of the monies. In addition, written agreements were not always obtained.

E. The Prosecuting Attorney maintained an office outside the county courthouse which was used to conduct county business and operate a private law practice. The county paid 100 percent of all rent and utilities (excluding telephone) expense but did not have a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney regarding the share of office expenses the county should pay.

F. The supervisor of the road and bridge department was provided a county-owned vehicle which he also used for commuting purposes. There was no written policy allowing the use of this vehicle for commuting purposes nor were detailed logs which distinguished between business and personal usage maintained. In addition, the personal use of the vehicle was not reported as fringe benefits on the individual's W-2, as required by the IRS.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for all items in accordance with state law. Documentation of bids and the reasons for selecting other than the lowest bid should be retained by the County Clerk. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the official minutes should reflect the necessitating circumstances.

D. Ensure distributions to NFPs and political subdivisions and disbursements for services are made pursuant to a written contract which specifically states the benefits to be received by both parties. All expenditures should be monitored for compliance with the terms of the contract.

E. Establish a written agreement with the Prosecuting Attorney for the county's share of overhead costs (rent, utilities, etc.). In addition, the basis for the reimbursement rate should be documented and monitored.

F. Comply with IRS guidelines for reporting fringe benefits related to county-owned vehicles. In addition, the county should establish a written policy regarding the appropriate use of county vehicles for commuting purposes.

Status:

A. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

D. Implemented.

E. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

F. Not implemented. The County Commission considers the road supervisor to be on call 24 hours per day. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

3. Budgetary Practices

A. Budgets were not prepared for some funds for the years ended December 31, 1996, 1995, and 1994.

B. The annual published financial statements of the county did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required.

C. Deficiencies were noted in the information presented in the budgets prepared by the County Clerk and approved by the County Commission.

Recommendation:

A. The County Commission ensure that budgets are prepared or obtained for all county funds in accordance with state law.

B. Ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements.

C. The County Commission and County Clerk ensure budget documents are accurate and complete.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

4. Assessment Fund

At December 31, 1996, $73,818 was due to various taxing authorities (primarily school districts) from the Assessment Fund and $145,066 was due from the General Revenue Fund to the Assessment Fund.

Recommendation:

The County Commission authorize the payment of $73,818 from the Assessment Fund to the various taxing authorities and the transfer of $145,066 from the General Revenue Fund to the Assessment Fund. If the County Commission does not intend to make the payment and transfer, it should be clearly documented in the County Commission minutes along with justification for not doing so.

Status:

Partially implemented. Assessment Fund expenditures of $16,520 and $36,438 were paid from the General Revenue Fund during 1998 and 1997, respectively, and $107,334 was transferred from the Local Use Tax Fund to the Assessment Fund in January 1999; however, the county has not paid the $73,818 to the various taxing authorities. Although not repeated in the current report, we continue to recommend the County Commission authorize the payment of $73,818 from the Assessment Fund to the various taxing authorities.

5. Railroad and Utility Tax Distributions

The County Clerk did not correctly apportion 1994 railroad and utility tax collections to the various school districts.

Recommendation:

The County Clerk adjust future railroad and utility tax distributions for the amounts due to (from) the various school districts and use the proper percentages in computing future distributions.

Status:

Implemented.

6. General Fixed Asset Records and Procedures

A. County-owned assets purchased throughout the year which were not located at the Palmyra Courthouse were not tagged until a physical inventory was performed. In addition, general fixed asset items purchased with monies from the various officials' interest funds were not always recorded in the general fixed asset records.

B. The County Commission's approval for the disposal of fixed assets was not always documented.

Recommendation:

A. The County Clerk request that the various other county officials submit copies of invoices when equipment items are purchased from funds outside the control of the County Treasurer. These property items should then be recorded on the general fixed asset records as county property.

B. The County Commission ensure approval of all property dispositions is properly documented.

Status:

A. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Implemented. When County Clerk personnel are informed of dispositions by elected officials, it is brought to the attention of the County Commission who determines the method of disposal. The County Clerk indicated the method of disposition is then documented in the general fixed asset records.

7. Circuit Clerk, District 1 (Palmyra) and Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Accounting duties were not adequately segregated.

B. Formal monthly bank reconciliations were not prepared for the Circuit Clerk fee account and a cash balance was not maintained.

C. The Circuit Clerk's office open items listing was not reconciled to book balances.

D. The Circuit Clerk's fee account had seven checks totaling $204 which were outstanding for at least three years. In addition, the Circuit Clerk's child support account had eight checks totaling $875 which were outstanding for over one year.

E. Criminal costs paid out exceeded the amount received from the state by $1,628 in 1991. Monies were not withheld from criminal cost distributions to correct the overpayment.

Recommendation:

A. The Circuit Clerk, District 1 (Palmyra) and Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds provide for adequate segregation of duties and the performance of independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records.

B. The Circuit Clerk maintain a cash balance and reconcile to the bank account on a monthly basis. Any differences should be investigated and resolved.

C. The Circuit Clerk reconcile the listing of liabilities to the cash balance on a monthly basis.

D. The Circuit Clerk investigate all old outstanding checks and either reissue the checks or consult with legal counsel as to the appropriate disposition. In the future, outstanding checks should be investigated and resolved on a periodic basis.

E. The Circuit Clerk withhold $1,628 from future criminal cost distributions to correct the overpayment noted above.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Although duties are not adequately segregated, bank reconciliations are reviewed and initialed by an independent employee. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B&C. Implemented.

D. Not implemented. The fee account continues to have outstanding checks dating back to 1993, and the child support account has outstanding checks that date back to 1994. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

E. Not implemented. We could not find any evidence that a correction had been made. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

8. Associate Circuit Division, District 1(Palmyra) Unclaimed Monies

The bond account contained $7,663 in bond monies which were more than five years old. In addition, at December 31, 1996, the general account had $506 in outstanding checks that were over one year old.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit Judge authorize $7,663 in bond monies be turned over to the State Treasurer for deposit to the Abandoned Funds Account. In addition, old outstanding checks should be investigated to see if the payee can be located and, if possible, reissue the check. Any remaining unclaimed amounts should be disbursed in accordance with state law.

Status:

Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

9. Associate Circuit Division, District 2 (Hannibal) Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The December 31, 1996, listing of open items exceeded the reconciled bank balance by $2,103.

B. The Associate Circuit Division, District 2, open items listing included $886 related to 73 cases which were five to twelve years old. In addition, 28 checks totaling $302 were outstanding for more than one year.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit Judge:

A. Require a detailed monthly listing of open items be prepared on a timely basis and periodically reconciled to the cash balance. Any unidentified differences should be investigated and resolved on a timely basis.

B. Establish procedures to follow up and properly dispose of open items and resolve old outstanding checks in a timely manner, including disbursing unclaimed amounts in accordance with state law.

Status:

A. Not implemented. See MAR No. 9.

B. Implemented.

10. Sheriff Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Accounting duties were not adequately segregated.

B. Receipts were not always recorded immediately upon receipt.

C. The Sheriff maintained a cash fund at the Sheriff's office and the jail. A comparison of the cash fund ledger to a count of cash fund monies revealed at least $461 was unaccounted for.

D. The total amount of prisoner monies in the Sheriff's commissary checking account was not reconciled to the individual prisoner balances.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Provide for adequate segregation of duties and the performance of independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records.

B. Ensure all receipts are recorded immediately upon receipt. In addition, $630 should be turned over to the County Treasurer.

C. Investigate the $461 that was unaccounted for as of May 28, 1997 and pursue recovery. In addition, any monies remaining in the cash fund should be turned over to the County Treasurer for deposit into the General Revenue Fund. If a petty cash fund is deemed necessary, it should be maintained on an imprest basis and expended only for official business. Supporting documentation should be maintained for all expenditures.

D. Reconcile the individual prisoner balances to the total amount of prisoner monies in the account.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Accounting duties are not adequately segregated; however, the Sheriff reviews deposits and bank reconciliations and signs all checks. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Implemented.

C. Partially implemented. Supporting documentation is maintained for expenditures; however, the monies that were previously unaccounted for have not been recovered and the petty cash fund is not maintained on an imprest basis. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

D. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

11. Public Administrator Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Some settlements did not include all estate assets, such as real property, burial plans, and accrued interest from certificates of deposit.

B. There were numerous instances in which settlements were not filed timely.

C. Checks written to care facilities were for less than the invoiced amount. In addition, in one case there were seven payments to a care facility for which supporting documentation was either not received or maintained.

Recommendation:

A. The Associate Circuit Judge require the Public Administrator to file complete and accurate settlements and inventories.

B. The Associate Circuit Judge continue to monitor the timeliness of cases turned over by the former Public Administrator.

C. The Public Administrator pay vendor invoices for the amount of the invoice. If the Public Administrator pays less than the invoice amount, the reasons should be documented. In addition, supporting documentation should be maintained for all disbursements.

Status:

Implemented.

12. County Health Center

A. Health center employees were required to maintain time sheets; however, the time sheets were not approved by the employees' supervisor.

B. Budgets did not include actual receipts and disbursements from the two previous years.

C. Actual expenditures exceeded approved budgeted expenditures by $44,281, $33,299, and $15,792, for the years ended December 31, 1996, 1995, and 1994, respectively.

Recommendation:

The health center Board of Trustees:

A. Ensure employee time sheets are approved by the employees' supervisor.

B. Ensure the budget documents are accurate and present complete information.

C. Refrain from incurring expenditures in excess of budgeted amounts. If it becomes necessary to incur expenditures in excess of the approved budget, the circumstances should be fully documented and the budget properly amended prior to incurring the expenditures.

Status:

A. Not implemented. The health center Administrator indicated that a review of time sheets is performed; however, that review is not documented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B&C. Implemented.

13. County Collector Deposits

Receipts were not always deposited intact. In addition, tax collections were sometimes used to cash checks for county officials/employees.

Recommendation:

The County Collector deposit all monies received intact daily. If a change fund is needed, it should be maintained at an established set amount. In addition, the practice of using receipts to cash checks for county employees should be discontinued.

Status:

Partially implemented. County Collector personnel indicated checks were no longer cashed for county employees; however, monies received were not deposited intact daily. The County Collector generally withheld monies from the deposit to have funds to provide change and to divide monies received between various bank accounts. The new County Collector indicated he is going to deposit monies intact. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

MARION COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1826, the county of Marion was named after Francis Marion of the Revolution. Marion County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Tenth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Palmyra.

Marion County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Marion County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
Property taxes	$ 625,339	15	475,045	13
Sales taxes	1,389,092	34	1,338,856	34
Federal and state aid	1,212,000	29	1,217,596	31

The health center Board of Trustees entered into a lease agreement with the Farmers and Merchants Bank on December 19, 1995. The terms of the agreement called for Farmers and Merchants Bank to pay for the construction of the health center building and then lease the building to the health center for payments totaling the principal and interest due on the lease. The lease is scheduled to be paid off in 2005. The remaining principal and interest due on the lease at December 31, 1998, was $476,439 and $15,674, respectively.

The County entered into a lease agreement with Mark Twain Bank on May 15, 1995. The terms of the agreement called for the bank to issue bonds of $3,695,000 to refund the series 1990 bonds used to construct the new jail and for the bank to lease the jail back to the county for the payments totaling the principal and interest due on the outstanding bonds. Payments are made from the Capital Improvements Sales Tax Fund from sales tax revenues. The bonds are scheduled to be paid off in 2003. The remaining principal and interest due on the bonds at December 31, 1998, was $2,345,000 and $362,880, respectively.

AUDIT REPORT

COLUMBIA 93 SCHOOL DISTRICT

BOONE COUNTY, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-54
August 16, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

YELLOW SHEET

The following findings are a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to the request of petitioners from the Columbia 93 School District, in Boone County, Missouri. The Yellow Sheet points out those findings the State Auditor found particularly noteworthy.

The school district does not always solicit bids or keep bid documentation for major purchases. While district employees indicated that in some instances bids were solicited by phone or by direct contact with vendors, documentation was not kept for some purchases.

The following are examples of expenditures the district made but could not provide bid documentation:

Item	Cost
Public Relations Services	$60,622
1998 Jeep Sport Cherokee	$20,957
Laptop Computers	$11,151

The district has used the same architectural firm for construction projects for 17 years. Although the district selected the firm through a formal selection process, the district has continued to renew the contract with this firm without periodically conducting a selection process.

The district uses various law firms for its legal services. For two of these firms, the district did not receive written price quotes or enter into a written agreement for these services and, for the past three years, the district has simply renewed its contract for audit services, rather than rebid the contract.

The school district contributes $5,000 each year to the Boone County Teachers Credit Union to assist with its costs of serving the district's teachers. In addition, the district provides services to the credit union on a reimbursement basis, such as payroll and purchasing of supplies. There is no written agreement between the credit union and the school district outlining the terms of this arrangement and specifying the services the district is to receive.

Purchase orders for food supplies are not issued and approved prior to placing orders.

The transportation contract has not been bid since 1979. Prior to contracting transportation services, the district owned and operated its own transportation system. Since changing to a contracted bus system, the district has not formally evaluated the costs and benefits of owning its system versus contracting for the services.

Adequate procedures are not in place to monitor transportation costs. Our review noted several routes in which the number of riders assigned to the buses and the number of actual riders on the count day were significantly lower than bus capacities.

While the district has begun the process of developing procedures to review and monitor bus routes, the district should continue this process to ensure all bus routes are operating efficiently. Specific routes with low ridership should be reviewed and investigated to identify any areas where costs can be reduced such as decreasing the size of the bus.

The school district operates a copy center which provides various copying and printing services to the district as well as to school related organizations such as the Parent Teacher Association (PTA). The copy center operates on a cost recovery basis and the various departments and organizations are charged based on the type and volume of services received. We recommend the School Board perform an analysis of all costs associated with the copy center and ensure the rates charged cover all operating costs.

Various schools and offices within the district maintain petty cash funds ranging from $100 to $2,500. Last year these funds totaled approximately $128,500. We found several instances in which petty cash reconciliations had not been performed and submitted to the business office. As a result, there was no documentation supporting the petty cash balance. Also, staff in the district's business office indicate they perform annual year-end cash counts of the petty cash funds; however, these cash counts are not performed on a random basis nor are they documented.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

To the Board of Education
Columbia 93 School District
Columbia, MO 65203

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the Columbia 93 School District. The school board had engaged Gerding, Korte & Chitwood, Certified Public Accountants (CPAs), to perform an audit of the district for the year ended June 30, 1998. To minimize any duplication of effort, we reviewed the report and substantiating workpapers of the CPA firm. Our audit of the school district included, but was not limited to, the year ended June 30, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, school district policies, and various school district financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on the selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the district and its audited financial reports and was not subjected to auditing procedures applied during our audit of the district.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

COLUMBIA 93 SCHOOL DISTRICT
BOONE COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

The Columbia 93 School District is located midway between Kansas City and St. Louis at the crossroad of I-70 and U.S. Highway 63. It covers approximately 271 square miles within Boone County.

The district operates two senior high schools (10-12), an alternative high school, a vocational center (10-12), three junior high schools (8-9), three middle schools (6-7), and eighteen elementary schools (K-5). Enrollment was approximately 15,619 for the 1997-1998 school year. The district employs approximately 2,323 full and part-time employees, including 111 administrative staff, 1,501 teachers and instructional support staff, and 711 support staff.

Columbia 93 School District has been classified under the Missouri School Improvement Program as "Accredited" by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

A seven-member Board elected for three-year terms, serves without compensation as the policy-making body for the district's operations. Members of the Board at June 30, 1998 and their current terms of office are:

Name and Position	Current Term Expires
Elton Fay, President (1)	April 2000
David P. Ballenger, Vice President (2)	April 2002

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

COLUMBIA 93 SCHOOL DISTRICT
BOONE COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Expenditures (pages 8-13)

   Bids were not obtained or bid documentation retained for major purchases totaling approximately $110,000. The food service department purchase orders are not prepared and approved prior to the purchase of the items. The district has not periodically conducted a formal selection process for architectural services. Written contracts were not obtained for some services.

2. Transportation Services (pages 13-16)

   The contract with the transportation company has not been bid since 1979. The district has not performed a formal analysis of owning an in-house transportation system versus contracting the services. Some bus routes appear to have low ridership compared to bus capacities.

3. Copy Center Accounting Procedures (pages 16-17)

   Total costs associated with the copy center are not recovered through the pricing structure.

4. Petty Cash Funds (pages 17-18)

   Petty cash reconciliations were not always performed. Annual cash counts of the funds are not documented.

1. Expenditures

A. The school district does not always solicit bids or retain bid documentation for major purchases. While district employees indicated that in some instances bids were solicited through telephone quotes or other direct contacts with vendors, documentation showing vendors contacted, prices quoted, and reasons for selecting the successful vendor were not retained for some purchases.

The district's procurement policy requires that formal, written bids be obtained for all purchases which involve an expenditure of more than $5,000. Price quotations may be required for expenditures of less than $5,000, at the discretion of the Director of Business Services. The policy also requires a formal bid process for construction of facilities which may exceed $12,500 as required by state law.

1) The following are examples of expenditures during the period from July 1997 through April 1999 for which the school district did not obtain bids or did not retain adequate bid documentation:

Item	Cost
Public relations services	$60,622
1998 Jeep Sport Cherokee	20,957
Laptop computers	11,151

District personnel indicated prices were solicited from various vendors for some of the items; however, documentation of these inquiries was not maintained.

2) For the past three years, the district has simply renewed their contract for audit services, rather than rebid the contract. The district selected the current audit firm through a bid process in March 1994 and awarded the firm a three year contract to perform annual audits covering the three years ending June 30, 1996. Instead of conducting another bid process at the end of the three year contract, the district has continued to renew the contract with the firm through the 1998-99 school year audit. Payments made to the firm during the year ended June 30, 1998 totaled $17,960. District employees indicated that procedures are to bid audit services every five years; however, this is not documented in the district's procurement policy.

3) The food services department received price quotes from numerous vendors for purchases made throughout the school year. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the district spent approximately $1,989,000 for food services department supplies and food.

During our review, we noted items purchased by the food services department in which the lowest bidder was not used or the invoice price did not agree to the documented price quote. The Food Services Director has indicated that rebates were received on some of the items, or the items were not available from the lowest bidder; however, adequate documentation explaining these situation was not maintained.

Written documentation of bids provides evidence that the board has complied with its procurement policy. Bid documentation should include a list of vendors contacted, a copy of the bid specifications, copies of all bids received, justification for awarding the bid, and documentation of discussions with vendors. Bids may cover a specified time period, which should be adequately documented and justified. In addition, rebates received from vendors should be adequately documented and tracked to ensure the lowest price quote is paid. When the lowest bidder is not used, documentation justifying the selection of a different bidder should be maintained.

B. The district has used the same architectural firm for construction projects for 17 years. Although the district selected the firm through a formal selection process, the district has continued to renew the contract with this firm without periodically conducting a selection process. District employees indicated that they have compared the architect's services and rates with other firms by contacting other school districts; however, documentation of these contacts has not been maintained. Payments to the firm for the year ended June 30, 1998, totaled approximately $397,000.

The district has a policy for the selection of architectural services. The policy requires that the firms should be evaluated based on specified criteria including experience and technical competence, capacity and capability of the firm to perform the work in question, past record of performance, and the firm’s proximity to and familiarity with the area in which the project is located. The district should periodically conduct this process to ensure it is receiving the best services and rates.

C. The school district sometimes did not enter into written contracts defining services to be provided and benefits to be received.

1) The district retains legal services from various law firms. For two of these firms, the district did not receive written price quotes or enter into a written agreement for these services. Payments to these two firms for services rendered during the 1997-98 school year totaled approximately $119,000.

For the 1998-99 school year, the district has paid these companies approximately $41,200 through April 29, 1999.

2) The school district contributes $5,000 each year to the Boone County Teachers Credit Union to assist with its costs of serving the district's teachers. In addition to the annual payment, the district provides services to the credit union on a reimbursement basis, such as payroll and purchasing of supplies and postage. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the district was reimbursed approximately $137,700 by the credit union. There is no written agreement between the credit union and the school district outlining the terms of this arrangement and specifying the services the district is to receive.

Article VI, Section 23, of the Missouri Constitution states that no political subdivision shall grant public money to any corporation or association. A written agreement is necessary to specify what services the district is receiving in exchange for the $5,000 paid each year.

In addition, the district did not enter into a contract with the public relations firm noted at A. above. Written contracts, signed by the parties involved, should specify the services to be rendered and the manner and amount of compensation to be paid. Written contracts are necessary to ensure all parties are aware of their duties and responsibilities and to prevent misunderstandings. In addition, Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, requires contracts for political subdivisions to be in writing.

D. The food services department issues purchase orders for food and supplies expenditures; however, the purchase orders are not issued and approved prior to placing the order. The school district has established formal payment procedures, requiring that approved purchase orders be written for every purchase. The food services department should ensure approved purchase orders are issued prior to ordering food and supplies.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Retain documentation of bids received and the bid process. Policies should indicate how often bids should be obtained for certain services. In addition, if the low bidder is not used, rebates are received, or substitutions are made; the district should retain documentation of these circumstances.

B. Periodically solicit and document proposals for architectural services.

C. Enter into written agreements with all parties that clearly detail the services to be performed and the compensation to be paid or benefits received.

D. Require purchase orders be prepared and approved in advance.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The district has specific policies and procedures regarding bidding. However, occasionally, it may be more effective and efficient to make an exception to established policies and procedures. In the future, documentation and justification of exceptions to established policies and procedures will be retained. Price quotations received for items costing less than $5,000, the minimum for formal bidding, will be retained in the office of the district's purchasing agent.

1) The district does not formally bid public relations services, but rather has established a long-term relationship with one professional who is evaluated similarly to other consultants of the district in terms of quality of service and reasonable pricing of services. Price quotes are submitted annually from the provider to the district and projects are occasionally handled by other providers of such services. This helps district staff to verify quality and pricing. A satisfactory evaluation is evidenced by the continuation of the relationship.

The district has traditionally received informal quotations for vehicles for the Superintendent when issues such as immediate delivery and personal preferences are involved. Price quotations for the 1998 Jeep Cherokee Sport were obtained, but not retained, from other Jeep dealers prior to purchase. Additionally, prices were obtained for the model of Buick driven by past superintendents, and these prices were higher than the quote for the Jeep Cherokee Sport. With this competitive pricing information, the price was further negotiated with the local Jeep dealer in determining the eventual price paid for this vehicle.

The district purchased three laptop computers, at a reduced price, following board authorization. The selection of the vendor was based on established district standards for laptop computers. This particular brand of laptop was available from two sources at the time of purchase: direct from the manufacturer; or, by purchasing through the vendor with the state purchasing contract for this brand of laptop computer. The district checked prices with these sources and elected to purchase direct from the manufacturer at a reduced price, rather than use the state purchasing contract. In addition, the reliability of the vendor and satisfaction with the warranty and maintenance of equipment were justification for this purchase.

2) The district has routinely bid audit services for a three-year period, and if services were satisfactory, extended the service contract for an additional two years by action of the Board of Education. Auditors develop a working knowledge of school district procedures and operation, which allows for a more efficient audit and is less time-consuming for both the independent auditors and district staff.

Audit services are scheduled to be bid this school year for the audit of the period ending June 30, 2000. The Request for Proposals for audit services will be changed to reflect the district's practice of awarding audit services for a five-year period.

3) Due to the specialized nature of the food service business, the Food Services Department requests, and receives, price quotations for its own departmental goods and services. The food services staff members possess the expertise and first-hand knowledge of the unique requirements of this department. The Business Office and Purchasing Agent will work with the Director of Food Services in an effort to more effectively handle documentation of bidding and retention of documentation.

The situations identified in the State Auditor's report address relatively minor cost differences which were impacted by items not being available from the low bidder or which involved the use of rebates. However, adequate documentation was not retained for these situations. The Food Services Department has already taken corrective action to improve documentation in the areas of concern.

B. The district selected the services of its current architect following a formal selection process. The district annually evaluates the services of the architect in terms of quality of service and reasonable pricing of services. In addition, district personnel make informal contacts with other school districts and organizations on an ongoing basis to verify market rates for these services. A satisfactory evaluation is evidenced by the continuation of the relationship with the architect.

The district will formalize its evaluation of its primary consultants, including its architect. The district will document its process of periodically contacting other school districts and organizations for verification of market rates and services.

C. The district maintains several relationships with consultants, or service providers, in specialized areas. These consultants, or service providers, were selected for their particular expertise in a special field, such as public relations, special education law, and personnel and employee benefits. These relationships have developed and been maintained over a long period of time due to the exceptional services provided the district.

The district will formalize the services being provided in these circumstances through written agreements, outlining fees and services.

1) The district retains legal services from four law firms. Two firms, provide services to the district as a result of a selection process, and the services are outlined in written agreements. Two additional firms provide services to the district in very specialized areas. One firm represents the district on special education issues, and the other firm provides counsel concerning personnel and employee benefits. These firms are used less frequently in dealing with specific issues in the areas indicated.

Significant payments have been made to the firm handling special education issues in the last 12 to 18 months due to one case. However, insurance coverage partially offset the total expenses and the insurance company negotiated the fee for this case.

The services provided and fees charged by these firms will be formalized by written agreement.

2) The Boone County Teachers Credit Union has been in existence for approximately 60 years. It was organized by employees of the district for the benefit of district employees and was operated entirely within the district's business office as an additional function, or service, of the business office. This arrangement was followed for approximately the first 50 years of the Credit Union's existence. However, due to the growth of the Credit Union in the late 1980's and the increasing time and space requirements of the Credit Union, it was difficult to maintain its operation within the business office. The Credit Union moved to a separate location and is self-sufficient in its operations.

The district continues to contribute a minimal amount ($5,000) annually to the Credit Union for its operations due to the benefit provided to district employees. Such arrangements are common between organizational sponsors and credit unions, and contributions may be as much as 100 percent of the credit union's operating cost.

The district will formalize its relationship with the Boone County Teachers Credit Union by a written agreement.

D. The district currently requires purchase orders to be prepared and approved in advance of purchases, with the exception of certain purchases handled by the Food Services Department. This exception is due to the volume of purchasing in this department on a daily basis. It is often necessary to change an order or order from another vendor when food items are either not available or not available in the necessary quantities. This type of purchasing does not lend itself to issuance of purchase orders, with multiple levels of approval.

The district will review the purchasing process of the Food Services Department and implement this recommendation whenever possible. Allowable exceptions to standard district policies and procedures will be documented to avoid the appearance of noncompliance.

2. Transportation Services

The school district contracts with a transportation company to provide bus transportation for its students. During the year ended June 30, 1998, the contractor served 304 routes traveling approximately 11,500 miles per day in addition to providing transportation for other district activities such as sporting events and field trips. During this time period, payments totaling approximately $3,800,000 were made to the transportation company. We noted the following areas of concern during our review of this contract:

A. The transportation contract has not been bid since 1979. The district has periodically renegotiated a contract with the transportation company, without seeking bids from other companies. The current transportation contract covers school years 1996-97 through 2000-01. Without periodically bidding transportation services, the district cannot ensure it is paying the lowest possible rate.

B. Prior to contracting transportation services, the district owned and operated its own transportation system. Since changing to a contracted bus system, the district has not formally evaluated the costs and benefits of owning its system versus contracting for the services. Recently, a group of University of Missouri MBA students performed an informal analysis of the district's current transportation system. Their evaluation indicated that by changing to an in-house system, the district would save money. The district indicated this analysis was unsolicited and was only an initial step in the process to set up a model to use in further evaluation and that the analysis was not accurate in several respects. The district, however, has not performed a complete evaluation of this analysis or their current transportation situation. Regular review and comparison of transportation services and costs is necessary to ensure that the district is providing transportation at the lowest possible cost.

C. Adequate procedures are not in place to monitor transportation costs. As required by contract, the district compensates the bus company based on the number and size of buses used during the day. The daily per-bus rates for the year ended June 30, 1998 ranged from approximately $145 to $167 for regular bus routes.

The district delegates the responsibility of preparing the bus routes to the transportation company and the school board approves the route listings at the beginning of the school year. The district is required by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education to take a count of students transported on the second Wednesday of October and February during the school year. We reviewed seven 1998-99 school year bus routes, comparing the number of riders counted by the district on February 10, 1999 to the manufacturer's rated capacity for the buses. Our review noted several routes in which the number of riders assigned to the buses and the number of actual riders on the count day were significantly lower than bus capacities.

Route Number	Bus Capacity*	Assigned Riders	Actual Riders
3A	71	60	34
3B	84	70	43
14A	60	47	41
14B	71	44	27
60A	60	37	16
60B	71	32	30

* Bus capacities for secondary students were adjusted to 85 percent of full capacity which is the maximum set by the contract with the transportation company.

The district has noted various reasons for a low ridership compared to bus capacity. These reasons include: similar route itineraries and locations are used for elementary and secondary students, thus a larger bus may be needed for one route than the other; a smaller bus capacity is used for secondary routes, assigning two students to a seat rather than three; and the contractor has a limited supply of smaller buses available for transporting the students. As a result of our review, the district reduced route numbers 3A and 3B to a 71 capacity bus rather than an 84 capacity bus.

While the district has begun the process of developing procedures to review and monitor bus routes, the district should continue this process to ensure all bus routes are operating efficiently. Specific routes with low ridership should be reviewed and investigated to identify any areas where costs can be reduced such as decreasing the size of the bus.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Regularly solicit competitive bids for the transportation contract.

B. Perform a cost analysis of owning versus contracting transportation services and identify a system with the best cost-benefit for the district.

C. Conduct a thorough evaluation of the bus routes and determine ways to increase efficiency and reduce costs.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The district operation of student transportation services was discontinued in 1976 due to an aged bus fleet and a management team that was unable to satisfactorily meet the demands of a service-oriented district. Since that time, the district has contracted for student transportation services with professional student transportation companies, bidding the services on two occasions. Services obtained from the first contractor were not satisfactory and a second bid process was necessary to obtain services that have been relatively satisfactory over the years. On an ongoing basis, district administrators have followed costs of student transportation using extensive statistical information from the state school transportation office and through contacts with other school districts. This has resulted in renegotiation of contracts believed to reflect the lowest possible cost for the services required.

The district has believed that once satisfactory services and relationships have been established with a transportation company, it may be more cost-effective to knowledgeably and strategically negotiate additional contracts with the established company. Engaging in a bid process may allow the current contractor to submit a bid price higher than the negotiated price, but lower than other bidders, knowing that new companies must submit bid prices which reflect start-up costs that include a new fleet of 150 or more buses, management teams, driver employees, a bus maintenance shop, and other considerations that could inflate bid prices. It may also be difficult and unnecessary to experience the disruption of an established and refined system without being reasonably certain that significant savings and similar or better quality will be realized in the process. A new contractor may require several years to become acquainted with the makeup, needs, and expectations of the district and its patrons.

In 1995, the district entered into a new contract with the current contractor which extends through the 2000-01 school year. The board has expressed its intention to bid the contract for student transportation services if the district continues to contract these services.

B. During the fall of the past school year, the district began informal/preliminary discussions of the advantages and disadvantages of operating a district-owned transportation system as opposed to contracting with an outside provider. During the upcoming school year the district will continue these discussions, acquiring up-to-date costs and other pertinent information which is as current as possible and, therefore, as useful as possible. This will allow the board to consider the results of the analysis in any decision it makes regarding student transportation.

C. The school district hired a Director of Transportation, effective August 1998, for the purpose of working closely with and monitoring the procedures of the transportation company. At this time, a formalized monitoring system, piloted during the past year, will allow the transportation director to monitor efficiency in a much-improved manner. During the past school year, it was possible to reduce the number of buses by 7.5 as well as the size of two buses as a result of such monitoring.

Six bus routes were identified by the auditors as having significantly lower ridership on a specific day than bus capacities would allow. The transportation contract requires that routes be designed so that no student rides more than one hour. The contract also stipulates that routes for grades 8-12 be assigned passengers at 85 percent of their listed capacity. The six routes referenced by the auditor were for Lange Middle School, Oakland Junior High School, Parkade Elementary School, and Cedar Ridge Elementary School, schools where buses pick up students in the district's more rural areas. In a specific check of the six routes, it was found that more students could not be added to these buses without causing some students to ride more than the one hour limit. In the case of routes 3A and 3B, it was possible to reduce the capacity of buses being used for 84 passengers to 71, a savings of $8 per day for each bus. The district will continue to develop and use monitoring procedures on an ongoing basis which ensure maximum cost effectiveness.

3.	Copy Center Accounting Procedures

The school district operates a copy center which provides various copying and printing services to the district as well as to school related organizations such as the Parent Teacher Associations. The copy center operates on a cost recovery basis and the various departments and organizations are charged based on the type and volume of services received.

The district does not include all operating costs in the cost recovery calculation. Each year the district determines the copy center rates based on the cost of supplies and equipment lease payments. Salaries and benefits totaling approximately $46,600 are not included in the calculation. In addition, the depreciation expense of equipment owned by the district is not calculated and included in the rate calculation. As a result, the copy center does not operate on a break even basis. For the year ended June 30, 1998, copy center expenditures exceeded revenues by approximately $36,900.

To ensure the district does not incur a loss from copy center services, the rate calculation should include all operating costs of the copy center including salaries, benefits, and depreciation.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board perform an analysis of all costs associated with the copy center and ensure the rates charged cover all operating costs.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

Originally, the copy center was part of the district's vocational program until student interest and state funding became insufficient to maintain the program. At that time, the district continued operation of the copy center for district purposes as an alternative to the often higher costs of outside print services.

The operation of the copy center was never intended to recover all costs of operation. Rather, it was to provide an offset of direct operational expenses (services and supplies) and, with a district subsidy to partially offset indirect expenses (salaries and benefits), the end result was to be an overall savings for the district for printing and copying. The operation of the copy center is limited to departments of the district and related groups (related groups include Parent-Teacher organizations, employee groups, etc., and account for less than six percent of operations during fiscal year 1998-99). The amount of the subsidy was increased, intentionally, in recent years as an incentive for departments and schools to use the copy center rather than outside vendors.

The district will periodically review and analyze the operations of the copy center to ensure the district is realizing a savings by its operation. If so, the district will document its position of whether this is an enterprise activity or service activity, with a partial offset of operating expenses.

4. Petty Cash Funds

Various schools and offices within the district maintain petty cash funds ranging from $100 to $2,500. Reimbursements to these petty cash funds for the year ended June 30, 1998, totaled approximately $128,500. Our review of the district's petty cash funds noted the following areas of concern:

A. As required by the district's written petty cash procedures, the petty cash funds are replenished on an imprest basis back to the established fund balance on a periodic basis. To document that the funds are maintained on an imprest basis, each petty cash secretary prepares a reconciliation of the cash remaining, outstanding vouchers, and paid vouchers to the petty cash account balance. This reconciliation is prepared and submitted to the business office along with the reimbursement form and invoices when requesting a reimbursement to the petty cash fund.

   Our review of petty cash reimbursements noted several instances in which the petty cash reconciliation had not been performed and submitted to the business office. As a result, there was no documentation supporting the petty cash balance. Maintaining petty cash funds on an imprest basis helps ensure the money is handled properly.

B. Business office staff indicate they perform annual year-end cash counts of the petty cash funds; however, these cash counts are not performed on a random basis and are not documented. Periodically, the fund should be counted and reconciled to the imprest balance by an independent person to ensure the funds are being accounted for properly, to detect any errors, and to prevent these monies from being misused.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Ensure petty cash reconciliations are performed and submitted to the business office with each petty cash reimbursement request as required by district policy.

B. Perform random cash counts on petty cash funds and maintain documentation of these cash counts.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The district's procedures require that a petty cash reconciliation form be prepared and submitted with the request for petty cash reimbursement. Exceptions to this requirement were noted during the time period reviewed by the State Auditor's office. These exceptions were the result of a change in personnel handling petty cash and a misunderstanding that the reconciliation form is to be submitted as part of the documentation for reimbursement.

Personnel handling petty cash transactions in the district have been reminded of district procedures for petty cash. In addition, personnel reviewing petty cash reimbursements now include the petty cash reconciliation form as part of their routine review. However, it should be noted that the district requires extensive documentation and approval of petty cash disbursements. The reconciliation form is only a minimal part of the internal control procedures for petty cash transactions.

B. The business office routinely reconciles petty cash accounts as a part of the district's year-end closing procedures. The business office will increase the number of reconciliations it performs on a random basis, dependent on the size and activity of the account. Documentation of these petty cash counts/reconciliations will be maintained.

Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-53
August 13, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Clark, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Clark County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

- The former sheriff paid $12,000 to a deputy to purchase a new drug dog and to cover any travel or training expenses that he incurred. Documentation such as invoices or bid proposals was not obtained from the deputy to support the disbursement.

- Actions of the Salary Commission were not supported by a written opinion from the Prosecuting Attorney.

- Receipts totaling $2,010 were not deposited to the Circuit Clerks fee account. See Special Review Audit on Clark County Circuit Clerk, #99-46.

Copies of the audit are available upon request

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Clark County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Clark County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Clark County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 4, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Clark County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Clark County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Clark County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Buyout Fund	1998 and 1997
FEMA Demolition Fund	1998 and 1997
DARE Fund	1998 and 1997
Sheriff's Civil Fees Fund	1998
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Probate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
FY98 Local Records Fund	1997
Law Enforcement Support Fund	1997
Peace Officer Standards and Training Fund	1997

Law Library Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Enforcement Training Fund	1998
Clark County Youth Fund	1998
Health Center Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

A deficit budget balance is presented for the General Revenue Fund for the year ended December 31, 1997. However, the budget of that fund also included other resources available to finance current or future year disbursements. Generally, other available net resources represented current year property taxes not received before December 31. Such resources were sufficient to offset the deficit budget balances presented.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Sheriff's Civil Fees Fund	1998
Buyout Fund	1998 and 1997
FEMA Demolition Fund	1998 and 1997
DARE Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Probate Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Clerk Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Law Enforcement Support Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's and health center's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's or health center's custodial banks, respectively, in the county's or health center's name.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $71,115 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $37,503. As of December 31, 1998, $14,067 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Clark County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Clark County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Clark County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Clark County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Clark County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Clark County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS FOR AN
AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Government Auditing Standards requires to be reported for an audit of financial statements.

Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings
in Accordance With OMB Circular A-133

CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

5. Federal Financial Assistance

A. Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Transportation
Pass-Through Grantor: State Highway and Transportation Commission
Federal CFDA Number: 20.205
Program Title: Off-System Bridge Replacement and Rehabilitation Program
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: BRO-023
Award Year: 1996
Questioned Costs: Not Applicable

The county had not established cash management procedures to ensure the minimum time elapsed between its receipt of federal project monies and the disbursement of such monies to contractors. We noted eight reimbursements totaling $193,690 which the county held from 7 to 49 days before the related payments were made.

C. Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Justice
Pass-Through Grantor: Not Applicable
Federal CFDA Number: 16.710
Program Title: Public Safety Partnership and Community Policing ("COPS") Grants
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: 95UMWX035
Award Year: 1995
Questioned Costs: $34,398

Federal Grantor: U.S. Department of Justice
Pass-Through Grantor: Not Applicable
Federal CFDA Number: 16.710

Program Title: Public Safety Partnership and Community Policing ("COPS") Grants
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: 95CMWX0142
Award Year: 1995
Questioned Costs: $14,376

Federal Grantor: Not Applicable
Pass-Through Grantor: Missouri Department of Public Safety
Federal CFDA Number: 20.601
Program Title: Highway Safety - Safe and Sober Program
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: 95J70338, 96J60214
Award Year: 1996, 1995
Questioned Costs: $5,473

Federal Grantor: Not Applicable
Pass-Through Grantor: Missouri Department of Public Safety
Federal CFDA Number: 20.601
Program Title: Highway Safety- Sobriety Checkpoint Program
Pass-Through Entity Identifying Number: 96J700324
Award Year: 1996
Questioned Costs: $1,802

Although a comprehensive schedule was used by the Sheriff's office for payroll purposes, time sheets were not prepared. Since the salaries reimbursed through four federal grants had inadequate supporting documentation we questioned costs of $34,398 from COPS Universal, $14,376 from "COPS", $5,473 from Safe and Sober, and $1,802 from Sobriety Checkpoint.

Recommendation:

The County Commission consult with the grantor agencies to resolve the questioned costs. In addition, the County Commission should:

A. Establish procedures to minimize the time elapsed between the receipt of federal monies and disbursement of such funds.

C. Require sheriff's deputies to submit detailed time sheets which are reviewed and approved by the Sheriff.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Approximately $15,600 received in 1998 from the Department of Economic Development for administrative costs was not disbursed until 1999. Other payments were made on a timely basis. State Highway and Transportation personnel indicated no action will be taken.

C. Implemented. Time sheets are reviewed by a supervisor and filed with the County Clerk. The U.S. Department of Justice has been contacted in an effort to resolve this issue.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Findings

CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Clark County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Clark County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Clark County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Drug Dog

During July 1997, a drug dog owned by a deputy sheriff was killed. The former sheriff received donations of approximately $20,000 from the citizens of the county to replace the dog. The former sheriff paid $12,000 to the deputy to purchase a new drug dog and cover any travel and training expenses he incurred. In December 1997 the deputy left employment with the county and took the drug dog with him. In February 1998, the remaining donations were turned over to the county by the former sheriff. The county then purchased another drug dog with these funds. Three bids received for the new drug dog ranged from $6,500 to $10,500. During our review, we noted the following concerns:

A. Documentation such as invoices or bid proposals was not obtained from the deputy to support the $12,000 disbursement. Because no documentation exists to support the payment to the deputy sheriff, we could not determine if the amount paid to the deputy sheriff was reasonable.

   Without adequate supporting documentation, county officials cannot determine if the purchases are prudent, valid, and necessary expenditures of county funds.

B. Donations for the dog and DARE monies were held in bank accounts maintained by the former Sheriff until they were turned over to the county treasurer in 1998. In addition, the former Sheriff did not maintain bank and accounting records for the account.

   Missouri Attorney General's Opinion No. 45, to Henderson states that the sheriff of a third class county is not authorized to maintain a bank account for law enforcement purposes separate from the county treasury.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission request officials turn over all donations to the custody of the county treasurer. In addition, adequate documentation and bank and accounting records should be maintained to support all expenditures.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission indicated all of these monies have been turned over and they will request that any such monies received in the future be turned over to the County Treasurer.

2. County Salary Commission

The Clark County Salary Commission has the statutory authority to set salaries of the county's elected officials. County officials' salaries are based upon the county's assessed valuation, population, training attendance, or a combination of these factors. At the 1997 meeting, the Salary Commission voted to increase the salaries of the county officials 10% of the difference between the current salaries and the statutory maximum. The county did not obtain a written opinion from the Prosecuting Attorney to support this decision.

Section 50.333.7, RSMo Supp. 1997, states, "If the salary commission votes to increase the compensation, all officers or offices whose compensation is being considered by the commission at that time, shall receive the same percentage of the maximum allowable compensation." Therefore, the salary commission may have approved a method of calculating salary increases which is not specifically allowable by state law.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission obtain written opinions from the Prosecuting Attorney to support the decision made by the salary commission in 1997.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission stated the Prosecuting Attorney was present at the salary commission meeting and in fact seconded the motion. If there is a question in the future, the County Commission will ask for a written opinion from the Prosecuting Attorney.

3.	Circuit Clerk's Deposits

Receipts totaling $2,010 were not deposited to the Circuit Clerk's fee account. The Circuit Clerk repaid $550 of the monies.

Recommendations concerning the discrepancies and internal controls of the Circuit Clerk are included in a special review report and are not included here.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Clark County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Clark County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. Finding numbers 5.A. and C. are omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Circuit Clerk's Deposits

A receipt slip was issued July 10, 1997, for $900 cash which could not be traced to a deposit. In addition, other receipt slips and ledger entries of at least $740 could not be traced to deposits.

Recommendations:

The Circuit Clerk investigate the above noted discrepancies and take the appropriate follow-up action. Any shortage should be reimbursed to the official account.

Status:

Partially implemented. The Circuit Clerk repaid $900 to the official account in October of 1997, and provided explanations for one item ($115) of the $740 of discrepancies. However, a similar situation was noted during the current audit. See MAR No. 3.

2. Circuit Clerk's Accounting Controls

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing monies and reconciling the bank account were not adequately segregated.

B. One receipt book which included five hundred slips issued from May 1996 through February 1997 could not be located.

C. Receipts were not deposited intact on a timely basis.

D. Receipt slips were not issued for some monies received.

E. The cash control ledger was not adequately maintained.

F. The Circuit Clerk was unable to reconcile the bank balance to the cash control ledger.

G. Checks were not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

H. Monthly listings of open items were not prepared.

I. A complete listing of accrued costs owed to the court was not maintained by the Circuit Clerk and monitoring procedures related to accrued costs were not adequate.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk:

A. Provide for segregation of duties and ensure that independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records are performed.

B. Retain all records.

C. Deposit receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

D. Issue receipt slips for all monies received.

E. Record receipts and disbursements in the cash control ledger accurately and in a timely manner.

F. Reconcile the cash control ledger to bank records monthly and investigate and resolve any differences on a timely basis.

G. Restrictively endorse checks immediately upon receipt.

H. Prepare accurate monthly listings of open items and reconcile such listings to the cash balance. Any differences should be investigated and resolved.

I. Maintain a complete and accurate listing of accrued costs and pursue timely collection.

Status:

A, C- F.
H&I. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

B. Not implemented. The indicated receipt slip book has still not been located. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

G. Implemented.

3. County Expenditures

A. Bids were not always solicited nor was the selection process always documented for various purchases made by the county during the audit period.

B. The monthly expense claims of the Circuit Judge included charges for use of equipment ($150 per month), rent, utilities, office supplies, copies, books, telephone, and postage. We noted that only the office supplies, books, and telephone charges were evidenced by supporting documentation. Effective March 1, 1997, the Circuit

Judge moved his office into the courthouse and no longer charged rent, however, equipment rental was still charged. There was no contract for the rental of the equipment, and no documentation to indicate how rental amounts were determined. The unsupported expense reimbursements were not reported on W-2 forms for the Circuit Judge.

C. Quarterly uniform allowances of $75 were paid to the Sheriff and deputies. The county did not require these employees to submit an itemized report of expenditures to support these allowances and the amounts were not reported on W-2 forms.

D. The transfer made by the county from the Special Road and Bridge Fund to the General Revenue Fund was approximately 3 percent of the budgeted expenditures; however, the amounts budgeted for expenditures were significantly overestimated. As a result, the amounts transferred were approximately $60,000 higher than they would have been had the transfers been based more on reasonable amounts. This amount was due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

E. There was no documentation to indicate the County Commission solicited proposals from other architects for the jail construction project. In addition, bids were not obtained nor were proposals sought for the services of the financial advisor.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Solicit bids for all items in accordance with state law. Documentation of bids solicited and justification for bid awards should be maintained by the County Clerk. If bids cannot be obtained and sole source procurement is necessary, the County Commission minutes should reflect the circumstances.

B. Require adequate supporting documentation prior to approving expenditures for payment. All county contracts should be in writing and rental agreements should be supported by documentation of how rental amounts were determined. In addition, unsupported payments should be included on W-2 forms.

C. Require employees to submit itemized reports for uniform allowances or report the payments as income on the employees' W-2 forms.

D. Base administrative transfers on actual or reasonable budgeted expenditures of the Special Road and Bridge Fund. In addition, a transfer of $60,000 should be made from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund.

E. Solicit and document proposals for professional services.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Although bids were obtained for most purchases reviewed, bid documentation could not be located for a sidewalk costing $4,607, equipment repairs of $18,221, lumber costing $4,536, a used jeep for $9,500 and a tank car costing $6,500. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Not implemented. The County Commission indicated they discussed the situation with the Circuit Judge who agreed to enter into a written contract. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Implemented. The uniform allowances are included on the deputies W-2 forms.

D. Partially implemented. The 1997 administrative transfer appears reasonable. The 1998 administrative transfer was approximately $33,000 less than the amount that could have been transferred and, as a result, $27,000 remains due from the General Revenue Fund to the Special Road and Bridge Fund. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

E. Implemented.

4. Personnel Policies and Procedures

Sheriff's office employees did not prepare individual time sheets. A comprehensive schedule was prepared for each month showing when each employee was scheduled to begin work.

A. The Sheriff's deputies did not sign the comprehensive schedule. In addition, the comprehensive schedule was not signed by a supervisor indicating approval.

B. Only payroll records for part-time deputies were submitted to the County Clerk. The comprehensive schedule was not submitted to the County Clerk.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Require time sheets or the comprehensive schedule of the Sheriff's office be signed by the employee and supervisor.

B. Require the Sheriff's deputies to submit adequate time records to the County Clerk.

Status:

Implemented. Effective January 1997, a time sheet is maintained by each employee recording actual time worked and leave taken. The deputies and supervisor sign the time sheets. The Sheriff deputies' time sheets are currently submitted to the County Clerk.

5. County Expenditures

B. The sheriff used Domestic Cannabis Eradication/Suppression (Cash Crop) Program funds to purchase radio equipment and related accessories costing $1,054. Since the equipment purchases did not meet grant restrictions, we questioned those costs.

Recommendation:

The County Commission consult with the grantor agencies to resolve the questioned costs. In addition, the County Commission should:

B. Ensure that all future purchases under the Cash Crop program are allowable under the program restrictions.

Status:

B. Not implemented. One purchase of equipment costing $250 was noted. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1818, the county of Clark was named after William Clark, a member of the Lewis and Clark Expedition and governor of Missouri Territory. Clark County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the 1st Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Kahoka.

Clark County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Clark County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
Property taxes	$ 610,321	36	623,139	24

In addition, significant sales tax receipts and road and bridge expenses are accounted for in the 1/2 Cent Sales Tax Road and Bridge Fund. Receipts and disbursements of this fund were $172,058 and $173,106 and $182,595 and $161,900 for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. The 1/2 Cent Sales Tax Jail Construction Fund had significant sales tax receipts and public safety expenses of $170,952 and $172,961 and $148,201 and $176,180 for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. The 1/2 Cent Jail Sales Tax Operation Fund also had significant sale tax receipts and public safety expenses of $106,566 and $102,977, for the year ended December 31, 1998.

The county maintains approximately 126 county bridges and 640 miles of county roads.

The county's population was 8,260 in 1970 and 7,547 in 1990. The following chart shows the county's change in assessed valuation since 1970:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997	1985*	1980
			(in millions)

Total	$ 65.2	63.7	50.9	37.8

* First year of statewide reassessment.

 Prior to 1985, separate assessments were made for merchants' and manufacturers' property. These amounts are included in real estate.

Clark County's property tax rates per $100 of assessed valuations were as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,
General Revenue Fund	1998	1997
Special Road and Bridge Fund	$ .36	.37
Health Center Fund	.70	.70
	.10	.10

The county retains all tax proceeds from areas not within road districts. The county has one special road district that receives four-fifths of the tax collections from property within this district, and the Special Road and Bridge Fund retains one-fifth.

Property taxes attach as an enforceable lien on property as of January 1. Taxes are levied on September 1 and payable by December 31. Taxes paid after December 31 are subject to penalties. The county bills and collects property taxes for itself and most other local governments. Taxes collected were distributed as follows:

In addition, the county pays a proportionate share of the salaries of other circuit court-appointed employees. Clark County's share of the 1st Judicial Circuit's expenses is 45.5 percent.

The county entered into a lease agreement with a bank on June 1, 1996. The terms of the agreement called for the bank to issue bonds of $980,000 for the purpose of constructing a new jail and for the bank to lease the jail back to the county for payments totaling the principal and interest due on the outstanding bonds. The bonds are scheduled to be paid off in 2006. The remaining principal and interest due on the bonds at December 31, 1998, was $840,000 and $225,540, respectively.

PUTNAM COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

AUDIT REPORT

Report No. 99-52
August 12, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

May 2000

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Putnam, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Putnam County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. The following concerns were noted as part of the audit:

- The county did not routinely follow-up on unpaid prisoner board bills. As of December 31, 1998, unpaid board bills totaled $6,184 for 1998 and $11,110 for 1997. The audit recommended controls be established to correct this situation.

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve county budgetary procedures, county fixed asset procedures and property tax book procedures. The audit also noted an error in apportioning of railroad and utility taxes and suggested a sheriff's account be maintained within the county treasury.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Putnam County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Putnam County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Putnam County, Missouri, has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 11, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Putnam County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Putnam County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 11, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Putnam County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, or the Health Center Board of Trustees. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Sheriff Safety and Poor Fund	1998 and 1997
Local Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund	1998 and 1997
Recorder User Fees Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1997
Domestic Violence Fund	1997
Associate Circuit Division Interest Fund	1997
Circuit Interest Fund	1997
K-9 Fund	1997
911 Fund	1998

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund	1998
Circuit Interest Fund	1998

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Law Enforcement Training Fund, Prosecuting Attorney Training Fund, Health Center Fund, Recorder User Fees Fund, Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund, Domestic Violence Fund, Associate Circuit Interest Fund, Circuit Interest Fund, K-9 Fund, Law Library Fund, Sheriff Safety and Poor Fund, Local Law Enforcement Block Grant Fund, and the 911 Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has adopted such a policy.

Cash includes both deposits and investments. In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of deposits and investments. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions. Investments are securities and other assets acquired primarily for the purpose of obtaining income or profit.

Deposits

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

The health center's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the health center's custodial bank in the health center's name.

However, because of significantly higher bank balances at certain times during the year, uninsured and uncollateralized balances existed for both the county and the health center at those times although not at year-end.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Investments

The only investment of the various funds at December 31, 1998 and 1997, was a repurchase agreement with reported amounts of $200,000 and $215,000, respectively, (which approximated fair value).

The reported amounts at December 31, 1998 and 1997, represent uninsured and unregistered investments for which the securities were held by the dealer bank's trust department or agent in the county's name.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $56,851 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $29,032. As of December 31, 1998, $10,888 remains to be paid.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

PUTNAM COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Putnam County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Because Putnam County expended no noncash awards for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, the schedule includes expenditures of cash awards only.

C. Basis of Accounting

The schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

FEDERAL AWARDS -
SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Putnam County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Putnam County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal program is identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to its major federal program is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Putnam County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Putnam County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Putnam County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

PUTNAM COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

This section represents the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, which was prepared by the county's management.

STATE AUDITOR'S FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Putnam County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 11, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Putnam County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to its major federal program for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 11, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Putnam County Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed that audit report and the substantiating working papers for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials and the county board referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than those, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Putnam County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. General Fixed Asset Procedures and Controls

The County Clerk does not maintain an up-to-date listing of general fixed assets. We noted several purchases that were not added to the county's fixed asset records in a timely manner. For example, the purchase of an air conditioner costing $1,528, a washer and dryer costing $599, and a Dodge pickup costing $18,411 had not been added to the general fixed asset records. The County Clerk does not periodically reconcile general fixed assets additions to equipment purchases to ensure all items are properly recorded on the general fixed asset records. In addition, a physical inventory of general fixed assets has not been conducted since 1995.

Adequate records of general fixed assets are required by state law, Section 51.155, RSMo 1994, and are necessary to properly safeguard assets from theft, and ensure the adequacy of insurance coverage. Periodic inventories are necessary to comply with state law and to ensure assets are added to inventory records.

Similar conditions were noted in previous audit reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the County Clerk maintain adequate records of general fixed assets, ensuring fixed asset purchases are added on a timely basis. This could be accomplished by periodically reconciling fixed asset additions to records of equipment purchases. An annual physical inventory should be conducted as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

I will work with the County Commission to implement these recommendations.

2. Apportionment of Railroad and Utility Taxes

During our review, we noted calculation errors in the apportionment of 1998 and 1997 railroad and utility taxes by the County Clerk. These errors resulted in incorrect payments of railroad and utility taxes to the various school districts. The following table indicates the amount over or (under) paid to the various school districts for 1998 and 1997 tax collections:

School District	Due to (From) District
Putnam R-I	$2,711
Schuyler R-I	(2,618)
Newtown-Harris R-II	(93)

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk consult with the various school districts and the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education for guidance on how to correct these past errors.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

I have purchased a software program which calculates this apportionment.

3. Sheriff's Controls and Procedures

A. The Sheriff's department annually solicits advertisements from local businesses to sponsor a calendar promoting law enforcement. The advertisements cost $45 in 1998 and $40 in 1997. During the two years ended December 31, 1998, the Sheriff collected $1,915 in calendar sale commissions from which advertising fees totaling $1,795 was remitted to calendar company.

The commissions were deposited in a bank account outside the county treasury, designated as the "Safety and Poor Fund." This fund is under the control of the Sheriff and as of December 31, 1998, the balance of this account totaled $588.

Attorney General's Opinion No.45-92 to Henderson states sheriffs are not authorized to maintain a bank account for law enforcement purposes separate from the county treasury. Monies of this type should be maintained by the County Treasurer and disbursed only as authorized by a warrant approved by the County Commission and signed by the County Clerk. Section 50.550, RSMo 1994, authorizes the County Commission to establish separate funds as necessary.

B. Putnam County boards prisoners for surrounding counties and the city of Unionville. The Sheriff's department prepares and sends board bills to the other governments. The Sheriff's department retains one copy of the board bill and sends another copy to the County Treasurer. The board bills indicate that payments are to be made directly to the County Treasurer. When a payment is received, the County Treasurer provides a copy of the receipt slip to the Sheriff. However, neither the Sheriff 's department nor the County Treasurer routinely compares prisoner board billings to subsequent payments. In addition, the Sheriff has no formal follow-up procedures for unpaid board bills. As of December 31, 1998, unpaid board bills totaled $6,184 for 1998 and $11,110 for 1997. Board bill payments received in 1998 and 1997 totaled $11,451 and $14,817, respectively.

Formal reconciliations of prisoner board bills and payments received by the County Treasurer should be performed with the Sheriff's department to ensure payments are received on a timely basis, second billings are sent out if necessary, and records are maintained accurately.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Sheriff:

A. Remit remaining "Safety and Poor Fund" monies and all future calendar proceeds to the County Treasurer to be placed in a fund established by the County Commission. Expenditures required by the Sheriff from this fund should be made by duly authorized warrants.

B. Compare prisoner board billings and the subsequent payments received by the County Treasurer on a regular basis and rebill any unpaid amounts. Documentation of any subsequent billings should be maintained.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. I have implemented this recommendation.

B. I am in the process of implementing this recommendation. Past due billings have recently been sent.

4. Property Tax Books and Procedures

The County Clerk is responsible for preparing an annual real and personal property tax aggregate abstract of assessed valuations and taxes to be collected. Errors were made during the preparation of the aggregate abstracts and, as a result, the amount of taxes to be collected was incorrectly reported on the abstracts. The County Clerk had copied incorrect amounts from the tax books to the real estate abstract in 1997 and did not record prior years' delinquent personal and real estate taxes on the 1998 back tax abstract. As a result, the amount of taxes to be collected were understated by $49,954 and $77,453 for tax years 1997 and 1998, respectively. Complete and accurate aggregate abstracts are necessary for the County Clerk and County Commission to verify the accuracy of the annual settlements submitted by the Ex Officio County Collector.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk ensure aggregate abstracts are accurately prepared. In addition, the County Clerk should verify that property taxes to be collected per aggregate abstracts agree to amounts charged on the Ex Officio County Collector's annual settlements.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

I will implement this recommendation.

5. Budgetary Practices and Published Financial Statements

A. The County Clerk, as the budget officer of the county, and the County Commission, as the chief operating officers of the county, are responsible for preparing and approving a county budget which serves as a complete financial plan for the county. Our review of the Putnam County budget revealed the budgets did not always reflect accurate beginning cash amounts or other beginning available resources for various county funds.

For the budget documents to be of maximum assistance in setting tax levies and to adequately inform county residents of the county's operations and current financial position, all available resources should be presented.

B. The annual published financial statements did not include the financial activity of some county funds, as required by Section 50.800, RSMo 1994. In addition, receipt and disbursement detail required by state law was missing for several of the smaller county funds.

For the published financial statements to adequately inform the citizens of the county's financial activities, all monies received and disbursed by the county should be included.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission along with the Health Center Board of Trustees:

A. Ensure all available resources are reflected in the county and health center budget documents respectively.

B. Ensure the published financial statements include all county funds and detailed information in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The County Commission provided the following response:

We will try to implement these recommendations in the future.

The Health Center Administrator provided the following responses:

A. The Putnam County Health Department has discussed the recommendation with the accounting firm who prepared the financial statement of the budget. Putnam County Health Department agrees to implement the recommendation of revealing all available resources in the year 2000 budget. The accounting firm concurred with our decision.

B. The Putnam County Health Department will provide the necessary financial information to the county commissioners so they may publish it in the local newspaper.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Putnam County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

PUTNAM COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Putnam County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996. Finding number 2. is omitted since the related follow-up appears in an earlier section of this report. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Budgetary Practices and Published Financial Statements

   A. Disbursements were made in excess of approved budget amounts for some funds.

   B. Actual receipts and disbursements recorded on the budget documents did not agree to the County Clerk's computerized receipt and disbursement records.

   C. Budget information recorded on one year's budget was not always accurately recorded on the subsequent year's budget.

   D. The budgets did not always reflect accurate beginning cash amounts or other beginning available resources.

   E. Formal budgets were not prepared and filed with the State Auditor's Office (SAO) for a number of funds.

   F. The annual published financial statements did not include the financial activity of some county funds as required by state law. In addition, disbursement detail required by state law was missing.

   Recommendation:

   A. The County Commission keep expenditures within the amounts budgeted. If excess expenditures are necessary, the extenuating circumstances should be fully documented in the County Commission's minutes and the budgets properly amended.

   B. The County Clerk ensure budget documents are supported by adequate source documentation and reflect accurate receipts, disbursements, and beginning cash balances.

   C. The County Clerk ensure budget information is accurately transferred from one year's budget to that of the subsequent year.

   D. The County Clerk ensure all available resources are reflected in the budget documents.

E. The County Commission, along with the County Clerk, ensure budgets are prepared for all county funds and submitted to the SAO as required by state law.

F. The County Commission and County Clerk ensure financial information for all county funds is properly reported in the annual published financial statements in accordance with state law.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The county incurred two instances of allowing actual expenditures to exceed budgeted expenditures for various funds during the audit period. The excess amounts for the two funds combined totaled $174. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B&C. Partially Implemented. While isolated errors were again noted, significant improvement was made in these areas. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

D&F. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

E. Partially implemented. The number of funds not budgeted in 1998 decreased significantly from 1997. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

3. County Expenditures

A. The county did not obtain a professional appraisal to value land prior to its purchase.

B. The county purchased meals from various vendors for prisoners incarcerated in the county jail. The vendors submitted invoices monthly for the total amount due, but the invoices did not contain information on the number of meals delivered, the grocery items purchased, or the prices for the meals and grocery items. In addition, a record of meals received was not prepared by the Sheriff's Office.

Recommendation:

A. The County Commission obtain professional appraisals on land it considers purchasing and review all possible options for the most cost-effective method of obtaining land.

B. The Sheriff maintain a record of meals received. The vendor should be required to submit an invoice of meals served and the County Clerk should review the Sheriff's records and investigate any differences between the Sheriff's records and the vendor's invoice. The Sheriff should also retain individual store receipts for grocery items purchased, and submit them to the County Clerk monthly. The County Clerk should reconcile the receipts to the vendor invoices and investigate any differences.

Status:

Implemented.

4. General Fixed Assets Records and Procedures

The County Clerk did not maintain adequate records of general fixed assets. The fixed asset listing was not maintained in a manner that allowed beginning assets plus additions less dispositions to be reconciled to an ending asset balance. Periodic inventories were not conducted. Purchases were not added to the county's fixed asset records in a timely manner and periodic reconciliations of general fixed asset additions to equipment purchases were not performed.

Recommendation:

The County Clerk maintain adequate records of general fixed assets, ensuring fixed asset purchases are added on a timely basis. This could be accomplished by periodically reconciling fixed asset additions to records of equipment purchases. An annual physical inventory should be conducted as required by state law.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

5. Sheriffs' Controls and Procedures

A. Calendar sales commissions were deposited into a bank account outside the county treasury, designated as the "Safety and Poor Fund."

B. Bank reconciliations were not prepared for the "Safety and Poor Fund" on a monthly basis.

C. Receipt slips were not issued for the "Safety and Poor Fund" receipts.

D. Documentation was not adequate to support several expenditures made from the "Safety and Poor Fund."

E. Neither the Sheriff's department nor the County Treasurer routinely compared prisoner board billings to subsequent payments. There were no formal follow-up procedures for unpaid board bills.

F. The county did not maintain documentation of matching funds provided. It appeared federal payments of $1,133 were not matched by the county.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Turn remaining "Safety and Poor Fund" monies and all future calendar proceeds over to the County Treasurer to be placed in a fund established by the County Commission. Expenditures required by the Sheriff from this fund should be made by duly authorized warrants. If this recommendation is not implemented, procedures described in parts B-D are necessary to adequately account for the fund.

B. Perform monthly bank reconciliations for the "Safety and Poor Fund."

C. Issue receipt slips for all monies received for the "Safety and Poor Fund," and ensure the amount and composition of receipts agrees to bank deposits.

D. Ensure adequate supporting documentation is maintained for all "Safety and Poor Fund" expenditures.

E. Compare prisoner board billings and the subsequent payments received by the County Treasurer on a regular basis and rebill any unpaid amounts. Documentation of any subsequent billings should be maintained.

F. Consult with the grantor agency to resolve the questioned costs. In addition, the Sheriff should ensure proper documentation is retained for grant programs.

Status:

A&E. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

B-D. Implemented.

F. Not Implemented. The prior questioned costs have not yet been resolved. The county withdrew from the COPS program in July 1997. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

6. Ex Officio County Collector's (EOC) Procedures

A. The Collector's annual settlements contained significant errors.

B. Delinquent tax books were not updated daily.

Recommendation:

The EOC:

A. File accurate annual settlements.

B. Record delinquent payments in the delinquent tax books daily.

Status:

Implemented.

7. Prosecuting Attorney's Records and Procedures

A. Receipt slips were not issued for some monies received, were not prenumbered by the printer, and some did not indicate the method of payment.

B. Monthly bank reconciliations were not performed for the Prosecuting Attorney's bank account from August 1996 to December 1996. In addition, the cash control ledger was not complete. Monthly receipts and disbursements were not totaled in the cash control ledger and a book balance was not determined.

C. An open-items (liabilities) listing was not prepared and reconciled to the bank balance on a monthly basis during the audit period.

D. Accounting duties were not adequately segregated.

Recommendation:

The Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received, and periodically account for the numerical sequence of the receipt slips issued. In addition, the Prosecuting Attorney should ensure that the composition of receipt slips issued is reconciled to bank deposits.

B. Perform monthly bank reconciliations and determine total book receipts, disbursements, and the cash balance on a monthly basis.

C. Prepare an open items listing on a monthly basis. The open items listing should be reconciled to the reconciled bank balance on the bank reconciliation.

D. Adequately segregate accounting duties to the extent possible or perform periodic documented supervisory reviews of the records.

Status:

Implemented.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

PUTNAM COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1845, the county of Putnam, Missouri was named after General Israel Putnam, a Revolutionary War hero. Putnam County is a township-organized, third-class county and is part of the 3rd Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Unionville.

Putnam County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Putnam County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
Property taxes	$ 204,808	17	205,136	19
Sales taxes	109,513	9	127,392	11
Federal and state aid	763,756	65	668,222	62
Fees, interest, and other	112,362	9	91,694	8
Total	$ 1,190,439	100	1,092,444	100

The following chart shows how Putnam County spent monies in 1998 and 1997 from the General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
USE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
General county government	$ 328,990	27	301,428	26
Public safety	82,802	7	75,782	7
Highways and roads	788,764	66	775,938	67
Total	$ 1,200,556	100	1,153,148	100

::
In addition, significant sales tax receipts and public safety expenses are accounted for in the Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund. Receipts of the Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund were $224,741 and $215,127 for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. Disbursements were $207,923 and $249,237 for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively.

The county maintains approximately 189 county bridges and 515 miles of county roads.

The county's population was 5,916 in 1970 and 5,079 in 1990. The following chart shows the county's change in assessed valuation since 1970:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997	1985*	1980	1970

 Prior to 1985, separate assessments were made for merchants' and manufacturers' property. These amounts are included in real estate.

Putnam County's property tax rates per $100 of assessed valuations were as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997
General Revenue Fund	$ .48	.48
Special Road and Bridge Fund	***	***
Health Center Fund	.16	.16
Hospital Fund	.37	.37

 The county retains an amount equal to one-seventh of the tax levy per $100 assessed valuation from road and bridge taxes levied by the townships per Section 137.585.2, RSMo. The county also retains an amount equal to one-fifth of the tax levy per $100 assessed valuation from the road and bridge taxes levied by road districts.

::

Property taxes attach as an enforceable lien on property as of January 1. Taxes are levied on September 1 and payable by December 31. Taxes paid after December 31 are subject to penalties. The county and townships bill and collect property taxes for themselves and most other local governments. Taxes collected were distributed as follows:

(4) Includes 2 part-time employees.

In addition, the county pays a proportionate share of the salaries of other circuit court-appointed employees. Putnam County's share of the Third Judicial Circuit's expenses is 18.26 percent.

During 1998, a county 911 board was created. The establishment of the board was related to a county-wide sales tax of 1/2 percent which was approved by voters during the April 1998 election for the purpose of implementing and operating an Enhanced 911 System.

AUDIT REPORT

PHELPS COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-51
August 11, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

YELLOW SHEET

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Phelps, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Phelps County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials.

There were no new findings or recommendations made during this audit. However, this audit noted the county had not fully implemented some of the recommendations made in the prior audit report. The county was encouraged to implement those prior audit recommendations.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Phelps County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the fourth paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Phelps County.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, requires disclosure of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. Phelps County has included such disclosures in Note 5. Because of the unprecedented nature of the year 2000 issue, its effects and the success of related remediation efforts will not be fully determinable until the year 2000 and thereafter. Accordingly, insufficient audit evidence exists to support the county's disclosures with respect to the year 2000 issue made in Note 5. Further, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding year 2000 disclosures, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 4, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Phelps County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Phelps County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. Except discussed in that report, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Phelps County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Law Library Custodian, or the Board for the Developmentally Disabled. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt a formal budget for the Law Library Fund for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Special Road and Bridge Fund	1997
Meramec Home Health Agency Fund	1997
Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund	1997
25th Juvenile FPS Fund	1997
Health Department Fund	1997
Crisis Intervention Fund	1997
Circuit Division Interest Fund	1998 and 1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

Deficit budget balances are presented for the Special Road and Bridge Fund for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

However, the budgets of that fund also included other resources available to finance current or future year disbursements. Generally, other available net resources represented current year property taxes not received before December 31. Such resources were sufficient to offset the deficit budget balances presented.

Although Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, requires a balanced budget, a deficit balance was budgeted in the Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, did not include the Circuit Division Interest Fund and the Law Library Fund.

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

The county's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the county's custodial bank in the county's name.

3. Cash Advances

The county advances monies from the county Use Tax Fund and the Public Facilities Use Tax Fund to various other county funds to cover temporary cash flow problems which occur in those other funds. The unreimbursed advances at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were as follows:

4. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $646,977 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $342,539. As of December 31, 1998, $128,456 remains to be paid.

5. Year 2000 (Y2K) Compliance

Phelps County staff have been in contact with suppliers or manufacturers of electronic equipment now in use in the Phelps County Courthouse (i.e., elevators, fire alarms, mechanical equipment, computer equipment, etc.). Steps either have been taken or are being taken to correct any known issues which have been identified. Most courthouse departments either have completed computer changes or are in the process of doing so. Funding has been designated for any necessary corrections. Funds have been expended for the past two years in preparation for Y2K, and have caused no serious financial hardship to the county. Phelps County does not anticipate any serious disruption of services due to Y2K.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are an integral part of this schedule.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

PHELPS COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Phelps County, Missouri, except for the programs accounted for in the Phelps County Public Housing Authority Fund. Federal awards for that fund have been audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors for its years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the National Criminal History Improvement Program (CFDA number 16.544), and the Byrne Formula Grant Program (CFDA number 16.579), represent the cost of equipment received. Amounts for the Donation of Federal Surplus Personal Property Program (CFDA number 39.003) represent the estimated fair market value of property at the time of receipt.

2. Subrecipients

The county provided no federal awards to subrecipients during the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Phelps County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Phelps County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Phelps County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Phelps County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Phelps County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

SUMMARY SCHEDULE OF PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS
IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

Section .315 of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditee to prepare a Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings to report the status of all findings that are relative to federal awards and included in the prior audit report's Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Current Findings

PHELPS COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Phelps County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We also have audited the compliance of Phelps County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 4, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Phelps County Public Housing Authority and the Phelps County Regional Medical Center are audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related funds are not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed those audit reports for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997 and December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. This Management Advisory Report includes no findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Phelps County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

PHELPS COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Phelps County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Budgetary Procedures

   A. Interfund cash advances and repayments were reported in a manner that did not accurately reflect receipt and disbursement amounts.

   B. Actual disbursements exceeded budgeted amounts in several funds.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission:

   A&B. Refrain from authorizing disbursements in excess of budgeted amounts. In addition, the County Commission should consider alternative ways of recording interfund cash advances in the county budgets to accurately reflect financial activity and conditions.

   Status:

   Partially implemented. Disbursements exceeded budgeted amounts for some funds in 1997 and only one fund in 1998. Budgets were adjusted each year to reflect interfund loans and interfund loan activity decreased significantly in 1998. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

2. Meramec Home Health Agency

   A. The Meramec Home Health Agency (MHHA) had not reimbursed the General Revenue Fund or the Public Facilities Authority Fund for services paid from those funds and reimbursed to MHHA from Medicare.

   B. Medicare Cost Reports indicated the MHHA was incurring overall operating losses, including costs paid by other county funds but not reimbursed by the MHHA Fund. In addition, cash advances from other funds had not been repaid and the financial reports were not reviewed by the County Commission prior to making cash advances to the fund.

Recommendation:

The County Commission:

A. Transfer $3,723 and $44,061 from the MHHA Fund to the General Revenue Fund and the Public Facilities Authority Fund, respectively, to reimburse those funds for services provided during the two years ended December 31, 1996. In the future, MHHA should annually reimburse all funds providing services to the MHHA for their proportionate share of Medicare cost reimbursements.

B. Evaluate the operations of those MHHA cost centers which are sustaining consistent losses and determine if measures can be taken to minimize these losses or if the county wishes to subsidize the cost of operating these cost centers. In addition, the number of cash advances made to the MHHA should be limited, and the MHHA should be required to submit financial reports to the County Commission.

Status:

A. The General Revenue Fund and the Public Facilities Authority Fund were reimbursed $3,723 and $44,061, respectively. Reimbursements were not made to the funds that provided services to the MHHA during the two years ended December 31, 1998; however, the county sold the MHHA to Phelps County Regional Medical Center for $225,000 on August 1, 1998.

B. Implemented. The county evaluated various alternatives and sold the MHHA to the Phelps County Regional Medical Center on August 1, 1998.

3. County Coroner's Salary

The County Coroner did not provide training certification or exemptions from training.

Recommendation:

The County Commission require the County Coroner to provide certification that he completed applicable classroom training in 1996 and 1995 or an exemption from training. If training certification or an exemption cannot be provided, the County Commission should pursue reimbursement of $1,000 from the County Coroner. In addition, the County Commission and County Clerk should require the County Coroner to provide certification of applicable classroom training before the $500 training allowance is paid.

Status:

Implemented.

4. Donation of Courthouse Space

The county provided courthouse office space rent-free to various not-for-profit organizations without obtaining written agreements.

Recommendation:

The County Commission review the donating of courthouse space to private organizations. If the county believes there is benefit to be derived and these are county provided services, the county should obtain written agreements with these organizations which clearly state the responsibilities of each party and benefits to be derived.

Status:

Partially implemented. The County Commission determined that all of these agencies provide necessary services to the citizens of the county. However, written agreements have not been entered into. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

5. Sheriff's Controls and Procedures

A. Accounting duties were not adequately segregated.

B.1. Receipt slips did not indicate mode of payment.

2. Checks were not restrictively endorsed upon receipt.

3. Receipts were not kept in a secure location.

4. Receipts were not deposited intact.

5. Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

C. Adequate accounting records were not maintained for the petty cash fund.

D.1. Some deposits into the drug seizure bank account were not made on a timely basis.
2. $15,980 relating to a dismissed case was being held in the drug seizure bank account.

E. Logs of Uniform Traffic Tickets (UTTs) assigned and issued were not maintained.

F. Vehicles logs were not maintained.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Adequately segregate the recordkeeping duties and document periodic reviews of the accounting records.

B. Record the mode of payment on receipt slips and reconcile the composition of receipts to bank deposits. All checks should be restrictively endorsed upon receipt and all receipts kept in a secure location. Deposits should be made intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Maintain adequate supporting documentation and accounting records for the petty cash fund.

D. Ensure all receipts are deposited into the drug seizure bank account on a timely basis. The Sheriff should also remit the monies related to the dismissed drug forfeiture case to the defendants or dispose of the unclaimed monies as provided by state law.

E. Maintain traffic ticket logs accounting for the issuance and ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets and copies of all UTTs issued.

F. Maintain vehicle logs for all vehicles of the Sheriff's department. In addition, the County Commission should review these logs to monitor the usage of county-owned vehicles.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Duties were further segregated. The monthly bank reconciliation is reviewed; however, there is no independent reconciliation of receipts to deposits. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B. Partially implemented. The method of payment is recorded on receipt slips and bond forms. However, the composition of receipts is not reconciled to the composition of deposits. Beginning in 1999, checks are restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt and receipts are kept in a secure location by the bookkeeper. Deposits are made three to four times per week. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

C. Implemented.

D. Partially implemented. The only drug seizure money received during the two years ended December 31, 1998 was interest earned on the bank account. The $15,980 was disbursed, but monies for cases closed during the two years ended December 31, 1998 were not disbursed. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

E. Not implemented. Officers maintain a copy of all tickets in the ticket book. However, a log is not maintained, which would help to account for all tickets. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

F. Partially implemented. The logs are maintained, but are not submitted to the County Commission for review. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

PHELPS COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1857, the county of Phelps was named after John S. Phelps, a former Governor and member of Congress. Phelps county is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Twenty-Fifth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Rolla.

Phelps County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Phelps County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and Special Road and Bridge Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL

AUDIT REPORT

VILLAGE OF NEW MELLE, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-50
August 4, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to the request of petitioners from the Village of New Melle, Missouri.

In 1998, New Melle operated ten months without an approved budget; it was not until October 1998 that the village's budget went into effect. In addition, as of March 30, 1999 the village budget for fiscal year 1999 had not been approved. Missouri state law requires governments to operate from approved budgets.

In addition to meeting state law requirements, a complete and well-planned budget can serve as a useful management tool by establishing specific cost and revenue expectations for each area of the village operations and provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs and revenues. It will also assist informing the public about the village's operations and current finances.

Funding for the Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) grant program was to end in June 1999. The village has not documented a plan to address this significant reduction of revenues.

The village inaccurately reported disbursements on the quarterly Financial Status Reports to the COPS program, incorrectly paid officers who were not a part of the program to cover leave time, and requested more money than needed for disbursements each month through the COPS program. As a result, at December 31, 1998, federal reimbursements of $23,103 have been questioned.

In 1998, New Melle contributed $3,653 to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) for five police officers, instead of participating in the state approved retirement program (LAGERS) Missouri Local Government Employee's Retirement System. The village is prohibited by state law from establishing its own retirement plan. We recommend the Board of Trustees review the legality of the village's retirement plan.

New Melle has one person serving as Village Clerk and Village Treasurer. This person's duties include making bank deposits, maintaining receipt and disbursement records and preparing financial reports. In addition, there is no independent review of the clerk's work.

Holding both of these offices does not allow the separation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions and jeopardizes the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

The village did not have formal written agreements with some companies or individuals providing services such as the Village attorney and accountant. We noted several checks payable to cash totaling $1,600. According to the City Clerk, the cash was used for gas for patrol cars. The village responded that in mid-1998 it issued credit cards for gasoline purchases and the practice of using petty cash was discontinued.

New Melle has not established a separate accounting for motor vehicle-related receipts, law enforcement training fees, and judicial education fees to ensure these funds were spent in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

The municipal court division does not issue receipt slips for some monies received. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not regularly prepared and reconciled to the bond account cash balances. Municipal summonses are not properly accounted for by either the police department or New Melle's municipal court division. The Court Clerk, who is also the Village Clerk, performs the duties of receiving, recording, disbursing, and depositing monies.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

To the Honorable Chairman
and
Board of Trustees
Village of New Melle
New Melle, Missouri 63365

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the village of New Melle, Missouri. Our audit of the village included, but was not limited to, the year ended December 31, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, ordinances, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, village policies and ordinances, and various village financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the village and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the village.

A summary of the financial activity of the village of New Melle for the year ended December 31, 1998, is presented on the next page.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

VILLAGE OF NEW MELLE, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Financial Condition (page 9)

The village does not have a documented plan to address the significant reduction of revenues after the COPS program funding ends in June 1999.

2. Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) Grant (pages 9-11)

The village incorrectly reported disbursements from the COPS program on the quarterly Financial Status Reports filed with the federal government. The village incorrectly paid General Fund officers from the COPS grant to cover COPS officers leave time and requested more money than required for disbursements each month. As a result, at December 31, 1998, federal reimbursements of $23,103 have been questioned.

3. Retirement Plan (page 11)

During the year ended December 31, 1998, the village contributed $3,653 to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) for five police officers. The village is prohibited by state law from establishing its own retirement plan.

4. Budgets, Financial Reports and Minutes (pages 12-14)

The village did not approve the year ended December 31, 1998 budget until October 1998. The village's budgeted disbursements exceeded budgeted receipts and the actual disbursements exceeded budgeted disbursements. Board meeting minutes are not signed to indicate board approval. The board does not have formal written minutes for its closed meetings and the specific reasons for closed meetings are not documented. Annual financial reports were not filed on a timely basis with the State Auditor's office.

5. Accounting Records, Controls, and Procedures (pages 14-16)

The Village Clerk also serves as the Village Treasurer. The Board of Trustees and police officers have access to village funds and are not bonded. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed until the deposit is prepared. The village does not have a formal policy regarding access to village records. The Board of Trustees has not established a personnel policy on vacation and sick leave, and compensatory time.

6. Disbursements (pages 16-17)

The village does not have formal written agreements with companies or individuals providing services such as the Village Attorney and the accountant. We noted several checks payable to cash totaling $1,600.

7. Mileage Logs (page 17)

The police department does not keep vehicle usage logs for the patrol cars.

8. Restricted Revenues (pages 17-18)

The village has not established a separate accounting for motor vehicle-related receipts, law enforcement training fees, and judicial education fees to ensure these funds are spent in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

9. Municipal Court Division Controls and Procedures (pages 18-19)

The municipal court division does not issue receipts slips for some monies received. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not regularly prepared and reconciled to the cash balance of the bond account. Municipal summonses are not properly accounted for by either the police department or the municipal court division. The Court Clerk, who is also the Village Clerk, performs the duties of receiving, recording, disbursing, and depositing monies.

1. Financial Condition

The village of New Melle established a police department in August 1994, with one part time officer. In 1996, the village began receiving monies from the U.S. Department of Justice under the Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) program to fund five additional full-time police officer positions. During the year ended December 31, 1998, the village received approximately $128,000 in COPS program funding. Effective June 1999, the funding was to be discontinued.

Although facing a serious financial situation, the village has not documented a plan to address this significant reduction of revenues. Either receipts will need to be increased or services reduced to enable the village to meet its required financial obligations.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees establish a financial plan for the future of the village of New Melle.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The village is well aware of the impact of the COPS grant expirations on our ability to provide police service and we have been in contact with the COPS office for the last year discussing the grants. We will provide more documentation of these efforts in the board meeting minutes and will develop a formal written plan for officer retention. We have obtained verbal permission from COPS to extend the grant period (not the amount) to March 2000 in order to give us time to implement a plan.

2. Community Oriented Policing Services (COPS) Grant

In 1996 the village started receiving grants totaling $481,412 from the U.S. Department of Justice under the COPS Universal Hiring (UH) and COPS Funding Accelerated for Smaller Towns (FAST) programs. The COPS FAST program provided a 75% grant to hire one officer for three years. The COPS UH program provided full funding to hire four officers for three years. The Department of Justice's Office of the Inspector General, Audit Division, completed an audit of the New Melle COPS grants. The audit report, dated November 13, 1997, and covering the entire grant period up to August 31, 1997, included eight recommendations. During our review of the village's resolutions to the recommendations and compliance with the grant requirements during the year ended December 31, 1998, we noted the following concerns:

A. The village reports grant disbursements to the COPS office quarterly on a Financial Status Report (FSR). The FSR shows the total disbursements, local disbursements, and federal disbursements for the previous quarter, the current quarter, and a cumulative for the grant period. The village reported $138,881 in total disbursements for the grant in 1998; however, actual grant disbursements totaled only $135,038. The following items were incorrectly claimed for reimbursement:

1) The COPS grant monies may be used to pay for officers' health, dental, and life insurance. The officers contribute money to the COPS account for family insurance coverage. The village then writes one check monthly from this account for all of these benefits. The village reported the entire check amount on two of the quarterly reports; however, because the family insurance coverage is reimbursed by the officers and not an allowable grant cost it should not be reported. The family coverage paid during the year totaled $1,781.

2) During the fourth quarter of 1998, the village paid for third quarter taxes for all officers of the village from the COPS account. The village's General Fund then reimbursed the COPS account for the amount of taxes paid that applied to officers paid from the General Fund. The payment of taxes included on the quarterly report was overstated $133.

A similar condition was also noted in the COPS audit report and the total amount owed to the COPS program at December 31, 1998 totals $18,257.

B. When officers paid by the COPS program are on sick or vacation leave, the village pays the officers who cover their shifts from the COPS program. These officers are normally paid from the General Fund. The village also continues to pay the COPS officers their regular pay while on leave. According to COPS personnel and the COPS grant manual this practice is not an allowable grant cost. The total amount paid for 1998 in these circumstances was $1,730.

C. The village of New Melle requests funds in advance from the COPS program to pay officers' salaries and benefits for the month. For 1998, the village of New Melle requested and received approximately $135,000 from the COPS program. The village reported on their four 1998 financial status reports (FSR) that federal disbursements totaled $131,884. The village requested and received $3,116 more than was expended for the year. The village should only request the amount required for actual disbursements for each month.

A similar condition was also noted in the COPS audit report.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees consult with the Department of Justice to resolve these costs and issues. In addition, the Board of Trustees should:

A. Prepare accurate quarterly financial reports for the COPS grants.
B. Ensure village officers are not being paid for COPS officers leave time with COPS monies.

C. Ensure requested advances are limited to disbursements for one month.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The $18,000 noted as "owed to the COPS program" is almost entirely accounted for by certain disallowed uses of grant money to pay officers with supervisory duties in 1996. This was brought to our attention during the COPS audit in 1997 and we have been paying this $16,343.10 back in installments since mid-1998.

These accounting errors were noted and are being corrected.

B. It had been our understanding that grant money could be used to pay officers sick leave and vacation. Use of grant money for these purposes will be discontinued.

C. It should be noted that although requesting funds prior to actual payment has resulted in some monthly and annual imbalances, those imbalances have always been ultimately rectified. Our accounting practices will be modified to avoid monthly imbalances.

3. Retirement Plan

During the year ended December 31, 1998, the village contributed $3,653 to an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) for five police officers.

The village is prohibited by state law from establishing its own retirement plan. The Missouri Constitution, Article 6, Section 25 states that political subdivisions can only provide pensions for its employees when such authority is given to the political subdivisions by the General Assembly. No statutory authority has been given for villages to provide their own retirement plan. Section 70.600, RSMo, the statute creating the Missouri Local Government Employees' Retirement System (LAGERS), states its purpose as "providing for the retirement or pensioning of the officers and employees..of any political subdivision of the state.."

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees review the legality of the village's retirement plan.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will review the legality of our current retirement plan and if necessary roll it over to the LAGERS plan.

4. Budgets, Financial Reports and Minutes

A. Our review of the village's budget noted the following concerns:

1) The village did not approve the budget for the year ended December 31, 1998, until October 1998. In addition, as of March 30, 1999, the budget for the year ending December 31, 1999, has not yet been approved. Section 67.080, RSMo, provides that no disbursement of public monies shall be made unless it is authorized in the budget.

2) A budget has only been prepared for the General Fund and not for the COPS Grant Fund and the Community Development Block Grant Fund. The budget did not include actual receipts and disbursements for the two previous years. In addition, the budget did not include actual and estimated cash and resources available at the beginning and end of the year, respectively, or a budget message.

   Section 67.010, RSMo, sets specific guidelines for the format, of the annual operating budget. A complete budget for each fund should be prepared, and include the beginning available resources and reasonable estimates of the ending available resources. The budget should also include a budget message and comparisons of actual receipts and disbursements for the two preceding fiscal years.

3) Budgeted disbursements exceeded budgeted receipts in 1998 by $25,901. Section 67.010, RSMo prohibits municipalities to budget a deficit fund balance.

4) Actual disbursements exceeded budgeted disbursements in 1998 by $8,912. Section 67.040, RSMo, indicates a political subdivision shall not increase the total amount authorized for disbursement from any fund, unless the governing body adopts a resolution documenting the reasons making the increase necessary and approves or adopts a resolution or ordinance to authorize the disbursements.

A complete and well-planned budget, in addition to meeting statutory requirements, can serve as a useful management tool by establishing specific cost and revenue expectations for each area of the village operations and provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs and revenues. It will also assist informing the public about the village's operations and current finances.

B. The annual financial reports for the years ended December 31, 1997 and 1996, prepared by the village were submitted to the State Auditor's office in an untimely manner. The annual financial reports for the years ended December 31, 1997 and 1996 were received by the State Auditor's office on February 2, 1999, and December 4, 1997, respectively. The annual financial report for the year ended December 31, 1998 was received by the State Auditor's Office on April 12, 1999. Section 105.145, RSMo, requires financial reports be filed annually with the State Auditor's office.

C. The board meeting minutes, including the list of bills for the month, are not signed by the chairman of the Board of Trustees nor any of the other board members.

The official board meeting minutes should be signed by the board members, or at least a designated member of the board, to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a complete and correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board's meetings. By signing the minutes the board also documents its approval of the list of bills for that month.

D. During our review of closed meetings, we noted the following concerns:

1) Formal written minutes are not maintained for closed meetings. Although minutes for closed meetings are not specifically required by law, minutes constitute the record of proceedings of the Board of Trustees. Formal written minutes for closed meetings result in a better record of village transactions, proceedings, and decisions. In addition, minutes help the village demonstrate that closed discussions or business relate to the specific reason announced for closing the meeting pursuant to the Sunshine Law, Chapter 610, RSMo.

2) The board minutes and the meeting agendas do not consistently document the specific reasons for going into a closed session. The agendas and the minutes occasionally listed personnel issues as the reason to go into closed session. The board votes to go into closed session at each meeting.

Section 610.021, RSMo, allows the board to close meetings to the extent the meetings relate to certain specified subject, including litigation, real estate transactions, personnel issues, some competitive bidding issues, confidential or privileged communications with auditors, etc. Section 610.022 RSMo, requires a closed meeting, record or vote be held only for the specific reasons announced publicly at an open session. In addition, this law provides that public governmental bodies shall not discuss any other business during the closed meeting that differs from the specific reasons used to justify such meeting, record, or vote.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Prepare complete and accurate annual budget documents that contain all information required by state law and/or necessary to provide a complete financial plan for the village. Any increases in disbursements should be approved by ordinance.

B. Ensure the annual financial reports are filed with the State Auditor's office in a timely manner.

C. Document its review and approval of the board minutes and list of bills by signing, or designating a board member to sign, the official copy of the minutes which includes the list of bills maintained by the Village Clerk.

D.1. Ensure minutes are prepared for all closed meetings.

2. Ensure minutes and agendas state the specific reasons for going into a closed session, as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The suggestions for improved annual budget development are well taken and will be implemented. This finding indicates that we had insufficient focus on our budget on an annual basis; however, we were very aware of and managed our running surplus/deficit on a monthly basis at each meeting.

The difference in budgeted receipts and disbursements noted in A.3. above is due to "cash on hand" not being included in the calculations. This was essentially an accounting error and the calculation has been corrected.

B. Future reports will be submitted on time.

C. Meeting minutes will be signed.

D. Minutes related to closed sessions will be documented as noted.

5. Accounting Records, Controls and Procedures

A. The village has one person that serves as the Village Clerk and the Village Treasurer. The duties of this official include maintaining receipt and disbursement records, making bank deposits, and preparing financial reports. The village also contracts with a bookkeeper to do check preparation and bank reconciliations.

Neither the board nor other personnel independent of the cash custody and the record-keeping functions provide adequate supervision or review of the work performed by the Village Clerk.

Attorney General's Opinion No. 24, 1955 to Dodds, concluded that in a fourth-class city the holding of the positions of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Collector, or any two of these three offices, by the same person at the same time would be incompatible. The statutes pertaining to villages are similar to those cited in this opinion and, thus, the opinion's conclusion appears applicable to villages.

Holding two of these offices does not allow the separation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions. The current procedures jeopardize the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. The board should implement procedures to ensure a proper segregation of duties including, but not limited to, requiring that receipts are reconciled to deposits by someone independent of the receipting function.

B. The members of the board of trustees are authorized to sign checks; however, they are not bonded. Dual signatures are required on each check. Police officers receive fines and court costs monies during the day; however they are not bonded either. Failure to properly bond individuals who have access to funds exposes the village to risk of loss.

C. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed until the deposit is prepared. To reduce the potential for loss, theft, or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. The village does not have a formal policy regarding public access to village records. A formal policy regarding access to village records would establish guidelines for the village to make records available to the public. This policy should establish a person to contact and an address to mail requests for access to records. Section 610.023, RSMo, lists requirements for making village records available to the public.

E. The Board of Trustees has not established a personnel policy on vacation and sick leave, and compensatory time. Currently, the police employees have been documenting when leave is taken on their time cards. The village does not document and monitor vacation and sick leave, and compensatory time earned, taken, paid, and accumulated.

A written personnel policy for all employees is necessary to provide assurance all employees are treated equitably and to prevent misunderstandings. Adequate documentation of leave time earned and used is necessary to ensure that leave time is not abused.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Consider appointing separate individuals to the positions of Village Clerk and Village Treasurer. If this is not possible, at a minimum, procedures for an adequate independent review of the record keeping functions should be established.

B. Consider obtaining bond coverage for all individuals handling village monies.

C. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

D. Establish formal written policies and procedures regarding public access to village records.

E. Establish a written policy regarding compensatory, vacation, and sick leave. In addition, the village clerk should maintain leave records for all employees of vacation and sick leave and compensatory time earned, taken, paid, and accumulated.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The village agrees that providing checks and balances in the handling of money is critical and it is important to note that no misuse of funds have been suggested by this audit. The village does employ an accountant for book keeping and account reconciliation. It is our proposal that in the absence of a volunteer to act as treasurer we could formalize the role of our accountant for an independent check and balance. This person would act independently from the Clerk/Treasurer and assist with other accounting tasks.

B. We will comply with the request to obtain bond insurance for all board members and police officers.

C.&D. Noted and will comply.

E. The police department will develop a written policy regarding employee time keeping and make available to the board a time keeping database.

6. Disbursements

A. The village does not have formal written agreements with some companies or individuals providing services. During our review, we noted the following disbursements without contracts during the year ended December 31, 1998:

Village attorney	$ 12,832
Accountant	2,053
Radio service maintenance	1,567

Section 432.070, RSMo, requires political subdivisions' contracts be in writing. Formal written agreements are necessary to document each party's duties and responsibilities.

B. We noted several checks payable to cash totaling $1,600. According to the City Clerk, the cash was used for gas for patrol cars. To reduce the risk of misuse of monies, the practice of writing checks payable to cash should be prohibited.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Enter into written agreements for all services.

B. Prohibit the practice of making checks payable to cash.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The village will develop written contracts for services such as our attorney, judge, and others where appropriate.

B. In mid-1998 the village issued credit cards for gasoline purchases and the practice of using petty cash was discontinued. The cash noted was used as indicated in this finding.

7. Mileage Logs

The police department does not keep vehicle usage logs for the three patrol cars. The logs should document beginning and ending odometer readings, destination, and purpose of each trip to provide additional assurance that the vehicles are used only for village business.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees require the village police department to prepare and maintain mileage logs for each patrol car, including beginning and ending odometer readings, destination, and purpose of each trip.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will add police car mileage records to our daily activity logs.

8. Restricted Revenues

The village receives monies that can only be used for specific purposes. Our review of the village's method of accounting for these monies disclosed the following concerns:

A. During the year ended December 31, 1998, the village received approximately $8,000 in motor vehicle-related revenues from the state. Article IV, Section 30 of the Missouri Constitution, requires that motor vehicle-related revenues apportioned by the state of Missouri be expended for street-related purposes, including policing, signing, lighting, and cleaning of roads and streets. The village has not established a separate accounting for these receipts and the related disbursements to ensure compliance with the Constitutional obligation.

B. During the year ended December 31, 1998, the village collected $1,570 in law enforcement training fees. These fees are restricted for law enforcement training purposes as specified in Sections 590.100 through 590.180, RSMo. During 1998, the village paid $125 for law enforcement training. To ensure compliance with the law, the village should account for these receipts and ensure these monies are used for training purposes only.

C. During the year ended December 31, 1998, the village collected $785 in judicial education fees. These fees are restricted for municipal judges and court administrators training purposes as specified in Section 479.260, RSMo. During 1998, the village did not spend any monies on training for the municipal judge or court clerk. To ensure compliance with the law, the village should account for these receipts and ensure these monies are used for training purposes only.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees establish a mechanism to tract and account for the restricted receipts to ensure funds are spent in accordance with applicable laws and regulations.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We will develop the tracking and compliance tools as indicated.

9.	Municipal Court Division Controls and Procedures

A. The municipal court division issues rediform receipt slips for cash received but receipt slips are not issued for all monies received. The receipt slips are not specifically printed for the court and receipt books are not consecutively numbered. To properly account for all receipts and ensure they are properly deposited, official prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received, reconciled to composition of monies received and bank deposits, and the numerical sequence accounted for properly.

B. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not regularly prepared and reconciled to the cash balance of the bond account. The Court Clerk prepared an open-items listing at our request as of March 6, 1999. The listing reconciled to the bond account balance of $7,179. No reconciliations of this type had been prepared previously.

To ensure that receipts and disbursements are properly handled and monies held in trust by the municipal court division are sufficient to meet liabilities, open-items listings should be prepared monthly and reconciled to the cash balance.

C. Although the Police Department maintains records of traffic ticket numbers assigned to officers and documents the ultimate disposition of each ticket, similar records are not maintained for municipal summonses. As a result, neither the Police Department nor the municipal court division can be assured that all summonses issued by the Police Department are properly turned in to the municipal court division for processing, or that all summonses on which a fine and court costs are due are collected and properly recorded by the court clerk.

D. The duties of receiving, recording, disbursing, and depositing monies are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all these duties. There is little supervision or review of the work performed by the Court Clerk. The village has contracted with a bookkeeper to do bank reconciliations.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is currently an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited. Any unusual items or discrepancies should be investigated.

WE RECOMMEND the village of New Melle Municipal Court Division:

A. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for the monies collected, reconcile monies collected to the bank deposit, reconcile the composition of monies collected to the receipt slips and account for their numerical sequence.

B. Prepare and retain a monthly open-item listing and reconcile this listing to the cash balance.

C. Account for all summonses assigned to police officers and document the ultimate disposition of each summons.

D. Ensure the duties of recording transactions are adequately segregated from cash custody, and perform and document periodic reviews of the accounting records maintained and reconciliations prepared.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will issue prenumbered receipt slips as indicated.

B. Better record keeping will be implemented.

C. Summonses will be accounted for as indicated.

D. As noted in our response to MAR No.5.A. we propose that our accountant be used to provide segregation of cash and record keeping responsibilities.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the village of New Melle and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

RIPLEY COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-49
August 2, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

IMPORTANT: The Missouri State Auditor is required by Missouri law to conduct audits only once every four years in counties, like Ripley, which do not have a county auditor. However, to assist such counties in meeting federal audit requirements, the State Auditor will also perform a financial and compliance audit of various county operating funds every two years. This voluntary service to Missouri counties can only be provided when state auditing resources are available and does not interfere with the State Auditor's constitutional responsibility of auditing state government.

Once every four years, the State Auditor's statutory audit will cover additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials, as required by Missouri's Constitution.

This audit of Ripley County included additional areas of county operations, as well as the elected county officials. Some of the following problems were discovered as part of the audit:

< Several internal control recommendations from the prior audit were not implemented in the sheriff's office and $483 could not be accounted for.

< A lack of various internal control procedures existed in the assessor's office and $330 could not be accounted for.

Also included in the audit are recommendations to improve the accounting and control procedures for the county clerk, collector, prosecuting attorney, and the senior citizen's board. The audit also suggested improvements be made in the county's payroll and personnel policies and procedures.

Copies of the audit are available upon request.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AND SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE OF EXPENDITURES OF FEDERAL AWARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Ripley County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of those funds or of Ripley County.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

Ripley County, Missouri has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000 compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated March 18, 1999, on our consideration of the county's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards is presented for purposes of additional analysis as required by U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations, and is not a required part of the special-purpose financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the management of Ripley County, Missouri, and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Officeholders of Ripley County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 18, 1999. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the county's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain immaterial instances of noncompliance which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, we considered the county's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses. However, we noted other matters involving the internal control over financial reporting which are described in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Ripley County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, and comparisons of such information with the corresponding budgeted information for various funds of the county. The funds presented are established under statutory or administrative authority, and their operations are under the control of the County Commission, an elected county official, the Health Center Board, Senate Bill 40 Board, or the Senior Citizen's Board. The General Revenue Fund is the county's general operating fund, accounting for all financial resources except those required to be accounted for in another fund. The other funds presented account for financial resources whose use is restricted for specified purposes.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when received or disbursed in cash. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Budgets and Budgetary Practices

The County Commission and other applicable boards are responsible for the preparation and approval of budgets for various county funds in accordance with Sections 50.525 through 50.745, RSMo 1994 and RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, the county budget law. These budgets are adopted on the cash basis of accounting.

Although adoption of a formal budget is required by law, the county did not adopt formal budgets for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Associate Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Sheriff Civil Fees Fund	1997
Circuit Interest Fund	1997
LLEB Grant Fund	1997

Warrants issued were in excess of budgeted amounts for the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Library Fund	1998

CDBG Grant Fund	1997

Section 50.740, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of the approved budgets.

D. Published Financial Statements

Under Sections 50.800 and 50.810, RSMo 1994, the County Commission is responsible for preparing and publishing in a local newspaper a detailed annual financial statement for the county. The financial statement is required to show receipts or revenues, disbursements or expenditures, and beginning and ending balances for each fund.

However, the county's published financial statements did not include the following funds:

Fund	Years Ended December 31,
Law Library Fund	1998 and 1997
Circuit Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
Associate Interest Fund	1998 and 1997
CDBG Grant Fund	1997

2. Cash

Section 110.270, RSMo 1994, based on Article IV, Section 15, Missouri Constitution, authorizes counties to place their funds, either outright or by repurchase agreement, in U.S. Treasury and agency obligations. In addition, Section 30.950, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1997, requires political subdivisions with existing authority to invest in instruments other than depositary accounts at financial institutions to adopt a written investment policy. Among other things, the policy is to commit a political subdivision to the principles of safety, liquidity, and yield (in that order) when managing public funds and to prohibit purchase of derivatives (either directly or through repurchase agreements), use of leveraging (through either reverse repurchase agreements or other methods), and use of public funds for speculation. The county has not adopted such a policy.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks, savings institutions, and credit unions.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1998, $533,710 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $592,264 was covered by collateral securities pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by an affiliate of the same bank holding company.

Of the county's bank balance at December 31, 1997, $487,362 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $532,868 was covered by collateral securities pledged by one bank and held in the county's name by an affiliate of the same bank holding company.

Of the Health Center Board's bank balance at December 31, 1998, $100,000 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $106,587 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held by an affiliate of the same bank holding company but not in the Health Center Board's name.

Of the Health Center Board's bank balance at December 31, 1997, $100,000 was covered by federal depositary insurance and $59,849 was covered by collateral pledged by one bank and held by an affiliate of the same bank holding company but not in the Health Center Board's name.

To protect the safety of county deposits, Section 110.020, RSMo 1994, requires depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure county deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

3. Use Tax Liability

The local use tax under Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, was struck down in its entirety by the Missouri Supreme Court in Associated Industries of Missouri v. Director of Revenue, 918 S.W.2d 780 (Mo. banc 1996). In St. Charles County v. Director of Revenue, 961 S.W.2d 44 (Mo. banc 1998), the Missouri Supreme Court ruled that local use taxes paid prior to the repeal of Section 144.748, RSMo 1994, must be refunded to taxpayers and authorized the Department of Revenue (DOR) to withhold amounts otherwise due to political subdivisions to the extent such withholding is necessary to cover the refund expense. On March 24, 1998, the Cole County Circuit Court entered final judgment in accordance with the Supreme Court's opinion and ordered the DOR to process refund claims filed.

The county has received $67,525 in local use tax since its inception. The DOR has estimated the county's share of the total refund liability to be $35,609. As of December 31, 1998, $13,352 remains to be paid.

The accompanying Notes to the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are an integral part of this schedule.

Notes to the Supplementary Schedule

RIPLEY COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE SUPPLEMENTARY SCHEDULE

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Purpose of Schedule and Reporting Entity

The accompanying Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards has been prepared to comply with the requirements of OMB Circular A-133. This circular requires a schedule that provides total federal awards expended for each federal program and the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA) number or other identifying number when the CFDA information is not available.

The schedule includes all federal awards administered by Ripley County, Missouri.

B. Basis of Presentation

OMB Circular A-133 includes these definitions, which govern the contents of the schedule:

> Federal financial assistance means assistance that non-Federal entities receive or administer in the form of grants, loans, loan guarantees, property (including donated surplus property), cooperative agreements, interest subsidies, insurance, food commodities, direct appropriations, and other assistance, but does not include amounts received as reimbursement for services rendered to individuals . . . .
>
> Federal award means Federal financial assistance and Federal cost-reimbursement contracts that non-Federal entities receive directly from Federal awarding agencies or indirectly from pass-through entities. It does not include procurement contracts, under grants or contracts, used to buy goods or services from vendors.

Accordingly, the schedule includes expenditures of both cash and noncash awards.

C. Basis of Accounting

Except as noted below, the schedule is presented on the cash basis of accounting, which recognizes amounts only when disbursed in cash.

Amounts for the Food Distribution Program (CFDA number 10.550) represent the dollar value assigned to commodities based on prices provided by the state Department of Social Services.

2. Subrecipients

Of the federal expenditures presented in the schedule, the county provided $100,000 to a subrecipient under the Community Development Block Grants/State's Program (CFDA number 14.228) during the year ended December 31, 1998.

FEDERAL AWARDS -
SINGLE AUDIT SECTION

State Auditor's Report

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE WITH REQUIREMENTS APPLICABLE TO EACH MAJOR PROGRAM AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER COMPLIANCE IN ACCORDANCE WITH OMB CIRCULAR A-133

To the County Commission
and Officeholders of Ripley County, Missouri

Compliance

We have audited the compliance of Ripley County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997. The county's major federal programs are identified in the summary of auditor's results section of the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. Compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to each of its major federal programs is the responsibility of the county's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the county's compliance based on our audit.

We conducted our audit of compliance in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards; the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States; and OMB Circular A-133, Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations. Those standards and OMB Circular A-133 require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether noncompliance with the types of compliance requirements referred to above that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program occurred. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence about the county's compliance with those requirements and performing such other procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. Our audit does not provide a legal determination of the county's compliance with those requirements.

In our opinion, Ripley County, Missouri, complied, in all material respects, with the requirements referred to above that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal Control Over Compliance

The management of Ripley County, Missouri, is responsible for establishing and maintaining effective internal control over compliance with the requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants applicable to federal programs. In planning and performing our audit, we considered the county's internal control over compliance with requirements that could have a direct and material effect on a major federal program in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on compliance and to test and report on the internal control over compliance in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

Our consideration of the internal control over compliance would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that noncompliance with the applicable requirements of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants that would be material in relation to a major federal program being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over compliance and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Ripley County, Missouri; federal awarding agencies and pass-through entities; and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

The summary schedule also must include findings reported in the prior audit's Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings, except those listed as corrected, no longer valid, or not warranting further action.

Section .500(e) of OMB Circular A-133 requires the auditor to follow up on these prior audit findings; to perform procedures to assess the reasonableness of the Summary Schedule of Prior Audit Findings; and to report, as a current year finding, when the auditor concludes that the schedule materially misrepresents the status of any prior findings.

Our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996, included no audit findings that Section .510(a) of OMB Circular A-133 requires to be reported for an audit of federal awards.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor's Current Findings

RIPLEY COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT FINDINGS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of various funds of Ripley County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 18, 1999. We also have audited the compliance of Ripley County, Missouri, with the types of compliance requirements described in the U.S. Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circular A-133 Compliance Supplement that are applicable to each of its major federal programs for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated March 18, 1999.

We also have reviewed the operations of elected officials with funds other than those presented in the special-purpose financial statements. As applicable, the objectives of this review were to:

1. Determine the internal controls established over the transactions of the various county officials.

2. Review and evaluate certain other management practices for efficiency and effectiveness.

3. Review certain management practices and financial information for compliance with applicable constitutional, statutory, or contractual provisions.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed accounting and bank records and other pertinent documents and interviewed various personnel of the county officials.

As part of our review, we assessed the controls of the various county officials to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk.

Because the Ripley County Hospital Board is audited and separately reported on by other independent auditors, the related fund is not presented in the special-purpose financial statements. However, we reviewed those audit reports and the substantiating working papers for the years ended August 31, 1998 and 1997.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described in the preceding paragraphs and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings arising from our review of the elected county officials referred to above. In addition, this report includes findings other than the findings, if any, reported in the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs. These findings resulted from our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of Ripley County but do not meet the criteria for inclusion in the written report on compliance and on internal control over financial reporting that is required for an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards.

1. Personnel and Payroll Policies and Procedures

Timesheets submitted by employees and approved by the employee's supervisor are not always accurate. We noted one employee who did not work for two days in January 1999. However, her timesheet indicated that she had worked those two days and the employee's supervisor approved the timesheet. In December 1998 another employee's timesheet indicated she worked on days where she did not and the employee's supervisor approved the timesheet. For this employee, the County Commission required the timesheet be changed to reflect the sick leave taken. Inaccurate timesheets do not provide for the equitable treatment of all employees and do not ensure the employee is only taking vacation and sick leave, etc. in accordance with the county's personnel policies. We also noted instances where compensatory time earned and taken was not calculated correctly and was not posted to the employee's leave records correctly. The county's leave records should accurately reflect compensatory time earned and taken.

The Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) requires employers to keep accurate records of actual time worked by employees, including compensatory time earned, taken, or paid. The time records should be accurately prepared by the employee, reviewed and approved by the applicable supervisor, and filed with the County Clerk.

WE RECOMMEND the County Commission ensure accurate time sheets and leave records are maintained.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

County Commission:

The County Commission has verbally requested employees to submit accurate time sheets. After some concerns arose, the County Commission wrote a memo requesting accurate time sheets be submitted and the memo was given to each elected official.

County Clerk:

An attempt is made in my office to have someone other than the data entry person conduct a quality check of the sick days, vacation time, and compensatory time entered into the personnel records. A complete record review is performed when an employee terminates employment. I personally attempt to conduct a full review of the information on a quarterly or semiannual basis. At the time the auditors requested the information, I explained to them that the review had not yet been performed due to my schedule at the end of 1998 with elections, preliminary budget preparation, etc. When omitted entries were brought to my attention, corrections were immediately made.

2. County Clerk's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The County Clerk does not maintain an account book with the County Collector. An account book would summarize all taxes charged to the County Collector, monthly collections, delinquent credits, abatements and additions, and protested amounts. This account book, prepared by the County Clerk from aggregate abstracts, court orders, monthly statements of collections, and the tax books, would enable the County Clerk to ensure that taxes charged and credited to the County Collector each year are complete and accurate.

Additionally, Section 51.150(2), RSMo 1994, requires the County Clerk to maintain accounts with all persons chargeable with monies payable into the county treasury. A properly maintained account book can be used by the County Commission to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

B. Various fixed asset purchases were not recorded in the fixed asset listing. Items not recorded in the records included an elevator (building improvement) for $234,235, land purchase for $4,000, mobile radio with scramble board for $1,555, alarm system for $885, three light bars for patrol cars for $695 each, three hand-held radios for $642 each, and seven police vests for $350 each. Excluding the first two items indicated, the other purchases were made by the Sheriff's office from special revenue funds established for the Sheriff's office. In addition, the County Clerk indicated she performs an annual physical inventory of fixed assets. However, the physical inventory was not documented and there was no explanation of how the items noted above were missed during the inventory.

Adequate general fixed asset records are necessary to meet statutory requirements, secure better internal controls over county property, and provide a basis for determining proper insurance coverage of county property.

Condition B was noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Clerk:

A. Establish and maintain an account book of the County Collector's transactions and the County Commission make use of this account book to verify the County Collector's annual settlements.

B. Maintain the general fixed asset records on a current basis to reflect all additions as they occur, and periodically reconcile additions of assets to expenditures for equipment to ensure additions are properly recorded. In addition, the County Clerk should document the annual physical inventory performed and any adjustments made as a result of the physical inventory.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

County Clerk:

A. Aggregate abstracts are completed which set forth the amounts with which the Collector is charged. Although I receive monthly collection reports from the Collector, I am not provided with information relating to additions, abatements or credits of personal property taxes and have only recently been provided the real estate tax information in a format that could be tracked. Without being provided the necessary information, I am unable to maintain an accurate account book. On past occasions, I have expressed concern to the State Auditor's office and to the County Commission about not being able to provide documentation for verification of the Collector's annual settlements.

I have developed a form for the use of the Assessor to report erroneous real estate assessments in order that I can track the changes in assessed value. I have also requested that similar information be provided for additions, abatements and credits relating to personal property. I hope to begin receiving this information, and upon its receipt, I plan to set up a computer file (account book) to compile the information and provide documentation for verification of the Collector's annual settlement.

B. With no asset inventory in place when I took office in 1995, I attempted to conduct a physical inventory and compile an asset listing for each county office. Most of the officeholders were very cooperative and assisted in providing information regarding the personal property in their offices. I have not yet received complete, accurate information from the office of the Sheriff. There also continues to be a problem tracking assets when property is disposed of or traded between offices.

In response to the records not reflecting the land purchase and the elevator addition, it was not my understanding the asset inventory was to include real estate or improvements thereto. Section RSMo 51.155(2) makes reference to the fact that the County Clerk shall inspect and inventory all office equipment and machines, road machinery, farm supplies, equipment and produce on hand, and all other personal property belonging to the county...

County Commission:

A. The County Commission will discuss this finding with the Assessor, Collector, and Clerk to help ensure the Clerk receives the information needed to maintain an account book. The County Commission will make use of the Clerk's account book to review the Collector's annual settlement.

3. Assessor's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Assessor's office sells maps and computer printouts to the public. However, the Assessor does not maintain adequate records to account for monies received. Our review noted the following concerns:

1. From December 1997 to January 1999, the Assessor's office receipts were at least $894 while only $564 was remitted to the County Treasurer. The difference of $330 is not accounted for and the shortage was not detected by the Assessor's office due to various control weaknesses indicated below. This difference is based on a comparison of Assessor's office receipt slips to the monies remitted to the County Treasurer.

   All payments made to the Assessor's office are accountable fees and should be remitted to the county treasury.

2. Receipt slips are not prenumbered and are not issued for some monies received. The Assessor's office indicated receipt slips are written for all cash receipts but would only be written for checks if requested by the payor. Prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all money received to help ensure all monies are recorded and properly handled.

3. The Assessor's office accepts cash and checks for maps and computer printouts. The method of payment is not indicated on the receipt slips. To ensure receipts are handled properly, the method of payment should be indicated on all receipt slips and the composition (cash and checks) noted on receipt slips should be reconciled to the composition of the monies remitted to the County Treasurer.

4. Monies received are not remitted to the County Treasurer intact. We noted a personal check from an employee that was cashed from the receipts. In addition, when performing a cash count, we noted a $5 IOU from an employee was in the cash receipts. To ensure receipts are accounted for properly, personal checks should not be cashed from receipts and employees should not be allowed to borrow monies with an IOU.

5. Receipts are not remitted to the County Treasurer on a timely basis. We noted the Assessor's office remitted monies to the County Treasurer three times during 1998. In addition, no cash was remitted to the County Treasurer during 1998. To safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, all receipts should be remitted to the County Treasurer intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

6. The Assessor's office was unable to locate receipt slips for January 1997 through November 1997. Per the County Treasurer's records, the Assessor remitted $581 to the County Treasurer for the year ended December 31, 1997. Of this amount, cash remitted to the County Treasurer totaled $135. Retention of records is necessary to ensure the validity of transactions and provide an audit trail to account for all monies received. Section 109.270, RSMo 1994, provides that all records made or received by an official in the course of their public duties are public property and are not to be disposed of except as provided by law.

With the problems indicated above and the lack of records, we could not determine if a cash shortage existed prior to December 1997.

WE RECOMMEND the Assessor:

1. Remit all receipts to the County Treasurer, including the $330 that cannot be accounted for. In addition, the County Commission should review this situation and decide if further investigation is warranted.

B. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

C. Indicate the method of payment on all receipt slips and reconcile the composition of receipt slips to the composition of monies remitted to the County Treasurer.

4. Transmit all receipts intact and discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks and allowing employees to borrow from receipts with an IOU.

E. Remit all monies to the County Treasurer intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

6. Retain all records in accordance with the Secretary of State record retention guidelines.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

County Commission:

The County Commission will review this situation and determine if further investigation is warranted.

County Assessor:

Since this was our first audit, the Assessor will personally handle all deposits and monies. All receipts will be numbered and labeled cash or check. All records will be retained in the future in accordance with guidelines. All receipts will be transmitted intact to the County Treasurer and monies will be remitted once per month, which should be less than $100 per month. As for the discrepancy found and stated in Part A, I believe that is a result of poor records.

4. County Collector's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The County Collector's office processes receipts of approximately $3 million annually. Our review noted the following concerns:

A. Monies received are not deposited intact. Personal checks are cashed for county employees from the daily receipts. To ensure receipts are accounted for properly and deposited intact, personal checks should not be cashed from official tax receipts.

B. Deposits are made daily during November and December of each year. However, during other months, deposits are usually made at least weekly with an average deposit of about $5,600.

   To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. The County Collector accepts cash, checks, and money orders for the payment of property taxes. The tax receipts marked paid by the County Collector do not consistently indicate the method of payment. In addition, the composition of tax receipts is not reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

   To properly reconcile receipts to deposits and ensure all monies are being deposited intact, the method of payment should be indicated on all tax receipts, and the composition of receipts should be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

Conditions B and C were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the County Collector:

A. Deposit all receipts intact and discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks.

B. Deposit intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Indicate the method of payment on all paid tax statements and reconcile the composition of paid tax statements to the composition of deposits.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

County Collector:

My chief concern in the operation of my office, is to ascertain that the total amount collected is the amount that is deposited. Every time we make a deposit, the total amount deposited is reconciled with the total amount collected.

The only personal checks that are cashed are the ones from my office employees. If there should ever be a problem with one of their checks, I will personally make up any discrepancies.

Our tax receipts are marked, indicating method of payment.

I do not know of any requirements or any statute that requires me to make daily deposits.

5. Prosecuting Attorney's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Prosecuting Attorney's office receives monies for bad check restitution and for court-ordered restitution payments. The former Prosecuting Attorney's term ended in December 1998 and the current Prosecuting Attorney took office in January 1999. We reviewed the accounting controls and procedures for both officials and noted the following concerns:

A. The former Prosecuting Attorney's office policy required bad check offenders to remit two money orders, one payable to the merchant for restitution and one payable to Ripley County for the bad check fee. The current Prosecuting Attorney requires the bad check offender to remit one money order for the restitution and fee combined. The money order is deposited into a checking account and checks are written to the merchant for restitution and to the County Treasurer for the bad check fee. Neither the former or current Prosecuting Attorney issued prenumbered receipt slips for monies received. Prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received to help ensure all monies are recorded and properly handled.

B. The former Prosecuting Attorney remitted the money orders for the bad check fee to the County Treasurer usually only once per month. The fees remitted totaled $9,225 and $6,526 during 1998 and 1997, respectively. The current Prosecuting Attorney makes bank deposits about once per week. To safeguard receipts and to reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, monies should be remitted to the County Treasurer and/or deposited in the bank account daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. The former Prosecuting Attorney did not retain all records for bad check restitution. If bad check restitution was received prior to court, all documentation (bad check complaint form, bad check letter, copies of money orders, etc.) was disposed of. The only record retained was a log of bad check activity. The current Prosecuting Attorney needs to retain records necessary to ensure the validity of transactions and provide an audit trail to account for all monies received.

D. We noted instances where the former Prosecuting Attorney did not document the final disposition of bad check restitution cases. The current Prosecuting Attorney needs to implement procedures to ensure the final disposition is documented for each bad check restitution case.

E. The former Prosecuting Attorney did not prepare case fee sheets or maintain a record for each court-ordered restitution case. Instead, the procedure was to put a copy of the money order in the case file. Defendants were allowed to make partial payments; however, records and procedures were not adequate to ensure all payments were received and accounted for. The current Prosecuting Attorney needs to implement procedures and maintain records to ensure that accurate follow-up is performed to collect amounts owed and that all amounts received are properly disbursed to the victim.

Condition B was noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the current Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

B. Deposit all monies received daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Retain all records until completion of the audit.

D. Implement procedures to ensure the final disposition is documented for each bad check restitution case.

E. Maintain case fee sheets or some other adequate record for court-ordered restitution and ensure all receipts and disbursements are received and accounted for.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

Current Prosecuting Attorney:

I was not in office during the period covered by your audit. I have completely revamped the collection procedures in the Prosecutor's office so that items A, B, C, D, and E are no longer relevant for the following reasons:

1. I now use prenumbered receipts for all bad check and restitution collections and I collect one money order for the entire amount due and deposit said funds in a Prosecuting Attorney Collection Account into which and out of which all income and expenses are logged.

2. I personally make regular deposits to the Prosecuting Attorney Collection Account and turn over the net check fee collections to the County Treasurer approximately once each month for deposit in the Bad Check Fund which is the source of all my office expenditures by warrant. I do make deposits to my collection bank account weekly and, if time permits, I will attempt to make deposits when accumulated receipts exceed $100 as recommended.

3. Records of every bad check are maintained permanently and indexed in a computer database that can trace every step of the collection process from initial complaint to final payout of restitution or file closing without collection. All such files are cross referenced in the computer database that handles the Prosecuting Attorney Collection Account deposits and expenditures.

4. I do not take restitution cases unless payment is made to my office in full. Partial payments are not accepted and are returned to the defendant until full payment is available. When full payments are tendered in the form of a money order or cashier's check I deposit them to the Prosecuting Attorney Collection Account and immediately disburse the restitution by check to the recipient of the restitution so that I can permanently close the file without concern for keeping track of case status.

Former Prosecuting Attorney:

A. I agree that prenumbered receipt slips were not used.

B. I instructed my secretaries to make deposits at least once a week. Since I had several secretaries over the two year period working on this, it appears this was not always done.

C. My secretaries were instructed to keep copies of money orders only and I have no explanation why they disposed of them.

D&E. I agree that documentation needed to be better.

6. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The Sheriff's office collects various fees for service, gun permits, and garnishments. However, records have not been adequately maintained to account for monies received. Our review noted the following concerns:

A. From January 1997 to December 1997 during the former Sheriff's administration, the Sheriff's office receipts were at least $483 more than monies deposited into the Sheriff's bank account. These monies are not accounted for and the shortage was not detected by the Sheriff's office due to various weaknesses indicated below. The weaknesses indicated below are also applicable to the new Sheriff.

B. The duties of cash custody and record-keeping have not been adequately segregated. The bookkeeper is responsible for collecting cash, recording, depositing, and disbursing monies received. We noted no documented supervisory reviews performed by the Sheriff.

C. Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis. Generally, deposits were made monthly. In addition, the amount of the deposit was not reconciled to the amount of the receipt slips written. To safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, all receipts should be deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100 and the composition of the deposit should be reconciled to the composition of the receipt slips written.

D. Bank balances are not reconciled with the cash control records on a monthly basis. During our review, we noted a deposit that was recorded twice and bank charges that were not recorded on the cash control. Monthly bank reconciliations are necessary to ensure the cash control records are in balance and to ensure errors are identified and corrected on a timely basis.

E. An open-items (liabilities) listing is not prepared and reconciled to the cash control record on a monthly basis. Only by preparing open-items listings on a monthly basis and reconciling them to the cash can the Sheriff be assured that the records are in balance and that sufficient cash is available to cover liabilities.

F. Adequate control over seized property has not been established. A complete log of seized property is not maintained and periodic inventories of the property on hand are not conducted.

Considering the often sensitive nature of the seized property, adequate internal controls are essential and would significantly reduce the risk of theft or misuse of the stored items. An inventory control record should include information such as description, persons involved, current location, case number, and disposition of such property. Officers should be required to sign the inventory record each time evidence is removed from the room. In addition, periodic physical inventories should be performed and the results compared to the inventory records to ensure that seized property is accounted for properly.

Conditions B, C, and F were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Sheriff:

2. Remit all receipts to the County Treasurer. In addition, the County Commission should obtain $483 from the former Sheriff that cannot be accounted for and review this situation and decide if further investigation is warranted.

3. Implement procedures to segregate cash custody and recording functions and ensure there is supervisory review of the work performed.

4. Deposit all monies received daily or when accumulated receipts exceeds $100. In addition, reconcile the amount of the deposit including the cash/check composition of the deposit to the cash/check composition of the receipt slips.

D. Perform monthly bank reconciliations and reconcile to the cash control balance.

5. Prepare a monthly listing of open items and reconcile it to the cash balance.

6. Maintain a complete inventory record of all seized property. In addition, a periodic inventory should be performed and compared to the inventory listing and any differences investigated.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

County Commission:

The County Commission will review this situation with the former Sheriff and decide if further investigation is warranted. If the former Sheriff does not make repayment in response to the audit report, the County Commission will send him a letter.

Sheriff:

A. All monies are sent to the County Treasurer and receipt logs are given to the County Clerk.

B&C. We have added columns to our receipt log to indicate method of payment (cash or check). Bank deposit slips are attached to the receipt log. The Sheriff reviews the bank deposit and receipt log before signing to document his supervisory review. Deposits will be made each Friday.

D. There will be a zero balance at the end of each month and canceled checks will be reconciled.

E. Since there will be a zero balance at the end of each month, a reconciliation to an open items list should not be necessary.

F. We implemented a computer program to account for seized property. We have completed a complete inventory of the evidence room and the inventory is being reviewed by the Prosecuting Attorney and the courts for future disposition.

7. Senior Citizens' Board

Although the County Treasurer handles the majority of the monies for the Senior Citizens Fund, the Senior Citizens' Board still handles a bank account which is used for making disbursements for miscellaneous items such as insurance and advertising expenses. There appears to be no statutory authority that allows the board to maintain a bank account outside the county treasury. Section 67.993, RSMo 1994, indicates the Senior Citizens Fund should be established within the county treasury. It appears the County Treasurer should be the custodian of all monies for the Senior Citizens Fund.

WE RECOMMEND the Senior Citizens' Board maintain all monies with the County Treasurer.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

Senior Citizen's Board President:

The Senior Citizen's Tax Fund checking account was returned to the Senior Citizen's Fund with the County Treasurer. Check number 124 was written on June 15, 1999, for $831 to close out this account.

This report is intended for the information of the management of Ripley County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on Prior Audit Findings

RIPLEY COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON PRIOR AUDIT FINDINGS

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, this section reports the auditor's follow-up on action taken by Ripley County, Missouri, on findings in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our prior audit report issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the county should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. County Procedures

   A. The County Commission did not retain twenty-percent ($65,200) of the special road and bridge tax levy for the county Special Road and Bridge Fund and did not obtain a contractual agreement with the special road districts indicating how these funds were to be used.

   B. Some invoices did not indicate the receipt of goods or services before payment was made.

   Recommendation:

   A. The County Commission retain 20 percent of special road and bridge tax monies in the Special Road and Bridge Fund or enter into written contractual agreements if these funds are provided to special road districts.

   B. The County Commission ensure all invoices contain an indication of receipt of goods or services before payment is made.

   Status:

   A. Implemented.

   B. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

2. Budgetary Practices

   Expenditures in excess of approved budgeted expenditures were made from Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund, Prosecuting Attorney Bad Check Fund, and CDBG Grant Fund.

   Recommendation:

   The County Commission and the elected officials refrain from incurring expenditures in excess of budgeted amounts. If additional funds are received which could not be estimated when the budget was adopted, the budget should be amended by following the procedures required by state law.

   Status:

Not implemented. However, improvement was made in this area as only the Law Library Fund for the year ended December 31, 1998 and the CDBG Grant Fund for the year ended December 31, 1997 incurred expenditures in excess of approved budgeted expenditures. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

3. General Fixed Asset Records and Procedures

General fixed asset records were not maintained prior to October 1996. We noted seven items totaling $117,806 that were purchased during the audit period prior to October 1996, that were not included on the fixed asset listing. Additions and deletions, since October 1996, were not recorded in the fixed asset records.

Recommendation:

The County Clerk maintain the general fixed asset records on a current basis to reflect all additions and disposition as they occur, and periodically reconcile additions of assets to expenditures for equipment to ensure additions are properly recorded. In addition, the County Clerk should document the annual physical inventory performed and any adjustments made as a result of the physical inventory.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

4. County Collector's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The County Collector did not reconcile the bank account to the accounting records or maintain a book balance.

B. Deposits were made weekly instead of daily during most months.

C. The Collector did not reconcile the composition of cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits. The method of payment was not recorded for each receipt.

D. Court orders for additions and abatements were not approved by the County Commission.

E. The Collector did not collect one-half percent of 1996 current taxes collected, including current delinquent taxes, as compensation for mailing the statements and receipts resulting in approximately $12,000 distributed to various political subdivisions that should have been credited to the General Revenue Fund.

Recommendation:

The Collector:

A. Prepare monthly bank reconciliations and maintain a book balance that can be reconciled to the bank balance.

B. Deposit intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Indicate the method of payment on paid tax statements so that the composition of paid tax statements can be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

D. Submit all additions and abatements to the County Commission for review and approval.

E. Determine the amount due to the General Revenue Fund and adjust future distributions to pay back the General Revenue Fund.

Status:

A. Implemented.

B&C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 4.

D. Partially implemented. Real estate additions and abatements are submitted to the County Commission but personal property additions and abatements are not. The Assessor prepares an assessment sheet for personal additions and abatements. These sheets go to the Collector for collection or abatement of the tax. The Collector keeps track of total additions and abatements and reports them on his annual settlement, which the Commission reviews and approves. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

E. Implemented.

5. Sheriff's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Receipt slips did not indicate the method of payment received.

B. Receipts were not deposited intact on a timely basis and were not issued for some monies received. Postage was purchased from actual cash receipts.

C. Numerous items in the seized property room were not tagged to identify the property to a specific case and other items which were tagged did not always include sufficient information to identify the property to a specific case.

D. The duties of cash custody and record-keeping were not adequately segregated.

Recommendation:

The Sheriff:

A. Indicate the method of payment on all receipt slips and agree the composition of receipts to the composition of deposits.

B. Issue receipt slips immediately upon receipt for all monies, make all disbursements by check, and deposit all monies intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Ensure evidence/seized property room is kept in an orderly manner and tags are attached to property which adequately identifies the property to a specific case.

D. Implement procedures to segregate cash custody and recording functions and ensure there is supervisory review of the work performed.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Receipt slips indicate the method of payment but the composition of receipts is not reconciled to the composition of deposits. See MAR No. 6.

B. Partially implemented. Receipt slips are issued for all monies and disbursements are made by check. However, monies are not deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. See MAR No. 6.

C&D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 6.

6. Prosecuting Attorney's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A.1. Receipts for bad check fees were not remitted to the County Treasurer in a timely manner.

2. Monies collected for restitution were not always disbursed to the merchants in a timely manner.

B. Several bad checks on the bad check log could not be traced to fee reports and some bad checks on the fee reports could not be traced to the bad check log.

Recommendation:

The Prosecuting Attorney:

A. Make transmittals to the County Treasurer intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100 and distribute restitution monies to merchants in a timely manner.

B. Maintain the bad check activity log in a manner that allows bad check activity to be appropriately monitored.

Status:

A. Restitution monies were distributed to merchants in a timely manner; however, transmittals to the County Treasurer were not timely. See MAR No. 5.

B. Implemented.

7. Circuit Clerk Accounting Controls and Procedures

Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis. Deposits were not made intact for the Circuit Clerk Fee Account or the Child Support Account.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk deposit all monies intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. The composition of receipt slips should be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

Status:

Partially implemented. The composition of receipt slips is reconciled to the composition of deposits for the fee account and the child support account. Child support receipts are deposited daily. However, deposits for the fee account are usually made weekly. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

8. Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds Accounting Controls and Procedures

The fee book did not indicate the method of payment received and receipts were not deposited intact.

Recommendation:

The Ex Officio Recorder of Deeds indicate the method of payment for all monies received on the fee book and reconcile the composition of receipts per the fee book to the composition of monies deposited.

Status:

Partially implemented. The method of payment is indicated on the fee book but a reconciliation of the composition of receipts per the fee book to the composition of deposits is not performed. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

9. Associate Court's Accounting Controls and Procedures

Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

Recommendation:

The Associate Court deposit all monies daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

Status:

Implemented.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

RIPLEY COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organized in 1833, the county of Ripley was named after General Eleazar W. Ripley, of the War of 1812. Ripley County is a county-organized, third-class county and is part of the Thirty-Sixth Judicial Circuit. The county seat is Doniphan.

Ripley County's government is composed of a three-member county commission and separate elected officials performing various tasks. The county commission has mainly administrative duties in setting tax levies, appropriating county funds, appointing board members and trustees of special services, accounting for county property, maintaining county roads and bridges, and performing miscellaneous duties not handled by other county officials.

Principal functions of these other officials relate to judicial courts, law enforcement, property assessment, property tax collections, conduct of elections, and maintenance of financial and other records of importance to the county's citizens.

Counties typically spend a large portion of their receipts to support general county operations and to build and maintain roads and bridges. The following chart shows from where Ripley County received its money in 1998 and 1997 to support the county General Revenue and CART (Special Road and Bridge) Funds:

	1998		1997
SOURCE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
Property taxes	$ 196,047	20	170,582	20
Federal and state aid	514,408	52	486,878	57
Fees, interest, and other	277,219	28	194,818	23
Total	$ 987,674	100	852,278	100

The following chart shows how Ripley County spent monies in 1998 and 1997 from the General Revenue and CART (Special Road and Bridge) Funds:

	1998		1997
USE	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL	AMOUNT	% OF TOTAL
General county government	$ 423,107	46	400,801	52
Public safety	11,957	1	16,612	2
Highways and roads	483,969	53	353,890	46
Total	$ 919,033	100	771,303	100

The county received $463,556 and $441,831 for the Law Enforcement Sales Tax Fund for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively, to be used for public safety purposes.

The county maintains approximately 53 county bridges and 392 miles of county roads.

The county's population was 9,803 in 1970 and 13,626 in 1990. The following chart shows the county's change in assessed valuation since 1970:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997	1985*	1980	1970
	(in millions)
Real estate	$ 41.1	40.2	30.9	11.7	7.3

Total	$ 62.4	59.3	37.4	18.9	11.6

* First year of statewide reassessment.

 Prior to 1985, separate assessments were made for merchants' and manufacturers' property. These amounts are included in real estate.

Ripley County's property tax rates per $100 of assessed valuations were as follows:

	Year Ended December 31,
	1998	1997
General Revenue Fund	$ .30	.30
CART (Special Road and Bridge) Fund*	N/A	N/A
Health Center Fund	.15	.15
Senate Bill 40 Board Fund	.10	.10
Senior Citizens Fund	.05	.05

* The county has nineteen special road districts that receive the tax collections from property within each district. All of this levy is retained by the road districts. One-fifth of this levy is not retained in the CART (Special Road and Bridge) Fund. However, the county has contracts with the special road districts indicating the one-fifth of the levy will be paid to the special road districts in exchange for the monies to be used for road maintenance.

AUDIT REPORT

LINN COUNTY, MISSOURI

EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR

PERIOD MARCH 1, 1999 TO MARCH 25, 1999
AND THE YEAR ENDED FEBRUARY 28,1999

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-48
July 30, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

YELLOW SHEET

A vacancy of the Linn County Collector was created when David Long resigned as Treasurer Ex-Officio Collector and was appointed Linn County Assessor on March 25, 1999. Pamela Reed was appointed the Linn County Ex-Officio Collector effective March 25, 1999.

Missouri state law requires the state auditor to conduct an audit of the office of County Collector after being notified of a vacancy in that office. The county is responsible for paying the costs of the audit.

State law requires the auditor to:

- Determine the financial condition of the accounts of the office.

- Determine the proper compensation that should have been paid to the replaced Ex-Officio County Collector in the past three years and the compensation actually paid during that period.

- File a report of the auditor's findings with the county governing body and the person appointed to fill the vacancy in the office.

The Ex-Officio County Collector's compensation was in accordance with statutory provisions receiving $32,742 during the three years ended February 28, 1999, and $2,099 for the period March 1, 1999 to March 25, 1999.

State Auditor’s Reports

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

To the County Commission
and
Ex-Officio County Collector
Linn County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying statement of revenues and expenditures of the Ex-Officio County Collector's Fund of Linn County, Missouri, for the period March 1, 1999 to March 25, 1999 and the year ended February 28, 1999, as identified in the table of contents. This statement is the responsibility of the Ex-Officio County Collector. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on this statement based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the following paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues--as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, requires disclosure of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. The Linn County Ex-Officio Collector has included such disclosures in Note 2. Because of the unprecedented nature of the year 2000 issue, its effects and the success of related remediation efforts will not be fully determinable until the year 2000 and thereafter. Accordingly, insufficient audit evidence exists to support the county's disclosures with respect to the year 2000 issue made in Note 2. Further, we do not provide assurance that the county is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the county's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the county does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding year 2000 disclosures, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph presents fairly, in all material respects, the revenues and expenditures of the Ex-Officio County Collector's Fund of Linn County, Missouri, for the period March 1, 1999 to March 25, 1999 and the year ended February 28, 1999, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated April 23, 1999, on our consideration of the Ex-Officio County Collector's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING
BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED
IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To the County Commission
and
Ex-Officio County Collector
Linn County, Missouri

We have audited the statement of revenues and expenditures of the Ex-Officio County Collector's Fund of Linn County, Missouri, for the period March 1, 1999 to March 25, 1999 and the year ended February 28, 1999, and have issued our report thereon dated April 23, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. Except as discussed in that report, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the statement of revenues and expenditures of the Ex-Officio County Collector's Fund of Linn County, Missouri, is free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the Ex-Officio Collector's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the statement of revenues and expenditures of the Ex-Officio County Collector's Fund of Linn County, Missouri, we considered the Ex-Officio Collector's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the statement of revenues and expenditures and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material in relation to the statement of revenues and expenditures being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the Ex-Officio County Collector and the management of Linn County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

LINN COUNTY, MISSOURI
EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR
NOTES TO THE STATEMENT OF REVENUES AND EXPENDITURES

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The Ex-Officio County Collector's Fund is an agency fund which is custodial in nature and does not involve measurement of results of operations.

The statement of revenues and expenditures for the period March 1, 1999 to March 25, 1999 and the year ended February 28, 1999, reflects amounts as shown on the records of the Ex-Officio County Collector on the modified accrual basis.

The statement included in this report does not include any of the operating costs of the Ex-Officio County Collector's office other than commissions retained. Operating costs are paid from the General Revenue Fund of the county.

2. Year 2000 Compliance

Research has been done on year 2000 issues through the internet and various other resources in order to be better prepared. Documentation has been collected and developed assessing the problem of year 2000 specifically to County Government. Linn County upgraded the computer system used in the Ex-Officio Collector's office in 1998 and have been assured by the upgrading vendor that the system is year 2000 compliant. Testing of the main frame computer system and individual computers has been done and satisfactory results were obtained. Should the computer system in the Treasurer/Collector office fail, operations could continue on a manual basis.

Management Advisory Report

LINN COUNTY, MISSOURI
EX-OFFICIO COUNTY COLLECTOR
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

We have audited the statement of revenues and expenditures of the Ex-Officio County Collector's Fund of Linn County, Missouri, for the period March 1, 1999 to March 25, 1999 and the year ended February 28, 1999, and have issued our report thereon dated April 23, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the statement of revenues and expenditures.

A vacancy in this office was created when David Long resigned as Treasurer Ex-Officio Collector and was appointed County Assessor on March 25, 1999. Pamela Reed was appointed the Linn County Ex-Officio Collector effective March 25, 1999.

Section 52.150, RSMo 1994, requires the state auditor to conduct an audit of the office of County Collector after being notified of a vacancy in that office. The county is responsible for paying the costs of this audit.

Section 52.150, RSMo 1994, specifically outlines the state auditor's responsibilities as follows:

1. Determine the financial condition of the accounts of the office of the Ex-Officio County Collector.

2. Determine the proper compensation that should have been paid to the replaced Ex-Officio County Collector in the past three years and the compensation actually paid during such period; and

3. File a report of her findings with the county governing body and the person appointed to fill the vacancy in the office of Ex-Officio County Collector.

Section 52.150 RSMo 1994, provides the county commission shall accept the report of the state auditor and take, if necessary, certain specific actions if the state auditor finds any monies owing to the county or the past Ex-Officio County Collector.

The Ex-Officio County Collector received $32,742 annually during the three years ended February 28, 1999, and $2,099 for the period March 1, 1999 to March 25, 1999, in accordance with statutory provisions.

This report is intended for the information of the Ex-Officio County Collector and the management of Linn County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

OFFICE OF STATE TREASURER

YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-47
July 28, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

The following problems were discovered during the annual audit conducted of the Missouri State Treasurer's Office.

The State Treasurer's Office maintains numerous bank accounts to handle state monies. Due to the volume of activity, and the number and complexity of reconciling items, many of the main operating accounts are normally reconciled daily. However, one of these accounts, the Electronic Receipt Account, was not being reconciled on a timely basis. During our audit, we noted that the daily bank reconciliations for this account ranged from five to nine months behind. To allow errors and other reconciling items to be identified, researched, and corrected in a timely manner, bank reconciliations should be kept up-to-date.

The State Treasurer's Office did not properly transfer the excess fund balance from the Abandoned Fund Account Fund to the General Revenue Fund as required by state law. The Abandoned Fund Account Fund was established by state law to accept deposits of all abandoned property turned over to the state and to pay claims and expenses related to that abandoned property.

Audits and other reviews of deposits and loans related to several components of the Missouri First Linked Deposit Program were not being performed on a timely basis or in accordance with written procedures. Reviews of the amount of outstanding loans of Agriculture and Small Business program participants for deposits maturing in 1997 had not been performed as of December 1998. The State Treasurer's Office's written procedures for the Job Creation component require that, annually, 10 to 20 percent of maturing program deposits be selected for audit. However, for the last two years, deposits were only selected for audit if the borrower self-reported that they did not create or retain the required number of jobs, or if the number of jobs reported by the borrower exceeded the number of jobs indicated on Division of Employment Security records.

Regarding all findings, the State Treasurer's Office has generally agreed with the recommendations of the State Auditor, and has committed to making improvements in areas where concerns were noted.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Honorable Bob Holden
State Treasurer
Jefferson City, Missouri 65102

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Office of State Treasurer as of and for the year ended June 30, 1998, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the office's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the fourth paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of the Central Check Mailing Service Revolving Fund; the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash and investments of the Abandoned Fund Account Fund and the Treasurer's Information Fund; and the appropriations and expenditures of the various funds of the Office of State Treasurer. These special-purpose financial statements are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the various funds of the office.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, requires disclosures of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. The Office of State Treasurer has included such disclosures in Note 4. Because of the unprecedented nature of the year 2000 issue, its effects and the success of related remediation efforts will not be fully determinable until the year 2000 and thereafter.

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

Accordingly, insufficient audit evidence exists to support the Office of State Treasurer's disclosures with respect to the year 2000 issue made in Note 4. Further, we do not provide assurance that the Office of State Treasurer is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the office's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the Office of State Treasurer does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding year 2000 disclosures, the special-purpose financial statements in Exhibits A through C present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Central Check Mailing Service Revolving Fund as of June 30, 1998 and 1997, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding year 2000 disclosures, the special-purpose financial statements in Exhibits D and E present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash and investments of the Abandoned Fund Account Fund and the Treasurer's Information Fund; and the appropriations and expenditures of the various funds of the Office of State Treasurer as of and for the years ended June 30,1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive bases of accounting discussed in Note 1, which are bases of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated December 31, 1998, on our consideration of the office's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the special-purpose financial statements, taken as a whole, that are referred to in the first paragraph. The accompanying financial information listed as supplementary data in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis. Such information, except for that presented in Schedule 5, has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, except for the effects, if any, of the matter discussed in the fourth paragraph, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole. We did not audit the information presented in Schedule 5 and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the office's management and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

State Treasurer
Jefferson City, MO 65102

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the Office of State Treasurer as of and for the year ended June 30, 1998, and have issued our report thereon dated December 31, 1998. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. Except as discussed in that report, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the Office of State Treasurer are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the office's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no material instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain other instances of noncompliance which are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the Office of State Treasurer, we considered the office's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted a certain matter involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be a reportable condition. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the office's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted a certain matter involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be a material weakness, and this matter is presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Office of State Treasurer and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements
and Supplementary Data

Notes to the Financial Statements:

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present only selected data for each fund of the Office of State Treasurer.

The Central Check Mailing Service Revolving Fund, presented in Exhibits A through C, is a separate accounting entity, recording all assets, liabilities, equities, revenues, and expenses related to the fund's activities.

Expenses presented for the fund or any program may not reflect the total cost of the related activity. Other direct and indirect costs provided by the office and other state agencies are not allocated to the fund or applicable program.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash and investments are presented in Exhibit D for the Abandoned Fund Account Fund and the Treasurer's Information Fund. Appropriations from these funds are expended by or for the office for restricted purposes.

Appropriations, presented in Exhibit E, are not separate accounting entities. They do not record the assets, liabilities, and equities of the related funds but are used only to account for and control the office's expenditures from amounts appropriated by the General Assembly.

Expenditures presented for each appropriation may not reflect the total cost of the related activity. Other direct and indirect costs provided by the office and other state agencies are not allocated to the applicable fund or program.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements for the Central Check Mailing Service Revolving Fund, Exhibits A through C, are prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting which recognizes revenues when earned and expenses when the related liabilities are incurred.

Fixed assets (equipment) of the Central Check Mailing Service Revolving Fund are recorded at cost and depreciated on a straight-line basis with a useful life of ten years and no salvage value.
The Statement of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash and Investments, Exhibit D, prepared on the cash basis of accounting, presents amounts when they are received or disbursed.

The Statement of Appropriations and Expenditures, Exhibit E, is presented on the state's legal budgetary basis of accounting which recognizes expenditures on the encumbrance method. Expenditures include amounts payable or encumbered at June 30 and paid during the lapse period, which ends August 31 for regular appropriations and December 31 for capital improvement appropriations. The authority to expend appropriations ends with the close of the lapse period. However, the General Assembly may authorize reappropriation of the unexpended balances of capital improvement appropriations for the following year. The General Assembly also may authorize biennial capital improvement appropriations, for which the unexpended balances at June 30 of the first year of the two-year period are reappropriated for expenditure during the second year.

The cash basis of accounting and the budgetary basis of accounting differ from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The office administers transactions in the funds listed below. The state treasurer as fund custodian and the Office of Administration provide administrative control over fund resources within the authority prescribed by the General Assembly.

Central Check Mailing Service Revolving Fund: The office receives appropriations from this fund and maintains a proprietary interest in the fund. The State Treasurer is administrator and custodian of the fund and receives funds paid or transferred to the office by state agencies for centralized check mailing services. The initial funding for this fund was provided by a transfer of $50,000 from the General Revenue Fund - State on October 23, 1978. Appropriations from the fund are used for check mailing service expenses.

Abandoned Fund Account Fund: This fund receives monies from banking or financial institutions, business associations, insurance corporations, utilities, courts and other governmental entities, and proceeds from the sale of abandoned property representing abandoned or unclaimed funds.

This fund is established and governed by Section 447.543.2, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998. Under Sections 447.500 through 447.595, RSMo, various financial, business, and governmental entities, unless otherwise exempted, are to remit to the State Treasurer all funds which have been presumed abandoned or unclaimed for the required dormancy period, less any reasonable costs of complying with the law incurred during the required notification or report process. The State Treasurer is to deposit these funds in the Abandoned Fund Account Fund. Claims may be filed at any time and are paid upon proof of an approved claim. At any time when the balance of the fund exceeds $50,000, the State Treasurer may, and at least once every fiscal year shall, transfer to the state's General Revenue Fund the balance of the Abandoned Fund Account Fund in excess of $50,000. If any claim or refund reduces the balance of the fund to less than $25,000, the State Treasurer shall transfer from the state's General Revenue Fund an amount which is sufficient to restore the balance to $50,000. Appropriations from this fund authorize disbursements for the payment of claims of abandoned funds.

Section 447.543.2, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, effective August 28, 1998, authorizes changes to the State Treasurer's procedures regarding unclaimed property. This legislation requires the State Treasurer, at least once every fiscal year, to transfer to the state's General Revenue Fund the balance of the Abandoned Fund Account Fund in excess of one-twelfth of the disbursements from the previous year.

Treasurer's Information Fund: The office receives appropriations from this fund and maintains a proprietary interest in the fund. This fund, established by Section 30.610, RSMo 1994, may receive monies from governmental entities or the general public for the preparation, reproduction, or dissemination of information or publications of the State Treasurer. Appropriations from this fund shall be used to pay for personal service, equipment and other expenses of the office necessary for the preparation, reproduction or dissemination of information or publications of the State Treasurer.

General Revenue Fund-State: The office receives appropriations from this fund and does not maintain a proprietary interest in the fund. Appropriations from the fund are used for the basic operation of the office, including those programs and services that have no other funding source. These appropriations also may be used to initially fund, or to provide matching funds or support for, programs paid wholly or partially from other sources.

Highway Department Fund: The office receives appropriations from this fund and does not maintain a propriety interest in the fund. Appropriations from the fund are used for that portion of the basic operation of the office which relates to the administration of highway department funds.

Worker's Compensation - Second Injury Fund: The office receives appropriations from this fund and does not maintain a proprietary interest in the fund. Appropriations from the fund are used for that portion of basic operations which relate to the administration of Second Injury Fund claims.

D. Employee Fringe Benefits

In addition to the social security system, employees are covered by the Missouri State Employees' Retirement System (MOSERS) (a noncontributory plan) and may participate in the state's health care, optional life insurance, deferred compensation, and cafeteria plans. The optional life insurance and cafeteria plans involve only employee contributions or payroll reductions. Also, the deferred compensation plan involves employee payroll deferrals and a monthly state matching contribution for each participating employee.

The state's required contributions for employee fringe benefits are paid from the same funds as the related payrolls. Those contributions are for MOSERS (retirement, basic life insurance, and long-term disability benefits); social security and medicare taxes; health care premiums; and the deferred compensation plan match.

Transfers related to salaries are not appropriated by agency and thus are not presented in the financial statements at Exhibit E.

2. Cash and Investments

The balances of the Central Check Mailing Service Revolving Fund, Abandoned Fund Account Fund, and Treasurer's Information Fund are pooled with other state funds and invested by the state treasurer.

3. Reconciliation of Total Disbursements to Appropriated Expenditures

Disbursements on Exhibit D reconcile to appropriated expenditures on Exhibit E as follows:

	Year Ended June 30,
	1998		1997
	Abandoned Fund Account	Treasurer's Information Fund	Abandoned Fund Account	Treasurer's Information Fund
DISBURSEMENTS PER EXHIBIT D	$ 4,400,527	1,175	3,168,503	1,716

EXPENDITURES PER EXHIBIT E	$ 4,553,783	1,304	3,353,549	2,581

4. Year 2000 (Y2K) Plan of Action

The State Treasurer's Office (STO) is custodian of all state funds. The duties of the STO include investing $3.2 billion in state funds not needed for daily operations; overseeing the state's banking services; administering the $350 million Missouri First Linked-Deposit Program; and managing the state's $125 million in unclaimed property.

Currently, the STO's Y2K effort includes securing vendor validation and testing software applications, as well as completing the migration of seven applications from a Burroughs system to an NT server environment.

The Y2K project was started more than two years ago with an initial assessment being completed by in-house staff and then with an assessment by a consultant with Andersen Consulting, Inc. During these assessments, the mission-critical applications were identified and prioritized.

Six applications located on the Burroughs system - Appropriations Accounting, Fund Accounting, Fixed Assets, Trust Accounting, Interest Distributions and Internal Budget Controls - are being replaced by an off-the-shelf package called FundWare. The bid has been awarded for consulting services addressing the Burroughs system and the implementation is scheduled for the June or July 1999 timeframe.

The linked deposit system, also located on the Burroughs system, is currently being analyzed in order to move it to an NT platform. A bid was awarded in April 1999 for consulting services to address the linked deposit system issues and the implementation is scheduled for late summer or early fall of 1999.

Three other mission-critical applications are Sympro, used for Investments; the Wagers System, account managing software for the Division of Unclaimed Property; and banking services software. Sympro is already Y2K compliant, and the Wagers system was upgraded and validated in October of 1998 to be Y2K compliant. Part of the bank bid evaluation process required the bidding bank to provide documentation for their Y2K compliance strategy. All other software is being researched at this time to determine if it will be patched, upgraded, or replaced to make it compliant.

The STO's microcomputer desktops are a mixture of Dell and Proteva machines. The vendor information for Dell indicates all of these are Y2K compliant. However, additional testing is being done to ensure this information is correct. The few Proteva desktops will be evaluated and the vendor contacted to determine if they are Y2K compliant or need to be replaced.

Notes to the Supplementary Data:

5. General Fixed Assets

General fixed assets, which are recorded as expenditures when acquired, are capitalized at cost in the General Fixed Assets Account Group and are not depreciated.

6. Basis of Presentation

The amounts presented in Schedules 4 through 8 represent all funds in the state treasury and all trust funds in the custody of the State Treasurer.

State treasury funds are subjected to appropriation; trust funds are not. The schedules do not include any funds or investments that are not in the custody of the State Treasurer.

7. Cash and Investments

Article IV, Section 15 of the Missouri Constitution establishes the State Treasurer as custodian of all state funds and funds received from the U. S. government. This section further authorizes the State Treasurer to place all such monies on time deposit, bearing interest, in Missouri banking institutions selected by the State Treasurer and approved by the Governor and the State Auditor, or in obligations of the U. S. government or any agency or instrumentality thereof maturing or becoming payable not more than three years from the date of purchase. In addition, the State Treasurer may enter into repurchase agreements maturing and becoming payable within ninety days secured by U. S. Treasury obligations or obligations of U. S. government agencies or instrumentalities of any maturity, as provided by law.

Article IV, Section 15 of the Missouri Constitution was amended on November 3, 1998. The amendment became effective December 3, 1998 and changed the number of years for which the State Treasurer's Office is allowed to invest monies maturing and becoming payable, extending the limit from three years to five years from the date of purchase. The treasurer may also now invest in banker's acceptances issued by domestic commercial banks possessing the highest rating issued by a nationally recognized rating agency and in commercial paper issued by domestic corporations which has received the highest rating issued by a nationally recognized rating agency. Investments in banker's acceptances and commercial paper shall mature and become payable not more than one hundred eighty days from the date of purchase, maintain the highest rating throughout the duration of the investment and meet any other requirements provided by law. The State Treasurer shall also prepare, maintain and adhere to a written investment policy which shall include an asset allocation plan limiting the total amount of state money which may be invested in each investment category authorized by this section.

Deposits

The State Treasurer maintains approximately 1,400 bank accounts throughout the state. These accounts include time deposits, collection accounts which are demand deposit accounts for various state agencies, and the state's primary operating accounts which are also demand deposit accounts. Cash balances in the state's operating accounts which are not needed for immediate use are invested.

The State Treasurer's deposits at June 30, 1998 were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by custodial banks in the State Treasurer's name.

To protect the safety of state deposits, Sections 30.270 and 110.020, RSMo 1994, require depositaries to pledge collateral securities to secure deposits not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Investments

The State Treasurer's investments are listed by type below to give an indication of the level of risk assumed by the state at year-end. All investments are insured or registered, or have collateral held by the State Treasurer or a custodial bank in the state's name.

	June 30, 1998
	Reported Amount	Fair Value
Repurchase agreements	$ 402,871,000	402,871,000
U.S. government securities	3,048,280,491	3,061,140,430
Other investments	10,130	61,705
Total Investments	$ 3,451,161,621	3,464,073,135

Investments are recorded at acquisition cost except other investments which are recorded at par. Investments in repurchase agreements are acquired at face value and earn a stated interest rate. Investments in U. S. government securities are acquired at market value and mature at face value.

8. Demand Deposit and Collection Accounts

The demand deposits with Mercantile Bank on Schedule 4 consist of one central demand account in 1998. The demand deposits with Central Bank consist of seven central demand accounts in 1998, 1997 and 1996, and five in 1995. The demand deposits with United Missouri Bank, Central Bank, and Boatmen's National Bank in 1994 consist of four central demand accounts. The Lottery Concentration Account was at Central Bank in 1998, 1997, 1996, 1995, and 1994. The Conservation Concentration Account was at Central Bank in 1998, 1997, and 1996.

The book balances as presented include deposits and transfers in transit of $0, $0, $0, $5,075,083, and $3,201,055 at June 30, 1998, 1997, 1996, 1995, and 1994 for Central Bank. Bank balances were $28,187,539 at June 30, 1998 for Mercantile Bank; $22,567,839, $58,791,756, $34,932,976, $20,414,570, and $37,484,632 at June 30, 1998, 1997, 1996, 1995, and 1994 for Central Bank; $0, $0, $0, $0, and $100,000 at June 30, 1998, 1997, 1996, 1995, and 1994 for United Missouri Bank; and $0, $0, $0, $0, and $300,000 at June 30, 1998, 1997, 1996, 1995, and 1994 for Boatmen's National Bank.

Banking service agreements on the central demand accounts allow the State Treasurer to invest outstanding checks up until the checks clear the bank, thereby investing an amount in excess of book balances. The negative balances at June 30 (Schedule 4) for the appropriated funds demand deposits represent the book balance net of amounts invested.

9. Other Investments

The amounts presented in the appropriated funds as other investments represent investments in corporate common stocks, corporate bonds, mineral rights, and U.S. Government securities for the Confederate Memorial Trust Fund, Doctor Edmund A. Babler Memorial State Park Trust Fund, and Pansey Johnson-Travis Memorial State Gardens Trust Fund, that were transferred to the State Treasurer from previous trustees of the funds.

10. Investments of Other Agencies

Schedules 7 and 8 do not include those funds which are invested directly by other agencies; e.g., the Agricultural Development Fund, the State Public School Fund, the Department of Revenue non-state (local) funds, and the State Seminary Fund. The State Treasurer does not have investment authority for these funds and is not responsible for the efficiency of the investment of these funds or for the collection and distribution of the interest income.

11. Amount and Yield on Investment Earnings

The amount and yield on investments earnings on Schedule 8 are presented on a cash basis. However, approximate accrued amounts were $44,990,000, $39,100,000, $29,200,000, $19,900,000, and $11,700,000 at June 30, 1998, 1997, 1996, 1995, and 1994, respectively, giving approximate yield rates of 5.51 percent, 5.37 percent, 5.39 percent, 5.19 percent, and 3.44 percent for the same corresponding periods on an accrual basis.

OFFICE OF STATE TREASURER
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Bank Reconciliations (pages 45-46)

   The reconciliation of the Electronic Receipt / Payment Account was not performed in a timely manner.

2. Abandoned Fund Account Fund Transfers (pages 47-48)

   The transfer of excess balances from the Abandoned Fund Account Fund to the state's General Revenue Fund was not performed as required by state law.

3. Missouri First Linked Deposit Program Audits (pages 48-50)

   Audits and other reviews of deposits and loans related to several components of the Missouri First Linked Deposit Program were not being performed on a timely basis or in accordance with written procedures.

OFFICE OF STATE TREASURER
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the Office of State Treasurer as of and for the year ended June 30, 1998, and have issued our report thereon dated December 31, 1998.

The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our audit of the office's special-purpose financial statements. During our audit, we also identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our audit was not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. Bank Reconciliations

The State Treasurer's Office (STO) maintains numerous bank accounts to handle state monies. Due to the volume of activity, and the number and complexity of reconciling items, many of the main operating accounts are normally reconciled daily. However, one of these accounts, the Electronic Receipt/Payment Account, was not being reconciled on a timely basis.

The Electronic Receipt/Payment Account is used to process many of the state's electronic transactions, such as wire transfer receipts of federal monies, credit card receipts, direct deposits of payroll checks, and electronic vendor payments. During our audit, we noted that the daily bank reconciliations for this account ranged from five to nine months behind. For example, as of September 10, 1998 the account had only been reconciled up through December 22, 1997 and reconciliations of the daily activity up through June 30, 1998 were not completed until approximately December 2, 1998. To allow errors and other reconciling items to be identified, researched, and corrected in a timely manner, bank reconciliations should be kept up-to-date.

WE RECOMMEND the STO ensure reconciliations of all bank accounts are done on a timely basis.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The STO is committed to ensuring the timely performance of all bank reconciliations. With the exception of the state's Electronic Receipt/Payment Account (''electronic account''), for the reasons noted herein, the STO has routinely and successfully reconciled all state accounts on a timely basis. Prior to the audit recommendations, the STO recognized that additional measures were necessary to ensure the timely reconciliation of the state's electronic account. Transactions in the electronic account alone increased approximately 22 percent from Fiscal Year 1996 to Fiscal Year 1998. In addition, the increasing complexities of the transactions have resulted in a significantly greater number of reconciling items that require research.

The STO, prior to the audit recommendations, conducted numerous meetings with bank personnel and personnel from private industry to identify potential long-term solutions for maintaining timely reconciliation of the electronic account.

The STO subsequently obtained an appropriation, and is currently in the process of drafting a Request For Proposal to purchase an account reconciliation software system that will electronically aid the STO with the bank reconciliation process.

In addition, STO personnel have requested that the new statewide accounting system (SAM II) be designed to utilize bank account codes which will allow detailed transactions from the accounting system to be automatically reconciled by the STO's reconciliation system to activity electronically reported by the bank. By automating the routine matching process, the STO will have more time and resources to dedicate to researching and resolving the exception and older outstanding items, which are essential functions to ensure timely reconciliation of all state accounts.

The audit recommendations specifically address the issue of timely reconciliation of the electronic account. The STO is not aware of reconciliation issues involving any other state accounts, and has thus focused its response to the audit recommendations on timely reconciliation of the electronic account.

In addition to the long-term measures outlined in the section above, the STO has already implemented the following short-term measures to ensure compliance with the audit recommendations:

1. The Trust Accounts Coordinator assigned to reconcile the electronic account has increased her total work hours per week, and will spend up to 16 additional hours per week dedicated to bringing reconciliation of the electronic account up-to-date.

2. The Banking Account Coordinator will assist the Trust Account Coordinator in bringing the reconciliation of the electronic account up-to-date, and will continue to research exception and outstanding items.

3. In addition, the Accounting and Banking Services Administrator and the Director of Banking and Administrative Services will allocate time to assist with the reconciliation of the electronic account.

It is anticipated that reconciliation of the electronic account will be current as of August 16, 1999, and that the short-term and long-term measures outlined above will ensure full compliance with the audit recommendations.

2.	Abandoned Fund Account Fund Transfers

The STO did not properly transfer the excess fund balance from the Abandoned Fund Account Fund to the General Revenue Fund as required by state law. The Abandoned Fund Account Fund was established by Section 447.543, RSMo, to accept deposits of all abandoned property turned over to the state and to pay claims and expenses related to that abandoned property.

Section 447.543.2, RSMo 1994, states that the "Treasurer may, and at least once every fiscal year shall" transfer to the General Revenue Fund the balance of the fund in excess of $50,000. To comply with this requirement, and to avoid multiple transfers back into the fund to cover claims and expenditures, the STO monitors the cash balance at the beginning of each month and transfers out the balance of funds, if any, in excess of $500,000 and once each fiscal year reduces the balance to $50,000. Apparently due to oversight however, the last time the balance was actually reduced to $50,000 was in May 1997. As of June 30, 1998, the balance in the fund totaled approximately $675,000.

Effective in August 1998, revisions to Section 447.543.2 changed the balance to which the fund must be reduced from $50,000 to one-twelfth of the previous fiscal year's total disbursements from the fund. Based on the total fund disbursements for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1998, the new balance to which the fund must be reduced at least once each fiscal year is approximately $345,000. As of December 1998, the STO had still only reduced the monthly balances to $500,000.

WE RECOMMEND the STO continue to monitor the cash balance of the Abandoned Fund Account Fund and ensure that the necessary transfer is made at least once each fiscal year to reduce the balance to the level required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The STO has, for several years, recognized the discrepancy between the requirements of Section 447.543.2, RSMo 1994, which prior to the effective date of HB1510 (August 28, 1998), required an annual transfer to the General Revenue Fund of all balances held in the Abandoned Fund Account in excess of $50,000. The annual amount of funds disbursed from the Abandoned Fund Account has increased from $24,000 in Fiscal Year 1985 to over $5,100,000 in Fiscal Year 1999. Prior to HB1510, the rapid growth of unclaimed property disbursements gave rise to cash flow issues when the STO attempted to comply with the annual sweep of balances in excess of $50,000. The statutory minimum was simply too low to allow the STO to provide adequate funds for the return of property to the rightful owners. Recognizing that the $50,000 limit was insufficient, the Missouri Legislature, in 1998, passed HB1510, which amended Section 447.543.2 to allow the Abandoned Fund Account to retain, as a minimum balance, 1/12th of the previous year's disbursements. Rather than setting the statutory minimum as a fixed dollar amount, the new minimum account balance calculation allows the minimum balance held in the fund to grow as the STO continues to reunite an increasing number of owners with their unclaimed property.

The STO is fully committed to complying with current state law regarding the annual transfer of the cash balance in excess of 1/12th of the previous year's disbursements from the Abandoned Fund Account. The STO has implemented a monthly procedure for transferring the fund balance down to the statutory limit. The balance transfer is made unless there are other needs for the Abandoned Fund Account balances, such as Article X transfers or the expectation of substantial claim payments.

The audit recommendations state that due to ''oversight,'' the last time the Abandoned Fund Account balance was reduced to $50,000 (the pre-HB1510 limit) was in May 1997. The STO suggests that oversight was not, in fact, to blame. Rather, circumstances surrounding the transfer of funds for Article X reimbursements and the difficulties in maintaining adequate balances to reimburse unclaimed property claims, under pre-HB1510 statutory requirements were causal factors.

The STO was contacted by the Office of Administration in February 1998 indicating that an Article X transfer would be made on April 8, 1999. Two transfers in the amount of $379,601 and $593,166 were made from the Abandoned Fund Account on June 17 and June 30, 1998, respectively. A transfer was made from the General Revenue Fund to the Abandoned Fund Account in the amount of $972,767 on June 29, 1998. The timing and size of these transactions impaired the STO's ability to bring the Abandoned Fund Account down to $50,000. If the offsetting transfer of $972,767 was not made on June 29, 1998, the Abandoned Fund Account could have gone into the negative.

While the timing of Article X transfers is still not precise, and the maintenance of adequate balances to ensure the payment of claims out of the Abandoned Fund Account remains a priority, the STO will follow the audit recommendations by continuing to closely monitor the cash balance of the Abandoned Fund Account and by annually implementing the balance transfer requirements as they presently exist under current state law.

3. Missouri First Linked Deposit Program Audits

Under the Missouri First Linked Deposit Program, below-market rate deposits of state funds are placed in Missouri financial institutions, allowing eligible borrowers to obtain low-interest loans from the institutions. Linked deposits are generally placed for one year, but for certain program components, deposits may be renewed if funds are available. The intent of the program is to make funds available at reduced-interest rates to lenders who agree to make reduced-rate loans to borrowers through the Missouri First Linked Deposit Program. The linked deposit program is made up of six components: Agriculture, Small Business, Job Creation, Multi-Family Housing Development, Student Loans, and Drought Relief. Financial institutions are required to pay the market rate interest to the state on any portion of the deposit that is not loaned out during the period of deposit or in accordance with program restrictions.

In an effort to ensure that linked deposit loans are being made only to eligible borrowers and are being used for their intended purpose, the State Treasurer's Office (STO) has designed an audit process for each of the linked deposit programs. Our review of the audits performed noted the following concerns:

A. Reviews of limits on the amount of outstanding loans per borrower related to the Agriculture (AG) and Small Business (SB) linked deposit programs have not been conducted on a timely basis. The STO had approximately $187 million in AG and SB deposits with numerous banks at both June 30, 1998 and December 31, 1998.

   Reviews of the loan activity via social security numbers (SSN) of AG and SB program participants are supposed to be performed to identify, for audit, any borrowers who exceeded the statutory limit on the amount of AG and SB loans that they may have outstanding at any one time. However, due to turnover and vacancies in the linked deposit program's compliance auditor position, as of December 1998, SSN reviews had not been performed for any deposits maturing in 1997.

B. Audits of the Job Creation linked deposit program have not been conducted in accordance with the STO's written procedures. The STO had approximately $34 million and $28 million in Job Creation deposits with numerous banks at June 30,1998 and December 31, 1998, respectively.

   The STO's written compliance examination procedures for the Job Creation program require that, annually, approximately 10 to 20 percent of Job Creation deposits maturing be selected based on various criteria and audited. However, due to the staff turnover and vacancies noted above, these procedures have not been followed for over two years. Rather, the STO has placed heavy reliance on self-reporting by the borrowers. Deposits were only selected for audit if the borrower self-reported that they did not create or retain the required number of jobs by the end of the deposit period or if the number of total jobs reported by the borrower exceeded the number of jobs for that borrower per information obtained from the Division of Employment Security.

WE RECOMMEND the STO ensure that audits and other reviews of the Missouri First Linked Deposit Program are performed on a timely basis. In addition, the audits should conform to the STO's written guidelines.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The STO is committed to ensuring that the audits and other reviews of the MISSOURI FIRSTLinked Deposit Program (Linked Deposit) are performed on a timely basis. Currently, all Linked Deposit audits conform to the STO written guidelines. Any changes in Linked Deposit audit policy are approved and adopted by the Linked Deposit committee and incorporated into the current policy manual prior to implementation.

A. SSN reviews are performed in the spring of each year after all data summary information through December 31 has been entered into the system. Due to the implementation of the automated billing system in the spring of 1998, SSN reviews were postponed until the fall. The auditor resigned prior to performing these audits. As of June 1, 1999, SSN reviews for the years ending December 31, 1997 and 1998 were complete.

B. Formal audit procedures require that six and twelve month letters be sent to the borrower/company requesting information on their job creation/retention. Formal procedures also require that verification of the twelve-month employment information be performed with the Division of Employment Security, and that 10-20% of maturing deposits are then audited. During Fiscal Year 1997, sixty-two Job Creation deposits matured. Of those, fifteen borrowers paid additional interest due to insufficient job creation, three borrowers were visited, and five recipients supplied additional information that replaced onsite visits.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Office of State Treasurer and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

OFFICE OF STATE TREASURER
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the Office of State Treasurer on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the year ended June 30, 1997.

Missouri First Linked Deposit Program

A.1. The State Treasurer's Office (STO) had not established formal procedures outlining specific steps to be followed in the collection of delinquent accounts receivable.

2. Explanations of why some billings were written off were not adequately documented. In addition, authorization from someone independent of the billing function was not documented.

3. The STO did not issue prenumbered billing forms.

4. The STO had not established an accounts receivable control account.

B. The STO did not adequately ensure the eligibility of applicants for the agriculture and small business programs. During the application process, the STO allowed the individual applying for the loan to certify to the financial institution that eligibility requirements had been met, and the financial institution in turn certified to the STO that the applicant met the criteria. The STO's audit process for agriculture and small business deposits did not include verifying these certifications.

Recommendation:

The STO:

A.1. Implement formal procedures for the collection of delinquent accounts. In addition, documentation should be maintained of all collection efforts.

2. Require adequate supporting documentation indicating how billings for additional interest are resolved. In addition, billings that are considered resolved should be approved by someone independent of the record keeping process.

3. Issue prenumbered billing forms for additional interest being billed to the banks.

4. Establish and maintain an accounts receivable control account, and periodically reconcile the control account to the detailed listings of amounts due from the various banks.

B. Review the audit procedures currently being performed for the agricultural and small business programs, and consider establishing procedures to evaluate the eligibility certifications made by the financial institution and the loan applicant. In addition, the STO should ensure that the procedures performed to evaluate the eligibility of the applicant are well documented.

Status:

A.1. Implemented. A formal collection and billing procedures manual is now in use and all collection efforts are documented in the accounts receivable system and in the audit files.

2. Implemented. The compliance auditor is required to document how billings for additional interest were resolved. In addition, the Director of Investments is required to authorize any billing resolution other than full payment.

3&4. Implemented.

B. Implemented. The compliance auditor is now required to verify the eligibility requirements on 5% of the agriculture and small business deposits being audited. Loan applications now must also be filed with the STO prior to loan approval and each applicant's "years in program" eligibility (loan applicants are restricted to five years in the program) is validated prior to loan approval or loan renewal. In addition, the Division of Finance has begun reviewing the eligibility requirements of Missouri First deposits in conjunction with its field audits of banks throughout the state. However, our audit noted concerns with the STO's timeliness in performing the audits of agriculture and small business deposits. See MAR No. 3.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

OFFICE OF STATE TREASURER
HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

The Office of State Treasurer is an elective office as provided in the Missouri Constitution. The duties of the State Treasurer as defined by Article IV Section 15 are to be the custodian of all state funds; to determine the amount of state monies not needed for current operating expenses; and to invest such monies in interest bearing time deposits, in Missouri banking institutions selected by the State Treasurer and approved by the Governor and State Auditor or in short-term U. S. government securities.

The Office of State Treasurer operates in four major functional areas: 1) accounting and banking services; 2) disbursements and records; 3) investments and deposit programs; and 4) unclaimed property.

The accounting and banking services area: 1) maintains a fund accounting system for the purpose of allocating investment interest to funds; 2) maintains ledger controls on fund balances and appropriations to assure that no check is issued that exceeds the lawful appropriated balances; 3) controls receipt of state monies collected by fee agents and state agencies and deposited in local banks throughout the state; 4) reconciles bank activity to receipt and disbursement activity reflected on the state books; and 5) determines the amount of state monies not needed for current operating expenses.

The disbursements and records area provides processing support to other departments of the State Treasurer's office, as follows: 1) confirms daily disbursements with the bank as certified by the Office of Administration; 2) provides storage and retrieval of state checks; and 3) controls and processes outlawed checks and processes and verifies claims for replacement checks.

The investments area places state monies not needed for current operating expenses in interest-bearing time deposits, U.S. government and agency securities, and repurchase agreements. This area also administers the State Treasurer's statutory linked deposit program and monitors and accounts for the collateralization of state funds.

The Unclaimed Property Section administers Missouri's Unclaimed Property Act (Chapter 447 RSMo). The Unclaimed Property Section is responsible for: 1) ensuring unclaimed property is reported; 2) receiving and recording reports of unclaimed property; 3) depositing unclaimed funds to the Abandoned Fund Account Fund; 4) maintaining custody and safekeeping of abandoned or unclaimed physical property; and 5) processing owner claims for abandoned funds or physical property.

On January 13, 1997, Bob Holden was inaugurated for his second term as the forty-second Treasurer of the state of Missouri. Bob Holden's term will expire in January 2001.

As of June 30, 1998, the office had forty-four full-time and four part-time employees. An organization chart follows.

FACT SHEET

The following areas of concern were discovered as a result of a review conducted by our office of the Highway Reciprocity Commission.

Under the International Fuel Tax Agreement (IFTA), the Highway Reciprocity Commission (HRC) is responsible for collecting and distributing motor fuel taxes from Missouri based licensees. Under the agreement, each Missouri based over the road carrier is required to hold an IFTA license, file quarterly fuel tax returns, and remit the applicable taxes.

The IFTA agreement states that if the commission exercises its right to require that a bond be posted, the bond should be at least twice the estimated average tax liability. Of the 23 carriers we reviewed which were required to post a bond, eight failed to post a sufficient bond.

As a result of an internal audit, the HRC has established a procedure of completing and filing a reinstatement checklist when reinstating revoked carriers. Although the HRC has established this procedure, we noted that a reinstatement checklist was either not completed at all, or was incomplete for some carriers we reviewed.

Our review of the "IFTA Carriers With A Bond" report revealed that the HRC is holding 27 cash bonds, totaling $13,500, for accounts that have been closed. Bonds are not automatically refunded when an account is closed. In addition, the HRC is holding bond monies for 36 non-renewed accounts totaling $18,000.

The HRC mails other jurisdictions a monthly letter notifying the respective jurisdiction of the net amount of fuel taxes due to or from the Sate of Missouri related to IFTA transactions. Reimbursements received remain in the commission's holding account until the reimbursement documentation has been processed. As of December 1999, reimbursements of approximately $1 million, dating as far back as March 1998, remained in the holding account.

If the additional registration fees for temporary permits are not received within 20 days of billing, the HRC places the carrier on the Missouri Highway Patrol Bulletin until the fees are paid or for a period of three years. If unpaid for three years these accounts are considered uncollectible, and are written off. The employee responsible for determining which accounts are to be written off is the same employee that bills the carriers and receipts monies.

Concerns were also noted with the edit function of the HRC's computerized receipt system and with the inability of the system to generate a change report.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

Presiding Circuit Judge, First Judicial Circuit
and
Circuit Clerk of Clark County, Missouri

We have conducted a special review of the books, records, and accounts of the Office of Circuit Clerk of Clark County, Missouri. The scope of the special review included, but was not limited to, the period September 1, 1997, through February 17, 1999. The objectives of this review were to:

1. Investigate suspected irregularities in the Fee Account.

2. Determine the amount of court funds misappropriated.

3. Review and evaluate certain controls and procedures regarding the collection of and accounting for various court receipts.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed the financial records and procedures of the Office of Circuit Clerk, interviewed personnel of the office, and examined other records and documents as we considered necessary for the review.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

SPECIAL REVIEW OF
OFFICE OF CIRCUIT CLERK
CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Weaknesses in the internal control system and record keeping system of the Circuit Clerk's office allowed a shortage of at least $2,010 of court receipts to occur during the period September 1, 1997, through February 17, 1999.

This misappropriation could have been prevented or detected on a more timely basis if adequate oversight and reviews had been performed and if internal controls as noted in the prior audit findings and the accompanying Management Advisory Report had been established.

Gary Dial serves as Circuit Judge of the First Judicial Circuit. Clark County Circuit Clerk Mary D. Jones receives, records, deposits and disburses monies and reconciles the bank account. Information regarding these shortages has been turned over to the Clark County Sheriff's department and the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

SPECIAL REVIEW OF
OFFICE OF CIRCUIT CLERK
CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

The Clark County Circuit Clerk oversees the transactions and cases of the Circuit Court and Recorder's office.

During our audit of Clark County we noted discrepancies between amounts received and amounts recorded and deposited into the Clark County Circuit Court Fee Account. This special review was performed to more fully review the circumstances of these discrepancies and to more fully determine the extent of misappropriated court funds.

Following are our comments regarding the misappropriated funds and the accounting controls and procedures over receipts handled by the Circuit Clerk's office.

1. Missing Funds

Nineteen receipts totaling $2,010 were not deposited to the Circuit Clerk's fee account between September 1, 1997 and February 17, 1999. The Circuit Clerk identified $950 of this shortage and brought it to our attention on December 17, 1998, approximately one month after we began our fieldwork. The Circuit Clerk repaid $550 of the monies on December 16, 1998, and indicated she was following up on the remaining $400.

The discrepancies noted above were not detected due to internal control weaknesses, including a lack of segregation of duties and independent reviews. (See Management Advisory Report [MAR] No. 2). Similar shortages, and most of these weaknesses were also noted in our prior report. Had our recommendations been implemented, these shortages could have been prevented or detected.

Information regarding these shortages was turned over to the Clark County Sheriff's department and the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk work with law enforcement officials regarding any criminal prosecution and obtain reimbursement of the remaining $1,460.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Circuit Clerk indicated she has repaid an additional $490 and will repay the remaining $970. She stated she will cooperate with law enforcement officials.

2. Accounting Controls And Procedures

The Circuit Clerk collected court costs, filing fees, and judgments of approximately $94,000 in 1998. The following weaknesses were identified in the Circuit Clerk's accounting controls and procedures for the fee account:

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing monies and reconciling the bank account are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Circuit Clerk performs all these duties relating to the fee account. When the Circuit Clerk is busy or in court, the deputy clerks receive monies.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Proper segregation of duties helps to provide this assurance. This could be achieved by segregating the functions of receiving and depositing court monies from that of recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of recorded receipts and bank deposits and an independent review of bank reconciliations.

B. Receipts are not deposited intact on a timely basis. During the months reviewed, receipts were often deposited only two or three times a month. During several months the Circuit Clerk apparently held all the cash received during the month and deposited it at the end of the month. Deposits of cash ranged from approximately $200 to $1,000.

To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, deposits should be made intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Receipt slips were not issued for some monies received. During the period September 1, 1997 to February 17, 1999, 14 receipts totaling $13,310 were deposited, for which receipts slips had not been issued. In addition, it does not appear that receipt slips for other monies were issued at the time money was received. Several instances were noted where receipt slips were issued twice for the same check. While several of these were voided by the clerk, some of these were not identified as errors prior to our audit.

Failure to issue receipt slips for all monies received increases the risk that loss or misappropriation of funds will not be detected in a timely manner.

D. Receipts and disbursements are not recorded on the cash control ledger or the case fee sheets on a timely basis. As of January 1999, the Circuit Clerk was two months behind. Some monies for which receipts slips were not issued, were also not recorded in the cash control ledger. In addition, many mathematical errors were made in recording receipts and checks, as well as in preparing totals and balances.

A complete and accurate cash control ledger is necessary to provide accountability of funds and facilitate reconciliation procedures between bank and accounting balances.

E. The Circuit Clerk did not reconcile the bank balance to the cash balance shown on the ledger.

Failure to reconcile bank records to accounting records on a timely basis allowed errors and shortages to occur and not be detected. If this reconciliation had been performed, the discrepancies previously noted could have been identified and investigated in a timely manner.

F. Monthly listings of open items are not prepared. The reconciled bank balance of the fee account was approximately $134,000 at January 31, 1999. Preparing accurate listings of open items and agreeing the total with the reconciled cash balance help ensure sufficient assets exist to cover liabilities and all monies are properly recorded and handled. It appears that many of these cases have balances which could be distributed to the county, victims and others.

G. A complete listing of accrued costs owed to the court is not maintained by the Circuit Clerk and monitoring procedures related to accrued costs are not adequate. A complete and accurate accrued costs listing would allow the Circuit Clerk to more easily review the amounts owed to the court, and take appropriate steps to ensure all amounts owed are collected on a timely basis.

Conditions D, G, and E were noted in the past two reports, and conditions A, B, C, and F were noted in the prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk:

A. Provide for segregation of duties and ensure that independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records are performed.

B. Deposit receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Issue receipt slips for all monies received.

D. Record receipts and disbursements in the cash control ledger accurately and in a timely manner.

E. Reconcile the cash control ledger to bank records monthly and investigate and resolve any differences on a timely basis.

F. Prepare accurate monthly listings of open items and reconcile such listings to the cash balance. Any differences should be investigated and resolved.

G. Maintain a complete and accurate listing of accrued costs and pursue timely collection.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Circuit Clerk indicated:

A. She plans to change office procedures in October to coincide with office personnel changes. She plans to segregate duties by having whoever is available collect monies and issue receipts. Nightly, the Circuit Clerk will prepare a deposit and tie receipts to deposits. She will have another employee perform monthly bank reconciliations.

B. Deposits are now made daily and a corresponding receipt number is listed by each item for the deposit.

C. She tries to issue a receipt slip for each receipt.

D. She now records receipts on the cash control ledger nightly.

E.&
F. The Office of State Courts Administrator (OSCA) will be at her office in August to help her establish an open items listing. Once the listing is prepared she will reconcile the open items listing and cash control ledger to the reconciled bank balance.

G. She keeps the fee sheets separate for those cases that have accrued costs. She will talk to OSCA about the possibility of making an accrued cost listing.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the office of Circuit Clerk of Clark County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

SPECIAL REVIEW OF
OFFICE OF CIRCUIT CLERK
CLARK COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the Clark County Circuit Clerk on the recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report of Clark County issued for the three years ended December 31, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the Circuit Clerk should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Circuit Clerk's Deposits

A receipt slip was issued July 10, 1997, for $900 cash which could not be traced to a deposit. In addition, other receipt slips and ledger entries of at least $740 could not be traced to deposits.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk investigate the above noted discrepancies and take the appropriate follow-up action. Any shortage should be reimbursed to the official account.

Status:

Partially implemented. The Circuit Clerk repaid $900 to the official account in October of 1997, and provided an explanation for one item ($115) of the $740 of discrepancies. However, a similar situation was noted in the current audit. See MAR No.1.

2. Circuit Clerk's Accounting Controls

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing monies and reconciling the bank account were not adequately segregated.

B. One receipt book which included five hundred slips issued from May 1996 through February 1997 could not be located.

C. Receipts were not deposited intact on a timely basis.

D. Receipt slips are not issued for some monies received.

E. The cash control ledger was not adequately maintained.

F. The Circuit Clerk was unable to reconcile the bank balance to the cash control ledger.

G. Checks were not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

H. Monthly listings of open items were not prepared.

I. A complete listing of accrued costs owed to the court was not maintained by the Circuit Clerk and monitoring procedures related to accrued costs were not adequate.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk:

A. Provide for segregation of duties and ensure that independent reconciliations and reviews of accounting records are performed.

B. Retain all records.

C. Deposit receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

D. Issue receipt slips for all monies received.

E. Record receipts and disbursements in the cash control ledger accurately and in a timely manner.

F. Reconcile the cash control ledger to bank records monthly and investigate and resolve any differences on a timely basis.

G. Restrictively endorse checks immediately upon receipt.

H. Prepare accurate monthly listings of open items and reconcile such listings to the cash balance. Any differences should be investigated and resolved.

I. Maintain a complete and accurate listing of accrued costs and pursue timely collection.

Status:

A, C, D, E, F, H &I. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

B. Not implemented. The indicated receipt slip book has still not been located. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

G. Implemented.

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

The following audit report presents our findings and recommendations for the municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit in New Madrid County. During our audit, we identified accounting records, controls, and certain management practices which we believe could be improved. The municipal divisions in which specific findings and recommendations were noted are listed below:

City of Gideon	pages 24-26
City of Lilbourn	pages 26-29
City of Marston	pages 29-30
City of Morehouse	pages 30-31
City of New Madrid	pages 31-32
City of Parma	pages 33-36
City of Portageville	pages 36-37
City of Tallapoosa	pages 37-38

We had no findings or recommendations for the municipal divisions of the City of Canalou and the City of Risco. The municipal divisions for the City of Howardville and the City of Matthews are reported on separately.

Actions taken by the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit in New Madrid County recommendations made in the prior report are noted on pages 40-57.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997; April 30, 1998 and 1997; and December 31, 1997 and 1996, as identified by municipality and fiscal period in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the municipal divisions' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in paragraphs four through seven, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the municipal divisions.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of Gideon Municipal Division were inadequate. Records containing the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket issued by the police department were not maintained. Bonds held in trust by the city were not identified to specific court cases. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of Lilbourn Municipal Division were inadequate. Records containing the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and complaint form issued by the police department were not maintained. Bonds held in trust were not identified to specific court cases. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of New Madrid Municipal Division were inadequate. Complaint forms issued by the police department are not prenumbered and records containing the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and complaint form issued by the police department were not maintained. Bonds held in trust by the city were not identified to specific court cases. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of Marston Municipal Division were inadequate. Records containing the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of summonses were not maintained. Bonds held in trust by the municipal division were not identified to specific court cases. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended December 31, 1997 and 1996.

In our opinion, except for the effects, if any, on the financial statements of the matters discussed in the preceding four paragraphs, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions (other than the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997; April 30, 1998 and 1997; and December 31, 1997 and 1996, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

We also had planned to audit the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997. This special-purpose financial statement is the responsibility of the municipal division's management.

As a result of internal control weaknesses, inadequate records, and evidence of fraud, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements of the city of Parma Municipal Division for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding paragraph, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated September 3, 1998 and May 28, 1999, on our consideration of the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting and on our tests of their compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the municipal divisions' management and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997; April 30, 1998 and 1997; and December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated September 3, 1998. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements of the municipal divisions of the city of Gideon, the city of Lilbourn, the city of New Madrid, and the city of Marston for the applicable fiscal periods. Except as discussed in the report on the financial statements of the municipal divisions referred to in the preceding sentence, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

We also had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997 and have issued our report thereon dated May 28, 1999. In that report we did not express an opinion on this special-purpose financial statement.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the municipal divisions' compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed material instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report. We also noted certain other instances of noncompliance which are presented in that report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, we considered the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal controls over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal controls over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the municipal divisions' ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal controls over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal controls that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be material weaknesses, and these matters are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS - NEW MADRID COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present only selected data for the funds administered by the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit of the state of Missouri located in New Madrid County. The municipal divisions of the city of Howardville and the city of Matthews are reported on separately.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash are presented for each municipal division. The operating costs of each division are paid by the respective municipality and are not included in these financial statements.

The municipal division is responsible for cash bonds posted until case disposition allows appropriate disbursement. Bond monies relating to pending cases, whether in the custody of the city or the municipal division, are included in these financial statements.

B. Basis of Accounting

The Statements of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when they are received or disbursed. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The municipal divisions account for fines and court costs resulting from prosecution of violations of municipal ordinances before the municipal judge or received through the traffic violations bureau, as well as cash bonds posted. Municipal violations could include traffic offenses, both moving and nonmoving; parking meter and overtime parking offenses; and other violations for which amounts are received by the municipal divisions and remitted to the city treasury. The municipal divisions also may account for restitutions received and disbursed through the divisions.

2. Cash

Section 479.080, RSMo 1994, requires municipal divisions to deposit fines and court costs into the city treasury at least monthly. Some divisions maintain bank accounts into which fines and court costs are deposited and later remitted to the city treasury. Other divisions do not maintain bank accounts, transmitting fines and court costs directly to the city treasury. Escrow bank accounts for bond monies received may be maintained by the city or the municipal division.

At the financial statement dates identified in the table of contents for the years ended 1998, 1997, 1996, all bank account balances reported for the municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Disbursements to State

The municipal divisions collect various amounts that must be remitted to the state of Missouri. These amounts include the surcharges for the Crime Victims' Compensation and Services to Victims Funds, the Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission Fund, and (until July 1, 1997, when municipal divisions were no longer required to assess the surcharge) the Independent Living Center Fund. The state's portions of these amounts are deposited into the city treasury for all municipal divisions, except the municipal divisions of the city of Portageville and the city of Marston. Amounts remitted by the cities to the state are not included in the financial statements.

4. Bonds

Bonds posted by defendants for the city of Canalou Municipal Division are held as cash by the court. The amounts held in cash at year-end could not be determined and, therefore, are not included in the financial statements.

Bonds posted by defendants for the municipal divisions of the city of Gideon, the city of New Madrid, the city of Risco, and the city of Tallapoosa are deposited directly into the city treasury. The amounts held by the cities at year-end could not be determined and, therefore, are not included in the financial statements. In addition, bonds refunded to defendants by the municipal divisions of the city of Gideon and the city of New Madrid could not be determined, and these amounts are not included in the financial statements.

5. City of Parma

Fines, court costs, and bonds which court records indicate were received by the municipal division but not deposited are included in the receipts and are presented as unaccountable disbursements on the financial statement for the year ended June 30, 1998.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS - NEW MADRID COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997; April 30, 1998 and 1997; and December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated September 3, 1998. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements of the municipal divisions of the city of Gideon, the city of Lilbourn, the city of New Madrid, and the city of Marston for the applicable fiscal periods.

We also had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statements of the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997 and have issued our report thereon dated May 28, 1999. In that report we did not express an opinion on this special-purpose financial statement.

The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our procedures related to the municipal divisions' special-purpose financial statements. During those procedures, we also identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our procedures were not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. City of Gideon Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all of these duties. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed is not maintained. Bond monies are deposited along with other court receipts into the city treasury. A bond ledger is necessary to ensure all bonds are recorded and accounted for properly.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

C. The court allows defendants to make partial payments on fines and court costs. Accounts receivable records are not adequately maintained and signed payment agreements are not required. Without adequate accounts receivable records, the court cannot effectively monitor and collect monies owed to the court.

D. A traffic ticket log is maintained by the police department detailing the disposition of individual traffic tickets; however, the numerical sequence of ticket numbers on this log is not accounted for properly. Without a proper accounting of the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of traffic tickets, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured all tickets are submitted to the court for processing.

E. Crime Victims' Compensation (CVC), Law Enforcement Training (LET), and Peace Officers' Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees are assessed on dismissed cases. Sections 590.140 and 595.045, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, require that these fees not be charged on dismissed cases.

F. The Court Clerk did not forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP) for 12 of 16 (75 percent) tickets reviewed. Section 302.225, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires any plea or finding of guilty on traffic violations under the laws of the state, county, or municipal ordinance to be forwarded to the MSHP within ten days of the conviction date.

Conditions A, B, D and F were also noted in the prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Gideon Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties or establish a documented supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts and disbursements.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile the listings to monies held in trust.

C. Maintain adequate accounts receivable records including signed payment agreements and a control ledger. Periodically reconcile the control ledger to the remaining balance on the individual payment agreements.

D. Work with the police department to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all tickets issued.

E. Assess court costs in accordance with state law.

F. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk responded as follows:

A. A receipts and disbursements ledger has been implemented with the majority of entries made by the City Clerk.

The receipts and disbursements ledger is reconciled with bank statements monthly by the City Treasurer.

A bank account separate from all other city funds has been established for the court. All monies collected for the court are kept separate from all city funds.

B.1. A bond ledger has been implemented for all bonds posted.

2. Open items will be reconciled to monies held in trust at the end of each month.

C. Signed payment agreements are being done. A ledger has been implemented that lists all fines due with no or partial payments made.

D. Traffic tickets are being issued in a numerical sequence by the Police Department and a log is maintained for each ticket book.

E. CVC, LET and POSTC are no longer collected on dismissed cases.

F. Traffic offense conviction tickets are being sent to the MSHP.

2.	City of Lilbourn Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all of these duties. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B. Some police officers who collect fines, court costs, and bonds, are not covered by an employee bond. Failure to properly bond all persons with access to assets exposes the municipal division and city to risk of loss.

C. Neither the police department nor the municipal division maintains adequate records to account for traffic tickets assigned and issued, and the ultimate disposition of traffic tickets and complaint forms. Without a proper accounting of the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of traffic tickets and complaint forms, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured all tickets and complaint forms are submitted to the court for processing.

D. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed is not maintained. Bond monies are deposited into a separate bond account. A bond ledger is necessary to ensure all bonds are recorded and accounted for properly.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

E. The court allows defendants to make partial payments on fines and court costs. Accounts receivable records are not adequately maintained and signed payment agreements were not obtained for some defendants.

Without adequate accounts receivable records, the court cannot effectively monitor and collect monies owed to the court.

F. Although the municipal division operates a traffic violations bureau (TVB) that allows certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date, a court order has not been issued to formally establish the TVB.

Section 479.050, RSMo 1994, states that a TVB may be established by the Municipal Judge. Supreme Court Rule No. 37.49 requires the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB by court order, to designate a TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and court costs to be imposed for each offense.

G. We noted instances in which the amount of court costs totaled $17. Section 488.012, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, states court costs may be collected in an amount not to exceed $12 per case.

Conditions A, D, and F were also noted in the prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Lilbourn Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties or establish a documented supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B. Request the city obtain adequate bond coverage for all persons handling court monies.

C. Work with the police department to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all tickets and complaint forms issued.

D.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts and disbursements.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile the listings to monies held in trust.

E. Maintain adequate accounts receivable records including signed payment agreements and a control ledger. Periodically reconcile the control ledger to the remaining balance on the individual payment agreements.

F. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB.

G. Assess court costs in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk responded as follows:

A. The Judge and Clerk will review the receipts, deposits and court dockets on a monthly basis.

B. Currently, the Police Chief is bonded and is the only other person authorized to collect court monies.

C. The Clerk will maintain a ledger of UTTs and complaint forms in numerical sequence. The Police Chief will maintain a numerical listing of tickets and complaints. The Court Clerk, Judge, and Police Chief will compare the listing periodically.

D.1. A bond ledger is now being maintained. We will continue to maintain this ledger.

2. The bond ledger will achieve this objective.

E. The court has and will continue to use signed payment agreements and ledger sheets for anyone owing money to the court. We will continue to reconcile the ledger to payment agreements.

F. The Judge will prepare a court order to authorize a TVB.

G. The court costs have been changed to $12 per case.

3. City of Marston Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing court receipts are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all of these duties. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed is not maintained. Bond monies are deposited into the court bank account. A bond ledger is necessary to ensure all bonds are recorded and accounted for properly.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

C. Neither the police department nor the municipal division maintains adequate records to account for summonses issued, and their ultimate disposition. Without a proper accounting of the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of summonses, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured all summonses are submitted to the court for processing.

These conditions were also noted in the prior report.
WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the city of Marston Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties or establish a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts and disbursements.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile the listings to monies held in trust.

C. Work with the police department to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all summonses.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk responded as follows:

A. This has been implemented. The duties of receiving, recording and depositing court receipts is done by the Court Clerk. Disbursing court receipts is done by two members of City Council. Disbursements (check signing) are done by two persons other than the Court Clerk. The receipts and disbursements are supervised or reviewed by a member of City Council, including a reconciliation between receipts and deposits.

B. A bond ledger is presently being kept and reconciled to the bank statement monthly.

C. A new system for complaint/summons forms has been implemented. These are prenumbered. When a complaint is made, a case number is assigned immediately.

4. City of Morehouse Municipal Division

We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

A. A ledger of bonds received and disbursed is not maintained. Bond monies are deposited into a separate bond account. A bond ledger is necessary to ensure all bonds are recorded and accounted for properly.

B. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

These conditions were also noted in the prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the city of Morehouse Municipal Division:

A. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts and disbursements.

B. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile the listings to monies held in trust.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk responded as follows:

A. A bond ledger is being set up and will be maintained in the future.

B. The Court Clerk has prepared a monthly list of liabilities, beginning with January 1999.

5. City of New Madrid Municipal Division

A. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed is not maintained. Bond monies are deposited along with other court receipts into the city treasury. A bond ledger is necessary to ensure all bonds are recorded and accounted for properly.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

B. Although the municipal division operates as a traffic violations bureau (TVB) that allows certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date, a court order has not been issued to formally establish the TVB.

Section 479.050, RSMo 1994, states that a TVB may be established by the Municipal Judge. Supreme Court Rule 37.49 requires the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB by court order, to designate a TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense. In addition, the schedule of fines and costs is required to be prominently posted at the TVB.

C. The Police Department uses complaint forms that are not prenumbered by the printer. Complaint forms are issued for non-traffic violations which occasionally result in the payment of fines and court costs. In addition, a log is not maintained to account for the complaint forms and their ultimate disposition.

To ensure all complaints forms are properly submitted to the court, prenumbered complaint forms should be issued and their numerical sequence accounted for properly.

D. The Municipal Judge collected $396 from May 1993 through September 1996, when he turned the monies over to the Court Clerk. These monies could not be identified with any court case and have not been deposited or credited. Unidentified amounts should be remitted to the state's Unclaimed Property Section in accordance with Sections 447.500 through 447.595, RSMo 1994.

Conditions A, C and D were also noted in the prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of New Madrid Municipal Division:

A.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts and disbursements.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile the listings to monies held in trust.

B. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB.

C. Request the police department issue prenumbered complaint forms and account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all forms.

D. Determine the proper disposition for the $396 or remit it to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk responded as follows:

A.1. A separate bond ledger to account for bond receipts and disbursements is now being prepared in addition to a record of bonds received and bonds disbursed in the general ledger.

2. The bond ledger is reconciled on a monthly basis.

B. A court order authorizing TVB has been completed.

C. Numbered complaints forms will be implemented on the next order.

D. The $396 collected by Judge has been deposited to the Police Fund.

6. City of Parma Municipal Division

A. The city of Parma Municipal Division accepts cash, checks, and money orders for payment of fines, court costs, and bonds. Payments prior to court and during court are received by the Court Clerk. The Police Chief may also receive payments in the absence of the Court Clerk. During our review of court receipt records and deposits we noted that receipts exceeded deposits by $1,581 for the two years ended June 30, 1998, and the period July 1, 1998 through May 11, 1999. In addition, we noted a $70 payment which was received by the Police Chief in March 1999 but was not recorded or deposited by the court.

On four occasions between July 1, 1997 and September 8, 1998, the Court Clerk documented in the cash control ledger that she noted shortages in court receipts totaling $421. There was no explanation for the shortages. Prior to September 8, 1998, court monies were kept in a file cabinet in the Court Clerk's office until they were deposited. Both the office and the file cabinet were locked at night, however, numerous city employees and officials had a key to the office. When the Court Clerk noted a $300 shortage on the September 8, 1998 deposit, she reported the shortage to the Mayor. In response, the city purchased a safe to secure court monies and changed the lock on the Court Clerk's office. No subsequent shortages were noted.

The misappropriation of court receipts was allowed to occur, and the full extent of misappropriation was not detected on a timely basis due to several internal control weaknesses as discussed below. Many of these weaknesses were also noted in our prior report.

B. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing court receipts are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all of these duties. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

C. Neither the police department nor the municipal division maintain adequate records to account for complaint forms and traffic tickets issued and their ultimate disposition. Without a proper accounting of the numerical sequence and the ultimate disposition of traffic tickets and complaint forms, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured all tickets and complaint forms are submitted to the court for processing.

D. The cash control ledger does not have a running balance which can be reconciled to other accounting records and bank records. A complete and accurate cash control record is necessary for reconciliation procedures between the accounting records and cash in the bank as well as to detect errors on a timely basis.

E. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed is not maintained. Bond monies are deposited along with other court receipts into the court account. A bond ledger is necessary to ensure all bonds are recorded and accounted for properly.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

F. CVC and POSTC fees are collected and turned over to the city. However, the city has not remitted the state's share of these collections to the state. Our review noted that total CVC and POSTC collections due the state for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997 are $2,009 and $1,903, respectively.

Section 595.045, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires 95 percent of CVC collections be paid monthly to the state. Effective July 1, 1997, Section 590.100, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires that 100 percent of POSTC collections be paid monthly to the state.

G. Although the municipal division operates as a Traffic Violations Bureau (TVB) that allows certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date, a court order formally establishing the TVB has not been issued.

Section 479.080, RSMo 1994 states that a TVB may be established by the Municipal Judge. Supreme Court Rule 37.49 requires the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB by court order, to designate a TVB clerk, to designate the offenses within the authority of the TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule, which is to be prominently posted at the TVB, the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense.

H. Some cases heard before the Municipal Judge were not listed on the court docket. Section 479.070, RSMo 1994 requires the proceedings for every case be entered on the court docket. To ensure all cases have been accounted for, court dockets listing all cases and the disposition of those cases should be prepared and retained.

I. Fines assessed did not always agree with those on the established fine schedule. In addition, the Municipal Judge did not sign the court docket to indicate his approval of the amounts assessed. To ensure the proper amount of fines and court costs are collected, amounts collected should agree to the TVB schedule unless a different amount is assessed and documented by the Municipal Judge.

Conditions B, C, D, E, F, G, and I were noted in the prior report.

Because of the problems noted above, we were unable to express an opinion on the financial statements of the city of Parma Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997. These deficiencies are serious and should be corrected immediately.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Parma Municipal Division:

A. Along with the city, review the situation and discuss with the Prosecuting Attorney possible legal actions.

B. Adequately segregate the duties or establish a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

C. Work with the police department to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all complaint forms and tickets issued.

D. Maintain a running balance in the cash control ledger and reconcile the cash control ledger balance to accounting records and the monthly bank reconciliation.

E.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts and disbursements.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile the listings to monies held in trust.

F. Request the city remit 95 percent of CVC and 100 percent of POSTC collections to the state monthly in accordance with state law. In addition, the $2,009 of CVC and $1,903 of POSTC fees should be promptly remitted to the state for the two years ended June 30, 1998.

G. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB.

H. Document all court actions on the court docket.

I. Collect the proper amount of fines and court costs in accordance with the TVB schedule or in accordance with the Municipal Judge's order. The municipal division should also document fines and costs assessed in accordance with the Municipal Judge's orders and those not appearing on the established fine schedule.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk responded as follows:

A. The Court Clerk, Judge and Mayor will discuss this matter.

B. The City Clerk or Treasurer will review the Court Clerk report, receipt slips and deposit slips.

C. Will continue to work with the police department to account for the numerical sequence and disposition.

D&H. These recommendations have been implemented.

E.1. This finding will be implemented. A bond ledger will be kept to show receipts and disbursements.

2. The recommendation will be implemented. An open items listing is prepared monthly.

F. Will consult with the Mayor to reassure the necessary funds are submitted and all future fees are submitted monthly to the state.

G. Will discuss this with the Judge.

I. Will discuss this with the Municipal Judge. Fines and costs were ordered by Judge but he did not sign off. Will make sure Judge signs off on all dockets.

7. City of Portageville Municipal Division

A. Police officers who collect fines, court costs and bond monies are not covered by an employee bond. Failure to properly bond all persons with access to assets exposes the municipal division and city to risk of loss.

B. The Court Clerk accepts cash, checks and money orders for the payment of fines, court costs, bonds and restitution; however, these receipts are not deposited on a timely basis, with deposits averaging greater than $800 being made approximately twice weekly. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

Condition A was also noted in the prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Portageville Municipal Division:

A. Request the city obtain bond coverage for all persons handling court monies.

B. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk responded as follows:

A. The Municipal Judge requested the City Board to obtain bond coverage for all people handling the court funds after the prior report. The City Board opted to bond only the Court Clerk and the Judge. This request will be made again.

B. The Judge is responsible for all monies taken in by the court. The money is deposited as soon as possible after received.

8. City of Tallapoosa Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts are not adequately segregated. Currently, the Court Clerk performs all of these duties. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B. Our review noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) Receipt slips issued for the receipt of fines and court costs are not prenumbered. To adequately account for all receipts, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued and the numerical sequence should be accounted for properly.

2) The municipal division accepts cash, checks, and money orders for payments of fines, court costs, bonds, and restitution. The method of payment is not always indicated on receipt slips. To ensure monies received are deposited, the method of payment should be recorded on the receipt slip and reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

C. CVC fees are collected and deposited into the city treasury. However, the city has not remitted the state's share of these collections to the state. Section 595.045, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1997, requires a $5 CVC fee be charged on all cases for violations of municipal ordinances, except those dismissed by the Judge and requires that 95 percent of CVC fees be paid monthly to the state.

D. The Court Clerk did not forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP). Section 302.225, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1997, requires any plea or finding of guilty on traffic violations under the laws of the state, county, or municipal ordinance to be forwarded to the MSHP within ten days of the conviction date.

These conditions were also noted in the prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the city of Tallapoosa Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties or establish a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence of the receipt slips.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile the composition of receipt slips to the composition of bank deposits.

C. Request the city remit 95 percent of all CVC fees to the state monthly as required by state law.

D. Forward records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk responded as follows:

A. The Court Clerk reviews the financial information with the Mayor and Board of Alderman at their monthly meetings.

B.1. All receipt slips will now be numbered.

B.2. Cash or check will be recorded on the receipt slips.

C. Up until the last 1 1/2 to 2 years, the court did not have very much activity and the Clerk did not know how to handle CVC collections. With the Judge's advice we have now sent the payment to the state.

D. These records have now been sent to the MSHP.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS - NEW MADRID COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by ten of the municipal divisions of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, New Madrid County, Missouri, on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the three years ended 1993, 1992, and 1991. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the municipal division should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. City of Canalou Municipal Division

   A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts were not adequately segregated.

   B. Our review noted the following concerns related to receipts:

      1) The Court Clerk did not issue receipt slips for some court monies.

      2) Receipt slips were not prenumbered.

      3) Receipt slips did not indicate the method of payment.

   C. Our review noted the following concerns related to cash bonds:

      1) Cash bonds were not deposited into a bank account, but were held by the Court Clerk until disposition of the case.

      2) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

   D. Neither the police department nor the court maintained adequate records to account for all traffic tickets and summons/complaint forms.

      1) Records were not maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets, whether issued, lost or voided, and their ultimate disposition.

      2) The police department used only one traffic ticket book at a time; however, the traffic ticket books were not always used in numerical sequence.

      3) The police department issued summons/complaint forms for non-traffic ordinance violations. These forms were not prenumbered.

   E. Our review noted CVC fees had not been remitted to the state Department of Revenue (DOR) on a monthly basis as required by state law.

Recommendation:

The city of Canalou Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits.

B.1. &2. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

3. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

C.1. Open a bank account for the deposit of all cash bonds, and make subsequent disbursements of the bonds by check.

2. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances. The ledger should be reconciled monthly to the bonds held in trust by the court.

D.1. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

2. Request the police department to use all traffic tickets in numerical sequence.

3. Obtain and use prenumbered summons/complaint forms for non-traffic ordinance violations and account for the numerical sequence of these forms.

E. Ensure all CVC fees are remitted to the state monthly as required by state law.

Status:

A, C, D, & E. Not implemented. The city of Canalou Municipal Division only handled four cases during the year ended June 30, 1998. As a result, we have not repeated these findings in our current report. However, our recommendations remain as stated above.

B. Implemented.

2. City of Gideon Municipal Division

A. The duties of issuing traffic tickets, and receiving, recording, and transmitting court receipts were not adequately segregated.

B. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

C. Receipt slips issued by the Police Chief and the City Clerk did not indicate the method of payment received.

D. We noted the following concerns related to traffic tickets and summonses issued by the police department:

1) Ticket books were not always assigned to the officers in numerical sequence.

2) No record was kept of the ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket.

3) Summonses issued by the police department for nontraffic ordinance violations were not prenumbered, and no records were maintained to account for the issuance and disposition of summonses.

E. The court charged a $5 LET fee.

F. The Court Clerk did not forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP.

Recommendation:

The city of Gideon Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of issuing traffic tickets from the duties of receiving fines and court costs and depositing fines and court costs into the city treasury. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the numerical sequence of traffic tickets and reconciliations between receipts and deposits.

B.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile these listings to monies held in trust by the city.

C. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to amounts deposited.

D. Request the police department to assign all traffic tickets and summonses in numerical sequence and to account for the numerical sequence of all tickets and summonses assigned, issued, and the ultimate disposition.

E. Collect only $2 for the LET fee as allowed by state law.

F. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

Status:

A,B, D&F. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1

C,& E. Implemented.

3. City of Lilbourn Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts were not adequately segregated.

B. Receipt slips were not prenumbered and did not indicate the method of payment.

C. Cash bonds were not deposited into a bank account, but were held by the Court Clerk until disposition of the case.

D. A ledger of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

E. The municipal court allowed fines and court costs for certain offenses to be paid to the Court Clerk at the traffic violations bureau (TVB). The TVB was not established by a court order.

F. The municipal division did not include all cases and their disposition on the court docket.

G. The Court Clerk did not forward the required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP).

Recommendation:

The city of Lilbourn Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts.

B. Request the police department to issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued. The police department should also account for the numerical sequence of the receipt slips issued and reconcile total cash, check, and money orders received to amounts transmitted to the city.

C. Open a bank account for the deposit of all cash bonds and make subsequent disbursements of the bonds by check.

D. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances. The ledger should be reconciled monthly to the bonds held in trust by the city.

E. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB, to designate a TVB clerk, to designate the offenses within the authority of the TVB clerk, and to prominently post a schedule of fines and costs for each offense.

F. Prepare and retain court dockets listing all cases commenced before the court and the disposition of those cases.

G. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

Status:

A, D, &E. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

B& F. Implemented.

C. Partially implemented. Bonds are deposited into the bond account, however payments of fines and costs received prior to court is held by the Court Clerk until disposition of the case. Although not repeated in our current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

G. Partially implemented. Minor errors were noted. Although not repeated in our current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

4. City of Marston Municipal Division

A. It appeared that other city receipts were deposited into the city's general fund bank account in place of court monies and that the court monies which were not deposited were missing.

B. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts were not adequately segregated.

C. Court receipts were commingled with other city monies upon collection. These receipts were not deposited intact or on a timely basis.

D. Receipt slips were not issued for all monies received.

E. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

F. The court collected Crime Victims' Compensation (CVC) fees and Law Enforcement Training (LET) fees on all traffic violations, including nonmoving traffic violations, and did not charge these fees on non-traffic ordinance violations.

G. Records were not maintained to account for the numerical sequence of tickets issued.

H. The police department issued summonses for non-traffic ordinance violations. These summonses were not prenumbered.

Recommendation:

The city of Marston Municipal Division:

A.1. Along with the city, review the situation and take the necessary actions to obtain restitution of the $6,013.

2. Request the city officials obtain an independent audit of the city.

B. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court and city receipts.

C. Deposit all court receipts intact on a daily basis or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

D. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received. In addition, deposits should be reconciled to receipt slips to ensure that all collections are deposited intact.

E. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile these listings to the bank balance.

F. Collect the $5 CVC fee and the $2 LET fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law.

G. Work with the police department to ensure ticket books are used in numerical sequence and records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

H. Obtain and use prenumbered summonses for non-traffic ordinance violations and account for the numerical sequence of those summonses.

Status:

A.1. The situation was reviewed and the Court Clerk resigned; however, no restitution was made.

A.2., C, D, F.&G. Implemented.

B&E. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

H. Partially implemented. Summonses are prenumbered by the printer, however, a log is not maintained to account for their numerical sequence and ultimate disposition. See MAR No. 3.

5. City of Morehouse Municipal Division

A. Our review noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) The Court Clerk and City Clerk did not issue receipt slips for some court monies received.

2) Receipts were deposited four or five times a month.

3) For six of 114 (5 percent) cases which we reviewed we were unable to trace the receipt of money to an entry on the monthly reports.

B. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger or listing of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

C. Neither the police department nor the court maintained adequate records to account for all traffic tickets.

1) Records were not maintained to account for the numerical sequence of tickets issued. In addition, the municipal division did not record the disposition of voided or lost tickets, nor follow up on unused tickets not returned by the police officers.

2) The police department issued some traffic tickets which were not within the series of numbers assigned to the police department by the MSHP.

D. The court did not charge CVC fees on any cases.

E. The court collected LET fees on all traffic and nontraffic ordinance violations, including nonmoving traffic violations.

F. Some cases heard before the Municipal Judge were not listed on the court docket.

G. A Traffic Violations Bureau had not been established by a court order. In addition, a schedule which specifies the offenses which may be paid at the TVB and the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense had not been prominently posted.

H. During our review we noted five of thirty-six (14 percent) cases in which the amount of fine and costs collected by the Court Clerk did not agree to the traffic violations bureau (TVB) schedule.

I. The court did not forward some required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP).

Recommendation:

The city of Morehouse Municipal Division:

A.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

2. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

3. Maintain accurate and consistent records which adequately document the receipt and deposit of all monies and any amounts which remain due on the cases.

B.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile these listings to monies held in trust by the city.

C.1. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

2. Obtain and use prenumbered traffic tickets within the series of numbers assigned to the police department by the MSHP for all offenses.

D. Collect the $5 CVC fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law. In addition, 95 percent of all CVC fees collected should be remitted to the state monthly as required by state law.

E. Collect the $2 LET fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law.

F. Record on the court docket all cases heard before the Municipal Judge.

G. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB and prominently post a schedule which specifies the offenses which may be paid at the TVB and the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense.

H. Collect the proper amount of fines and court costs in accordance with the TVB schedule or in accordance with the Municipal Judge's order.

I. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

Status:

A,C,F,
H&I. Implemented.

B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 4.

D&E. Based on statutory changes effective July 1, 1997, LET and CVC fees are to be collected on all cases, including nonmoving traffic violations.

G. Partially implemented. A TVB has been established by court order, however the fine schedule has not been posted. Although not repeated in our current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

6. City of New Madrid Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts were not adequately segregated.

B. Our review noted the following concerns related to cash bonds:

1) Cash bonds were not deposited into a bank account, but were held by the Court Clerk until disposition of the case.

2) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

C. Our review noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) Receipts were deposited weekly.

2) Receipt slips issued by the court did not indicate the method of payments received.

D. Summonses issued by the police department for nontraffic ordinance violations were not prenumbered, and records were not maintained to account for the issuance and disposition of summonses.

E. Uncollectible accounts written off were not reviewed and approved by the Municipal Judge.

F. The court did not include all cases and their disposition on the court docket.

G. The court collected CVC and LET fees on all traffic and nontraffic ordinance violations, including nonmoving traffic violations.

H. The court allowed fines and court costs for certain offenses to be paid to the Court Clerk at the TVB. The TVB was not established by a court order. In addition, no schedule had been established which specified the offenses which could be paid at the TVB and the amount of fines and costs imposed for each offense.

I. The court did not forward some required records of convictions on traffic tickets to the MSHP.

Recommendation:

The city of New Madrid Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits.

B.1. Open a bank account for the deposit of all cash bonds, and make subsequent disbursements of the bonds by check.

2. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances. The ledger should be reconciled monthly to the bonds held in trust by the court.

C.1. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

D. Request the police department to obtain and use prenumbered summonses and to account for the numerical sequence of all summonses assigned, issued, and the ultimate disposition.

E. Ensure that all accounts receivable which are written off as uncollectible are reviewed and approved by the Municipal Judge.

F. Ensure all cases are included on the court docket.

G. Collect the $5 CVC fee and the $2 LET fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law.

H. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB, to designate a TVB clerk, to designate the offenses within the authority of the TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense.

I. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

Status:

A,C,E, F&I. Implemented.

B.2, D&H. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

B.1. Partially implemented. A bank account was not opened for the municipal division, however, bonds are now deposited into the city's general revenue account and refunds and other disbursements are made by city check. Although not repeated in our current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

G. Based on statutory changes effective July 1, 1997, LET and CVC fees are to be collected on all cases, including nonmoving traffic violations.

7. City of Parma Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and transmitting court receipts were not adequately segregated.

B. Our review noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) The Court Clerk did not issue receipt slips for some court monies received.
2) Receipt slips issued by the City Marshall for the receipt of fines, court costs, and bonds were not prenumbered.

3) Receipt slips issued by the City Marshall did not indicate the method of payments received.

4) Receipts were transmitted to the City Treasurer once a month.

C. Our review noted the following concerns related to cash bonds:

1) Cash bonds were not deposited into a bank account, but were held by the Court Clerk until disposition of the case.

2) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

D. The Court Clerk was not bonded.

E. Neither the police department nor the court maintained adequate records to account for all traffic tickets and summons/complaint forms. During our review, we noted the following:

1) Records were not maintained to account for the numerical sequence of tickets issued. In addition, the municipal division did not record the disposition of voided or lost tickets, nor follow up on unused tickets not returned by the police officers.

2) The police department used only one traffic ticket book at a time; however, the traffic ticket books were not always used in numerical sequence.

3) The police department issued summons/complaint forms for non-traffic ordinance violations. These complaint forms were not prenumbered.

F. The court allowed fines and court costs for certain offenses to be paid to the Court Clerk at the TVB. The TVB was not established by a court order.

G. Our review noted the following concerns related to the collection and disbursement of CVC fees and LET fees.

1) Our review noted CVC fees have not been remitted to the state DOR on a monthly basis as required by state law.

2) The court collected CVC fees and LET fees on all traffic and nontraffic ordinance violations, including nonmoving traffic violations.

H. We noted twelve of thirty-seven (32 percent) cases in which the amount of fine and costs collected by the Court Clerk did not agree to the TVB schedule.

I. The court did not forward some required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP.

Recommendation:

The city of Parma Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and transmitting court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and transmittals.

B.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

2&3. Request the City Marshall to obtain and use prenumbered receipt slips and to indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued. In addition, the court should reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to transmittals to the city.

4. Transmit receipts to the city daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C.1. Open a bank account for the deposit of all cash bonds, and make subsequent disbursements of the bonds by check.

2. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances. The ledger should be reconciled monthly to the bonds held in trust by the court.

D. Request the city to consider obtaining bond coverage for all individuals handling court monies.

E.1. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

2. Request the police department to use all traffic tickets in numerical sequence.
3. Obtain and use prenumbered complaint forms for non-traffic ordinance violations and account for the numerical sequence of those complaint forms.

F. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB, to designate a TVB clerk, to designate the offenses within the authority of the TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense.

G.1. Ensure all CVC fees are remitted to the state monthly as required by state law.

2. Collect the $5 CVC fee and the $2 LET fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law.

H. Collect the proper amount of fines and court costs in accordance with the TVB schedule or in accordance with the Municipal Judge's order.

I. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

E.3. Partially implemented. Complaint forms are prenumbered, however, there are no procedures to account for the numerical sequence of these forms. See MAR No. 6.

G.2. Based on statutory changes effective July 1, 1997, LET and CVC fees are to be collected on all cases, including nonmoving traffic violations.

8. City of Portageville Municipal Division

A. Complaint forms issued by the police department for nontraffic ordinance violations were not prenumbered, and records were not maintained to account for the issuance and disposition of these complaint forms.

B. The Court Clerk and all dispatchers collected fines, court costs, and bonds. The dispatchers were not bonded.

C. The municipal division charged court costs of $12, CVC fees of $5, and LET fees of $2 on all cases heard before the court; however, for cases in which the individual received more than one ticket, court costs were charged only once, while LET and CVC fees were charged on each ticket.

Recommendation:

The city of Portageville Municipal Division:

A. Request the police department to obtain and use prenumbered complaint forms and to account for the numerical sequence of all complaint forms assigned, issued, and the ultimate disposition.

B. Request the city to consider obtaining bond coverage for all individuals handling court monies.

C. Determine whether an individual ticket or a group of tickets is considered a court proceeding. Court costs, LET fees, and CVC fees should then be consistently charged on each court proceeding.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The police department now issues prenumbered summonses for all municipal violations, however, records are not maintained to account for the numerical sequence of the summonses. Although not repeated in our current report, our recommendations remain as stated above.

B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 7.

C. Implemented.

9. City of Risco Municipal Division

A. Neither the police department nor the court maintained adequate records to account for all traffic tickets.

B. We noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) A ledger of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

C. Receipt slips issued by the Police Chief and the Court Clerk did not indicate the method of payment received.

D. Our review noted the following concerns related to the collection and disbursement of CVC fees and LET fees:

1) The court charged a $5 LET fee on all municipal violations.

2) The court did not charge CVC fees or LET fees on some nontraffic ordinance violations.

3) Our review noted CVC fees had not been remitted to the state DOR on a monthly basis as required by state law.

E. The court did not forward some required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP.

Recommendation:

The city of Risco Municipal Division:

A. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

B.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile these listings to monies held in trust by the city.

C. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to amounts deposited into the city treasury.

D.1. Collect only $2 for the LET fee as allowed by state law.

2. Collect the $5 CVC fee and the $2 LET fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law.

3. Ensure all CVC fees are remitted to the state monthly as required by state law.

E. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

Status:

Implemented.

10. City of Tallapoosa Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts were not adequately segregated.

B. Our review noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) Receipt slips were not prenumbered.

2) Receipt slips did not indicate the method of payments received.

3) The Court Clerk did not issue receipt slips for some court monies received.

C. Neither the police department nor the court maintained adequate records to account for all traffic tickets and complaint forms.

D. Some cases heard before the Municipal Judge were not listed on the court docket.

E. The court did not file with the city a monthly report of all cases heard in court.

F. The court collected court costs of $17 on all court cases.

G. Although the court costs appeared to include CVC fees, the court did not knowingly charge CVC fees on any cases.

H. The TVB was not established by a court order.

I. The Court Clerk did not forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP.

Recommendation:

The city of Tallapoosa Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits.

B.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

3. Issue prenumbered receipts for all monies received.

C. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all tickets and complaint forms. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all tickets and complaint forms.

D. Record on the court docket all cases heard before the Municipal Judge.

E. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these in accordance with state law.

F. Collect court costs of only $12 as allowed by state law.

G. Collect the $5 CVC fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law. In addition, 95 percent of all CVC fees collected should be remitted to the state monthly as required by state law.

H. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB, to designate a TVB clerk, to designate the offenses within the authority of the TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense.

I. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

AUDIT REPORT

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

DIVISION OF TAXATION AND COLLECTION

SALES AND USE TAX

TWO YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-44
July 19, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

YELLOW SHEET

The following problems were discovered as a result of an audit our office conducted on the Missouri Department of Revenue's Division of Taxation and Collection. The findings below center on the state's sales and use tax paid by businesses which operate in Missouri. Our audit identifies certain management practices which we believe could be improved. ----------

Sales tax refunds have grown by approximately 400 percent during the last eight years. This alarming increase suggests the reasons for refunds must be further evaluated. Some refunds may be due to overpayments by businesses, while other refunds are due to over collection of sales taxes from customers by businesses. Accordingly, I am instructing that a Special Review of sales tax refunds be conducted.

Our testing showed some tax refunds had no indication in Department of Revenue files that the vendor would return the sales tax or related interest to the customer. In addition, there were other sales tax refund cases where the businesses indicated the refund would be returned to the original customer. For these cases, there was no documentation available from the Department of Revenue to verify these refunds ever made it back to the customer. If these refunds are not returned to the customer, the refunded sales tax and related interest becomes a windfall for the businesses requesting the refunds.

The Department of Revenue has pursued legislation in recent years that would require sales tax overpayments be returned to the customers who actually overpaid these taxes, when applicable. Unfortunately, these proposals have not passed the General Assembly. The State Auditor recommends the Department continue to pursue statutory revisions that would ensure sales tax refunds and related interest be returned to the original customer, when appropriate.

As of June 30, 1998, department records indicated sales and use tax overpayments held by the state for Missouri businesses totaled over $35 million. Overpayments of sales and use taxes are the result of overpaid returns, amended returns, or audited returns. Businesses which overpay can request a refund or overpayments may be applied as credits on future taxes due.

Overpayments by closed businesses which did not file for a refund within the three year filing period totaled $4,414,451. There will not be future taxes due to apply overpayments against. As a result, the department continues to track these overpayments with little progress towards resolution. This issue needs to be resolved.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Honorable Mel Carnahan, Governor
and
Quentin Wilson, Director
Department of Revenue
and
Carol Fischer, Director
Division of Taxation and Collection

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the sales and use tax collections of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the agency's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts of and distributions to the various state funds; the receipts, distributions, and changes in cash and investments of the various local funds; and the additions, deductions, and changes in cash and investments of the various custodial accounts and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the various funds of the agency.

In our opinion, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts of and distributions to the various state funds; the receipts, distributions, and changes in cash and investments of the various local funds; and the additions, deductions, and changes in cash and investments of the various custodial accounts as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

The Department of Revenue has not presented the disclosures required by Governmental Accounting Standards Board (GASB) Technical Bulletin 98-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues, as amended by GASB Technical Bulletin 99-1, that the GASB has determined are necessary to supplement, although not be a part of, the basic financial statements. In addition, we do not provide assurance that the department is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the department's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the department does business are or will become year 2000-compliant.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated November 13, 1998, on our consideration of the agency's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the special-purpose financial statements, taken as a whole, that are referred to in the first paragraph. The accompanying financial information listed as supplementary data in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements and, in our opinion, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the special-purpose financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the agency's management and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Honorable Mel Carnahan, Governor
and
Quentin Wilson, Director
Department of Revenue
and
Carol Fischer, Director
Division of Taxation and Collection

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the sales and use tax collections of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated November 13, 1998. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the sales and use tax collections of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the agency's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the sales and use tax collections of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection, we considered the agency's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
DIVISION OF TAXATION AND COLLECTION
SALES AND USE TAX
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Significant Accounting Policies

A. Basis of Presentation

These special-purpose financial statements relating to sales and use tax collections of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection present the receipts of and distributions to the various state funds as reflected on Exhibit A; the receipts, distributions, and changes in cash and investments of the various local funds as reflected on Exhibit B; and the additions, deductions, and changes in cash and investments of the various custodial accounts as reflected on Exhibit C.

The Department of Revenue is a component unit of the State of Missouri and, as such, prepares a Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). The department's CAFR is intended to present the financial position and results of operations of the Department of Revenue as measured by the financial activity of the various funds. The special-purpose financial statements presented in this financial report are supporting schedules for the department's CAFR and do not contain all financial data contained in the CAFR. Therefore, users of these financial statements are advised to refer to the department's CAFR for the financial position and results of operations which the department intends to be prepared in accordance generally accepted accounting principles.

The "Total (Memorandum Only)" column shown on these special-purpose financial statements is presented as additional analytical data. Because this column does not identify the restrictions that exist by fund, it should be read only with the reference to the details of each fund.

Appropriations for the operation of the Division of Taxation and Collection are maintained by the Department of Revenue, Division of Administration and therefore, operating expenditures are not presented.

General fixed assets utilized by the Division of Taxation and Collection are included in the accounts of the Department of Revenue, Division of Administration and therefore, no statements of general fixed assets are presented.

B. Basis of Accounting

These special-purpose financial statements are presented on a cash basis of accounting and, as such, are prepared in conformity with an other comprehensive basis of accounting as described in the AICPA's Statement on Auditing Standards Number 62 which addresses special reports.

The statements of receipts and distributions for state funds present receipts when received and distributions when paid to the various state funds. The statements of receipts and distributions for local funds present receipts when received and distributions when paid to the various state and local funds, local political subdivisions, and taxpayers except for sales tax withholdings from political subdivisions for their share of the local use tax refund liability. Such withholdings are credited to the Local Use Tax Fund to be distributed as refunds to taxpayers. However, these amounts are included as distributions to political subdivisions in the financial statements. The statements of additions and deductions for custodial accounts present additions when received and deductions when paid to various state and local funds, local political subdivisions, and taxpayers.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection administers transactions in the funds and accounts listed below. The State Treasurer, as fund custodian, and the Office of Administration provide administrative control over fund resources within the authority prescribed by the General Assembly for all state funds.

1) General Revenue Fund- State: This state fund, as authorized by Section 144.700, RSMo, receives three-fourths of the collections from the four percent state sales and use tax. This fund also receives payments from common carriers in interstate air transportation, as authorized by Section 144.807, RSMo, and receives three-eighths of the collections from the four percent motor vehicle sales tax as authorized by Section 144.070, RSMo.

2) Conservation Commission Fund: This state fund, as authorized by Article IV, Section 43(a), Constitution of Missouri, receives the collections of the one-eighth percent state sales and use tax and motor vehicle sales tax.

3) Department of Revenue Information Fund: This state fund, as authorized by Section 32.067, RSMo, receives collections from individuals, businesses, and governmental units for the dissemination of information and publications.

4) Motor Fuel Tax Fund: This state fund, as authorized by Section 144.070, RSMo, and Article IV, Section 30(b), Constitution of Missouri, receives fifty percent of the collections of the four percent state sales tax on the leasing of motor vehicles and motor vehicle sales tax.

5) Parks Sales Tax Fund: This state fund, as authorized by Article IV, Sections 47(a) and 47(b), Constitution of Missouri, receives fifty percent of the collections of the one-tenth percent state sales and use tax and motor vehicle sales tax.

6) Soil and Water Sales Tax Fund: This state fund, as authorized by Article IV, Sections 47(a) and 47(b), Constitution of Missouri, receives fifty percent of the collections of the one-tenth percent state sales and use tax and motor vehicle sales tax.

7) School District Trust Fund: This state fund, as authorized by Section 144.701, RSMo, receives one-fourth of the collections from the four percent state sales and use tax and one-eighth of the collections from the four percent motor vehicle sales tax.

The Department of Revenue has the sole responsibility for maintaining and disbursing fund resources for the following local funds:

1) City Sales Tax Trust Fund: This local fund, as authorized by Section 94.550, RSMo, receives collections generated from city sales taxes and subsequently distributes the taxes and interest to the cities.

2) Public Mass Transportation Sales Tax Trust Funds: These local funds, as authorized by Sections 92.410, 94.625, and 94.725, RSMo, receive collections generated from public mass transportation sales taxes and subsequently distribute the taxes and interest to the public mass transportation systems.

3) St. Louis County Sales Tax Trust Fund: This local fund, as authorized by Section 66.620, RSMo, receives collections generated from St. Louis County sales taxes. The taxes and interest are distributed to St. Louis County in accordance with Section 66.620 (3), RSMo, to be disbursed by St. Louis County to the appropriate cities within the county.

4) County Sales Tax Trust Fund: This local fund, as authorized by Section 67.525, RSMo, receives collections generated from county sales taxes and subsequently distributes the taxes and interest to the counties.

5) County Alternate Sales Tax Trust Fund: This local fund, as authorized by Section 67.712, RSMo, receives collections generated by county capital improvement sales taxes as authorized by Section 67.700, RSMo; tourism sales taxes as authorized by Section 67.671, RSMo; and various other sales taxes authorized by state law, and subsequently distributes the taxes and interest to the counties. The transactions of the County Construction Sales Tax Trust Fund, as authorized by Section 67.570, RSMo, the County Correctional Facility Sales Tax Trust Fund, as authorized by Section 67.594, RSMo, and the County Law Enforcement Sales Tax Trust Fund, as authorized by Section 67.582. RSMo, are also accounted for in this fund.

6) City Alternate Sales Tax Trust Fund: This local fund, as authorized by Section 92.073, RSMo, receives collections generated from an additional City of St. Louis sales tax, and subsequently, distributes the taxes and interest to the City of St. Louis. The collections and subsequent distributions of the city capital improvements sales tax, as authorized by Section 94.577, RSMo, are also accounted for in this fund.

7) Local Motor Vehicle Sales Tax Fund: This local fund is a depository collection account for the local sales taxes collected by the department at the motor vehicle fee and branch offices. The department transfers this money to the Local Sales Tax Fund for distribution to the various political subdivisions.

8) Local Use Tax Fund: This local fund, as authorized by Section 144.748, RSMo, received collections generated by an additional one and one-half percent use tax upon all transactions which were subject to the taxes imposed under Sections 144.600 to 144.745, RSMo.

   Local Use Tax was declared unconstitutional by the Missouri Supreme Court in fiscal year 1996. The Department of Revenue began refunding local use tax in fiscal year 1998.

9) Local Option Use Tax Fund: This local fund, as authorized by Section 144.759 RSMO, receives collections generated by a use tax based on the local sales tax in effect, upon all transactions subject to taxes imposed under Sections 144.600 to 144.745 RSMo. Net taxes and interest are subsequently distributed to the counties and cities.

The Department of Revenue has shared responsibility with the State Treasurer for maintaining and disbursing resources for the following custodial accounts as explained in further detail:

1) Motor Vehicle Protest Account: The Department of Revenue has been charged with the responsibility of administering transactions in the Motor Vehicle Protest Account and actual custody of account resources ultimately rests with the department.

   The Motor Vehicle Protest Account, as authorized by Section 144.700, RSMo, receives motor vehicle sales and use tax paid under protest. Protest proceeds are deposited into an interest-bearing bank account.

Protested motor vehicle sales and use tax and the related earned interest are either returned to the taxpayer or remitted to the state and the appropriate political subdivisions based upon decisions reached by the department, the Administrative Hearing Commission, or various courts.

2) Protested Sales Tax Accounts: The Department of Revenue has been charged with the responsibility of administering transactions in the protested sales tax accounts. The Protested Sales Tax General Revenue Account, as authorized by Section 144.700, RSMo, receives sales taxes paid under protest. The three percent General Revenue portion of state sales taxes paid under protest are transferred to the state's General Revenue Fund, which is in the custody of the state treasurer. All other state and local sales taxes paid under protest are deposited into an interest-bearing bank account (or miscellaneous account), which is in the custody of the Department of Revenue. Protested sales taxes and the related earned interest are either returned to the taxpayer or remitted to the state and the appropriate political subdivisions based upon decisions reached by the department, the Administrative Hearing Commission, or various courts.

3) Sales Tax Bond Account: The Department of Revenue has been charged with the responsibility of administering transactions in the Sales Tax Bond Account.

The Sales Tax Bond Account, as authorized by Section 144.087, RSMo, receives cash bonds posted by taxpayers. All bond collections are deposited into the state's General Revenue Fund, which is in the custody of the state treasurer. Cash bonds and related interest at the rate of five and one-fourth percent are refunded to the taxpayers after two years if they are determined to have satisfactory sales tax compliance and if their bond was posted before January 1, 1984. If the bond was posted on or after January 1, 1984, the Attorney General has ruled that no interest should be refunded. In the event of uncollectible sales tax liabilities, the bonds and related interest, if any, are forfeited to the Department of Revenue which subsequently distributes the monies to the State and the appropriate political subdivisions.

4) St. Louis Special Escrow Account: The St. Louis Special Escrow Account is an interest-bearing bank account where the department has escrowed funds to cover claims for refund of a 3/8 percent sales tax levied by the City of St. Louis.

The Missouri Supreme Court [ACI Plastics, Inc. vs. City of St. Louis, Citation No. 724s.w.2D513 (Mo. Banc 1987)] ruled the additional 3/8 percent sales tax was not legally levied during the period July 1, 1984 through March 17, 1987.

The amount was withheld from monthly distributions to the City of St. Louis during the year ended June 30, 1990, and placed in this account under the custody of the Director of Revenue pending resolution. The Department of Revenue has determined that this account will be closed after a six month period of inactivity.

5) Suspense Holding (Sales Tax) Account: The Department of Revenue has been charged with the responsibility of administering transactions in the Suspense Holding Account and actual custody of account resources ultimately rests with the department.

The Suspense Holding Account is an interest-bearing bank account where unidentified sales and use tax receipts are temporarily deposited when they are unable to be posted to the automated Missouri Integrated Tax System (MITS). When these receipts become identifiable, they are posted to MITS and are then transferred out of the Suspense Holding Account into the appropriate sales tax funds.

6) T.I.F. Districts Account: The Department of Revenue has been charged with the responsibility of administering transactions in the T.I.F. Districts Account. The T.I.F. Districts Account is an interest-bearing bank account where the department has escrowed funds pending a decision in the Circuit Court of St. Louis County, Court Case No. 692403. Following this court decision, the escrowed funds will be distributed and the account will be closed.

7) City of Crestwood Holding Account: The Department of Revenue has been charged with the responsibility of administering transactions in the City of Crestwood Holding Account.

The City of Crestwood Holding Account is an interest-bearing bank account where the department has escrowed funds for the City of Crestwood because the Circuit Court for the County of Cole, Case No. CV194-262cc, ruled that all money collected under Section 94.577, RSMo, city capital improvements tax, for the City of Crestwood, shall be held by the Department of Revenue. In August 1995, the monies were disbursed in accordance with a July 1995 court order and the account was closed during fiscal year 1997.

8) City of Franklin Holding Account: The city of Franklin Holding Account is an interest-bearing bank account where the department has escrowed funds pending a court decision in a case involving the City of Franklin. The department's General Counsel determined that the collection was legal. The monies were distributed and the account was closed during fiscal year 1997.

9) St. Louis County (SLC) Cities Holding Account: The SLC cities holding account is an interest-bearing bank account where the department has escrowed funds pending a court decision in a case involving the City of Crestwood. Following this court decision, the escrowed funds were distributed and the account was closed during fiscal year 1997.

D. Cash and Investments

Cash and investments consist of the following:

	Year Ended June 30,
	1998	1997
Held by the state treasurer	$ 40,675,659	31,860,335
Held by the department	155,646,903	159,315,875
Total	$ 196,322,562	191,176,210

All cash and investments designated as being held by the state treasurer in trust are in General Revenue Fund-State and are pooled and invested by the state treasurer.

Other cash and investments held by the department includes bank accounts and all short-term investments such as repurchase agreements and federal agency securities. These are stated at cost which approximate market. Cash resources are combined to form a pool for investment purposes. Investments are managed by the department's investing agent in accordance with an agreement entered into in July 1994. (A new banking contract became effective July 1, 1998.) Interest income earned as a result of pooling is distributed to the appropriate accounts based on each account's equity in the pooled investments.

Department of Revenue Administrative Rule 12 CAR 10-43.020 authorizes the department to invest in the following instruments: U.S. Treasury Bills, Time Deposits, Repurchase Agreements, Federal National Mortgage Association Securities, Student Loan Marketing Association Securities, Federal Home Loan Bank Securities and Federal Home Loan Mortgage Corporation Securities.

All deposits are insured by the FDIC up to $100,000; the balance is secured by collateral pledged to the Department and held by the Department's agent in the Department's name. All investments in repurchase agreements and securities are one hundred percent secured by the underlying Federal Government Securities. The investing agent guarantees no loss of principal or interest to the department.

At June 30, 1998, cash and investments held by the department consisted of:

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
DIVISION OF TAXATION AND COLLECTION
SALES AND USE TAX
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Sales and Use Tax Overpayments (pages 75-76)

   Overpayments of approximately $4.4 million were noted on the Missouri Integrated Tax System (MITS) which related to businesses that were closed and for which the deadline had passed for filing a refund application.

2. Sales and Use Tax Refunds (pages 76-77)

   Approximately $6 million is owed to the state's General Revenue Fund from other state funds and local funds because interest paid on refunds is not allocated to the other funds. For some sales tax refunds reviewed there was no indication that the vendor was going to return the sales tax or the related interest to the original customer.

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
DIVISION OF TAXATION AND COLLECTION
SALES AND USE TAX
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the Sales and Use Tax collections of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated November 13, 1998.

During our audit, we identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our audit was not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following Management Advisory Report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. Sales and Use Tax Overpayments

Overpayments of sales and use taxes result from overpaid returns, amended returns, or audited returns. Overpayments may be applied as credits on taxes due or refunded as provided by Section 144.190, RSMo 1994. As of June 30, 1998, the Missouri Integrated Tax System (MITS) reflected overpayments totaling $35,688,283. Of this amount, $4,414,451 was for overpayments related to filing periods older than three years for businesses that have closed their sales and use tax registration. As a result, there will not be future taxes due which the overpayments could be applied against. The DOR notified the businesses of the overpayments when they originally occurred; however, the credits were not used prior to the businesses closing.

The department has a fiduciary responsibility to resolve overpayments for closed businesses. In addition, resolving the overpayments for closed businesses could relieve the administrative burden of continuing to track these amounts.

This condition was also noted in the prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the department consult legal counsel to determine the appropriate disposition of overpayments related to closed businesses. In addition, overpayments related to closed businesses should be reviewed on a periodic basis.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Division of Taxation and Collection (Division) agrees with the recommendation. The Division will analyze possible solutions and will consider seeking funding for an "integrated tax system" that would systematically apply overpayments. In addition, the Division has consulted the department's General Counsel's Office to determine what appropriate legal action could be taken. Section 144.190 RSMo requires a claim for refund of the overpayment of sales/use taxes that were erroneously or illegally overpaid. If no claim for refund is made within the statutorily prescribed time period, the "overpaid" taxes are no longer subject to credit or refund.

2. Sales and Use Tax Refunds

A. Sales and use tax refunds are made by issuing a check from the state's General Revenue Fund (GRF-S) to each taxpayer. To reimburse the GRF-S, adjustments are automatically made by MITS for the principal amount of the refunds due from other state and local funds. However, adjustments are not made to other state and local funds for the interest paid on sales tax refunds. As a result, the GRF-S does not receive reimbursement from other funds for their proportionate share of interest paid on refunds. Interest and penalties received on the payment of delinquent taxes are distributed to the various state funds and local governments. We are not aware of any state law which addresses the allocation of interest received on delinquent payments or interest paid on refunds. In the absence of such a law, the DOR should allocate interest paid on refunds and interest received on delinquent payments in the same manner. Based upon the percentage of distributions to state and local funds (exclusive of GRF-S) to total distributions to state and local funds, interest payments of approximately $2.6 and $3.3 million should have been allocated during the year ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, respectively, and is due to the GRF-S from other state and local funds.

B. Vendors collect sales tax taxes from their customers and remit the tax to the Department of Revenue (DOR). In recent years there has been a significant increase in the amount of sales tax refunds paid by the state. We reviewed six sales tax refunds totaling $248,666 (including interest) for which there was no indication in the files that the vendor was going to return the sales tax or the interest to the original customer. In addition, we reviewed ten sales tax refund files which did indicate the refund would be returned to the original customer; however, there was no documentation the department had ensured the refunds were actually returned to the original customer. Failure by the vendor to return the sales taxes and related interest to the customer results in a windfall for the vendor.

   We previously addressed this issue in our audit report for the two years ended June 30, 1994. Legislation was introduced in the 1997 legislative session that would have prohibited the refund or credit of sales or use tax erroneously collected by a retailer, unless it was demonstrated that all erroneously collected amounts had been refunded to the person that originally paid the tax. However, this provision was not approved by the General Assembly.

Condition A was noted in the three prior reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the department:

A. Ensure the GRF-S is reimbursed for other funds' pro rata share of interest paid on sales and use tax refunds. Consistently allocate interest paid on refunds and interest received on delinquent payments.

B. Continue to pursue legislation which would require sales tax refunds and related interest be returned to the original customer.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Division will review its current policy regarding interest refunding. Alternative methods for reimbursing the General Revenue Fund for the other funds' pro rata share of refund interest will be analyzed. The Division's goal of an "integrated tax system" would assist in the implementation of this recommendation.

B. The Division agrees with the recommendation. The Division will continue to pursue legislation which would require sales tax refunds and related interest be returned to the original purchaser.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE

FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the Department of Revenue, Division of Taxation and Collection on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the two years ended June 30, 1996. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the agency should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Sales and Use Tax Overpayments

As of June 30, 1996, the Missouri Integrated Tax System (MITS) reflected overpayments totaling $18,001,727. Of this amount, $3,177,906 was for businesses that have closed their sales and use tax registration. The DOR notified the businesses of the overpayments when they originally occurred; however, the credits were not used prior to the businesses closing.

Recommendation:

The department consult legal counsel to determine the appropriate disposition of overpayments related to closed businesses. In addition, overpayments related to closed businesses should be reviewed on a periodic basis.

Status:

Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

2. Sales and Use Tax Refunds

A. Ten refunds reviewed totaling $2,576,018 (including interest of $670,589) had time delays in excess of one year between the application date for tax refund and the actual date of disbursement of the refund. Five of these refunds had time delays between one and two years and five had delays between two and three and a half years.

B. Adequate supporting documentation was not always required for refunds made to taxpayers.

C. We noted instances where several refund checks which the DOR requested for corrections of bonds pulled in error, monies deposited into the wrong account, and refund cleanup requests, had a taxpayer as the payee, but were endorsed with a DOR endorsement. The DOR had an informal policy requiring checks that will be endorsed by the DOR and deposited back into the state account be made payable to the DOR.

D. The General Revenue Fund-State (GRF-S) did not receive reimbursement from other funds for their proportionate share of interest on sales tax refunds.

E. IRS Forms 1099 were not prepared for the interest paid on sales and use tax refunds.

Recommendation:

The department:

A. Ensure refunds are processed and disbursed in a timely manner.

B. Require or maintain adequate supporting documentation prior to approving refunds for payment.

C. Establish and enforce a policy requiring checks that will be endorsed by the DOR and deposited back into state accounts be made payable to the DOR.

D. Ensure the GRF-S is reimbursed for other funds' pro rata share of interest paid on sales and use tax refunds. Consistently allocate interest paid on refunds and interest received on delinquent payments.

E. Report interest on sales and use tax refunds on Forms 1099 or provide the information necessary to enable OA to generate Forms 1099. In addition, the department should contact the IRS to determine appropriate reporting on refund principal which is not returned to the original customer.

Status:

A. Not implemented. Eight refunds reviewed totaling $2,613,603 (including principal of $1,923,713 and interest of $689,890) had time delays in excess of one year between the application date for the tax refund and the actual date of disbursement of the refund. However, for at least six of these refunds an audit was performed or additional information was requested from the vendor that appeared to justify the delay. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B&C. Implemented.

D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

E. Not implemented. DOR personnel indicated they have discussed developing a refund tracking system that would allow the agency to alert the IRS of principal and interest paid on sales and use tax refunds; this project was delayed while the year 2000 concerns were addressed. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

3. Internal Controls at Field Services Offices:

The Department of Revenue (DOR) has eight field offices located around the state which collect cash bonds and current and delinquent taxes, as well as provide assistance to taxpayers. During our visits to various field offices, we noted the following concerns:

A. An immediate record of receipts is not maintained for all monies received.
B. Monies received at the field offices were handled excessively prior to transmittal and deposit by the division.

Recommendation:

The department:

A. Require field service offices to maintain an immediate record of all monies received and reconcile it to the transmittals.

B. Reduce the handling of monies received prior to transmittal to central office by having a cash custodian maintain the monies. In addition, monies should be deposited intact into a local bank account and wire transferred to the DOR safekeeping bank account.

Status:

Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF REVENUE
DIVISION OF TAXATION AND COLLECTION
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION, AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

The Department of Revenue was created by Article IV, Section 22, of the 1945 Missouri Constitution. The department serves as the central collection agency for all state revenue. The Director of Revenue is appointed by the governor and must be confirmed by the Senate.

This Division of Taxation and Collection is responsible for the administration of Missouri's tax laws and processes and administers forms and reports for the collection of revenue due the state and local taxing jurisdictions. The Division has six bureaus and one office.

Central Processing Bureau

The Central Processing Bureau (CPB) is responsible for the initial processing of tax returns and related documents. Processing functions include receipt and extraction of the division's incoming mail, return analysis, cashiering and deposit, data entry and tax return error correction. The CPB monitors and tracks tax credits as well as accounts for all motor vehicle sales and use tax and drivers license transactions. In addition, the CPB is responsible for identifying and implementing new technologies, such as electronic filing, telefiling and imaging to facilitate and improve document processing.

Field Audit Bureau

There are two Field Audit Bureaus responsible for conducting field audits of businesses required to pay taxes to the State of Missouri. The in-state bureau includes seven in-state offices as well as the central support functions. The out-state bureau includes offices in Chicago, Dallas, New York and San Francisco.

Information Technology Bureau

The Information Technology Bureau (ITB) is responsible for the technical analysis, design, development and implementation of the division's data processing systems. The bureau provides quality assurance, program maintenance and technical support for electronic data processing communications, systems programming and data base administration. The ITB also provides personal computer software training, in-house programmer training and system training to division personnel. The ITB administers electronic media including an Internet web site and forms-by-fax for the division.

Tax Administration Bureau

The Tax Administration Bureau (TAB) is responsible for the administration of sales/use, financial institutions, insurance premiums, county fees, motor and special fuels, cigarette and other tobacco products, individual income, corporate income, withholding and estate taxes. The TAB also distributes locally imposed sales and use taxes to local jurisdictions, administers the registration and issuance of business licenses to taxpayers; handles correspondence and taxpayer protests; processes amended returns; writes regulations; and pursues non-compliant taxpayers through its Nexus/Discovery programs.

Taxpayer Services Bureau

The Taxpayer Services Bureau is responsible for contacting individuals and businesses who have unpaid tax liabilities and for performing appropriate collection procedures. The bureau's collection activities include billing and assessing unpaid taxes, filing liens, pursuing bad checks, certifying delinquencies to local prosecuting attorneys and making referrals to independent collection agencies. This bureau is also responsible for providing assistance to taxpayers in seven regional offices within Missouri. This assistance includes answering questions, registering taxpayers, issuing business licenses, participating in taxpayer training programs and making field visits to taxpayers who are delinquent in paying their taxes.

Division Director's Office

The Division Director's Office is responsible for the overall administration of the five bureaus described above. This includes preparation of legislative testimony, fiscal note preparation to include administrative impacts and the preparation and completion of the division's budget. The Office of Accounting and Support is a sub unit of the Director's Office and is responsible for divisional accounting and financial statement preparation, document security enforcement, training, centralized filing systems, word processing and microfilming functions for division forms, publication orders and tax return design.

Robert Schemenauer served as the Director of the Division of Taxation and Collection from November, 1993 through March, 1998. Carol Fischer has served as Division Director since June, 1998.

PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY DISTRICT NUMBER 2

LACLEDE COUNTY, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-43
July 15, 1999

AUDIT REPORT

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to petitioners of Public Water Supply District Number 2, Laclede County, Missouri.

The district has not obtained annual audits as required by state law.

Improvements are needed in the district's budgeting. The financial statement prepared for the year ended December 31, 1998, did not agree to the district's accounting records. Accurate and complete budgets and financial statements are necessary to keep the district informed of the financial activity and condition of the district.

Accounting and bookkeeping duties are handled by the same person, in this case the water district clerk. An independent review of records by someone other than the clerk would provide a needed check on the district's finances.

The board president's wife was appointed clerk of the water district in February 1997. The board meeting minutes did not document whether or not the president participated in the appointment process.

The appointment or hiring of a relative by a public official is prohibited by the Missouri Constitution. Because of the serious consequences which can result by hiring a relative, namely the possible forfeiture of elected office, the circumstances surrounding the hiring of a district official's relative should be fully documented.

The minutes of the open public meetings do not adequately or clearly document all items discussed or decisions made by the board. Also, the minutes do not always document which board members are present at meetings. The minutes are the only official record of board actions. Inadequate minutes can lead to public confusion when actions of the board are reviewed.

Miscellaneous receipts, such as meter connection fees and sales tax collections, are not properly recorded. The balance of the meter deposit account is not reconciled to actual meter deposits. Payment methods are not always recorded and the board does not periodically review delinquent water accounts.

Gallons of water billed to customers are not reconciled to gallons of water pumped. This reconciliation is necessary to detect significant water loss and to ensure all water usage is properly billed.

The district does not have a written travel expense policy, and employee reimbursements are not always supported by adequate documentation of actual expenses.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

To the Board of Directors
Public Water Supply District Number 2
Laclede County
Stoutland, Missouri

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit Public Water Supply District Number 2, Laclede County, Missouri. Our audit of the district included, but was not limited to, the year ended December 31, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes and various district financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in the audit of the district.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the district and was not subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audit of the district.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

PUBLIC WATER SUPPLY DISTRICT NUMBER 2
LACLEDE COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 8-10)

Accounting and bookkeeping duties are not adequately segregated and bank reconciliation procedures are not adequate. Miscellaneous receipts, such as meter connection fees and sales tax collections, are not adequately recorded. The balance of the meter deposit account is not reconciled to actual meter deposits. The method of payment is not always recorded. The board does not periodically review delinquent water accounts. Gallons of water billed to customers are not reconciled to gallons of water pumped. The board president and treasurer do not review related invoices or supporting documentation prior to signing checks. The board does not have a written bank depository agreement and a significant portion of the district's funds are maintained in non-interest bearing accounts.

2. Budgets, Financial Reporting, and Audits (pages 11-12)

Improvements are needed in the district's budgeting and financial statement documents and procedures. The district does not obtain annual audits as required by state law.

3. Minutes and Records (pages 12-13)

The board president's wife was appointed district clerk in February 1997, and the board minutes do not clearly document whether the president participated in the appointment process. Board minutes do not always document items discussed or decisions made by the board. Board minutes are not always signed or officially approved by the board. The district has not established a policy regarding public access to district records.

4. Expenditures and Payroll Matters (pages 13-15)

The district does not have written travel expense policies, and employee reimbursements are not always supported by adequate documentation of actual expenses incurred. Additional compensation of approximately $550 was paid to certain employees which was not reported on Forms W-2, and Forms 1099-Miscellaneous were not filed as required for payments totaling $12,390. Federal and state income taxes are not withheld from wages or salaries paid by the district.

1. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The water clerk collects payments, prepares deposits, records receipts, and prepares delinquent account notices. No independent review of these procedures is performed.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide for reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. An adequate system of internal controls requires segregation of duties. Since the district has only one administrative employee, segregation of duties may not be feasible. However, the Board of Directors should, at a minimum, designate someone independent of the process to perform and document periodic reviews of the records and procedures.

B. Formal bank reconciliations are not prepared by the district. At the end of the year, the district hires an accountant to prepare bank reconciliations for all twelve months of the year. For the year ended December 31, 1998, the accountant made adjustments totaling $528 to the district's accounting records for the General Fund as a result of errors that had not previously been identified. Also, in October 1998, a $300 deposit into the New Water Project Fund account was not recorded on the corresponding accounting records.

Section 247.100, RSMo 1994, indicates the board treasurer shall be the custodian of the district's funds. Therefore, the treasurer should receive the monthly bank statements and prepare or review the bank reconciliations.

Monthly bank reconciliations should be prepared by the board treasurer to ensure that all accounting records are in balance, transactions have been properly recorded, and any errors or discrepancies are detected in a timely manner. Complete documentation of the reconciliations should be retained to support conclusions and any corrections made and to facilitate independent reviews.

C. The district does not keep adequate records of hookup and meter connection fees, sales taxes, interest, and miscellaneous revenues collected. The district does not issue receipt slips or record individual receipts on a receipt ledger. In addition, there are no reconciliations between amounts received and amounts deposited. The district deposited $1,500 in meter connection fees during the year ending December 31, 1998; however, $1,750 was recorded as new installation fees on the district's financial statement. Also, the district recorded $2,600 as sales tax collections and miscellaneous revenues on its financial statement and the clerk indicated this amount was estimated. To properly account for all receipts, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued or receipts should be recorded on a ledger immediately upon receipt and the method of payment should be noted.

D. District residents are required to pay a $50 meter deposit before receiving water services. The clerk records the meter deposits in the checkbook register and the monies are deposited into a separate checking account. The district held $3,861 in the Meter Deposit Fund at December 31, 1998. Upon our request, the clerk prepared of listing of meter deposits on hand which identified $2,430 as customer deposits. The district needs to identify all customer deposits currently held by the district and keep the listing properly updated. The listing of meter deposits should be reconciled monthly to the meter deposits in the account to ensure that sufficient funds are available for the payment of all liabilities.

E. The district receives cash and checks for the payment of water bills. The billing stubs which accompany the payment serve as the district's initial record of the receipt; however, the method of payment (cash, check, money order, etc.) is not always recorded.

To ensure the proper handling and safeguarding of district monies, the method of payment should be indicated on the billing stubs and the composition of receipts should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

F. The board does not periodically review delinquent accounts. Follow-up on delinquent accounts is performed by the district clerk; however, the district has some old delinquent balances dating back to 1996 and 1995. The district should perform monthly reviews of delinquent accounts and ensure appropriate follow-up procedures are performed. In addition, the board should review the old delinquent accounts for collectability and write off those amounts determined to be uncollectible.

G. The district does not reconcile the total gallons of water billed to customers to the gallons of water pumped. The district does document meter readings from its pump, but some readings did not appear valid, such as current readings that were less than the previous month's readings.

To help detect any significant water loss on a timely basis and to help ensure all water usage is properly billed, the district should monthly prepare and maintain records of the total gallons of water pumped and reconcile them to the gallons of water billed. Significant differences should be investigated.

H. The district clerk prepares all checks which are signed by the board president or treasurer. Section 247.100.3, RSMo 1994, requires the board treasurer to disburse monies only upon warrants signed by the clerk and board president. Since the district does not use separate warrants, the checks should be signed by the clerk, president, and treasurer, or the clerk and president should document their approval for all payments.

I. At December 31, 1998, the district had five non-interest checking accounts totaling approximately $21,000. One checking account incurs monthly service charges. To maximize the interest earnings and to avoid bank service charges, the district should reduce the number of checking accounts and obtain interest bearing accounts.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Directors:

A. Adequately segregate the accounting duties of the district clerk or designate someone independent of the process to perform and document periodic reviews of the records and procedures.

B. Ensure formal bank reconciliations are prepared monthly.

C. Ensure the clerk issues prenumbered receipt slips or maintains a receipt ledger and reconciles amounts received to amounts deposited.

D. Maintain a complete listing of meter deposits and periodically reconcile the listing to monies held by the district.

E. Record the method of payment received on corresponding billing stubs and reconcile the composition of receipts to bank deposits.

F. Review delinquent accounts on a monthly basis and write off any old uncollectible accounts.

G. Compare gallons of water pumped to gallons billed on a monthly basis. Any significant differences should be documented and investigated.

H. Require the signatures of the clerk, president, and treasurer on all checks, or require the clerk and president to document their approval for all payments.

I. Maintain district funds in interest bearing accounts when possible and reduce the number of checking accounts.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We will try to find someone to periodically review the records.

B. We will try to implement this recommendation.

C. The clerk has already implemented this recommendation.

D.,E.,& G. We agree with these recommendations.

F. We agree and will review delinquent accounts at our monthly meetings.

H. We agree and will have the clerk and president indicate their approval for all payments.

I. We do not believe it is appropriate to earn interest on meter deposits, but we will check into obtaining interest checking for the other accounts. The bank service charges have already been stopped.

2. Budgets, Financial Reporting, and Audits

A. The district's annual budgets were not fully in compliance with Chapter 67 RSMo. For example, the budgets did not include a budget message nor comparative statements of revenues and expenditures for the two preceding years as required. Instead, only one year of comparative data was included. In addition, the board does not prepare reasonable budget estimates nor periodically compare actual revenues and expenditures to budgeted amounts. In 1998, the board did not budget for painting the water tower ($11,200) or legal and engineering expenses ($4,000), and under-budgeted salaries ($2,500) and supplies ($5,000). The district also pays some expenditures in January and early February before the budget is usually approved in February.

Budgets are a planning tool and should serve as a guide throughout the year to monitor revenues and expenditures. Section 67.010, RSMo 1994, lists items required in the budget, including a budget message and the two prior years' actual revenues and expenditures. Section 67.040, RSMo 1994, prohibits expenditures in excess of budgeted amounts unless budget amendments are approved by the board. Section 67.080, RSMo 1994, provides that no expenditure of public monies shall be made unless it is authorized in the budget.

B. The financial statement prepared for the year ended December 31, 1998, did not agree to the district's accounting records. The district recorded estimated depreciation expense of $12,000; however, the district has not established a permanent record of its fixed assets, nor does the district keep track of the accumulated depreciation. Also, the district recorded $5,540 as a loan payment when the actual payment was $7,358.

Accurate and complete financial statements are necessary to keep the district informed of the financial activity and condition of the district. In addition, the district should determine the cost or estimated cost of its fixed assets as a basis for computing depreciation expense.

C. The district does not obtain annual audits as required by Section 247.080, RSMo 1994. This provides requirements for boards of public water supply districts to have annual audits made of the receipts and expenditures of the district.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Directors:

A. Prepare complete, timely, and accurate annual budget documents that contain all information required by state law and/or necessary to provide a complete financial plan for the district. In addition, actual expenditures should not exceed budgeted amounts unless appropriate budget amendments are approved, and no expenditures should be made prior to approval of the budgets.

B. Prepare accurate financial statements and establish records for fixed assets that include cost or estimated cost and accumulated depreciation.

C. Obtain annual audits as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We agree with these recommendations.

3. Minutes and Records

A. The current district clerk is the wife of the board president and is paid a salary of $600 per month (increased from $500 per month effective February 1998) to perform the duties of that office. This individual was appointed to this position at a board meeting in February 1997. Even though the board president indicated he abstained from voting on both the initial appointment and the subsequent salary increase, the board minutes did not clearly document that he abstained from voting.

The appointment or hiring of a relative by a public official is prohibited by the Missouri Constitution. Because of the serious consequences which can result by hiring a relative, the circumstances surrounding the hiring of a district official's relative should be fully documented.

Discussions and decisions concerning situations where potential nepotism or conflicts of interest exist should be completely documented so that the public has assurance that no district official has benefited improperly. In addition, the board should consider establishing a policy which addresses these types of situations and provides a code of conduct for district officials.

B. The district treasurer is currently a member of the Board of Directors. Section 247.070, RSMo 1994, requires the board to appoint a treasurer who is not a member of the board.

C. The minutes of the open public meetings do not adequately or clearly document all items discussed or decisions made by the board. Also, the minutes do not always document which board members are present at the meeting.

The minutes are the only official record of the action of the board. Care should be taken to ensure the minutes are complete and document discussions and specific intentions or reasons behind board decisions. Inadequate or unclear minutes can lead to subsequent confusion as to the board's intentions and possible incorrect interpretation of the board's actions by the general public or other outside entities.

D. The board minutes are usually prepared and signed by the district clerk, but the minutes are not signed by the board president. The board minutes should be signed by the preparer and by the board president to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board's meetings.

E. Board minutes are not read and officially approved by the board members. Minutes should be read and approved by the board to ensure their correctness.

F. Although the district's original written operating policies state that records shall be open to inspection by any person owning land or residing within the district, the board should establish a formal policy regarding public access to district records which complies with state law. This policy should establish a person to contact and an address to mail requests for access to records. Section 610.023, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, lists requirements for making district records available to the public.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Directors:

A. Ensure all appointments of individuals to district positions are documented in the board minutes and the district should avoid actual or apparent nepotism situations or conflicts of interest. If a relative of a district official is considered for appointment or the board is discussing a salary increase, that official should abstain from voting on the decision and that action should be fully documented in the official minutes. In addition, the board should consider adopting a code of conduct for district officials.

B. Appoint a treasurer who is not a member of the board, as required by state law.

C. Ensure board minutes are prepared containing all necessary information to provide a complete record of all significant matters discussed and actions taken by the board.

D. Ensure board minutes are signed by the clerk and board president to attest to the completeness and accuracy.

E. Read and approve board meeting minutes.

F. Establish policies and procedures regarding public access to district records which comply with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The board members who attended these meetings can verify that the board president abstained from voting on these matters; however, we agree that this was not documented.

B. We will attempt to find someone who will serve as treasurer.

C. We agree and the clerk has already been preparing more detailed minutes.

D-F. We agree and will implement.

4. Expenditures and Payroll Matters

A. The district does not have written travel expense policies, and reimbursements made to the three employees were not always supported by adequate documentation of actual expenses incurred. Most employee expense requests did not contain sufficient information such as the date of trip, trip origin, destination, and purpose. In one instance, the former maintenance employee was reimbursed $300 and did not provide any supporting documentation for this reimbursement. Also, the employees are reimbursed for mileage at rates ranging from $.25 per mile to $.50 per mile.

Without written, documented policies, the types of expenses that can be incurred, the extent of those expenses which will be paid by the district and the appropriate payment mechanism for the expenses may not be known. In addition, adequate documentation of employees' expenses is necessary to help ensure the propriety of payments made for travel expenses.

B. The district's current and former maintenance employees were allowed to perform additional duties beyond the regular scope of work, including installing security bars at the district office, and major water line repair projects. The additional payments, totaling about $550 in 1998, were not always supported by time sheets or other documentation of additional hours worked. In addition, the additional compensation was not reported on Forms W-2 and payroll taxes were not withheld from the payments.

Additionally, the district does not issue Forms 1099-MISC to individuals or unincorporated businesses which provide services to the district. During the year ended December 31, 1998, the district paid a non-incorporated business $11,200 for repairing and painting the water tower and an individual $1,190 for excavating work.

The Internal Revenue Code (IRC) generally indicates individuals treated as employees should have all compensation reported on Forms W-2. The IRC further requires payments totaling $600 or more in a year to non-employees and businesses which are not corporations be reported on Forms 1099-MISC. In addition, time sheets or other documentation of time worked should be retained for all payments to employees.

C. The district did not withhold federal or state income taxes from approximately $15,000 of employees' wages in 1998. The Internal Revenue Code requires employers to withhold federal income taxes and Section 143.191, RSMo 1994, requires employers to withhold state income taxes from wages.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Directors:

A. Adopt written travel expense policies and require detailed travel expense reports prior to payment. These reports should include information such as trip date, origin, destination, and purpose, and should contain sufficiently detailed receipts to ensure the district reimburses only valid employee expenses.

B. Report all compensation paid to employees on Forms W-2 and non-employees on Forms 1099-MISC and amend previous years' Forms W-2 to reflect compensation amounts not originally included on the forms. In addition, the board should require time sheets or other documentation for all payments to employees.

C. Ensure federal and state income taxes are properly withheld and remitted for any wages or salaries paid.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A&B. We agree and will implement.

C. We will look into this.

This report is intended for the information of the district's management and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

CITY OF LAKE LAFAYETTE, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-42
June 28, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

Some problems were discovered as a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to the request of petitioners from the City of Lake Lafayette, Missouri.

NOTE: Recommendations, as well as responses from the city, which correspond with the findings below are included in the audit.

The city has not adequately pursued the collection of delinquent property taxes. The city had delinquent tax bills totaling approximately $11,000 as of April 1999. It appears this amount represents the total amount of property taxes which have not been paid since the establishment of the city in 1994.

Formal collection procedures should be established related to delinquent property taxes and delinquent accounts should be pursued on a timely basis.

Annual reports are not prepared summarizing the amount of property taxes collected as well as those that remain delinquent, and the city has not established the annual property tax rates by ordinance as required by state law.

An annual maintenance plan for city streets has not been prepared. A formal maintenance plan should be prepared in conjunction with the annual fiscal budget and include a description of the roads to be worked on, the type of work to be performed, an estimate of the quantity and cost of materials needed, the dates such work could begin, the amount of labor required to perform the work, and other relevant information. The plan should be included in the budget message and be approved by the board. In addition, a public hearing should be held to obtain input from the city residents.

A formal maintenance plan would serve as a useful management tool and provide greater input into the overall budgeting process. Such a plan provides a means to more effectively monitor and evaluate the progress made in the repair and maintenance of streets throughout the year.

Bids were either not solicited or bid documentation was not retained for some expenditures. The city approved expenditures in excess of the approved budget for the General Fund. The city did not have formal written agreements for various contracted services.

-over-

The city purchased several items for the Lake Lafayette Landowners Association which resulted in sales tax not being properly paid. The association traded two tractors, which had previously been given to the city, without the city's approval. The city's written agreement with the association does not include provisions regarding the rental of the city hall building.

Accounting duties are not adequately segregated. Deposits are not made on a timely basis. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. The Mayor and Aldermen can sign checks, but are not bonded.

Semi-annual financial statements have not been published as required by state law. The board minutes are not signed by either the City Clerk or the Mayor.

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

To the Honorable Mayor
and
Board of Aldermen
City of Lake Lafayette
Lake Lafayette, Missouri 64076

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the city of Lake Lafayette, Missouri. Our audit of the city included, but was not limited to, the year ended September 30, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, ordinances, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, city policies and ordinances, and various city financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the city and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the city.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

CITY OF LAKE LAFAYETTE, MISSOURI
HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

The city was incorporated in 1994 as a fourth-class city and is located in Lafayette County. The population of the city is approximately 270.

The city government consists of a mayor and four-member board of aldermen. The four board members are elected in staggered elections for two-year terms. The mayor is elected for a two year term, presides over the board of aldermen, and votes only in the case of a tie. The Mayor, Board of Aldermen, and other principal officials at September 30, 1998, were:

Elected Officials	Term Expires	Actual Compensation for the Year Ended September 30,1998	Amount of Bond
Darrell Sunderland, Mayor (1)	April 1999	$ 0
Mike Betts, Alderman (2)	April 1999	0
Harold Evatt, Alderman	April 2000	0
Laura Mullins, Alderwoman	April 2000	0
John Silvers, Alderman (3)	April 1999	0

(1) Reelected in April 1999.
(2) Replaced Mike Loeffler who resigned in May 1998. Reelected in April 1999.
(3) Replaced Kirk Knabe who resigned in January 1998. Reelected in April 1999.

Other Principal Officials
Shirley Coon, City Clerk	0	$10,000
Bill Riley, Chief of Police/City Collector (4)	822
Chris Dorrance, City Attorney	1,965

(4) Burnice Johnston was hired to replace Bill Riley in December 1998.

In addition to the officials listed above, the city has six part-time employees.

Assessed valuation and tax rate information for tax years 1998 and 1997 are as follows:

ASSESSED VALUATION

	1998	1997
Real estate	$ 1,321,014	1,270,512
Personal property	274,119	246,384
Total	$ 1,595,133	1,516,898

TAX RATES PER $100 ASSESSED VALUATION

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

CITY OF LAKE LAFAYETTE, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Expenditures (pages 9-10)

   Bids were either not solicited or bid documentation was not retained for some expenditures. The city approved expenditures in excess of the approved budget for the General Fund. The city did not have formal written agreements for various contracted services.

2. Transactions With Landowners Association (pages 10-11)

   The city purchased several items for the Lake Lafayette Landowners Association which resulted in sales tax not being properly paid. The association traded two tractors, which had previously been given to the city, without the city's approval. The city's written agreement with the association does not include provisions regarding the rental of the city hall building.

3. Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 12-13)

   Accounting duties are not adequately segregated. Deposits are not made on a timely basis. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. The Mayor and Aldermen can sign checks, but are not bonded.

4. Property Tax Procedures (pages 13-14)

   Annual reports are not prepared summarizing the amount of property taxes collected as well as those that remain delinquent. The city has not adequately pursued the collection of delinquent property taxes. The city has not established the annual property tax rates by ordinance.

5. Financial Reporting and Minutes (pages 14-15)

   Semi-annual financial statements have not been published as required by state law. The board minutes are not signed by either the City Clerk or the Mayor.

6. Street Maintenance Plan (page 15)

   An annual maintenance plan for city streets has not been prepared.

1. Expenditures

A. The city has established a purchasing policy by ordinance which requires all purchases of supplies and contractual services to be competitively bid whenever possible. This policy requires the city to advertise for sealed competitive bids for any purchases of goods and services in an amount of $3,000 or more. According to city officials, bids are generally solicited by telephone; however, it appears documentation of bids received is not always retained. Bids were either not solicited or bid documentation was not retained for the following expenditures during the year ended September 30, 1998:

Gravel	$7,532
Gravel hauling	2,886
Mowing	720

Bidding procedures for major purchases provide a framework for economical management of city resources and help ensure the city receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidders. Competitive bidding also helps ensure all parties are given an opportunity to participate in the city's business. Complete documentation should be maintained of all bids received and the reason noted why the applicable bid was selected.

B. During the year ended September 30, 1998, the city approved expenditures in excess of the approved budget for the General Fund by approximately $500. The city did not prepare an amended budget nor did the city set forth any reason(s) for exceeding the budgeted amount in the board minutes or adopt a resolution authorizing the additional expenditures.

Section 67.040, RSMo 1994, requires political subdivisions to keep expenditures within amounts budgeted. If there are valid reasons which necessitate excess expenditures, a resolution should be adopted by the governing body setting forth the amount of the budget increase and the facts and reasons for such.

C. The city has not entered into written contracts for various contracted services received. For example, the city has not entered into formal written contracts for legal services or animal control.

Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, requires contracts of political subdivisions be in writing. The city should enter into written contracts for services rendered or obtained. A written contract, signed by the parties involved, should specify the services to be rendered and the manner and amount of compensation to be paid.

Written contracts are necessary to ensure all parties are aware of their duties and responsibilities and to provide protection to both parties.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Ensure bids are solicited for all applicable purchases in accordance with the city's purchasing policy. Documentation of the bidding process should be maintained in all cases. If the city believes it is not practical to obtain bids on certain purchases, documentation explaining the circumstances should be maintained.

B. Ensure expenditures are kept within budgeted amounts. If it is necessary to incur additional expenditures, a resolution setting forth the increase and reasons for such should be adopted.

C. Ensure formal written contracts are entered into for services obtained by the city.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-C. The Board of Aldermen concurs.

2. Transactions With Landowners Association

The property owners of the city pay annual dues to the Lake Lafayette Landowners Association (the association), a private not-for profit corporation. The association existed for a number of years prior to the city's incorporation and it appears the city has worked closely with this entity since the incorporation of the city in 1994. The association has responsibility for maintaining the parks and lakes within the city, while the city maintains the streets and provides law enforcement services. The association has helped support city operations by providing funding to the city. The city in turn, has paid the association for the use of certain association owned property. A review of the financial activity between the city and the association disclosed the following concerns:

A. During the year ended September 30, 1998, the city purchased several items for the association at a total cost of approximately $3,280. Most of this amount related to a piece of equipment for the association's road grader. The association reimbursed the city for the amount of these purchases. Because of the city's tax exempt status, the association effectively avoided paying sales tax on these purchases.

Although the Mayor indicated these purchases were not made in order that the association avoid paying sales taxes, the city should not allow such expenditures to be incurred using its sales tax-exempt status. Doing so violates the terms of the city's sales tax exemption letter.

B. In August 1995, the association and the city signed an agreement granting the city full title and ownership rights to two tractors owned by the association. The city has used the tractors to maintain the streets, and expended over $300 in repairs to the tractors during fiscal year 1998. However, in August 1998, the association traded these two tractors for another tractor without approval of the city. According to the Mayor, at the time of the trade the current city officials were unaware of this agreement, and did not know the city owned the tractors.

The city should ensure that equipment used by both the city and the association is clearly identified as to proper ownership and that those ownership rights are considered prior to the equipment being disposed of or traded.

C. The association owns the building which the city uses for its city hall and the city pays rent of $300 per month for the use of this building. Although the city and the association have entered into a written agreement documenting the services provided by the city, the amount of funding provided by the association, and the charges to be paid by the city to use the association's road grader, the city's rental of the city hall building is not included in the provisions of the agreement.

Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, requires all contracts of the city to be in writing. The city should review the current agreement with the association and revise it to include provisions regarding the rental of the city hall building and any other financial activity not addressed by the agreement.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Refrain from purchasing items for the association (or any other private entity or individual) which results in the payment of sales tax being avoided.

B. Ensure equipment used by both the city and the association is clearly identified as to proper ownership and that these ownership rights are considered prior to the equipment being disposed of or traded.

C. Review the formal agreement with the association and revise it to include provisions regarding the rental of the city hall building and any other financial activity not addressed by the agreement.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Board of Aldermen concurs.

B. The Board of Aldermen concurs. The board indicated it will establish and maintain an inventory of property owned by the city to help implement this recommendation.

C. The Board of Aldermen concurs and indicated it is in the process of implementing this recommendation.

3. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The City Clerk performs all accounting and record keeping duties of the city and essentially serves as City Treasurer and City Collector as well as City Clerk. While the Board of Aldermen has appointed the Chief of Police to serve as City Collector, it appears that individual is not involved in the accounting, collection, or record keeping of property taxes or any other revenues. The City Clerk collects all receipts, maintains receipt and disbursement records, makes bank deposits, co-signs checks, reconciles the bank accounts, and serves as secretary to the board.

Attorney General's Opinion No. 24, 1955 to Dodds, concluded that in a fourth-class city the holding of the positions of City Clerk, City Treasurer, and City Collector, or any two of these three offices, by the same person at the same time would be incompatible. Having one person responsible for the duties of all three of these offices does not allow the segregation of duties necessary for a proper evaluation and review of financial transactions. The current procedures jeopardize the system of independent checks and balances intended by state law.

If the duties cannot be adequately segregated, the board should ensure an independent review of the functions performed by the City Clerk is performed on a periodic basis. This review should include, but not necessarily be limited to, someone other than the City Clerk reviewing the cancelled checks, bank statements, and bank reconciliations, and comparing recorded receipts to bank deposits.

B. Deposits are not made on a timely basis. During the year ended September 30, 1998, deposits were generally made only three times a month, with deposits averaging over $1,000.

To adequately safeguard cash receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made on a daily basis or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Checks and money orders received are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. The Mayor and Aldermen are all authorized to co-sign checks. None of these individuals are bonded.

The city should consider reducing the number of individuals authorized to sign checks. In addition, failure to adequately bond all persons with access to assets exposes the city to risk of loss.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Consider appointing separate individuals to be responsible for the duties of the City Collector and City Treasurer. If this is not possible, at a minimum, procedures for an adequate independent review of the record keeping functions should be established.

B. Ensure deposits are made on a daily basis or when accumulated receipts exceeds $100.

C. Ensure checks and money orders are restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. Consider reducing the number of individuals authorized to sign checks and obtain bond coverage for any city officials with check signing authority.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Board of Aldermen indicated it will establish an independent periodic review of the records.

B. The Board of Aldermen indicated it will try to ensure monies are deposited on a timely basis.

C. The Board of Aldermen indicated this recommendation has already been implemented.

D. The Board of Aldermen indicated the number of authorized check signers has already been reduced and it will consider obtaining bond coverage for all those individuals.

4. Property Tax Procedures

A. The City Clerk's duties include collecting and depositing property tax receipts. Annual reports are not prepared summarizing the amount of property taxes collected as well as those that remain delinquent.

Sections 79.310, 94.320, and 94.330, RSMo 1994, require reports to be submitted to the board of aldermen indicating the amount of taxes collected and taxes remaining delinquent. The board is to examine and approve the lists and charge the tax collector with the collection of the delinquent taxes. Section 94.330, RSMo 1994, also provides that the board may declare worthless any and all personal delinquent taxes which they may deem uncollectible.

Annual reports which comply with state law would help provide assurance taxes have been properly collected, written off, or determined to be delinquent.

B. The city has not adequately pursued the collection of delinquent property taxes. The city had delinquent tax bills totaling approximately $11,000 as of April 1999. It appears this amount represents the total amount of property taxes which have not been paid since the establishment of the city in 1994.

To help ensure prompt collection of property taxes, the city should establish formal procedures regarding the collection of delinquent property taxes. This might include the advertisement and sale of the applicable real estate as provided under Chapter 140, RSMo 1994.

C. The city has not established the annual property tax rates by ordinance as required by Section 94.210, RSMo 1994.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Require annual reports of property taxes collected and delinquent be prepared as required by state law.

B. Ensure formal collection procedures related to delinquent property tax bills are established and that delinquent accounts are pursued on a timely basis.

C. Establish the annual property tax levy by ordinance as required by state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-B. The Board of Aldermen concurs.

C. The Board of Aldermen concurs and indicated this recommendation was implemented for 1999.

5. Financial Reporting and Minutes

A. The city has not published semi-annual financial statements as required by state law. Section 79.160, RSMo 1994, requires the board of aldermen to prepare and publish semi-annual financial statements. These financial statements are to include a statement of receipts and expenditures and indebtedness of the city for the preceding six month period. In addition, Section 79.165 RSMo 1994, states the city cannot legally disburse funds until the financial statement is published.

B. Board minutes are prepared by the City Clerk; however, they are not signed by either the City Clerk or the Mayor. The board minutes should be signed by the City Clerk as preparer and by the Mayor to provide an independent attestation that the minutes are a correct record of the matters discussed and actions taken during the board's meetings.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen:

A. Ensure semiannual financial statements are published in accordance with state law.

B. Ensure board minutes are properly signed by the City Clerk and the Mayor to attest to their completeness and accuracy.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-B. The Board of Aldermen concurs.

6. Street Maintenance Plan

An annual maintenance plan for city streets has not been prepared. A formal maintenance plan should be prepared in conjunction with the annual fiscal budget and include a description of the roads to be worked on, the type of work to be performed, an estimate of the quantity and cost of materials needed, the dates such work could begin, the amount of labor required to perform the work, and other relevant information. The plan should be included in the budget message and be approved by the board. In addition, a public hearing should be held to obtain input from the city residents.

A formal maintenance plan would serve as a useful management tool and provide greater input into the overall budgeting process. Such a plan provides a means to more effectively monitor and evaluate the progress made in the repair and maintenance of streets throughout the year.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Aldermen prepare a formal maintenance plan for city streets at the beginning of the fiscal year and periodically update the plan throughout the year. In addition, the board should review the progress made in the repair and maintenance of streets to make appropriate decisions on future projects.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Board of Aldermen concurs.

This report is intended for the information of the city's management and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

ST. CHARLES R-VI SCHOOL DISTRICT

ST. CHARLES COUNTY, MISSOURI

YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-41
June 28, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

The following findings are a result of an audit conducted by our office in response to the request of petitioners from the St. Charles R-VI School District, in St. Charles County, Missouri. The Yellow Sheet points out those findings the state auditor found particularly noteworthy.

During the last five years, the district has experienced growth in the revenues and expenditures of its operating funds. Despite the growth in district revenues, the district has spent more than it received three out of the last five years resulting in a decline of ending balances in its operating funds.

During the two years ended June 30, 1998, the district was designated "Financially Stressed" by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE). "Financially Stressed" means the district's operating fund balances are below three percent of the expenditures in its operating funds.

Prior to the 1998-99 school year, the district entered into agreements with the teachers, administrators, and support staff that required the school district to distribute as supplemental payments to all three groups any "excess balances" in excess of five percent in the operating funds at the end of the year. The district distributed approximately $667,000 in September 1995 for "excess balances" accumulated during the 1994-95 school year. The restrictive agreements prevented the district from accumulating reserves in excess of five percent in the operating funds.

By maintaining such small ending balances in the operating funds, the district severely limited its ability to handle any unexpected shortfalls in revenue or unforseen expense. To ensure the district resources are adequate, the district should develop adequate reserves and review any restrictive agreements that limit the district's operating balances.

The district did a poor job budgeting and monitoring its financial position for the 1996-97 school year. The district has done a better job monitoring its financial position beginning with the 1997-98 school year and utilizing the budget document as a tool to monitor and control district finances. Financial reports currently identify the district's financial position and any significant changes that are reflected in board approved budget adjustments. The approved 1998-99 budget projects balances in operating funds will be sufficient to remove the district from being categorized as "Financially Stressed".

Although improvement has been noted, the district continues to have some problems documenting approval of all change orders and work orders to its construction projects. The district has an informal policy stating board approval is necessary for all change orders and work orders.

YELLOW SHEET

(over)

The written policy allows the Superintendent to approve any change orders or work orders not exceeding $25,000 with a report to follow at the next scheduled board meeting. During our review, we noted four change orders and work orders, totaling $61,800, which had not been approved by the school board. Three of the orders had been approved by the Superintendent; however, there was no board approval as required by district policy.

The district hired a firm to serve as both the architect and construction manager for all of its construction projects. This situation did not allow for an independent review of designs.

Bids were not obtained or bid documentation was not kept for several of the district's purchases, including its transportation contract, the finishing work of the district's building trade house, and the lease of modular units used for temporary classrooms.

In regard to the modular units, had the district lease-purchased or purchased the units, the district could have saved between $181,000 and $203,000 on one lease and approximately $185,000 on a second lease.

Our review of the district also found that the administrators' salary schedule is not utilized by the district. Improvements are needed for procedures dealing with the distribution of intent letters to teachers, and documentation of employee termination records.

About the District:

The district operates two high schools (9-12), two middle schools (6-8), and seven elementary schools (K-5), an area vocational technical school, an administrative/adult education-customized training center, maintenance and receiving center and a building for an "at-risk" program. Enrollment was approximately 6,620 for the 1997-98 school year. The district employees approximately 716 full and part-time employees, including 25 administrators, 470 teachers, and 221 support staff.

STATE AUDITOR'S REPORT

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

To the Board of Education
St. Charles R-VI School District
St. Charles County, MO 63303

The State Auditor was petitioned under Section 29.230, RSMo, to audit the St. Charles R-VI School District. The school board had engaged Wade, Stables, Schanbacher and Walker, P.C., Certified Public Accountants (CPAs), to perform an audit of the district for the year ended June 30, 1998. To minimize any duplication of effort, we reviewed the report and substantiating workpapers of the CPA. Our audit of the school district included, but was not limited to, the year ended June 30, 1998. The objectives of this audit were to:

1. Perform procedures we deemed necessary to evaluate the petitioners' concerns.

2. Review compliance with certain constitutional provisions, statutes, and attorney general's opinions as we deemed necessary or appropriate in the circumstances.

3. Review certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

Our audit was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. We also reviewed board minutes, school district policies, and various school district financial records.

Our audit was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on the selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention which would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization and Appendices are presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the district and its audited financial reports and was not subjected to auditing procedures applied during our audit of the district.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

ST. CHARLES R-VI SCHOOL DISTRICT
ST. CHARLES COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

The St. Charles R-VI School District is located in northeast St. Charles County and covers approximately 17 square miles.

The district operates two high schools (9-12), two middle schools (6-8), and seven elementary schools (K-5), an area vocational technical school, an administrative/adult education-customized training center, maintenance and receiving center and a building for an "at-risk" program. Enrollment was approximately 6,620 for the 1997-98 school year. The district employs approximately 716 full and part-time employees, including 25 administrators, 470 teachers, and 221 support staff.

St. Charles R-VI School District has been classified under the Missouri School Improvement Program as "Accredited" by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education.

A seven-member Board elected for three-year terms, serves without compensation as the policy-making body for the district's operations. Members of the Board at June 30, 1998 and their current terms of office are:

Name and Position	Current Term Expires
Dr. Wayne Oetting, President (1)	April 1999
Dennis Black, Vice President (2)	April 2001
Jerry Reese, Secretary (1)	April 1999
Diane Rallo, Treasurer	April 2000
Marta Baier, Member (3)	April 1999
Jan Beardsley, Member (4)	April 2001
Brian Bredensteiner, Member	April 2000

Other Principal Officials	Annual Compensation
Dr. Terry Holder, Superintendent	$ 105,000 (5)
Dr. Ed Musgrove, Assistant Superintendent of Human Resources/Building and Grounds	83,000
Wayne Brower, Assistant Superintendent of Business	72,500
Dr. John Urkevich, Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum	79,847
Dr. Roberta Brennan, Director of Student Services	69,198

(1) Re-elected in April 1999 to another three-year term.
(2) Dennis Black was elected Board President after the April 1999 election.
(3) Dennis Hahn was elected to the board in April 1999, replacing Marta Baier.
(4) Elected to the board in April 1998, replacing Jean Meyer. Jan Beardsley was elected Board Vice President after the April 1999 election.
(5) The Superintendent also received a $9,500 annuity.

Assessed valuation and tax rate information for the school district were as follows:

	1998	1997
Assessed Valuation	$551,904,343	$497,101,899
Tax Rate	4.01	4.06

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

ST. CHARLES R-VI SCHOOL DISTRICT
ST. CHARLES COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Financial Condition (pages 10-12)

   The district has experienced a decline in the financial condition of its operating funds (General Fund and Special Revenue Fund) and has been designated a "Financially Stressed" school district by the Department of Elementary and Secondary Education for the two years ended June 30, 1998.

2. Construction Projects (pages 12-14)

   Although improvement has been noted, the district continues to have some problems documenting approval of all change orders and work orders to its construction projects. In addition, the district did not retain bid documentation at the district on the construction projects.

3. Architect and Construction Manager (pages 14-15)

   The district hired a firm to serve as both the architectural firm and construction management firm. This situation did not allow for an independent review of the design. In addition, the district entered into a contract with the firm that required all payments to be made through the construction management firm, instead of directly to the contractors providing the actual construction work.

4. Expenditures (pages 15-18)

   Bids were not obtained or bid documentation retained for several of the district's purchases, including the transportation contract, the lease of the modular units, and finishing work of the district's building trade house. Written agreements were not obtained for some professional services. Supporting documentation was not adequate for some expenditures.

5. Budgeting Procedures (pages 18-20)

   The district overspent its approved budget amounts in various funds during the last several years. The district's budget for the year ended June 30, 1997, did not present an accurate estimate for the financial activity of the district and contained numerous errors and inconsistencies.

6. Modular Unit Lease Agreements (pages 20-21)

   The district did not adequately review the options for the modular classrooms. The district leased the units and paid almost as much had the district purchased the units outright. The lease agreement required the district to return the units at district expense totaling approximately $98,000.

7. Personnel Procedures (pages 21-22)

The district's administrators' salary schedule is not utilized by the district. Improvements are needed in the district's procedures for sending letter of intent to teachers and documenting employee termination records with the district. The district does not have a policy prohibiting employees being supervised by their relatives.

8. Petty Cash and Soda Machine Funds (pages 23-24)

Improvements are needed with the accounting controls over the district's petty cash and soda machine monies.

ST. CHARLES R-VI SCHOOL DISTRICT
ST CHARLES COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Financial Condition

During the last five years, the district has experienced growth in the revenues and expenditures of the operating funds (General Fund and Special Revenue Fund). Despite the growth in district revenues, the district has spent more than it received three out of the last five years resulting in a decline of the district's ending balance. A review of the financial condition of the district's operating funds indicates the district's operating fund balances have declined over the past several years as shown below:

	Year Ended June 30,
	1998	1997	1996	1995	1994
Beginning balance	$ 559,271	1,996,881	2,307,121	1,737,403	2,293,207
Receipts	43,546,868	40,626,197	39,393,246	36,678,588	34,603,685
Expenditures	(42,928,679)	(41,858,540)	(39,619,948)	(35,970,800)	(35,160,201)
Net Transfers	(224,508)	(205,267)	(83,538)	(138,070)	712
Ending balance	$ 952,952	559,271	1,996,881	2,307,121	1,737,403
Ending Balance as a Percentage of Expenditures	2.22%	1.34%	5.04%	6.41%	4.94%

During the two years ended June 30, 1998, the district was designated "Financially Stressed" by the Missouri Department of Elementary and Secondary Education (DESE). "Financially Stressed" means the district's balances of its operating funds are below three percent of the expenditures in its operating funds. During our review of the financial condition of the district, the following areas were noted that contributed to the overall financial decline of the district:

A. Prior to the 1998-99 school year, the district entered into agreements with the teachers, administrators, and support staff that required the school district to distribute as supplemental payments to the teachers, administration, and support staff any "excess balances" in excess of five percent in the operating funds at the end of the year. The district distributed approximately $667,000 in September 1995 for "excess balances" accumulated during the 1994-95 school year. The restrictive agreements prevented the district from accumulating reserves in excess of five percent in the operating funds.

By maintaining such small ending balances in the operating funds, the district has severely limited its ability to handle any unexpected shortfall in revenue or unforseen expense. To ensure district resources are adequate, the district should develop adequate reserves and review any restrictive agreements that limit the district's operating balances.

B. The district did a poor job budgeting and monitoring its financial position for the 1996-97 school year. As shown below, the district did not make the necessary adjustments to maintain an adequate ending fund balance.

	Year Ended June 30, 1997
General Fund	Original Budget	Actual	Difference
Beginning balance	$ 1,446,788	1,552,300	105,512
Revenue	16,551,548	18,556,064	2,004,516
Expenditures	(16,512,552)	(18,626,261)	(2,113,709)
Transfers	0	(922,832)	(922,832)
Ending balance	$ 1,485,784	559,271	(926,513)
Special Revenue Fund
Beginning balance	$ 432,875	444,581	11,706
Revenue	22,519,683	22,070,133	(449,550)
Expenditures	(23,022,680)	(23,232,279)	(209,599)
Transfers	0	717,565	717,565
Ending balance	$ (70,122)	0	70,122

The budget is an important document for a school district. It provides a definite financial policy for the operations of the district and must be prepared carefully and thoroughly to encompass the broad spectrum of events and activities which occur during a fiscal year. Further, a complete and well-planned budget, in addition to meeting statutory requirements, can serve as a useful management tool by establishing cost expectations for each area and provide a means to effectively monitor actual costs. By properly monitoring the budget, the district can compare revenue and expenditure projections to actual results and make appropriate changes as needed.

The district has demonstrated a better job monitoring the financial position of the district beginning with the 1997-98 school year and utilizing the budget document as a tool to monitor and control the district finances. Financial reports currently identify the district's financial position and any significant changes that are reflected in board approved budget adjustments. The approved 1998-99 budget projects that the district balances will be sufficient in the operating funds to no longer be designated "Financially Stressed".

WE RECOMMEND the School Board develop adequate balances in the district's operating funds and review any restrictive agreements that prevent the district from establishing reasonable balances. In addition, the district needs to continue to develop annual budgets that more accurately reflect the district's anticipated activity. The district should monitor the district's financial position in a timely manner and make any necessary adjustments to ensure compliance with the district's financial constraints.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The district will end the 1998-99 fiscal year with an approximate balance of $2,000,000 and is "on target" to meet the Board's goal of a nine percent balance by the end of the fiscal year 2002-2003 (based on the statutory formula for determining financial stress). A $450,000 surplus has been planned in the 1999-2000 budget. The district is projected to end the fiscal year with a six percent balance. All restrictive language has been eliminated from the current "meet and confer" agreement. In addition, the district has made significant modifications to the early retirement incentive and pay for unused sick leave plans that it feels will have a positive effect on district reserves.

B. District personnel did monitor the budget for 1996-97. District officials began expressing concerns to the Board as early as January 1997 concerning the potential overstatement of revenues and understatement of expenditures as presented in the original budget. Although the potential for the district to experience a significant reduction in fund balances was identified, the solution to stabilizing fund balances would have required a massive reduction in force during the middle of the academic year. This was not a feasible alternative because of the detrimental effect on the district's students.

2. Construction Projects

Bond issues, totaling approximately $33.6 million were approved by the voters in 1993, 1994, 1996, and 1997 for the renovation and construction of various school facilities. In May 1997, the district engaged Hochschild, Bloom & Company LLP, Certified Public Accounts (CPAs) to perform a review of the revenues and expenditures relating to these bond issues. We reviewed the report, dated June 30, 1997, and substantiating workpapers of the CPA, as well as projects which had not been completed at the time of the auditor's report. Our review noted the following areas of concern:

A. Bid documentation was not retained by the district for the "Building C" portion of the St. Charles County High School (SCHS). The district sought bids from various contractors for steel and erection, carpentry, roofing and sheet metal, flooring, HVAC, plumbing, fire protection, and electrical work. The district has listed the bids received from various vendors; however, the original bid documentation was not retained. In addition, the district advertised for these bids; however, the documentation to support the bid advertisement was not retained by the district. Upon request, the district obtained the applicable bid documents and bid advertisement from their construction management firm.

Section 177.086, RSMo 1997 Supp., requires that school districts advertise bids for construction of facilities which may exceed an expenditure of $12,500. In addition, bidding procedures for construction projects provide a framework for economical management of school district resources and help assure the district that it receives fair value by contracting with the lowest and best bidder. Documentation of bids should always be retained as evidence of the district's established bidding procedures and to show statutory requirements are followed.

B. Although recommended in the independent accountants' report, the district still does not properly approve all change orders and work orders. The district has an informal policy which requires board approval for all change orders and work orders. The written policy allows the Superintendent to approve any change orders or work orders not exceeding $25,000, with a report to follow at the next scheduled board meeting. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to change and work orders:

1) Change orders and work orders were not always properly approved by the school board. During our review, we noted four change orders and work orders, totaling $61,800, which had not been approved by the school board. Three of the orders had been approved by the Superintendent; however, there was no board approval as required by district policy.

2) Work orders signed by the Superintendent, construction manager, and contractor cannot always be located in the district files. The district has indicated that they did not begin signing and retaining work orders until the beginning of the "Building C" construction project; however, we noted one work order relating to this project, in the amount of $11,756, which could not be located in district files.

The Board should authorize all significant changes to construction contracts to ensure any additional expenditures represent valid and appropriate costs to the district.

Adequate documentation of the change and work orders should be retained by the district to document the purpose and amount of the order, as well as to document the district's approval and compliance with board policy. Board approval of the change and work orders should be documented in the board meeting minutes.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Ensure all bid documentation is received and retained by the district.

B.1. Ensure all change orders and work orders are approved by the school board as required by board policy.

2. Ensure work orders are supported by a written document signed by the Superintendent.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. All bid documentation will be received and retained by the district at its central office rather than storing the documents at the architect's office.

B. Prior to January 1997, there is evidence that no change/work orders were reported to the Board. Policy FEF was revised in July 1997, to give the Superintendent the flexibility of approving change/work orders not to exceed $25,000, with a report to follow at the next scheduled Board meeting. Board policy FEF has been followed without exception; however, it has been the practice of the current administration to report and seek board approval of all change/work orders. Since implementation of this procedure, only four (4) change/work orders totaling $61,800 were reported to the Board, but inadvertently omitted for Board approval. When the omission was subsequently discovered, the administration resubmitted the change/work orders for approval by the Board. The district has since changed the board meeting agenda format to ensure the board will approve all change orders and work orders. The old format was more conducive to having items inadvertently omitted as follow-up action items after the initial discussion. In the case of the four, work and change orders cited by the study, the items were discussed and verbally approved by the board but were not included on the agenda as a formal action item.

The district will continue its current procedure and plans to amend policy FEF to reflect reporting and seeking board approval of all change/work orders.

3. Architect and Construction Manager

The district engaged a firm to provide architect and engineering services as well as construction management services for all of its construction projects. Under the contracts, dated October 1994, the district pays the firm 5 1/4% of the project costs for architect and engineering fees, and 8 1/4% of the project costs for construction management fees. The district has paid the firm approximately $4 million for architect and engineering services and construction management services since 1993 related to the bond issue projects. Our review of the construction management of the projects noted the following areas of concern:

A. By allowing the same firm to provide these services, the architect was monitoring the accuracy and adequacy of its own design work. This situation did not allow for an independent review of the design. An independent review is essential to ensure that design inadequacies are appropriately revealed, reported, and corrected.

B. The district entered into a contract with the firm to require all payments for construction activity be made through the firm. The contractors for each project received payment from the school district through the architect/construction manager. The method of paying the contractors in this manner placed the district at risk of loss. It appears that under this process, the school district would have been liable had the architect/construction manager failed to pay the contractors. In addition, the architect/construction manager was not required to carry a bond to insure payment to the contractors in case of default.

The district should ensure that future contracts provide for direct payments from the district to the contractors to reduce their liability.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Retain an independent person or firm to perform construction management duties.

B. Ensure future contracts provide for direct payment from the district to the contractors.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The district will employ two separate firms to perform architectural and construction management duties for future projects.

B. Instead of signing a standard AIA (American Institute of Architects) contract, as it has in the past, the district will use its own contractual agreement, developed by the district's attorney, to protect the district's interest and from being at risk of loss. The contract will specify that vendors shall be paid directly by the district.

4. Expenditures

A. The school district does not always solicit bids or retain adequate bid documentation for major purchases. The district's bidding policy states that a formal bidding process shall be used for projected expenditures of $12,500 or greater for supplies, materials and equipment. The policy also states that any item with a purchase price of at least $1,000, but less than $12,500 must have at least three telephone or written quotes from vendors. The bidding procedures to be followed based on the type and size of the purchase, are also indicated in the policy. The following are examples of purchases for which the district did not follow a bid process or did not retain adequate bid documentation:

1) The district contracts with a transit company for transportation of its pupils. The district selected this company through a bid process and entered into a contract with the company covering the period of July 1994 to June 1999. In March 1998, the district negotiated another five year contract with the company. During the year ended June 30, 1998, payments totaling approximately $1,352,000 were made to the company.

During the original selection process, the district documented that it received bids from four different transportation companies; however, that bid documentation cannot be located. In addition, the district indicated that it negotiated a second five year contract with the company, rather than rebidding the services because they believed a lower rate could be obtained through negotiations rather than bids. Without periodically bidding transportation services, the district cannot ensure it is paying the lowest and best rate.

2) From April 1995 to July 1998, the district leased 13 modular units at a total cost to the district of approximately $416,000. The district's bid tabulation sheets noted bids were solicited from three leasing companies; however, only one of the bids could be located.

3) The district paid an individual $4,865 in April 1998 to perform finishing work on a house built by the building trades class. Quotes were not solicited for the finishing work and there was no documentation supporting the reasons for selecting this individual.

The district's purchasing procedures could be made more effective by following the adopted bidding policy. Written documentation of bids also provides evidence that the board has complied with its policy. Bid documentation should include a list of vendors contacted, a copy of the bid specifications, copies of all bids received, justification for awarding the bid, and documentation of discussions with vendors.

B. The school district did not always enter into written contracts defining services to be provided and benefits to be received. During our review, we noted the following expenditures which were not supported by written agreements:

Item	Cost
Taxi transportation	$ 96,488
Legal services	92,105
Labor for finishing a house	4,865
Customized training consultant	4,560

Written contracts, signed by the parties involved, should specify the services to be rendered and the manner and amount of compensation to be paid. Written contracts are necessary to ensure all parties are aware of their duties and responsibilities and to prevent misunderstandings. In addition, Section 432.070, RSMo 1994, requires contracts for political subdivisions to be in writing.

C. In some instances payments were processed without a sufficiently detailed invoice or other adequate supporting documentation. Examples include a payment in the amount of $8,999 for legal fees, and the $4,865 payment to the individual noted in A.3. above. Invoices submitted for both payments did not include an itemized listing of the work performed and the related hours being billed, nor were the invoices detailed enough to allow the district to verify the accuracy of the invoices.

To ensure the validity and propriety of the expenditures approved for payment, adequate documentation of services being billed should be obtained.

D. Invoices were maintained at the schools and not submitted to the Superintendent's office for some expenditures made from the student activity funds. For some expenditures reviewed, the only documentation available at the Superintendent's office was a purchase order form prepared by the individual school requesting the funds. The district's student activity funds management policy states that the Superintendent's office shall present to the school board for approval, only those bills for which there is a copy on file at the Superintendent's office, an itemized invoice and a signed copy of the purchase order to indicate the merchandise has been received and is acceptable. Without this documentation, the Superintendent's office cannot adequately review the expenditure for propriety and accuracy.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Establish more specific bid policies and procedures which require formal solicitation of bids for all major purchases including criteria as to how bids are to be solicited. In addition, documentation of bids received and the bid process should be maintained.

B. Enter into written agreements with all parties that clearly detail the work to be performed and the compensation to be paid or benefits received.

C. Require adequately detailed original invoices containing approval and indication of receipt of goods or services be on file before processing payments.

D. Ensure adequate documentation for all student activity fund expenditures be submitted to the Superintendent's office before processing.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Board policies DJC and DJC-AP adequately address contracts for purchase of supplies, materials, equipment and major repairs. The district will add procedures for contracts regarding purchased services. Documentation for all bids received will be maintained by the central office. Bids for transportation are not required by statute and, based on district administrators' research, it was concluded that a zero (-0-) percent increase in the cost per run for 1998-99 and a four-percent (4%) increase for the 1999-00, 2000-01, 2001-02 and 2002-03, respectively, could not be improved upon by seeking bids.

B. Written agreements will clearly detail the work to be performed and compensation to be paid or benefits received.

C. The district currently requires detailed original invoices containing approval and indication of receipt of most goods or services to be on file before processing payments. The specific service providers cited in the audit will be contacted and a detailed original invoice will be required before processing payments.

D. It is not feasible for all invoices to be maintained at the central office (especially for student activity accounts). All student activity invoices must be approved by the building principal and building financial secretary prior to being sent to the central office for payment; therefore, the district will change policy IGDG-R to reflect returning invoices related to student activity purchases to the appropriate building.

5. Budgeting Procedures

A. For the three years ended June 30, 1998, the district overspent approved budget amounts in various funds. For the year ended June 30, 1996 actual expenditures exceeded final budgeted expenditures in the General Revenue and Debt Service Funds by $361,351 and $605,164, respectively. The district overspent approved final budget amounts in the General Revenue Fund by $8,821 during the year ended June 30, 1997.

Beginning in July 1997, the district implemented procedures to monitor the budget on a monthly basis and budget adjustments are currently approved by the school board. Although the district has made improvements in this area, the district overspent the budget in the Capital Projects Fund by $42,778 during the year ended June 30, 1998. These concerns were also noted by the district's independent auditors.

The budget process provides a means to allocate financial resources in advance. Failure to adhere to the expenditure limits imposed by the budgets weakens the effectiveness of this process. Section 67.040, RSMo 1994, allows for budget increases, but only after the governing body officially adopts a resolution setting forth the facts and reasons. Section 67.080, RSMo 1994, provides that no expenditure of public monies shall be made unless it is authorized in the budget. The School Board should require that timely budget to actual comparisons are received and reviewed prior to approving expenditures.

B. There were numerous errors and inconsistencies in the district's budget documents for the year ended June 30, 1997. Differences were noted between amounts presented on the budget document summary page located in the front of the budget, the itemized budget pages in the body of the budget document, and in the amounts actually approved by the board.

1) The School Board adopted the 1996-97 budget on June 13, 1996. The board minutes note the approved budget expenditures totaled $48,046,923. Although the total reflected in the board information was the same amount, the individual amounts listed by fund totaled $48,168,916, a difference of $121,933.

2) Other differences were as follows:

Budgeted	Amount Approved by Board	Budget Budget Document	Document Summary
Receipts	$ N/A	40,725,893	41,666,920
Expenditures	48,046,923	41,845,818	51,287,690

3) The district tracks the budget versus actual expenditures on the computer system. For the year ended June 30, 1997, the district computer system reflected budgeted amounts of $51,480,011 for all funds. This amount does not agree to the budget document summary, itemized expenditures per the budget document, or the amount approved by the board.

Without sufficient, accurate, and complete budget documentation, the district cannot adequately monitor its compliance with the budget. An accurate budget is essential for effective financial planning.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Ensure expenditures for individual funds do not exceed the amounts approved in the budget, unless proper and timely amendments are made prior to the expenditures.

B. Ensure the budget document is accurate and complete and agrees to the budget amounts approved by the school board. In addition, the district should ensure the budget amounts approved by the board are correctly entered into the computer and used to track expenditures.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. In addition to its current practice of monitoring the budget and presenting monthly budget adjustments to the Board for approval, the district will recommend that the Board approve a budget amendment to adjust all budget figures to actual at each of its June meetings. This will eliminate the possibility of having an insignificant overage in a fund. When budgets are closely monitored and reflect realistic expenditures, a fund can be inadvertently exceeded by an insignificant amount in June when it is too late to get approval by the Board for an adjustment prior to the end of the fiscal year. The district feels this is a more desirable option than inflating expenditures to avoid insignificant overages. Any significant adjustments which could indicate poor budgeting practices would be noted by the annual audit performed by an independent auditing firm.

B. Since 1997-98, the budget document has been accurate, complete and agrees to the budget amounts approved by the Board. During the same time frame, budget amounts have been accurately entered into the computer and used to track expenditures. The assistant superintendent for business services and two district bookkeepers independently confirm amounts listed in the budget, general ledger report and all budget adjustments prior to presentation to the Board.

6. Modular Unit Lease Agreements

In April 1995, the district entered into a three year lease agreement for modular classrooms to use while the district was renovating facilities. The district entered into another lease agreement for additional modular units in May 1996. This lease covered a twelve month period, and was later extended to a month to month basis. The leasing of the units cost the district a total of $415,912 through June 1998.

A. The district was given the opportunity to purchase, lease, or lease purchase the units when they began reviewing their options for the temporary classrooms. It appears the district did not adequately evaluate the options to purchase or lease purchase the units. The district paid a total of $229,529 in lease payments and costs to return the units for the first lease. These units could have been purchased by the district for $223,152 or lease purchased for $245,557. Had the district retained ownership of the units, the vendor indicated the units could have been sold for approximately $197,000 at the end of the lease period. By lease purchasing or purchasing the units, the district could have saved between $181,000 and $203,000. In addition, for the second lease, the district paid a total of $186,383 for the lease payments and costs to return the units. The district paid more than 64 percent of the $291,025 purchase price of the units, which were leased for less than two years. Had the district purchased these units, the district would have been able to sell them for approximately $290,000 according to the vendor, thereby saving approximately $185,000.

   The district should adequately plan and consider all options to ensure the district receives the most financial benefit.

B. The lease agreement required the district to return the units at the district's cost to a location, to be designated by the lessor, within the continental United States upon termination of the lease. The district paid approximately $98,000 (included in the total costs of $415,912) in dismantling and relocating costs related to the classroom units.

Prior to entering into the first lease agreement in April 1995, the district's attorney advised them of the potential high costs of the return of the units, as required by the lease agreement. It appears the district did not adequately consider the total costs of the lease before signing the lease. Contract requirements should be closely evaluated and considered when determining the financial impact of the agreement.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board carefully review all contractual agreements to ensure the district receives the best financial benefit for the cost.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

All contractual lease agreements will be reviewed by the Board (or its designee) to ensure the district receives the best financial benefit for the cost.

7. Personnel Procedures

A. On March 17, 1994, the school board adopted a salary schedule for all administrators in the district except for the superintendent. Effective for the 1996-97 school year, administrators were given an increase in pay; however, the salary schedule was not updated.

The district is currently not using the adopted administrators' salary schedule. When a new administrator is hired, the salary is negotiated rather than determined by a salary schedule. It appears the adopted schedule is no longer beneficial to the district or used for its intended purpose.

B. Each year, prior to approving teacher contracts, the school board issues letters of intent to district teachers notifying them of its intent to continue their employment for the next school year. Our review of the 1998-99 letters of intent distributed to the teachers noted that several letters were issued to individuals that were no longer employed by the district, including teachers who had terminated employment at the end of the 1995-96 school year.

Our review of the district's procedures for preparing the letters of intent noted a lack of procedures to ensure the accuracy of the letters before distribution.

C. Upon termination of a district employee, the building principal is to prepare a personnel change notice. The personnel change notice is approved by the Assistant Superintendent for Human Resources and the School Board, and forwarded to the payroll department, authorizing the removal of the individual from the payroll system.

Our review of files for employees who were no longer employed with the district, noted many instances in which a personnel change notice was not prepared upon the employee's termination. Payroll department employees indicated that they usually remove an employee from the payroll system based on board agendas, verbal notice from Human Resources, or a letter from the building principal. The failure to prepare the personnel change notice increases the risk that an unauthorized payroll transaction can occur.

D. The district does not have a policy prohibiting employees being supervised by their relatives. The Maintenance Supervisor directly supervises a maintenance employee that is related to him. As a result, the supervisor approves the time sheets and overtime of his relative. This situation of providing direct supervision of a relative provides for an appearance of a conflict of interest. A supervisor should be independent of the employee to provide for an assurance of fairness to all employees and adherence to district policies.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Evaluate the need for the adopted administrators' salary schedule and make appropriate changes to the schedule.

B. Ensure procedures are established to ensure letters of intent are only sent to applicable employees.

C. Ensure a personnel change notice is prepared, approved, and submitted to payroll for each terminated employee.

D. Adopt a policy prohibiting an employee from supervising a relative.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The Board rescinded the previous administrators' salary schedule at the regular March 1999 meeting.

B. The district has updated its Pentamation software and personnel data entries to ensure that only active certificated employees are considered for any contract or salary negotiations' considerations. The district can utilize the same program as referenced above for accurate mailings to support staff personnel but has not incorporated all salary schedules since they are still being developed through the formal meet and confer process.

C. Both the human resources and payroll/benefits department personnel have coordinated their efforts to ensure that the personnel change notices are accurately and completely filled out by all building administrators, directors or supervisors. All district administrators have been notified of their obligation to have the notice on file before any payroll or benefit changes are executed.

The only area still needing attention is for the short-term substituting incidents which occur without enough notice or warning for the administration to effectively fulfill the educational and support functions within their respective buildings. Unless the temporary assignment or substituting exceeds thirty (30) days, the change will be reflected on that individual's time sheet which is reviewed and signed by the building administrator or supervisor.

D. Current statutes and board policy only address the issue of nepotism for board members. It is not unusual for administrators or supervisors to evaluate relatives working within their building or areas of concern such as maintenance and other support staff positions. The Board may direct at its discretion any rules or regulations deemed appropriate for this issue. This is entirely a local governance issue. However, the Board will review the policy dealing with employees supervising relatives.

8. Petty Cash and Soda Machine Funds

A. Each school maintains its own petty cash fund, ranging from approximately $50 to $100. Although the district policy requires petty cash funds to be maintained on an imprest basis, some of the funds are not. In addition, ledgers are not maintained on some funds to document all transactions and there is often no independent review of the funds to ensure they are being maintained properly.

Invoices should be maintained for all petty cash expenditures and the funds should be operated on an imprest basis, meaning that cash and the invoices should always total the established balances, and checks issued to replenish the funds should equal the amount of invoices. Ledgers of all petty cash fund transactions should be maintained. Periodically, the funds should be counted and reconciled to the imprest balance by an independent person to ensure the funds are being accounted for properly, to detect any errors, and to help prevent these monies from being misused.

B. The district operates several soda and vending machines throughout the various school buildings. Custodians or other district employees are responsible for replenishing the machines and emptying the change from the machines on a periodic basis. The monies are turned over to designated individuals in the buildings who count and deposit the monies.

An independent party does not periodically reconcile the amount of soda and other items purchased and remaining in inventory with receipts from the sale of the soda and other items. Failure to reconcile monies received to items sold could result in the loss or misuse of funds.

WE RECOMMEND the School Board:

A. Formally establish an imprest amount for each petty cash fund and ensure the funds are periodically counted and reconciled to the imprest balance by an independent person. In addition, invoices should be maintained for all petty cash expenditures and a ledger should be prepared of all petty cash transactions.

B. Ensure independent reconciliations of soda and vending machine monies received to items purchased and remaining in inventory are performed.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Policies DJB and DJB-R establish an imprest amount for the petty cash fund and establish a procedure for handling such accounts. Copies of the policies have been forwarded to building principals, directors and assistant superintendents with instructions to follow current policy. The assistant superintendent for business services will conduct at least one random check of each building's procedures each fiscal year. Building principals and directors (or their designees) shall conduct at least four random checks each fiscal year. The district's auditors will also be asked to randomly check petty cash procedures.

B. Each soda machine has a counter which tracks the amount of product sold. The individual who collects the money from the machine shall record the count each time the collection is made. The business secretary at each building shall multiply the product retail price by the count from the machine to verify the accuracy of the amount collected. Any discrepancy shall be noted on a form as cash short or over. Any significant discrepancy shall be brought to the attention of the building principal who will notify the central office.

OVERALL SCHOOL BOARD RESPONSE TO STATE AUDITOR'S REPORT

The board hired a new administrative team. The district has a new superintendent of schools, a new assistant superintendent for business, a CPA on staff, and a new assistant superintendent for human resources. Second, the patrons, staff, administration, and board made serious cuts in district expenditures. Third, the same group, working hard and working together, managed to increase tax revenue. Fourth, a board motion made it a district goal to increase the balances to 9 percent by 2003, in the combined teachers and incidental funds. After the 1998-1999 school year, the district will be removed from the financial stress list and will end the year with a reserve balance of about 4.7 percent. We will continue to build on this reserve at the rate of 1 percent each year until we reach our goal. Fifth, the salary contingency agreement is gone. Sixth, the budget reflects the way the district spends money and timely adjustments are made when necessary. Seventh, the board and administration will implement the suggestions given to us by the state auditing team.

In summary, the board, administration, and community have changed and improved the way the district conducts business.

This report is intended for the information of the management of St. Charles RV-I School District, and other applicable district officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

AUDIT REPORT

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
AND MISSOURI STATE HIGHWAY PATROL
MEDICAL AND LIFE INSURANCE PLAN

THREE YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-40
June 16, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

FACT SHEET

During our audit of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan, we identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved.

The financial condition of the plan has rapidly deteriorated in recent years. In the last three fiscal years, ending Fiscal Year (FY) 1998, annual plan expenditures have increased approximately 23% while annual revenues have decreased approximately 6%. In this same period retained earnings have declined 66%, from $14.5 million at June 30, 1996, to $4.9 million at June 30, 1998. This trend has continued during the current fiscal period and, as of November 30, 1998, the plan's retained earnings was approximately $138,000.

The significant increase in plan expenditures can be attributed to increasing medical costs, enhancements in medical plan benefits, and the addition of a prescription drug card program in 1997. Revenues have decreased due to a reduction in the state contribution rate instituted by the board in January 1997. Those changes were made in an attempt to decrease a large, previously accumulated retained earnings balance as discussed in our prior report.

The board has attempted to offset the rising medical costs and prescription drug program costs by increasing prescription drug co-payment amounts in September 1998 and raising all medical plan contribution rates effective January 1999. The State Auditor recommended the plan's Board of Trustees continue to closely monitor the plan's financial condition and take any additional actions needed to maintain the solvency of the plan.

In another finding the State Auditor noted the plan's Board of Trustees did not review supporting documentation for the achievement of performance standards set forth in the plan's medical claims administrators' contracts. The plan also did not require the prescription drug program administrator to timely furnish information regarding compliance with the performance standards stated in its contract.

The audit also found that in October 1996, at the request of the board, the plan's actuary submitted a proposal to perform an audit of the claims administrator to confirm compliance with 1993 and 1994 contractual savings guarantees related to the Preferred Provider Network. The actuary estimated the audit would require a maximum of 120 hours, assuming data from the claims administrator would be "available and usable, and received in a timely manner." However, upon completion in September 1997, the actuary had incurred approximately 276 extra hours, increasing the cost of the audit from $13,800 to $45,540. The board ultimately approved a payment of $30,000 to the actuary for this audit.

Throughout the audit the actuary had indicated to the board they were having problems obtaining usable information in a timely manner; however, it was not until the audit was completed that the board was informed of the extra hours spent and cost incurred. The State Auditor made specific recommendations to improve the board's of oversight such contracts.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Honorable Mel Carnahan, Governor
and Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission
and
Board of Trustees
Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri
State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan
Jefferson City, Missouri 65102

We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998, 1997, and 1996, as identified in the table of contents. These financial statements are the responsibility of the plan's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board Technical Bulletin 99-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues--an amendment of Technical Bulletin 98-1, requires disclosures of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue in order for financial statements to be prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. Such required disclosures include any significant amount of resources committed to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment; a general description of the year 2000 issue, including a description of the stages of work in process or completed as of the end of the reporting period to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment critical to conducting operations; and an indication that the completion of these stages is not a guarantee that systems and equipment will be year 2000-compliant. The Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan has omitted such disclosures. We do not provide assurance that the plan is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the plan's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the plan does business will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the omission of the information discussed in the preceding paragraph, the financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan as of June 30, 1998, 1997, and 1996, and the results of its operations and its cash flows for the years then ended in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated December 18, 1998, on our consideration of the plan's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statements, taken as a whole, that are referred to in the first paragraph. The accompanying financial information listed as supplementary data in the table of contents is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statements. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, in our opinion, except for the omission of the information discussed in the third paragraph, is fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statements taken as a whole.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the plan's management and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Honorable Mel Carnahan, Governor
and Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission
and
Board of Trustees
Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri
State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan
Jefferson City, Missouri 65102

We have audited the financial statements of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998, 1997, and 1996, and have issued our report thereon dated December 18, 1998. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the financial statements. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the plan's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan, we considered the plan's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control over financial reporting that might be material weaknesses. A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. We noted no matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
AND MISSOURI STATE HIGHWAY PATROL
MEDICAL AND LIFE INSURANCE PLAN
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying financial statements present the insurance trust fund of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan. The plan is funded by state and member contributions and investment income and provides medical and life insurance for eligible members of the Highway Employees' and Highway Patrol Retirement System. Due to the nature of the plan and reliance on funding from the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol, the plan is considered a component unit of the state of Missouri's financial reporting entity.

The Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan, presented in Exhibits A through C, is a separate accounting entity, recording all assets, liabilities, equities, revenues, and expenses related to the plan's activities.

Expenses presented for the plan may not reflect the total cost of the related activity. Other direct and indirect costs provided by the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol are not allocated to the plan.

B. Basis of Accounting

The financial statements for the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan, Exhibits A through C, are prepared in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles. The statements are presented on the accrual basis of accounting which recognizes revenues when earned and expenses when the related liabilities are incurred.

Contribution revenues are recognized in the month for which coverage was provided. As such, unearned contributions at June 30 are amounts contributed for or withheld from June payrolls for July insurance coverage. Medical benefits expense is recognized when claims are incurred as estimated by the plan's consulting actuary. All other expenses are recognized when the liability is incurred.

Investments are long-term investments which are expected to be held to maturity and redeemed at face value. The U.S. Treasury notes are reported at estimated fair value which approximates market. Interest income is recognized when earned.

For purposes of the statement of cash flows, the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan considers all highly liquid investments with a maturity of three months or less when purchased to be cash equivalents.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

Responsibility for administration of the transactions of the plan is vested in the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan Board of Trustees, within the authority prescribed by the Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission. The Board of Trustees maintains custody of trust fund resources, approves operating and investment transactions, and provides for control of trust fund resources.

D. Retained Earnings

This amount represents the amount of life insurance and state and member plan contributions in excess of current funding requirements at June 30, 1998, 1997, and 1996.

E. Basic Life Insurance

The state provides to all full-time salaried employees $15,000 of insurance benefits regardless of length of service. Coverage is effective on the first day of the month coinciding with, or next following, the employee's date of employment. As coverage is provided by contract with a private insurance carrier, basic life insurance expense represents the state contributions in the basic life insurance program which are subsequently transmitted to the carrier on a monthly basis.

F. Optional Life Insurance

Section 104.517, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, allows any person for whom basic life insurance is provided under this section, to purchase additional life insurance at up to six times the amount of the person's annual compensation, except that if the maximum amount is not evenly divisible by $1,000, it will be the next higher amount evenly divisible by $1,000 (prior to January 1, 1998, this additional life insurance was allowed at up to three times the amount of the person's annual compensation). Employees who retired before May 1, 1984, could have retained an amount no greater than $2,500. Employees who retired on or after May 1, 1984, but before September 1, 1988, could have retained an amount no greater than $5,000. Employees retiring on or after September 1, 1988 but before May 1, 1996, could have retained an amount no greater than $10,000. Employees retiring on or after May 1, 1996 may retain an amount no greater than $60,000. Effective January 1, 1998, employees may purchase spouse and dependent life insurance. Optional life insurance for spouses is limited to the lesser of the employee's optional life insurance or $100,000. Dependent child life insurance is limited to $10,000 per child.

As coverage is provided by contract with a private insurance carrier, optional life insurance expense represents the contributions received from persons participating in the optional life insurance program which are subsequently transmitted to the carrier on a monthly basis.

G. Transplant Insurance Supplement

The plan provides benefits for organ or tissue transplants for active employees with one month of creditable service and other eligible participants, except those covered by Medicare. The maximum lifetime transplant benefit is $1,000,000.

As coverage is provided by contract with a private insurance carrier, transplant insurance expense represents the contributions received from persons participating in the transplant insurance program which are subsequently transmitted to the carrier on a monthly basis.

H. Health Maintenance Organizations

The health maintenance organization (HMO) expense represents both the state and employee contributions received for members participating in the HMO's. Employees living in the service area of an alternative HMO have the option of choosing either the health maintenance program or the state medical insurance. The plan is responsible for transmitting these contributions to the HMO's on a monthly basis. At June 30, 1998, there were 738 participants in the HMO's (634 with the Missouri Department of Transportation and 104 with the Missouri State Highway Patrol).

I. Prescription Drug Card Program

Effective January 1, 1997, the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan began offering a prescription drug card program that provides prescription drug benefits to all participants in the insurance plan. There is no additional cost to the participant, other than the co-pays required. This plan is administered by an outside provider, and the plan is responsible for remitting payment to the administrator on a biweekly basis for claims and on a monthly basis for administrative fees.

2. Cash and Investments

Deposits

The plan's deposits at June 30, 1998, 1997, and 1996, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the plan's custodial bank in the plan's name. The plan utilizes a cash management account which has the capability of transferring funds into repurchase agreements daily, allowing the plan to invest excess funds and funds held to cover outstanding checks.

Investments

The Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan Board of Trustees is authorized by state statute to invest in U.S. Treasury or Agency securities maturing within three years or in repurchase agreements maturing within ninety days secured by U.S. Treasury or Agency securities of any maturity. There have been no violations of these investment restrictions during the years ended June 30, 1998, 1997, and 1996. The plan's investments are composed of the following:

	June 30,
	1998		1997		1996
	Reported Amount	Fair Value	Reported Amount	Fair Value	Reported Amount	Fair Value
Repurchase agreement (interest rate of 5.311 percent)	$ 8,416,832	8,416,832	18,397,245	18,397,245	21,205,131	21,205,131
U.S. Treasury notes (interest rates of 5.24 to 6.16 percent)	3,988,801	3,986,957	1,998,246	2,003,290	0	0
	12,405,633	12,403,789	20,395,491	20,400,535	21,205,131	21,205,131

These investments were held by the plan's custodial bank in the plan's name.

3. Risk Management

A claim becomes a liability of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan when an illness begins or an injury occurs; however, payment of these claims is made at a later date after the claim is reported and adjudicated. Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan claims liabilities are reported when it is probable that a claim has occurred and the amount of that claim can be reasonably estimated. Estimated unreported claims represent expected claims against the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan that have been incurred but not reported. The unreported claims liability is established from data provided by an actuary. Changes in the balance of incurred but not reported claims liabilities for the years ended June 30, 1998, 1997, and 1996, were as follows:

	Balance July 1	Claims and Changes in Estimates	Claim Payments	Balance June 30
Estimated incurred but not reported claims:

1996	$	3,811,740	26,530,658	26,076,902	4,265,496
1997		4,265,496	28,144,942	27,484,090	4,926,348
1998		4,926,348	25,634,249	25,849,692	4,710,905

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
AND MISSOURI STATE HIGHWAY PATROL
MEDICAL AND LIFE INSURANCE PLAN
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Monitoring of Performance Standards (pages 21-22)

The Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan (plan) did not review supporting documentation for performance standards set forth in their medical claims administrators' contracts. The plan also did not require the prescription drug program administrator to furnish information in a timely manner regarding compliance with the performance standards stated in the contract.

2. Contracts and Special Projects (pages 22-23)

The plan requested their actuary to perform an audit of 1993 and 1994 Preferred Provider Network claims. The actuary estimated the audit would cost $13,800. However, the actuary incurred and billed costs of approximately $45,540 and did not adequately inform the Board of Trustees of the cost overruns. The board actually paid $30,000 for the services provided.

3. Financial Condition (pages 23-24)

The plan's financial condition has deteriorated significantly over the last two fiscal years.

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
AND MISSOURI STATE HIGHWAY PATROL
MEDICAL AND LIFE INSURANCE PLAN
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the financial statements of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998, 1997, 1996, and have issued our report thereon dated December 18, 1998. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the financial statements.

During our audit, we identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our audit was not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following Management Advisory Report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. Monitoring of Performance Standards

The Missouri Department of Transportation and the Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan (plan) Board of Trustees (board) contracts with outside businesses for network and medical claims administration, as well as for the administration of a prescription drug program. These contracts establish specific performance standards, such as the amount of time to process and pay a claim and the accuracy of the payments made. The contracts also include penalties to be paid by the administrators when the agreed upon standards are not met.

A. The various medical claims administrators perform quarterly internal audits of a sample of claims to measure the percentage of compliance with performance standards applicable to their contracts. After the internal audits are completed, the claims administrators summarize the results and calculate the applicable penalties due. The administrators then either write a check to the plan for the penalty amount or deduct the penalty from the service fees charged to the plan. Although these guarantees are included in the contract and the plan receives penalty fees when these guarantees are not met, the board does not review the supporting documentation for how the penalties were determined. Without reviewing the supporting documentation and ensuring the audits were correctly performed and that the performance measures were accurately determined, the board cannot assure themselves that the penalties calculated are correct.

   To assure themselves that the penalties are accurately calculated and in accordance with the contract, the Department of Transportation Internal Audit Division, the Department of Transportation employees responsible for the plan's operation, or an independent party such as the plan's actuary, need to review supporting documentation for the performance standards audits.

B. The plan's contract with the prescription drug program administrator, established in January 1997, also has provisions for performance standards. According to the contract, any amount owed the plan for not insuring performance standards shall be paid by the administrator within 60 days following the anniversary of the agreement year. Prior to November 1998, the plan had not required any information from this administrator to evaluate compliance with those standards. In November 1998, the board did request the administrator to furnish information regarding the performance standards stated in the contract and received that information on January 22, 1999. The administrator reported that all performance standards had been met.

To assure themselves that each of their administrators is complying with their contract, the board should ensure information is received and a review of compliance with the administrator's contract is performed on a timely basis.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees:

A. Ensure a review of supporting documentation for performance standards audits is conducted.

B. Ensure contract compliance relating to performance standards is reviewed in a timely manner.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The board receives monthly reports as to the status of claims administration of the plan. The board reviews this information monthly at its board meeting for the performance of the claims administration. The board also has the actuary perform an audit on the claims administrator to review the supporting documentation relating to the performance of the claims administration.

B. The board will ensure that the performance standards are reviewed in a timely manner.

AUDITOR'S COMMENT

A. While the plan does receive various monthly and quarterly reports from its claims administrators, it does not appear that any of those reports provide information sufficient for the plan to evaluate whether the quarterly reports on performance measures provided by the administrators are accurate. In addition, while the plan's actuary has performed audits of 1993 and 1994 claims processed through its Preferred Provider Network and 1995 claims processed by its medical claims administrator, no other reviews of claims have been performed. The plan has discussed several times having the 1996 and 1997 claims audited, but to date such an audit has not been obtained.

2. Contracts and Special Projects

In October 1996, at the request of the board, the plan's actuary submitted a proposal to perform an audit of the claims administrator to confirm compliance with contractual savings guarantees relating to Preferred Provider Network (PPO) in effect during 1993 and 1994. The proposal was based on provisions in the actuary's contract relating to special projects that could be performed for the plan at the contractual rate of $115 per hour. The actuary estimated the audit would require a maximum of 120 hours, assuming data from the claims administrator would be "available and usable, and received in a timely manner;" however, upon completion in September 1997, the actuary had incurred approximately 276 extra hours, increasing the cost of the audit from $13,800 to $45,540.

Throughout the audit the actuary had indicated to the board they were having problems obtaining usable information in a timely manner; however, it was not until the audit was completed that the board was informed of the extra hours spent and cost incurred. Based on the lack of correspondence between the actuary and board concerning the extra hours and cost, the board decided to pay only $30,000 of the $45,540 invoice. In addition, the board also informed the actuary that if estimated costs were to be exceeded concerning future special projects, a request for additional fees should be submitted in writing. To ensure extra hours and/or costs are approved or disapproved prior to being incurred, the board should establish a formal procedure, through an amendment to the actuarial contract, to provide for periodic reports on the status of any special projects.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees establish a formal procedure, through an amendment to the actuarial contract, to ensure periodic reports are given on the status of special projects so extra hours and/or costs can be approved or disapproved prior to being incurred.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The board was aware of the problems the actuary was having in performing the audit for the Perferred Provider Network and allowed the actuary to continue the audit. The actuary completed the audit and agreed to accept the original estimate. However, the board, realizing the extra work performed by this actuary, agreed to pay $30,000 of the actual amount of $45,540 performed by the actuary. The board feels adequate procedures are in place to assure the board is receiving the services requested.

3. Financial Condition

The financial condition of the plan has rapidly deteriorated over the past two years.

In the last three fiscal years, annual plan expenditures have increased approximately 23 percent, rising from $33.7 million to $41.6 million, while annual revenues have decreased approximately 6 percent, dropping from $37 million to $34.4 million. As a result, over the last two fiscal years, expenditures have exceeded revenues by approximately $7 million and $2.4 million, respectively. In this same period retained earnings have declined 66 percent, from $14.5 million at June 30, 1996, to $4.9 million at June 30, 1998. This trend has continued during the current fiscal period and, as of November 30, 1998, the plan's retained earnings was approximately $138,000.

The significant increase in plan expenditures can be attributed to increasing medical costs, enhancements in medical plan benefits, and the addition of a prescription drug card program in 1997. Revenues have decreased due to a reduction in the state contribution rate instituted by the board in January 1997. Those changes were made in an attempt to decrease a large, previously accumulated retained earnings balance as discussed in our prior report.
Recently, the board has attempted to offset the rising medical costs and prescription drug program costs by increasing revenues. To increase the plan's revenues, the board raised prescription drug co-payment amounts in September 1998 and raised all medical plan contribution rates effective January 1999.

While the board is aware of the declining financial condition and has taken steps to address this issue by making recent changes to increase plan revenues, additional actions may be needed in the future. The board should continue to closely monitor the plan's financial condition and take appropriate additional actions necessary.

WE RECOMMEND the Board of Trustees continue to closely monitor the financial condition of the plan and take any additional actions needed to maintain the solvency of the plan.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The board is well aware of its financial condition and is making every effort to stabilize the reserves.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

MEDICAL AND LIFE INSURANCE PLAN
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the three years ended June 30, 1995. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the board should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Medical Plan Rate Structures

   A. Certain rate structures in effect for classifications within the non-employee plan were not always sufficient to cover the amount of claims incurred against that particular classification.

   B. During fiscal year 1994, the Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission elected to transfer $2.8 million in additional state contributions to the medical plan. This transfer, along with increases in various member and state contributions effective in 1994, caused the medical plan's cash balance and retained earnings to increase significantly in fiscal years 1994 and 1995.

   Recommendation:

   The Board of Trustees:

   A. Evaluate the various plan rate structures and adjust them accordingly to ensure each plan area contributions are sufficient to cover claims incurred for that area.

   B. Evaluate the excess cash and retained earnings balances to determine if state funding needs to be adjusted.

   Status:

   A. Partially implemented. In January 1997, plan classifications and rates were evaluated and adjusted. In addition, the board, upon recommendations from their actuary which were based on an analysis of rates, plans to raise rates ten percent each of the next three years beginning January 1999. However, based on the actuarial projections, it appears the medicare classification's rate structure effective the year 2001 would still be insufficient to cover claims incurred. Although not repeated in our current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

   B. Implemented. Effective January 1, 1997, in order to reduce the excessive fund balance, state funding for most categories was reduced and benefits were enhanced.

2. Claims Processing

A. On January 1, 1995, the contract with the claims administrator was amended to allow penalties to be imposed on timeliness of processing claims and for payment accuracy; however, plan personnel did not perform any case testing or receive any reports by which to determine how efficient the claims administrator was in the processing and payment of claims.

B. In September 1993 the claims administrator began processing claims using a new screen imaging system, which eliminated any supervisory review or approval prior to payment. As a result, for the three years ended June 30, 1995, over $1,322,000 was refunded to the medical plan due to overpayments made by the claims administrator. In most cases, these mistakes were identified by members or providers and not the claims administrator.

C. The board did not perform a cost/benefit analysis regarding the processing and payment of its own claims versus contracting with an outside claims administrator.

Recommendation:

The Board of Trustees:

A. Establish a performance mechanism for evaluating the timeliness and accuracy of claims processed and assess penalties as necessary.

B. Require a review of each overpayment to determine the circumstances or reasons for the overpayment. Any changes or revisions that are determined to be necessary should be initiated immediately to reduce the potential for additional overpayments.

C. Perform a cost/benefit analysis relating to the plan processing its own claims versus contracting with a claims administrator.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The plan's Board of Trustees contracted with its actuary to conduct an audit of claims processed in 1995. This audit was completed in March 1998. In addition, penalties have been assessed for failure to meet performance standards relating to claims processed by the former and current claims administrators from 1996 to 1998, using performance reports provided; however, plan personnel did not review any supporting documentation or perform a review of claims in order to verify the accuracy of these reports. See MAR No. 1.

B. Implemented. The current claims administrator has in place various edit checks designed to detect overpayments or other possible errors and has established procedures to review and properly adjust these claims.

C. Partially implemented. The plan's Board of Trustees contracted with its actuary to perform a cost/benefit analysis. The analysis was completed in March 1997. The actuary determined that it would be cost effective for the plan to process its own claims; however, after reviewing the analysis, the Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT) determined such an arrangement was not feasible at the time. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the board should consider performing the analysis again at some point in the future.

3. Cost Containment Measures

A. The MoDOT Internal Audit Division did not periodically review either the claims processing function performed by the claims administrator or the Contract and Disbursement Section which collected, recorded, and deposited receipts and made disbursements for administrative expenses.

B. There was no review of claims to determine whether the plan maximum of $1,000,000 in paid benefits had been exceeded or whether the maximum of $15,000 ($25,000 effective June 1994) in paid benefits for alcohol and drug abuse or mental and nervous disorders had been exceeded by a plan participant.

C. The board did not require all cases involving potential subrogation to be separated and reviewed for any further action to ensure the plan was paying only for necessary medical costs.

Recommendation:

The Board of Trustees:

A. Require a periodic review of the medical plan claims processing function and the contract and disbursement section by the internal audit division.

B. Review all claims that have exceeded established limits of coverage and request refunds as appropriate. The board should also require the claims administrator to furnish a listing of all claims over a specified dollar amount for further study and review by the board to ensure the $1,000,000 limit is not exceeded. In addition, all cases involving mental or nervous disorders or alcohol and drug abuse should be given to the board for review to ensure the maximum benefit amounts are not exceeded.

C. Require the claims administrator to furnish a listing of all potential cases involving subrogation to the board for review and pursue collection of all subrogation claims.

Status:

A. Not implemented. In regard to a periodic review of the Contract and Disbursement Section (now called the Business and Benefits Section), MoDOT's Internal Audit Division does not perform this function. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above. In regard to a periodic review of the claims administrators, MoDOT's Internal Audit Division does not perform this function either. See MAR No. 1.

B. Implemented. The board reviewed all alcohol and drug abuse or mental and nervous disorder cases over the $25,000 limit and decided not to pursue any overpayments after the prior claims administrator indicated errors existed in such medical limit reports. No participants had exceeded the $1,000,000 lifetime maximum. Effective January 1, 1998, upon the changing of claims administrators, the board reset all previously accumulated balances to zero. Currently, the board receives and reviews a report from the new claims administrator allowing them to monitor members which are in proximity of plan limits.

C. Implemented. The former claims administrator furnished a listing of potential subrogation cases to the board but did not attempt to pursue collection on these claims due to inadequate subrogation procedures and/or possible miscoding of claims. The current claims administrator identifies, investigates, and attempts to collect on potential subrogation cases.

4. Hospital and Provider Audits

The claims administrator did not have sufficient edit checks in its computer system to identify claims that were likely to have over-billings or be fraudulent in nature.

Recommendation:

The Board of Trustees require the claims administrator to develop appropriate edit checks to identify claims likely to have over-billings or which may be fraudulent in nature.

Status:

Implemented. The current claims administrator has in place various edit checks designed to identify claims likely to have over-billings or which may be fraudulent in nature, as well as to detect other possible errors.

5. Investment of Plan Funds

During the three years ended June 30, 1995, the board only invested in repurchase agreements and did not amend the current banking agreement to allow excess funds to be invested in longer-term, higher yielding investments.

Recommendation:

The Board of Trustees immediately consider amending the current banking agreement to allow funds in excess of current short-term requirements to be invested in longer-term, higher yielding investments.

Status:

Implemented. The banking agreement was amended in April 1996. In addition, the board began investing in U.S. Treasury/Agency notes in June 1997, in order to obtain a longer-term, higher yield investment for excess cash balances.

MISSOURI DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
AND MISSOURI STATE HIGHWAY PATROL
MEDICAL AND LIFE INSURANCE PLAN
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION, AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

The Missouri Highway and Transportation Department and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan was organized by the Missouri Highway and Transportation Commission on July 1, 1977, under the provisions of Section 104.270, RSMo. The plan was established to provide medical coverage on a self-insured basis, and death benefits on an insured basis. Beginning May 1, 1982, additional life insurance was made available as an option.

The responsibility for the proper administration of the plan and the direction of its policies is vested in a seven-member Board of Trustees. The board consists of four Missouri Department of Transportation (MoDOT) employees appointed by the chief engineer, two Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP) employees appointed by the superintendent, and one member who is retired from the MoDOT or MSHP who is appointed by the chief engineer and the superintendent, all of whom are subject to approval by the commission.

Board of Trustees as of June 30, 1998

Name	Department/Division	Term Expires
C. F. Barnes, Chairman	MoDOT/Business and Benefits	November 1999
Captain Terry Moore, Vice-chairman	MSHP/Human Resources	May 2004
Pam Otto, Secretary/Treasurer	MoDOT/Business and Benefits	November 2002
Captain Steve Johnson	MSHP/Traffic	November 2000
Al Laffoon	MoDOT/Bridge	January 2002
Dan Pritchard	MoDOT/Chief Counsel's Office	November 1998
Roy Bergman	Retiree Member	November 1999

All board members are appointed for a six-year term except for the retiree member who is appointed for a three-year term.

With the approval of the commission, the board has selected the following companies to provide services to the plan:

Westport Benefits, LLC*	Medical benefit claims administration, large case management, and cost containment
HealthLink, Inc.	Network administration
Monumental Life Insurance Company	Organ transplant benefits
Standard Insurance Company	Death benefit insurance and optional life insurance*
Milliman & Robertson, Inc.	Consultant and actuarial services
Eckerd Health Services	Prescription drug benefit management services
Central Bank	Banking and investment services
Missouri Patient Care Review Foundation	Retrospective medical review

* Previously Genelco, Inc. Genelco was purchased by Westport Benefits, LLC.

 Prior to January 1, 1998, these services were performed by Alliance Blue Cross-Blue Shield.

 Effective September 1, 1998, Legion Insurance Co. was awarded the new contract to provide these benefits.

* Prior to May 1, 1996 these services were provided by Missouri Valley Life and Health Insurance Company.

 Previously TDI Managed Care Services, Inc. Eckerd Drugs and TDI Managed Care Services, Inc. merged and TDI changed its name to Eckerd Health Services in 1997.

All other operations are performed by personnel of the MoDOT with the use of the department's facilities and equipment.

The plan is financed by state contributions, member contributions, and investment income. The monthly state contribution per employee has been:

Period	State Contribution Medical Care	Death Benefits
May 1, 1995 to April 30, 1996	$ 172.00	3.00
May 1, 1996 to December 31, 1996	172.00	3.45
January 1, 1997 to present	139.00	3.45

Effective February 1, 1996, the state's contribution for medical care for each retiree of the MSHP and MoDOT increased from $53.00 to $62.00 and from $9.00 to $62.00, respectively.

Member contributions are set by the board based on actuarial valuations and vary according to number of persons covered, eligibility for Medicare, and state contributions.

As of June 30, 1998, there were 24,672 participants in the Missouri Department of Transportation and Missouri State Highway Patrol Medical and Life Insurance Plan (18,394 with the MoDOT and 6,278 with the MSHP).

*These contribution rates cover only the sponsored family member and are paid in addition to the contribution rates for the other rate groups (one person and family). A sponsored family member is any person (except those eligible for dependent or medicare coverage) residing in the member's home who receives 50 percent or more of this or her support from the member and is shown on the member's federal income tax form as a dependent for the calendar year. Registered full-time students are not required to reside in the member's home.

The Medicare member category for employees receiving a state contribution and employees not receiving a state contribution is not applicable. This is because they would fall either under the one person or family (multi-person) categories.

(a) Long term disability members were included in the category for employee not receiving state contribution until January 1, 1998, at which time they were added to the rate category for retirees.

(b) In 1998, employees not receiving state contribution consist of employees on a leave without pay. Prior to that time, this category also included long term disability members.

(c) Effective September 1, 1994, the state's contribution rate for retirees of the MSHP increased from $9 to $53 while the state's contribution for retirees of the MoDOT remained the same. Effective 2/1/96, the state share for all retirees increased to $62. Therefore, for 1995, retiree contribution for MSHP and MoDOT are reflected in separate categories. Thereafter the two categories were the same.

AUDIT REPORT

SPECIAL REVIEW OF THE
TWENTY-SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
ST. LOUIS CITY, MISSOURI

CIRCUIT CRIMINAL DIVISION-
FINANCE DEPARTMENT - CASH BOND DEPOSITS

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-39

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri

YELLOW SHEET

The following problems were discovered in the Circuit Clerk's office in the Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit, St. Louis City, Missouri. The Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit Criminal Division - Finance Department, is responsible for the accounting and reporting of funds deposited with the court in relation to criminal cases, including cash bond payments.

Our audit uncovered theft; information gathered during our review was turned over to the St. Louis City Circuit Attorney's Office and the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department. The cashier/bookkeeper responsible for collecting some cash bond payments and recording all cash bond activity has been indicted by the circuit's grand jury for stealing.

All thefts reported in our audit occurred prior to January 1, 1999.

During our audit, we noted discrepancies between receipt records for cash bonds, monies deposited into the Finance Department's bank account, and other supporting bond records. Cash bond monies of at least $9,300 were taken and receipt records were altered to conceal the shortages.

Our review of the Finance Department's bond records noted the amounts paid for some of the cash bonds shown on the copy of the original receipt slip did not agree to the amounts on the receipt ledger. The amount recorded on the one-write receipt ledger had been altered after the original receipt slip was issued to reflect a lesser amount. These alterations were done to conceal the cash collected from bonds which was not deposited, but rather taken by an employee. Fifteen cash payments for bonds posted between December 20, 1997 and November 21, 1998, were altered and therefore portions of the cash bond payments received, totaling $9,300, were not properly recorded and deposited.

The missing money went undetected throughout the period noted due to weaknesses in several internal controls and reconciliation procedures, and a lack of segregation of duties.

The duties of receiving and recording cash bond monies collected by the Finance Department were not adequately segregated. The former bookkeeper performed both of these duties, as well as processing and recording bond disbursements. No one independent of the process reconciled bond receipts recorded in the one-write receipt ledger with amounts recorded in other bond records.

A list of the bonds received, but not paid out, has not been adequately maintained. This list should not only be accurately maintained, but reconciled to the balance in the bond account. The failure to reconcile the listing of bonds not yet paid out, to the money available to pay them in the bank, has contributed to the failure to detect the missing money.

Circuit Clerk
Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit
St. Louis City, Missouri

We have conducted a special review of the Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit, St. Louis City, Missouri, Circuit Criminal Division - Finance Department - Cash Bond Deposits. The scope of this review included, but was not limited to, the period of July 1, 1997 through December 31, 1998. The objectives of this review were to:

1. Investigate suspected irregularities in the collection, recording, and depositing of bond receipts and the related record-keeping system.

2. Determine the amount of funds misappropriated from this department.

3. Review and evaluate certain controls and procedures regarding the collection of and accounting for bond receipts related to the misappropriation.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. In this regard, we reviewed the financial records and procedures of the Circuit Criminal Division - Finance Department and interviewed personnel of the department.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History and Organization is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the division's management and was not subjected to the procedures applied in the review of the Circuit Criminal Division - Finance Department - Cash Bond Deposits.

HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

SPECIAL REVIEW OF THE
TWENTY-SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
ST. LOUIS CITY, MISSOURI
CIRCUIT CRIMINAL DIVISION - FINANCE DEPARTMENT - CASH BOND DEPOSITS
HISTORY AND ORGANIZATION

Organization

The Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit includes only St. Louis City. The circuit consists of twenty-four circuit judges, one of whom serves as presiding judge, seven associate circuit judges, and four commissioners.

In addition to the judges and commissioners, the personnel of the Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit, St. Louis City, Missouri includes a circuit clerk, twenty-six court reporters, a court administrator, a jury supervisor, a juvenile officer, and approximately 480 other court employees. Approximately 189 of these employees work under the supervision of the Circuit Clerk.

The Circuit Clerk is elected for a four-year term. The Circuit Clerk's Office plans, assigns, coordinates, and supervises the operation and administration of the circuit court presided over by the circuit judges. Duties of the Circuit Clerk include: docketing, clerical tasks, documentation of court matters, accounting and recording, receipting and disbursing funds through the circuit and associate circuit divisions, and administering most of the operations of the court.

The Circuit Clerk's Criminal Division-Finance Department is responsible for the collection and recording of bonds, restitution, fees, fines and court costs for criminal cases heard in the Circuit Court in the city of St. Louis, Missouri.

Personnel

The Honorable Michael B. Calvin was elected by the judges as Presiding Circuit Judge for a two year term on January 1, 1999.

Mariano V. Favazza was elected Circuit Clerk in November 1998 and replaced Mavis T. Thompson, effective January 1, 1999.

The Circuit Criminal Division-Finance Department consists of six positions: a supervisor, an assistant supervisor, a bookkeeper, two cashiers, and a backup cashier. Due to personnel turnover, some of these positions have occasionally been vacant. The Circuit Criminal Division also includes a Case Processing Department with 43 supervisory and clerical positions.

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

SPECIAL REVIEW OF THE
TWENTY-SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
ST. LOUIS CITY, MISSOURI
CIRCUIT CRIMINAL DIVISION - FINANCE DEPARTMENT - CASH BOND DEPOSITS
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Weaknesses in the internal controls and record-keeping system of the Circuit Clerk's Criminal Division - Finance Department allowed a misappropriation of cash bond deposits of at least $9,300 to occur during the period December 20, 1997 through November 21, 1998. Some cash bond monies were not properly recorded and cash was taken. Receipt records were altered to conceal the shortages.

This situation could have been prevented or detected on a more timely basis if adequate oversight and reviews had been performed and if internal controls as noted in the accompanying Management Advisory Report had been established. Some of the same recommendations were also made in our prior audit report dated June 26, 1997.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

SPECIAL REVIEW OF THE
TWENTY-SECOND JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
ST. LOUIS CITY, MISSOURI
CIRCUIT CRIMINAL DIVISION - FINANCE DEPARTMENT - CASH BOND DEPOSITS
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT

The Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit, St. Louis City, Missouri, Circuit Criminal Division - Finance Department, is responsible for the accounting and reporting of any funds deposited with the court in relation to criminal cases.

During our audit of the Office of Circuit Clerk, Twenty-Second Judicial Circuit, St. Louis City, Missouri, we noted discrepancies between receipt records for cash bonds, monies deposited into the Finance Department's bank account, and other supporting bond records. This special review was performed to more fully review the circumstances of these discrepancies and to determine the extent of misappropriated bond monies.

1. Missing Funds

The Circuit Criminal Division - Finance Department accepts cash, money orders, and attorneys' checks for payment of cash bonds and bond forfeitures. The Finance Department directly receives, either at the payment windows or through the mail, these payments during regular working hours. In addition, the department receives from the Pre-Trial Release Office (PTR), checks for bonds collected outside normal working hours. Bond payments are accompanied by bond index cards prepared by either the Circuit Criminal Division - Bonding Department or the PTR. These index cards indicate the amount of bond monies required to be paid to the Finance Department. Bond monies received are recorded in a one-write receipt system and are deposited into the Finance Department's bank account. The bonds are then recorded in a bond ledger and the bond index cards filed. The receipt slip is taken to the Bonding Department where a copy of the original receipt slip is made and filed in the case file. When applying for a bond refund, the payor must return the original receipt slip, which is then retained by the Finance Department.

During our review of the Finance Department's bond records, we noted the amounts paid for some of the cash bonds shown on the copy of the original receipt slip did not agree to the amounts on the receipt ledger. The amount recorded on the one-write receipt ledger had been altered after the original receipt slip was issued to reflect a lesser amount. These alterations were done to conceal the cash collected from bonds which was not deposited. Fifteen cash payments for bonds posted between December 20, 1997 and November 21, 1998, were altered and therefore portions of the cash bond payments received, totaling $9,300, were not properly recorded and deposited.

The misappropriation went undetected throughout the period noted due to weaknesses in several internal controls and reconciliation procedures, and a lack of segregation of duties as discussed later in this report.

In April 1999, the employment of the cashier/bookkeeper responsible for collecting some cash bond payments and recording all cash bond activity was terminated.

Information gathered during our review has been turned over to the St. Louis City Circuit Attorney's Office and the St. Louis Metropolitan Police Department.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk work with law enforcement officials regarding restitution of the missing monies and any criminal prosecution considered necessary.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

We agree. We will completely cooperate with the prosecution of the case and have contacted the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) to initiate the process for reimbursement under the state blanket bond. Restitution, if forthcoming, would go to reimburse the state bond.

In addition, the newly employed internal auditor is reviewing each transaction of every employee who had similar unsegregated duties in earlier time periods which could have permitted them to commit similar acts of fraud. We intend to investigate any identified shortage through to resolution and will refer any suspicious acts to the proper law enforcement agency.

In addition, since May 1, 1999, the Criminal Finance Department has gone online with a computerized cashiering system similar to what is used for the Civil Cashier's Office. We will continue to operate the manual system parallel to the computerized system until we are reasonably certain that the computerized system is accurately recording transactions. Had the computerized system been in place since December 20, 1997, we believe the loss would have been identified at the time of the occurrence. The new system is designed to track receipts and disbursements for each category of transaction. The system will provide an accurate open-items listing and the cashiering system activity will be tied out with the Bonding Department system.

2. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. A listing of bonds received and not yet paid out is to be prepared semiannually by the Finance Department. The Finance Department personnel could not locate open-items listings prepared prior to December 31, 1998. In addition, the bond open-items listings do not reconcile to the balance in the bond account. The total identified open items at December 31, 1998, exceeded the balance in the general ledger bond account at that date by $638,112. The difference between the open-items listings and the balance in the bond account fluctuates. The total identified open items at June 30, 1997, exceeded the balance in the bond account at that date by $374,772. The failure to reconcile the open-items listing to the balance in the general ledger bond account on a periodic basis has contributed to the failure to detect the misappropriation noted above.

The listing of bond open-items prepared from all open bonds in the bond ledger at December 31, 1998 is not accurate. Errors were made by the Finance Department personnel when recording bond receipts and disbursements to the bond ledger. Duplicate receipt entries were made, bond forfeitures were recorded to the bond ledger in error, several fugitive bonds disbursed to other municipalities were never recorded in the bond ledger, and some other disbursements of bonds were not recorded. To properly account for all bonds, the Finance Department should ensure all bond receipts and disbursements are correctly posted to the various accounting records.

A complete and accurate open-items listing is necessary to ensure bonds are properly recorded and deposited and to ensure the monies held in trust by the Circuit Clerk are sufficient to meet liabilities. Open-items listings should be prepared timely and reconciled to the balance in the general ledger bond account.

B. The duties of receiving and recording cash bond monies collected by the Finance Department were not adequately segregated. The former Bookkeeper performed both of these duties, as well as processing and recording bond disbursements. No one independent of the process reconciled bond receipts recorded in the one-write receipt ledger with amounts recorded in other bond records.

To safeguard against possible loss, theft, or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by designating an employee without access to cash to perform a reconciliation or periodically review amounts recorded in the bond records and the one-write receipt ledger.

Similar conditions were noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk:

A. Investigate and resolve differences between the open-items listings and the balances in the general ledger bond account. Any identified shortage should be investigated and resolved. All bond receipts and disbursements should be properly recorded to the bond ledger, and accurate open-items listings should be prepared periodically and reconciled to the balance in the general ledger bond account.

B. Provide for an adequate level of segregation of duties between receiving, recording, and depositing monies collected by the Criminal Finance Department. In addition, the Circuit Clerk should provide for a documented review of accounting records by an independent person.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. We agree. It is our intention to resolve the differences between the open-items listing and the corresponding general ledger account and the bank account. The lack of automation in the Criminal Finance Department makes this process very difficult. We will need to develop an open-items listing for all types of receipts and to correct the open-items listing for bond receipts. This process is one of a ''special project'' nature and we will proceed on this matter once we have corrected ongoing financial practices and records for 1999 activity and forward. We will consult with CPAs from OSCA, the State Auditor's office, and outside firms in developing the procedures to be followed in addressing these issues.

B. We agree. Prior to the discovery of the theft there were plans to reorganize the Criminal Finance Department and segregate responsibilities and duties. Since the discovery of the theft, the office has undertaken the assignments to segregate duties and responsibilities for receiving, recording, and depositing monies collected by the Criminal Finance Department.

An Account Clerk III position has been redefined to undertake the bookkeeping process that is still being done by hand awaiting the completion of the computerized cashiering system. At present, no cashier who receipts money has any bookkeeping function, except completing the financial transaction on the one write system and placing the transaction into the computerized cash register. Under the current system, there is a supervisor who presently supervises the three cashiers and is responsible for the receiving and depositing of cash and checks. All other bookkeeping and taxing functions are done by employees not under the cashiers' supervisor. We believe by these actions we have complied with the recommendation.

AUDIT REPORT

FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

BUCHANAN COUNTY, MISSOURI

TWO YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-38
May 24, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Audit Report #99-38 May 24, 1999

The Fifth Judicial Circuit Court consists of Buchanan County and Andrew County.

The Fifth Judicial Circuit is made-up of four circuit judges and three associate circuit judges. The circuit judges hear cases throughout the circuit. Of the three associate circuit judges, two are located in Buchanan County and one is located in Andrew County.

In addition to the judges, the personnel of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, include a circuit clerk (who also collects and disburses fees for the associate and probate divisions), a juvenile officer who serves both Buchanan and Andrew Counties, and various other court personnel.

Circuit personnel located in Andrew County are not included in the scope of this audit, but are reported on separately.

The following findings are some of the recurring problems discovered after our office conducted an audit of the Fifth Judicial Circuit Court of Buchanan County, Missouri.

Our review of the accounting controls over child support receipts and the related accounts found that on December 31, 1998, a balance of $55,293 remained in four inactive child support bank accounts. This amount included outstanding checks totaling $44,685 dated from November 1989 through December 1997.

Our review of the Circuit Clerk's procedures for traffic, civil, and criminal fee accounts also noted on December 31, 1998, a balance of $12,618 remained in two inactive civil fee bank accounts. This amount included old outstanding checks totaling $10,200 dating from 1977 to 1997. In addition, the audit found there were $3,047 and $1,351 in outstanding checks over one year old in the current civil and criminal accounts, respectively.

The State Auditor recommended the Circuit Clerk adopt procedures to routinely follow up on outstanding checks and reissue them if the payees can be located. If the payees cannot be located or identified, these monies should be disposed of in accordance with state law.

The duties of recording, depositing, reconciling, and disbursing child support monies are still not adequately segregated. In addition, there is no documented periodic supervisory review of the reconciliation of recorded receipts to deposits.

YELLOW SHEET

The State Auditor again recommended the Circuit Clerk segregate accounting duties to the extent possible to correct this finding.

-over-

The State Auditor also recommended that the Circuit Clerk attempt to identify the unidentified cash balance of $2,418 which currently exists in the civil fee account. Any amounts which cannot be identified should be disposed of in accordance with state law.

New findings noted during the audit included:

- Fees are not always paid to the Missouri Department of Revenue or the County Treasurer in a timely manner. For example, traffic fees collected in January 1997 were not turned over to the County Treasurer until April 29, 1997. State law requires that fees be turned over to the Department of Revenue and the County Treasurer within 30 days of collection.

- Invoices were not maintained to support some disbursements for the law library and the law library bank account was not maintained in an interest bearing account.

Court officials agreed with all findings and recommendations of the State Auditor.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Presiding Judge and Court en banc
and
The Circuit Clerk of the
Fifth Judicial Circuit
Buchanan County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the judicial circuit's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the various funds of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the various funds of the judicial circuit.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board Technical Bulletin 99-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues--an amendment of Technical Bulletin 98-1, requires disclosure of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. Such required disclosures include any significant amount of resources committed to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment; a general description of the year 2000 issue, including a description of the stages of work in process or completed as of the end of the reporting period to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment critical to conducting operations; and an indication that the completion of these stages is not a guarantee that systems and equipment will be year 2000-compliant. The Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, has omitted such disclosures. We do not provide assurance that the judicial circuit is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the judicial circuit's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the judicial circuit does business will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the omission of the information discussed in the preceding paragraph, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the various funds of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated February 18, 1999, on our consideration of the judicial circuit's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the State Courts Administrator's office, Buchanan County, and the Fifth Judicial Circuit and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Presiding Judge and Court en banc
and
The Circuit Clerk of the
Fifth Judicial Circuit
Buchanan County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 18, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the judicial circuit's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no material instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain other instances of noncompliance which are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, we considered the judicial circuit's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the judicial circuit's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses, and these matters are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
BUCHANAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present only selected data for each fund of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash are presented for the various funds administered by the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri. The operating costs of the offices within the circuit are paid directly from appropriations authorized by the County Commissions within the judicial circuit and the state of Missouri and are not included in these financial statements. The funds administered by the circuit officials located in Andrew County are reported on separately.

The "Total (Memorandum Only)" column is presented as additional analytical data. Because this column does not identify the restrictions that exist by fund, it should be read only with reference to the details of each fund.

B. Basis of Accounting

The Statements of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash for the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when they are received or disbursed. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, includes the transactions of the Circuit Clerk, the Juvenile Office, and the Law Library. Each officeholder has been charged with the responsibility of administering the transactions in his or her division.

The Circuit Clerk has been charged with the responsibility of administering the transactions of the circuit divisions, the associate circuit divisions, and the probate division. The Juvenile Officer is charged with the responsibility of administering the transactions of the Juvenile Office Fund. The law library custodian, appointed by the presiding judge, has been charged with the responsibility of administering transactions of the Law Library Fund.

The Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, administers transactions within the following funds:

Circuit Division Fund: This fund accounts for transactions of the Circuit Clerk's office, the associate circuit divisions, and the probate division. The transactions include the receipts and disbursements for the fee, traffic, child support, probate, and interest accounts. These transactions also include the receipts and disbursements of some circuit court cases in which the Circuit Clerk has been named trustee to invest the assets under Section 483.310, RSMo 1994.

Juvenile Office Fund: This fund accounts for transactions of the juvenile office. These transactions include the receipt and disbursement of restitution payments.

Law Library Fund: This fund accounts for transactions of the law library, including fees collected from circuit division deposits and the related interest income. Disbursements are legally restricted for maintenance of a law library.

2. Cash

Section 483.310, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, authorizes circuit courts to place their funds in savings deposits in banks and savings and loan associations or in U.S. Treasury bills.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks and savings institutions.

The circuit court's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the court's custodial bank in the circuit court's name.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
BUCHANAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Circuit Clerk - Fee Accounts (pages 16-17)

   Checks totaling $14,598 have been outstanding for over a year and $2,418 in an inactive fee account remains unidentified. Also, fees to the state and the county are not paid in a timely manner.

2. Circuit Clerk - Child Support Accounts (pages 17-18)

   Accounting and bookkeeping duties are not adequately segregated. Checks totaling $44,685 have been outstanding for over a year.

3. Law Library (pages 18-19)

   Original invoices are not maintained for some disbursements. Law library monies are not deposited into an interest-bearing account.

FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
BUCHANAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998, and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 18, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements.

The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our audit of the judicial circuit's special-purpose financial statements. During our audit, we also identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our audit was not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. Circuit Clerk - Fee Accounts

During our review of the Circuit Clerk's procedures for traffic, civil, and criminal fee accounts the following concerns were noted:

A. A balance of $12,618 remained in two inactive civil fee bank accounts at December 31, 1998. This amount included old outstanding checks totaling $10,200 written to identified payees dating from 1977 to 1997. In addition, there were $3,047 and $1,351, in outstanding checks over one year old in the current civil and criminal accounts, respectively, at December 31, 1998.

The circuit division should adopt procedures to routinely follow up on outstanding checks and reissue them if the payees can be located. If the payees cannot be located or identified, these monies should be disposed of in accordance with state law.

B. The Circuit Clerk's office prepares a listing of open items monthly and attempts to reconcile these listings to the cash balance of the civil fee account. However, differences existed between the old civil fee account open-items listing and the reconciled cash balance throughout the audit period with the difference fluctuating from month to month. At December 31, 1998, the reconciled cash balance exceeded the open items listing by $2,418.

An accurate open-items list helps to ensure that receipts and disbursements are properly handled and accurately posted to the case fee sheets, and to verify there is sufficient cash to satisfy all liabilities. The Circuit Clerk should make an effort to identify any liabilities associated with the excess cash balance. Any amount which remains unidentified, should be disposed of in accordance with state law.

C. Fees are not always paid to the Missouri Department of Revenue (DOR) or the County Treasurer in a timely manner. For example, traffic fees collected in January 1997 were not turned over to the County Treasurer until April 29, 1997.

Section 488.023, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires that fees be turned over to the DOR and the County Treasurer within 30 days of collection.

Conditions similar to A and B were also noted in our two prior reports.

WE RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk:

A. Cancel old outstanding checks and reissue them if the payees can be located. If the payees cannot be located, the monies should be disposed of in accordance with state law. In addition, procedures to routinely follow up and reissue old outstanding checks, if applicable, should be adopted.

B. Attempt to identify the unidentified cash balance which currently exists in the civil fee account. Any amounts which cannot be identified should be disposed of in accordance with state law.

C. Ensure that fees are paid to the DOR and the County Treasurer in a timely manner.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Circuit Clerk concurred with the recommendations.

2. Circuit Clerk - Child Support Accounts

Child support receipts collected by the circuit division totaled approximately $12.9 million and $12.5 million during the years ended December 31, 1998, and 1997, respectively. Our review of the accounting controls over these receipts and the related accounts disclosed the following concerns:

A. The duties of recording, depositing, reconciling, and disbursing child support monies are not adequately segregated. The child support bookkeeper performs all of these duties. In addition, there is no documented periodic supervisory review of the reconciliation of recorded receipts to deposits.

To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, the duties of depositing monies should be segregated from recording transactions. If duties cannot be segregated, there should be a documented independent comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited.

B. A balance of $55,293 remained in four inactive child support bank accounts at December 31, 1998. This amount included outstanding checks totaling $44,685 written to identified payees dated from November 1989 through December 1997.

The circuit division should adopt procedures to routinely follow up on outstanding checks and reissue them if the payees can be located. If the payees cannot be located or identified, these monies should be disposed of in accordance with state law.

Similar conditions were also noted in our two prior reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Circuit Clerk:

A. Adequately segregate accounting duties to the extent possible. At a minimum, an independent person should perform and document reviews of the work performed.

B. Cancel old outstanding checks and reissue them if payees can be located. If payees cannot be located, the monies should be disposed of in accordance with state law. In addition, procedures to routinely follow up and reissue old outstanding checks, if applicable, should be adopted.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Circuit Clerk concurred with the recommendations.

3. Law Library

The Buchanan County Circuit Clerk maintains custody of the Law Library Fund checking account. During our review of the law library accounting controls and procedures we noted the following concerns:

A. During our review, we noted that original invoices are not retained to support some disbursements. The invoices are used to verify the vendors' statements and are then discarded.

To ensure all purchases made from the law library account are reasonable and valid, original invoices should be retained for all expenditures.

B. The Law Library Fund is maintained in a noninterest-bearing checking account. Bank balances were $29,297 and $9,343 at December 31, 1998 and 1997, respectively. To maximize revenues, Law Library monies should be deposited into an interest-bearing account.

WE RECOMMEND the Presiding Judge:

A. Require the law library custodian to retain original invoices to support all expenditures made from the Law Library account.

B. Ensure Law Library Fund monies are deposited into an interest-bearing account.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Presiding Judge concurred with the recommendations and intends to make these changes.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
BUCHANAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1994. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the judicial circuit should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Circuit Division - Child Support Accounts

   A. Accounting and bookkeeping duties were not adequately segregated.

   B. A balance of $5,581 remained in four inactive child support accounts at December 31, 1994. This amount included outstanding checks totaling $3,461 and $2,120 in unidentified monies. In addition, at that date, checks written on the current child support accounts totaling $17,153 had been outstanding for more than one year.

   C. The composition of receipts was not reconciled to the composition of deposits.

   Recommendation:

   The Circuit Clerk:

   A. Adequately segregate accounting duties to the extent possible to provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. If duties cannot be adequately segregated, at a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review performed of the various bookkeeping functions of that office.

   B. Cancel old outstanding checks and reissue them if the payee can be located. In addition, an effort should be made to identify all monies remaining in the inactive child support accounts. If the payees cannot be located or if all monies cannot be identified, the monies should be disposed of through the applicable statutory provisions. In addition, procedures to routinely follow up and reissue long outstanding checks, if applicable, should be adopted.

   C. Reconcile the composition of receipts according to the receipt listing to the composition of deposits made, at least on a test basis. Such reconciliations should be documented.

   Status:

   A&B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

   C. Implemented.

2. Circuit Division - Fee Accounts

A. Monthly listings of open-items were not reconciled to the monthly cash balances, and the resulting unreconciled differences fluctuated each month.

B. At December 31, 1994, checks written on the old fee account totaling $4,676 had been outstanding for more than five years.

C. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed until the deposit was prepared.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk:

A. Investigate and resolve differences between the monthly open-items listings and the reconciled cash balances. Any identified shortage should be investigated and resolved. Any excess balance which cannot be ultimately identified should be turned over to the Unclaimed Fees Fund.

B. Reissue old outstanding checks to any payees who can be located. If the payees cannot be located, the monies should be disposed of through the applicable statutory provisions. In addition, procedures to routinely follow up and reissue any long outstanding checks should be adopted.

C. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The new civil fee account and traffic fee account open items agree to the reconciled cash balance; however, an unidentified difference of $2,418 still exists between the old civil fee account reconciled cash balance and open items, and an unidentified difference of $125 still exists between the criminal fee account reconciled cash balance and open items. See MAR No. 1.

B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

C. Partially implemented. Civil fee receipts are restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt; however, mail, criminal, and traffic receipts are not restrictively endorsed until the daily deposit is prepared. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

3. Juvenile Office

A. Juvenile office employees who handled restitution monies were not bonded.

B. The juvenile office did not maintain a summary record of restitution amounts owed to victims by juveniles or a listing of amounts which were no longer pursued due to the respective juveniles moving out of the area.

C. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed until the deposit was prepared.

Recommendation:

The Juvenile Office:

A. Consider obtaining adequate bond coverage for those persons handling restitution monies.

B. Continue to maintain an adequate summary record of restitution amounts owed from juvenile offenders. In addition, any amounts which are no longer being pursued for collection should be documented.

C. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

Status:

A, B & C. Implemented.

4. Law Library

Perpetual inventory records of the law library were not maintained and an annual physical inventory of the law library was not performed.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Judge require that a perpetual inventory system for the law library be established. In addition, physical inventories of the law library should be performed periodically and compared to the perpetual records.

Status:

Not implemented. Due to the court's current movement to an automated law library, this recommendation is no longer considered necessary.

FIFTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
BUCHANAN COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organization

The Fifth Judicial Circuit consists of Buchanan County and Andrew County.

The Fifth Judicial Circuit consists of four circuit judges and three associate circuit judges. The circuit judges hear cases throughout the circuit. One circuit judge is elected presiding judge by the court en banc and is responsible for administration of the circuit. Of the three associate circuit judges, two are located in Buchanan County and one is located in Andrew County.

In addition to the judges, the personnel of the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, include a circuit clerk (who also collects and disburses fees for the associate and probate divisions), a juvenile officer who serves both Buchanan and Andrew Counties, and various other court personnel.

Circuit personnel located in Andrew County are not included in the scope of this audit, but are reported on separately.

Operating Costs

The operating expenses of the various courts and the Juvenile Detention Center (Children's Home) are paid by Buchanan County. The operating expenses for the circuit judges, court reporters, and the juvenile office are paid for by the two counties in the circuit based on the percentage of each county's population to the total circuit population.

The salaries of court personnel are paid by the state of Missouri. The salaries of the Juvenile Detention Center (Children's Home) personnel are paid by Buchanan County. The salaries of the remaining juvenile office personnel are paid by the two counties in the circuit based on the percentage of each county's population to the total circuit population. The salary of the juvenile officer is paid by the state of Missouri and by Buchanan County.

Expenditures incurred for the Fifth Judicial Circuit, Buchanan County, Missouri, were obtained from the Buchanan County annual report and information provided by the State Courts Administrator's Office and are as follows:

AUDIT REPORT

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Audit Report # 99-37 May 21, 1999

The Twentieth Judicial Circuit consists of Franklin County as well as the counties of Gasconade and Osage.

The Twentieth Judicial Circuit is made-up of two circuit judges and five associate circuit judges. The circuit judges hear cases throughout the circuit. Of the five associate circuit judges, three are located in Franklin County and preside over the Associate Circuit Court (Divisions VI and VII) and the Probate Division Court (Division V). The other two associate judges are located in the counties of Gasconade and Osage.

Circuit personnel located in Gasconade and Osage counties are not included in the scope of this audit but are reported on separately.

The juvenile officer's home base is Franklin County, but he also serves residents of Gasconade and Osage counties.

The following findings are some of the problems discovered after our office conducted an audit of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit Court of Franklin County, Missouri.

Associate Division VI & Associate Division VII

Both Associate Division VI and Associate Division VII have remaining accounting control and procedures problems pointed out to the Circuit in 1995.

The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies collected by Associate Division VI and Associate Division VII are not adequately segregated. Currently, any of the five employees in Division VI have the authority to perform all of the duties related to the collection, recording, and deposit of court monies. In Division VII, one of the division clerks performs all these duties with help from the deputy clerk in receiving and recording monies.

The State Auditor recommended that both divisions adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court monies. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review by an independent person of the bank reconciliations and the comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited. Court officials in Division VI said they will comply with the recommendation, while Division VII responded that the judge is now reviewing the bank statements on a monthly basis.

YELLOW SHEET

Both Associate Division VI and Associate Division VII do not always issue civil account receipt slips immediately upon receipt of monies. The Court Clerks in both divisions indicated that monies are receipted as time permits, and sometimes filing fees are held and not receipted until a case is actually opened. In Division VII we also found that checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. Similar conditions were also noted in the audit report issued in 1995, but these problems still exist. The court now indicates it will start restrictive endorsements and will try to correct the other problems.

To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, all monies should be entered into the receipt ledger and checks and money orders restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt, and deposits should be made daily.

Juvenile Office

The juvenile office maintains a bank account for court ordered restitution payments and donations. This restitution account includes two types of money, restitution monies received from juveniles and donations used to pay restitution in exchange for community service hours worked by the juvenile who committed the crime.

Our review of the juvenile office's accounting controls and procedures related to restitution payments found that an accurate balance is not maintained for each type of money held in the account. Furthermore, monthly listings of open items (liabilities) for the restitution monies are not prepared. Also there is no supervisory review of the accounting records, and receipt slips were not issued for some monies received. We pointed these problems out to the juvenile office in 1995, however corrections were not made. The Juvenile Officer now indicates that all recommendations have been implemented.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Presiding Judge and Court en banc
and
The Circuit Clerk of the
Twentieth Judicial Circuit
Franklin County, Missouri

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, as identified in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the judicial circuit's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in the fourth paragraph, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the various funds of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the various funds of the judicial circuit.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board Technical Bulletin 99-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues--an amendment of Technical Bulletin 98-1, requires disclosure of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. The Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, has included such disclosures in Note 3. Because of the unprecedented nature of the year 2000 issue, its effects and the success of related remediation efforts will not be fully determinable until the year 2000 and thereafter. Accordingly, insufficient audit evidence exists to support the judicial circuit's disclosures with respect to the year 2000 issue made in Note 3. Further, we do not provide assurance that the judicial circuit is or will become year 2000-compliant, that the judicial circuit's year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the judicial circuit does business will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the effects of such adjustments, if any, as might have been determined to be necessary had we been able to examine evidence regarding year 2000 disclosures, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the various funds of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated February 17, 1999, on our consideration of the judicial circuit's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the State Courts Administrator's office, Franklin County, and the Twentieth Judicial Circuit and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Presiding Judge and Court en banc
and
The Circuit Clerk of the
Twentieth Judicial Circuit
Franklin County, Missouri

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, as of and for the years ended December 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 17, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. Except as discussed in that report, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the judicial circuit's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no instances of noncompliance.

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the various funds of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, we considered the judicial circuit's internal control over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the judicial circuit's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses, and these matters are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

TWENTIETH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
FRANKLIN COUNTY, MISSOURI
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present only selected data for each fund of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash are presented for the various funds administered by the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri. The operating costs of the offices within the circuit are paid directly from appropriations authorized by the County Commissions within the judicial circuit and the state of Missouri and are not included in these financial statements. The funds administered by the circuit officials located in Osage and Gasconade counties are reported on separately.

The "Total (Memorandum Only)" column is presented as additional analytical data. Because this column does not identify the restrictions that exist by fund, it should be read only with reference to the details of each fund.

B. Basis of Accounting

The Statements of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash for the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when they are received or disbursed. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, includes the transactions of the Circuit Division, the Associate Circuit Divisions, the Probate Division, the Juvenile Office, and the Law Library Fund. Each officeholder has been charged with the responsibility of administering the transactions in his or her division. The Law Library Fund is maintained by the Circuit Clerk and one of his deputies. The Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, administers transactions within the following funds:

Circuit Division Fund: This fund accounts for the transactions of the Circuit Clerk's office. These transactions include receipts and disbursements of the criminal, civil, and child support accounts.

Associate Division VI Fund: This fund accounts for the transactions of the Associate Division VI. These transactions include receipts and disbursements of court costs, fines, fees, bonds, and interest income.

Associate Division VII Fund: This fund accounts for the transactions of the Associate Division VII. These transactions include receipts and disbursements of court costs, fines, fees, bonds, and interest income.

Probate Division Fund: This fund accounts for the transactions of the Probate Division. These transactions include receipts and disbursements of court deposits and fees.

Juvenile Office Fund: This fund accounts for the transactions of the Juvenile Office. These transactions include receipts and disbursements of restitution payments and donations.

Law Library Fund: This fund accounts for the transactions of the law library, including fees collected from Circuit Division deposits and the related interest income. Disbursements are legally restricted for maintenance of a law library.

2. Cash

Section 483.310, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, authorizes circuit courts to place their funds in savings deposits in banks and savings and loan associations or in U.S. Treasury bills.

In accordance with Statement No. 3 of the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, Deposits with Financial Institutions, Investments (Including Repurchase Agreements), and Reverse Repurchase Agreements, disclosures are provided below regarding the risk of potential loss of cash deposits. For the purposes of these disclosures, deposits with financial institutions are demand, time, and savings accounts, including certificates of deposit and negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, in banks and savings institutions.

The circuit court's deposits at December 31, 1998 and 1997, were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance or by collateral securities held by the court's custodial bank in the circuit court's name.

3. Year 2000 Compliance

Circuit Division:

Several tests have been completed to determine if the current system used for the administration of the courts is compatible for the problems caused by the year 2000. Although the hardware is Y2K compatible, it has been determined that the software is not Y2K compatible. The Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) computer division has indicated that the circuit division is scheduled to convert to the statewide automation system, BANNER. This conversion will take place sometime during the summer of 1999, while the equipment for this system is to be in place by the end of March 1999. The OSCA has indicated that the new computer system will be Y2K compatible. The new federally mandated child support system, MACSS, is Y2K compatible.

Associate Division VI:

This division has relied on information from the OSCA regarding the ACMS system and its compliance for Y2K. This system is used for traffic, misdemeanors and felonies and involves three of the division's five computers. The OSCA has indicated that they are working on the Y2K concern relating to the ACMS system. The division will be notified when the work is complete.

The other two computers used by this division do not use state systems or programs and should be Y2K compatible.

Associate Division VII:

This division completed most of the updating for the year 2000 in late 1998. Computers within this division are the major areas of Y2K concern. The new computers in this division are reported to be fully compliant for the year 2000. The OSCA has indicated that they are working on the Y2K concern relating to the ACMS system and they plan to be fully compliant for the year 2000. The division will be notified when the work is complete. Other matters beyond the division's control could impact the operations of the courts.

TWENTIETH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
FRANKLIN COUNTY, MISSOURI
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Associate Division VI's Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 17-18)

   Accounting duties are not adequately segregated, receipt slips for civil monies collected are not issued immediately upon receipt and civil monies are not deposited timely. Civil receipt slips do not indicate the method of payment and reconciliations are not performed between the composition of court receipts and composition of deposits.

2. Associate Division VII's Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 18-19)

   Accounting duties are not adequately segregated, receipt slips for civil monies collected are not issued immediately upon receipt, and civil monies are not deposited timely. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

3. Juvenile Officer's Accounting Controls and Procedures (pages 20-21)

   Accounting duties are not adequately segregated and monies in the restitution account are not adequately classified by type and properly identified by case. Receipt slips are not always issued for monies received and do not indicate method of payment received.

TWENTIETH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
FRANKLIN COUNTY, MISSOURI
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, as of and for the two years ended December 31, 1998, and have issued our report thereon dated February 17, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements. The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our audit of the judicial circuit's special-purpose financial statements.

1. Associate Division VI's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies collected by the Associate Division VI are not adequately segregated. Currently, any of the five employees in Division VI have the authority to perform all of the duties related to collecting, recording, and depositing court monies. The judge indicated he occasionally performs a review of bank reconciliations, but this is not documented.

To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, the duties of receiving and depositing monies should be segregated from recording transactions and reconciling the bank account. If duties cannot be segregated, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent review of the bank reconciliation and a comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited.

B. The court does not always issue civil account receipt slips immediately upon receipt of monies. The Court Clerk indicated that monies are receipted as time permits, but sometimes filing fees are held and not receipted until a case is actually opened. In addition, civil receipts are not deposited on a timely basis. During our review, we observed 29 checks totaling over $1,000 for garnishments and civil filing fees that were not receipted or deposited; a few were held four to six weeks from the date on the check. Deposits are generally made about twice a week and average approximately $2,200.

To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, all monies should be entered into the receipt ledger immediately upon receipt and deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Our review noted the following regarding verification of composition:

1) The civil receipt ledgers used by Associate Division VI do not indicate the method of payment received.

2) Although the method of payment is documented on the receipt slips issued for bonds and criminal fees, the Associate Division VI does not reconcile the composition of receipt slips to the composition of deposits.

To ensure receipts are deposited intact, the method of all payments received should be indicated on the receipt slips and the composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

Similar conditions were also noted in our two prior reports.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Associate Division VI:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court monies. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review by an independent person of the bank reconciliations and the comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited.

B. Enter all receipts in the receipt ledger immediately upon receipt, and deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C.1. Indicate the method of payment in the civil receipt ledger.

2. Reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to the amounts deposited in each respective account.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Associate Circuit Judge, Division VI, and the Division Clerk provided the following responses:

A,C.1, &C.2. We will comply.

B. New case filing deposits and garnishment deposits are normally held until the work is processed because we indicate the return date on the receipt. We will try harder to comply.

2. Associate Division VII's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies collected by the Associate Division VII are not adequately segregated. Currently, one of the division clerks performs all these duties with help from the deputy clerk in receiving and recording monies. The judge indicated he occasionally performs a review of bank reconciliations, but this is not documented.

To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, the duties of receiving and depositing monies should be segregated from recording transactions and reconciling the bank account. If duties cannot be segregated, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent review of the bank reconciliation and a comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited.

B. The court does not always issue civil account receipt slips immediately upon receipt of monies. The Court Clerk indicated that filing fees are sometimes held and not receipted until a case is actually opened. In addition, civil receipts are not deposited on a timely basis. Deposits are generally made about one or two times a week and average approximately $2,500.

To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, all monies should be entered into the receipt ledger immediately upon receipt and deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, these negotiable instruments should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

Conditions B and C were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the Associate Division VII:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court monies. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review by an independent person of the bank reconciliations and the comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited.

B. Enter all receipts in the receipt ledger immediately upon receipt, and deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Associate Circuit Judge, Division VII, and the Division Clerk provided the following responses:

A. The Judge is now reviewing the bank statements on a monthly basis.

B. We will consider receipting, endorsing, and depositing the civil checks upon receipt and opening the case file when time allows. It is a logistical problem to make those deposits more timely.

C. We will start doing this.

3. Juvenile Officer's Accounting Controls and Procedures

The juvenile office maintains a bank account for court ordered restitution payments and donations. Our review of the juvenile office's accounting controls and procedures related to restitution payments disclosed the following concerns:

A. There is no supervisory review of the accounting records. The juvenile office bookkeeper is responsible for issuing receipt slips, preparing deposits, posting receipts to the cash control and restitution files, and preparing the bank reconciliation.

   To adequately safeguard monies and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, the duties of receiving and depositing monies should be segregated from recording transactions and reconciling the bank account. If duties cannot be segregated, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent review of the bank reconciliation and a comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited.

B. The restitution account includes restitution monies received from juveniles and paid to the applicable victims, and United Fund monies which are donations used to pay restitution to the applicable victim in exchange for community service hours worked by the applicable juvenile. An accurate balance is not maintained for each type of money held in the account. Furthermore, monthly listings of open items (liabilities) for the restitution monies are not prepared. At December 31, 1998, the restitution account had a balance of $ 1,718.

   Maintenance of a running balance for each type of money in the restitution account, and a monthly listing of open items, is necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure the monies held in trust by the juvenile office are sufficient to meet liabilities.

C. Receipt slips are not always prepared for monies received. To adequately account for all receipts, receipt slips should be issued for all monies collected and the numerical sequence should be accounted for properly.

D. The receipt slips that are issued by the juvenile office do not always indicate the method of payment received. To ensure receipts are deposited intact, the method of all payments received should be indicated on the receipt slips. The composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

Similar conditions were also noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the Juvenile Office:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing restitution payments. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review by an independent person of the bank reconciliations and the comparison of recorded receipts to amounts deposited.

B. Maintain a running balance of each type of money held in the restitution account, prepare monthly listings of open items, and reconcile these listings to the restitution balance in the restitution account.

C. Issue receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

D. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip and reconcile total cash, checks and money orders received to amounts deposited.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Juvenile Officer indicated all recommendations have been implemented.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

TWENTIETH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
FRANKLIN COUNTY, MISSOURI
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the two years ended December 31, 1994. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the judicial circuit should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. Circuit Clerk's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The open items listing indicated that there was $4,464 in unidentified monies being held.

B. At December 31, 1994, checks written on the child support account totaling $1,995 had been outstanding for more than one year.

C. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed until the deposit was prepared.

Recommendation:

The Circuit Clerk:

A. Investigate and resolve differences between the monthly open items listings and the reconciled cash balances. Any excess balance which cannot be ultimately identified should be disposed of through the applicable statutory provisions.

B. Reissue old outstanding checks to any payees who can be located. If the payees cannot be located, the monies should be disposed of through the applicable statutory provisions. In addition, procedures to routinely follow up and reissue any old outstanding checks should be adopted.

C. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. Part of the prior balance ($1,750) has been paid out. Less than one percent of the total balance is currently unidentified.

B. Partially implemented. At December 31, 1998, there were approximately $6,150 in old outstanding checks. These old checks have since been voided and the court is in the process of reissuing the checks.

C. Not implemented. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

2. Associate Circuit Division VI's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The court did not always issue civil account receipt slips immediately upon receipt of monies. In addition, civil receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

B. The receipt ledgers used by the Associate Circuit Division VI did not indicate the method of payments received.

C. The Associate Circuit Division VI voided old outstanding checks and turned the related funds over to the County Treasurer for credit to the County Escheats Fund. Statutory provisions specify some unclaimed funds are to be remitted to the state.

D. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies collected by the Associate Circuit Division VI were not adequately segregated.

E. The court allowed fines and court costs for certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date, however, there were some offenses that were not included on this schedule that could also be paid prior to the court date.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit Division VI:

A. Enter all receipts in the receipt ledger immediately upon receipt, and deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. Indicate the method of payment in the receipt ledgers and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to amounts deposited.

C. Reissue old outstanding checks to any payees who can be located. If the payees cannot be located, the monies should be disposed of through the applicable statutory provisions.

D. Adequately segregate duties between available employees and/or establish a documented periodic review of division records by an independent person.

E. Request the Prosecuting Attorney to document the amount of fines and court costs assessed in the case files and sign off on the amounts assessed.

Status:

A&D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

B. Partially implemented. The method of payment is indicated for bond and criminal monies, however, not for civil monies received. Reconciliations are not performed of total cash, checks, and money orders received to amounts deposited. See MAR No. 1.

C&E. Implemented.

3. Associate Circuit Division VII's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The court did not always issue civil account receipt slips immediately upon receipt of monies. In addition, civil receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

B. The civil account and bond receipt ledgers used by the Associate Circuit Division VII did not indicate the method of payments received.

C. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. The Associate Circuit Division VII voided old outstanding checks and turned the related funds over to the County Treasurer for credit to the County Escheats Fund. Statutory provisions specify some unclaimed funds are to be remitted to the state.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit Division VII:

A. Enter all receipts in the receipt ledger immediately upon receipt, and deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. Indicate the method of payment in the receipt ledgers and reconcile the total cash, checks, and money orders received to amounts deposited.

C. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

D. Reissue old outstanding checks to any payees who can be located. If the payees of old outstanding checks cannot be located, the monies should be disposed of through the applicable statutory provisions.

Status:

A&C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 2.

B&D. Implemented.

4. Ticket Accountability

Neither the Sheriff's department nor the Prosecuting Attorney's office accounted for the numerical sequence of traffic tickets issued by the Franklin County Sheriff's department.

Recommendation:

The Associate Circuit divisions work with the Franklin County Sheriff's department and the Prosecuting Attorney's office to ensure the listing of tickets issued is reviewed and any missing tickets are accounted for properly.

Status:

Partially implemented. Three out of 100 tickets reviewed were not listed in the log, however the Associate Circuit Division was able to locate cases for two of these three tickets. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

5. Juvenile Officer's Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. Receipt slips were not prenumbered by the printer and were not prepared for all monies received. In addition, the receipt ledger maintained by the juvenile office did not list each receipt individually.

B. The receipt slips that were issued by the juvenile office did not indicate the method of payment received.

C. Formal monthly bank reconciliations were not prepared for the restitution account during 1993 and 1994. In addition, a running balance was not maintained in the checkbook register for the restitution account in 1993.

D. The restitution account includes restitution payments and donations, however the account balance is not classified by type of money. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

E. There was no supervisory review of the accounting records.

Recommendation:

The Juvenile Office:

A. Issue preprinted, prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

B. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip and reconcile total cash, checks and money orders received to amounts deposited.

C. Perform monthly bank reconciliations and maintain a running balance of the restitution account in the checkbook register.

D. Maintain a running balance of each type of money held in the restitution account, prepare monthly listings of open items, and reconcile these listings to the balance in the restitution account.

E. Adequately segregate duties between available employees and/or establish a documented periodic review of division records by an independent person.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The juvenile office receipt slips are preprinted and prenumbered, however, they are not issued for all monies received and the numerical sequence is not accounted for properly. See MAR No. 3.

B, D & E. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

C. Implemented.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

TWENTIETH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
FRANKLIN COUNTY, MISSOURI
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organization

The Twentieth Judicial Circuit consists of Franklin County as well as the counties of Gasconade and Osage.

The Twentieth Judicial Circuit consists of two circuit judges and five associate circuit judges. The circuit judges hear cases throughout the circuit. One circuit judge also serves as presiding circuit judge on a rotating basis and is responsible for administration of the circuit. Of the five associate circuit judges, three are located in Franklin County and preside over the Associate Circuit Court, (Divisions VI and VII) and the Probate Division Court (Division V). The other two associate judges are located one each in Gasconade County and Osage County.

In addition to the judges, the personnel of the Twentieth Judicial Circuit, Franklin County, Missouri, include a circuit clerk, two associate division clerks, a probate division clerk, twenty-one deputy clerks, a juvenile officer, fourteen deputy juvenile officers, two court reporters, one secretary, and nine full-time juvenile office support staff.

Circuit personnel located in Gasconade and Osage counties are not included in the scope of this audit, but are reported on separately.

The juvenile officer's home base is Franklin County, but he also serves residents of Gasconade and Osage counties.

Operating Costs

The operating expenses of the various courts are paid by Franklin County. The operating expenses for the circuit judges, court reporters, and juvenile office are paid for by the various counties within the circuit based on the percentage of the county's population to the total circuit population.

The salaries of the court personnel are paid by the state of Missouri. The salaries of the Juvenile Detention Center are paid by Franklin County. The salaries of the remaining juvenile office personnel are paid for by the various counties within the circuit based on the percentage of each county's population to the total circuit population. The salary of the Juvenile Officer is paid by the state of Missouri and by the various counties within the circuit.

Expenditures incurred for Franklin County were obtained from the Franklin County budget and from information provided by the State Courts Administrator's office and are as follows:

AUDIT REPORT

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

The following audit report presents our findings and recommendations for the municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit. During our audit, we identified accounting records, controls, and certain management practices which we believe could be improved. The municipal divisions in which specific findings and recommendations were noted are listed below:

City of Cameron	pages 21-23
City of Hamilton	pages 23-25
City of Lathrop	pages 25-27
City of Polo	pages 27-28
City of Trimble	pages 28-32

We had no findings or recommendations for the municipal divisions of the City of Gower and the City of Plattsburg.

Actions taken by the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit on recommendations made in our prior report are noted on pages 33-38.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Forty-Third Judicial Circuit

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; December 31, 1997 and 1996; and the period January 1, 1998 to June 30, 1998, as identified by municipality and fiscal period in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the municipal divisions' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in paragraphs four and five, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the municipal divisions.

Internal control procedures and accounting records of the city of Hamilton Municipal Division were inadequate. Records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket issued were not maintained and some of the tickets selected for review could not be located. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements for fines and court costs beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Internal control procedures and accounting records of the city of Lathrop Municipal Division were inadequate. Records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket issued were not maintained. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements for fines and court costs beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board Technical Bulletin 99-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues--an amendment of Technical Bulletin 98-1, requires disclosure of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. Such required disclosures include any significant amount of resources committed to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment; a general description of the year 2000 issue, including a description of the stages of work in process or completed as of the end of the reporting period to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment critical to conducting operations; and an indication that the completion of these stages is not a guarantee that systems and equipment will be year 2000-compliant. Except for disclosure provided by the city of Cameron Municipal Division, which is included in Note 5, the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit have omitted such disclosures. We do not provide assurance that the municipal divisions are or will become year 2000-compliant, that the municipal divisions' year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the municipal divisions do business will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the effects, if any, on the financial statements of the matters discussed in the preceding three paragraphs, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions (other than the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; December 31, 1997 and 1996; and the period January 1, 1998 to June 30, 1998, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

We also had planned to audit the accompanying special-purpose financial statement of the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997. This special-purpose financial statement is the responsibility of the municipal division's management.

The internal control procedures and accounting records of the city of Trimble Municipal Division were inadequate. Records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket issued by the city of Trimble Police Department were not maintained and some accounting records maintained by the municipal division could not be located. Receipt slips were not issued for some fines and costs received, receipts were not always deposited intact, and bond forms were not prenumbered. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements for fines, court costs, and bonds for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding paragraph, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated December 3, 1998, on our consideration of the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting and on our tests of their compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the municipal divisions' management and was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Forty-Third Judicial Circuit

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997) of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; December 31, 1997 and 1996; and the period January 1, 1998 to June 30, 1998, and have issued our report thereon dated December 3, 1998. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit for the applicable fiscal periods. Except as discussed in the report on the financial statements of the municipal divisions referred to in the preceding sentence, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

We also had planned to audit the accompanying special-purpose financial statement of the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated December 3, 1998. In that report we did not express an opinion on the special-purpose financial statement.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the municipal divisions' compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no material instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain other instances of noncompliance which are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit, we considered the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal controls over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal controls over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the municipal divisions' ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal controls over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal controls that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be material weaknesses, and these matters are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

FORTY-THIRD JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present only selected data for the funds administered by the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit of the state of Missouri. The city of Jamesport Municipal Division began operations in October 1998. Since this division has not completed a fiscal year, the city of Jamesport Municipal Division has not been included in this report.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash are presented for each municipal division. The operating costs of each division are paid by the respective municipality and are not included in these financial statements.

The municipal division is responsible for cash bonds posted until case disposition allows appropriate disbursement. Bond monies relating to pending cases, whether in the custody of the city or the municipal division, are included in these financial statements.

B. Basis of Accounting

The Statements of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when they are received or disbursed. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The municipal divisions account for fines and court costs resulting from prosecution of violations of municipal ordinances before the municipal judge or received through the traffic violations bureau, as well as cash bonds posted. Municipal violations could include traffic offenses, both moving and nonmoving; parking meter and overtime parking offenses; and other violations for which amounts are received by the municipal divisions and remitted to the city treasury. The municipal divisions also may account for restitutions received and disbursed through the divisions.

2. Cash

Section 479.080, RSMo 1994, requires municipal divisions to deposit fines and court costs into the city treasury at least monthly. Some divisions maintain bank accounts into which fines and court costs are deposited and later remitted to the city treasury. Other divisions do not maintain bank accounts, transmitting fines and court costs directly to the city treasury. Escrow bank accounts for bond monies received may be maintained by the city or the municipal division.

At the financial statement dates identified in the table of contents for the years ended 1998, 1997, and 1996, all bank account balances reported for the municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Disbursements to State

The municipal divisions collect various amounts that must be remitted to the state of Missouri. These amounts include the judgment for the Motorcycle Safety Trust Fund and the surcharges for the Crime Victims' Compensation and Services to Victims Funds, the Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission Fund, and (until July 1, 1997, when municipal divisions were no longer required to assess the surcharge) the Independent Living Center Fund. The state's portions of these amounts are deposited into the city treasury for all municipal divisions, except the municipal divisions of the city of Cameron, the city of Trimble, and the city of Plattsburg. Amounts remitted by the cities to the state are not included in the financial statements.

4. City of Gower

Bonds posted by defendants for the city of Gower Municipal Division are deposited directly into the city treasury. The amounts held by the city at year-end could not be determined and, therefore, are not included in the financial statements.

5. Year 2000 Compliance - City of Cameron

The city of Cameron has recently completed testing of all computer hardware and software to make sure it is year 2000-compliant. At this time all computer hardware and software are year 2000-compliant.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

FORTY-THIRD JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30 1998 and 1997) of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended September 30, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; December 31, 1997 and 1996; and the period January 1, 1998 to June 30, 1998, and have issued our report thereon dated December 3, 1998. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit for the applicable fiscal periods.

We also had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated December 3, 1998. In that report, we did not express an opinion on the special-purpose financial statement.

The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our audit of the municipal divisions' special-purpose financial statements. During our audit, we also identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our audit was not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. City of Cameron Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving and depositing monies are not adequately segregated from the recording of transactions. The Court Clerk performs all the duties related to the collection, depositing, and recording of fine and cost receipts. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B. Court receipts are not deposited into the court bank account on a timely basis. The Court Clerk makes deposits weekly with the average deposit totaling over $1,000. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. The police department issues a prenumbered bond form for all bonds collected; however, the bond forms are not issued in order and the Court Clerk does not account for the numerical sequence of these bond forms. To ensure all monies received by the police department are transmitted to the court, the numerical sequence of bond forms should be accounted for properly.

D. The court allows partial payments to accumulate in the fine and costs account until full payment is received. This amount is then paid to the city treasury and state. As of September 30, 1998, the court was holding over $1,700 in partial payments. Section 479.080, RSMo 1994, requires municipal divisions to transmit fines and court costs into the city treasury at least monthly.

E. The Municipal Judge does not sign the docket after dispositions are recorded. To ensure the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court's records, the judge should sign the court dockets.

Conditions similar to A., B., and D. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Cameron Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, depositing, and recording court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

B. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Account for the numerical sequence of all bond forms.

D. Pay all fines and court costs collected to the city treasury and state at least monthly in accordance with state law.

E. Ensure the Municipal Judge signs all court dockets to indicate his review and approval.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. It is hard to segregate duties when there is only one court employee. The City Clerk receives a copy of all reconciled bank statements for the city's review. The court has started having all cash reports and deposits reviewed and initialed by the Service Clerk for the city of Cameron.

B. Court receipts are deposited weekly. There is no one available to take the deposits to the bank on a more frequent time frame as the city of Cameron does its banking at a different bank than the court.

C. The police department is now given only one pad of twenty-five bond forms at a time so they can be used in numerical sequence. Before they had two or three pads of twenty-five bond forms and just used whichever pad they grabbed. Hopefully by only giving them one pad of twenty-five bond forms at a time they will be used in sequence. The court does and has always maintained a numerical file of bond forms issued.

D. The issue of partial payments being held by the court until payment in full is being addressed by the new computer software purchased. The city of Cameron has just received, as of March 1999, the new 2000 compliant version of court software. As soon as the software people can get a report to print off what money goes to fines, costs, and other fees and do it correctly, then all money will be transmitted monthly into the city treasury as required.

E. The court will ask the Municipal Judge to sign the completed docket on a regular basis. The Municipal Judge has indicated he will initial the completed docket at the next court.

2. City of Hamilton Municipal Division

A. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) The duties of receiving and depositing monies are not adequately segregated from the recording of transactions. The Court Clerk performs all the duties related to the collection, depositing, and recording of fine and cost receipts. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

2) Prenumbered receipt slips are not issued by the Court Clerk for some monies received. During our testing, we noted two instances where receipt slips were not issued by the former Court Clerk for payments of fines and costs. To adequately account for all receipts and ensure all receipts are properly deposited in the city treasury, a prenumbered receipt slip should be issued for all monies received and the numerical sequence of receipt slips should be accounted for properly.

B. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) Prenumbered receipt slips are not issued for some bond monies received by the police department. In addition, the Court Clerk does not issue receipt slips for bond monies received from the police department and other entities. To adequately account for all receipts and ensure all receipts are transmitted to the municipal division and are properly deposited into the court bank account, a prenumbered receipt slip should be issued for all monies received and the numerical sequence of receipt slips should be accounted for properly.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance. Monthly open items listings should be prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance to ensure proper accountability over open cases and ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

C. The Municipal Judge does not sign the docket after dispositions are recorded. To ensure the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court's records, the Judge should sign the court dockets.

D. Neither the police department nor the court maintains adequate records to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of traffic tickets issued. Three of sixty tickets selected for testing could not be provided by the municipal division or the police department for our review.

Without a proper accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of tickets, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured all tickets issued are properly submitted to the court for processing. Properly maintained logs would ensure accountability of all tickets as well as their ultimate disposition.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Hamilton Municipal Division:

A.1. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, depositing, and recording court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

2. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received.

B.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all bond monies received.

2. Prepare monthly open items listings and reconcile these listings with monies held in trust.

C. Ensure the Municipal Judge signs all court dockets to indicate his review and approval.

D. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all tickets issued.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A.1. Our court consists of only one Court Clerk. This makes it very difficult to segregate the duties of receiving, depositing, and recording court receipts. Court monies will be kept separate and a separate deposit will be made for court monies. The City Clerk will be asked to compare the composition of deposits to the composition of receipts.

2. We now have prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received. The police department has one book for bonds and the court has one book for fines and costs collected.

B.1. We have purchased a receipt book for bond money. The police department collects bond money and turns it over to the court. The bond receipt book is used to give the police department a receipt slip for the bond money that they turn over to the court. The police department is required to submit a receipt along with the money turned over to the court.

2. The bond account is now being reconciled and the bonds in the account are being listed. The amount of bonds are now being reconciled with the money in the bond account. The Municipal Judge signs this reconciliation.

C. The Municipal Judge will be asked to initial the completed docket at the next court date.

D. A ticket log has been started to keep track of the tickets. The police department has been notified of the importance of turning all tickets in to the court.

3. City of Lathrop Municipal Division

A. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) The duties of receiving and depositing monies are not adequately segregated from the recording of transactions. The Court Clerk performs the duties related to the collection of payments made at court, depositing, and recording of fine and cost receipts. TVB payments are collected by the City Collector. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

2) The original copies of some voided receipt slips were not retained. To provide adequate assurance that voided receipt slips are proper and to account for all receipt slips, the original copies of all voided receipt slips should be retained.

B. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance. Monthly open items listings should be prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance to ensure proper accountability over open cases and ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

C. Bank reconciliations are not performed on the court's bond account. To ensure all differences between the bank and book balances are noted in a timely manner, bank reconciliations should be performed monthly.

D. A court docket, listing the cases scheduled to appear in court, is prepared, however, not every case appears on the monthly docket and the disposition of each case is not always recorded. In addition, the Municipal Judge does not sign the court docket verifying the accuracy of cases scheduled to appear and fines and court costs assessed. Section 479.070, RSMo 1994, requires the proceeding for every case be entered on the docket.

To ensure cases have been accounted for properly, all cases should be listed on the court docket, along with the final disposition. Furthermore, the Municipal Judge should sign the court dockets verifying the accuracy of cases scheduled to appear and fines and court costs assessed.

E. Neither the police department nor the court maintains adequate records to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of traffic tickets issued. The police department does not maintain a listing of ticket books assigned to police officers and records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each ticket issued are incomplete.

Without a proper accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of tickets, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured all tickets issued are properly submitted to the court for processing. Properly maintained logs would ensure accountability of all tickets as well as their ultimate disposition.

Conditions similar to A.2. and E. were also noted in our prior report.
WE RECOMMEND the city of Lathrop Municipal Division:

A.1. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, depositing, and recording court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

2. Retain the original copy of all voided receipt slips.

B. Prepare monthly open items listings and reconcile these listings with monies held in trust.

C. Ensure monthly bank reconciliations on the court's bond account are performed.

D. Ensure every case, including those handled at the TVB, commenced before the court is entered on the monthly court dockets, including final disposition and ensure the Municipal Judge signs the dockets.

E. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all tickets issued.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A.1. Beginning in February 1999, the City Collector prepares a summary of all fines and costs received and the Court Clerk reconciles the summary to the receipts and prepares the deposit.

2. We have been retaining all copies of voided receipt slips.

B&C. These recommendations have been implemented.

D. We will try to ensure all cases are entered on the docket.

E. The Municipal Judge will request the Chief of Police report lost or voided citations to the court in a timely fashion. The court files traffic tickets in numerical order.

4. City of Polo Municipal Division

A. Summonses issued by the Court Clerk are not prenumbered. To ensure all summonses are properly accounted for and processed through the court, summonses should be prenumbered and the ultimate disposition of each summons documented.

B. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance. Monthly open items listings should be prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance to ensure proper accountability over open cases and ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

C. The court holds partial payments of fines and costs in its money bag until full payment is received. This amount is then paid to the city treasury. Section 479.080, RSMo, 1994, requires municipal divisions to deposit fines and court costs into the city treasury at least monthly.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Polo Municipal Division:

A. Use prenumbered summonses and document the ultimate disposition of each summons.

B. Prepare monthly open items listings and reconcile these listings with monies held in trust.

C. Transmit all fines and court costs collected to the city treasury at least monthly in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A. Very few summonses are issued each year. Therefore, it is cost prohibitive to purchase new summonses. Each summons on hand will be manually numbered.

B. This has been implemented.

C. Partial payments are no longer held. They are deposited along with all other court receipts.

5. City of Trimble Municipal Division

A. During our review, we noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) The duties of receiving and depositing monies are not adequately segregated from the recording of transactions. The Court Clerk performs all the duties related to the collection, depositing, and recording of fine and cost receipts. There is no independent reconciliation between receipts and deposits. In addition, there is no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions by an independent person.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls could be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be supervisory review of the reconciliations between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

2) Court receipts are not deposited into the court bank account intact or on a timely basis. We noted one instance where the composition of the deposit did not agree to the composition of the receipts due to a refund given in cash. In addition, we noted one instance where over $600 was received but was not deposited for approximately six weeks. These receipts included a $100 bond that was disbursed a month before it was deposited into the court bank account.

   To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, deposits should be made intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

3) Prenumbered receipt slips are not issued by the Court Clerk for some monies received. We noted several instances where receipt slips were not issued for payments of fines and costs. In addition, the receipt slips issued are rediform receipt slips which are not specifically printed for the court. To adequately account for all receipts and ensure all receipts are properly deposited in the court account, official prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received and the numerical sequence of receipt slips should be accounted for properly.

4) The municipal division accepts cash, checks, and money orders for payments of fines and court costs. Receipt slips issued by the municipal division do not always indicate the method of payment received. To ensure receipts are deposited intact, the method of payment should be indicated on all receipt slips. The composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of deposits.

B. During our review we noted the following concerns related to bonds:

1) Bond forms issued by the police department serve as a receipt slip to the defendant; however, the bond forms are not prenumbered. To adequately account for all bond monies, prenumbered bond forms or receipt slips should be issued for all bonds received by the police department and the numerical sequence should be accounted for properly.

2) Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance. Monthly open items listings should be prepared and reconciled to the available cash balance to ensure proper accountability over open cases and ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities.

C. The Court Clerk does not maintain a balance in the checkbook register for the division's court account, and some deposits and withdrawals are not recorded in the checkbook register. In addition, formal bank reconciliations were not prepared for the municipal division's bond account or court account. To ensure all differences between the bank and book balances are noted in a timely manner, a balance should be maintained in the checkbook register and reconciled with the bank statement on a monthly basis.

D. The Court Clerk was unable to locate eight bank statements, one receipt book, six case files, three void checks, and cash control ledgers for an eight month period. Since these records were not available during audit fieldwork, we could not apply auditing procedures to these records. The municipal division needs to ensure all court records are retained in accordance with Supreme Court Administrative Rule 8.04, which requires records to be retained five years or upon completion of an audit, if sooner.

E. The court transmitted fines and court costs to the city only four times during the two year audit period and the amounts transmitted averaged over $1,000. The Court Clerk indicated that transmittals are typically made once the fine and cost account has accumulated to $1,500. In addition, the court has not remitted Crime Victim's Compensation (CVC) fees to the state since September 1997.

Section 479.080.1, RSMo 1994, requires fines and court costs be transmitted at least monthly to the city treasury. Section 595.045, RSMo 1994 requires 95 percent of CVC fees collected be paid to the state at least monthly. The court should disburse all fines and court costs collected each month to the city and state and ensure all amounts in the fines and court costs bank account are identified and disbursed to the appropriate parties.

F. Neither the police department nor the court maintain adequate records to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of traffic tickets issued. The police department does not maintain a listing of ticket books assigned to police officers and records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each ticket issued are not maintained.

Without a proper accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of tickets, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured all tickets issued are properly submitted to the court for processing. Properly maintained logs would ensure accountability of all tickets as well as their ultimate disposition.

Conditions similar to A.1, A.2, A.3, and F. were also noted in our prior report.

Because of the problems noted above, we were unable to express an opinion on the financial statement of the city of Trimble Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997. These deficiencies are serious and should be corrected immediately.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Trimble Municipal Division:

A.1. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, depositing, and recording court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits by an independent person.

2. Deposit receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

3. Issue official prenumbered receipts slips for all court monies received.

4. Indicate the method of payment on all receipt slips issued and reconcile the composition of receipt slips issued to the composition of monies deposited.

B.1. Work with the police department to ensure prenumbered bond forms or receipt slips are issued and the numerical sequence of the bond forms or receipt slips is accounted for properly.

2. Prepare monthly open items listings and reconcile these listings with monies held in trust.

C. Maintain an accurate balance in the court account checkbook register and ensure monthly bank reconciliations of all bank accounts are performed.

D. Retain all court records in accordance with Supreme Court Administrative Rule 8.04.

E. Transmit all fines and court costs monthly to the city, and attempt to identify all monies remaining in the fines and court costs bank account and transmit to the appropriate parties.

F. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all tickets issued.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk provided the following responses:

A.1. The Police Chief will be reviewing the bank reconciliations.

A.2,
A.4,
B.2,C,
& D. These recommendations have been implemented.
A.3. We have obtained official prenumbered receipt slips and are issuing these receipt slips for all receipts.

B.1. The police department is now issuing prenumbered bond forms and the numerical sequence is accounted for.

E. Fines and court costs are transmitted to the city following each court.

F. The court maintains a numerical file of traffic tickets. In the future, we will ensure that all ticket numbers are accounted for.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

FORTY-THIRD JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by five of the municipal divisions of the Forty-Third Judicial Circuit on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the two years ended 1995. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the municipal divisions should consider implementing these recommendations.

1. City of Cameron Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving and depositing monies were not adequately segregated from the recording of transactions. In addition, there was no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions.

B.1. Some checks and money orders received through the Traffic Violation Bureau (TVB) were not restrictively endorsed or deposited timely.

2. The court issued rediform receipt slips for monies received.

C. The disposition for tickets sent to courts other than the municipal division was not always documented. In addition, officers' copies of tickets issued were not always retained.

D. All fines and court costs collected were not paid to the city treasury on a monthly basis.

Recommendations:

The city of Cameron Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits.

B.1. Record and restrictively endorse all TVB collections immediately upon receipt and deposit receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

2. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies collected and account for their numerical sequence.

C. Work with the police department to establish procedures to document the disposition of all tickets issued and to retain the officers' copies of all tickets issued.

D. Transmit fines and court costs to the city on a monthly basis as required by state law.

Status:

A&D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

B.1 Partially implemented. TVB collections received through the mail are restrictively endorsed upon receipt, but deposited weekly. See MAR No. 1.

B.2. & C. Implemented.

2. City of Gower Municipal Division

A. The Law Enforcement Training (LET) and Crime Victims' Compensation (CVC) fees were sometimes collected on nonmoving traffic violations although prohibited by state law.

B. The court issued rediform receipt slips for monies received.

Recommendations:

The city of Gower Municipal Division:

A. Assess the CVC and LET fees in accordance with state law.

B. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies collected and account for their numerical sequence.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

3. City of Lathrop Municipal Division

A.1. The Court Clerk did not issue receipt slips for bond monies collected.

2. Receipt slips issued by the court did not always indicate the method of payment received.

3. The court issued rediform receipt slips for monies received.

B. Adequate documentation was not maintained for all court transactions.

C. Neither the police department nor the court always accounted for the ultimate disposition of traffic tickets issued.

D. The LET fee was not collected as allowed by city ordinance.

Recommendations:

The city of Lathrop Municipal Division:

A.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all bond monies received.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

3. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies collected and account for their numerical sequence.

B. Ensure all documentation supporting court transactions is retained for future reference in accordance with Supreme Court rules.

C. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket issued.

D. Assess the LET fee in accordance with state law.

Status:

A.1,
A.3,
& D. Implemented.

A.2 Partially implemented. Receipt slips indicate the method of payment, but the total cash, checks, and money orders received are not reconciled to bank deposits. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the municipal division should still consider fully implementing this recommendation.

B&C. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

4. City of Polo Municipal Division

A. The Court Clerk did not obtain receipt slips from the city's accountant for court monies transmitted.

B. The court issued rediform receipt slips for monies received.

C. Receipts were not kept in a secure location and deposits were not made timely.

D. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies collected by the municipal division were not adequately segregated.

E. The Municipal Judge did not sign court dockets after case dispositions were recorded and did not review the court dockets to ensure he agreed with the disposition of cases handled outside the court through the TVB.

F. The Court Clerk amended the charges on some tickets handled through the TVB to defective equipment without authorization or approval of these amendments.

Recommendations:

The city of Polo Municipal Division:

A. Obtain prenumbered receipt slips for monies transmitted to the city's accountant and reconcile the receipt slips to bank deposits.

B. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies collected and account for their numerical sequence.

C. Deposit receipts intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100. Until deposit, monies received should be stored in a secure location.

D. Establish a documented periodic review of municipal division records by an independent person.

E. Require the Municipal Judge to review all court dockets for propriety and sign the dockets.

F. Ensure the City Attorney or Municipal Judge is aware of and approves any amendment of charges.

Status:

A. Partially implemented. The accountant signs a transmittal log to accept receipts for deposit. The Court Clerk does not review the accountant's reconciliation of the transmittals to the bank statement. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the municipal division should still consider fully implementing this recommendation.

B,D,
E&F. Implemented.

C. Not implemented. Deposits are made approximately once a week and averaged approximately $350. Although not repeated in the current MAR, the municipal division should still consider implementing this recommendation.

5. City of Trimble Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving and depositing monies were not adequately segregated from the recording of transactions. In addition, there was no supervisory review performed of the Court Clerk's functions.

B. The court issued rediform receipt slips for monies received.

C. Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

D. The monthly report filed with the city by the municipal division included only the total number of cases heard and monies due to the city.

E. Neither the municipal division nor the police department could account for one book of twenty-five tickets assigned to the police department by the Missouri State Highway Patrol (MSHP).

Recommendations:

The city of Trimble Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits.

B. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies collected and account for the numerical sequence.

C. Deposit all receipts daily, or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

D. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these with the city in accordance with state law.

E. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets printed, assigned, and issued.

Status:

A, B,

C, &
E. Not implemented. See MAR No. 5.

D. Implemented.

AUDIT REPORT

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT

CITY OF HOWARDVILLE, MISSOURI

MUNICIPAL DIVISION

TWO YEARS ENDED JUNE 30, 1998

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-35
May 12, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

The following problems, discovered as result of our office's most recent two year audit of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit's Municipal Division in the City of Howardville, may have been avoided had our prior recommendations calling for stricter financial controls been implemented.

Cash receipts for fines, court costs, and bonds totaling at least $11,847 were received and not deposited during the period July 1, 1997 through May 18, 1998. In addition, payments in excess of the Court Clerk's authorized compensation totaling $22,269, ($9,682 from the court account and $12,587 from the city police account) were made between August 1997 and April 1998.

Information gathered during our review has been turned over to the New Madrid County Prosecuting Attorney.

The city of Howardville Municipal Division accepts cash, checks, and money orders for payment of fines, court costs, and bonds. The Court Clerk was responsible for receiving, recording and depositing court monies, as well as preparing disbursements and reconciling bank statements. In addition, the Court Clerk was responsible for accounting duties related to the city police account. Prior to August 1996, court monies were deposited directly into the city police account. In August 1996, a separate bank account was opened for the deposit of court monies; however, some court monies continued to be deposited directly into the city police account. Individuals authorized to sign checks for the court account and the city police account are limited to the City Clerk, the Mayor, and one alderman.

Vanessa Frazier was appointed court clerk in June 1997 and her employment was terminated in July 1998. She pled guilty to felony stealing related to a misappropriation discovered prior to our audit. (the $4,634 is included in the amounts mentioned above).

Clois Taylor currently serves as the Municipal Judge of the city of Howardville. Earnestine Jackson served as the Municipal Judge prior to June 1998.

We recommend the municipal division, along with the city, continue to work with law enforcement officials regarding any additional criminal prosecution and to obtain restitution of the missing funds and overpayments.

These misappropriations of funds went undetected due to several internal control weaknesses, including inadequate segregation of duties and lack of independent review as discussed in this report.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

Presiding Judge
Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit
and
Municipal Judge
Howardville, Missouri

We had planned to audit the accompanying special-purpose financial statement of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, as indentified in the table of contents. This special-purpose financial statement is the responsibility of the municipal division's management.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statement was prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit and is not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the municipal division.

As a result of internal control weaknesses, inadequate records, and evidence of fraud, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements of fines, court costs, and bonds for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

Because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding paragraph, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Howardville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated February 11, 1999, on our consideration of the municipal division's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Presiding Judge
Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit
and
Municipal Judge
Howardville, Missouri

We had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 11, 1999. In that report, we did not express an opinion on the special-purpose financial statement; as a result of internal control weaknesses, inadequate records, and evidence of fraud, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements of fines, court costs and bonds for the periods indicated above. However, we were able to perform certain procedures regarding the municipal division's compliance with legal provisions and internal control, and these procedures are discussed below.

Compliance

As part of our attempts to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit is free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the municipal division's compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our procedures, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed material instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report. We also noted certain other instances of noncompliance which are presented in that report.

224 State Capitol • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4824 • FAX (573) 751-6539

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our procedures related to the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, we considered the municipal division's internal controls over financial reporting. Our consideration was performed in connection with our attempts to determine whether an opinion could be expressed on the special-purpose financial statement and not to provide assurance on the internal control over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal control over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the municipal division's ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statement.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statement may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal control over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal control that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal control over financial reporting and its operation that we consider to be material weaknesses, and these matters are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statement

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
CITY OF HOWARDVILLE, MISSOURI
MUNICIPAL DIVISION
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENT

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statement presents only selected data for the funds administered by the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit of the state of Missouri.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash are presented for the municipal division. The operating costs of the division are paid by the city of Howardville and are not included in the financial statement.

The municipal division is responsible for cash bonds posted until case disposition allows appropriate disbursement. Bond monies relating to pending cases in the custody of the municipal division are included in the financial statement.

B. Basis of Accounting

The Statement of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash is prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when they are received or disbursed. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The municipal division accounts for fines and court costs resulting from prosecution of violations of municipal ordinances before the municipal judge or received through the traffic violations bureau, as well as cash bonds posted. Municipal violations could include traffic offenses, both moving and nonmoving; parking offenses; and other violations for which amounts are received by the municipal division and remitted to the city treasury. The municipal division also may account for restitutions received and disbursed through the division.

2. Cash

Section 479.080, RSMo 1994, requires municipal divisions to deposit fines and court costs into the city treasury at least monthly. The division maintains a bank account into which fines court costs, and bonds are deposited and later remitted to the city treasury.

At June 30, 1998 and 1997, the bank account balance reported for the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit was entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Unauthorized Payments

Disbursements to the Court Clerk totaling $9,682 for the year ended June 30, 1998, represent unauthorized payments. Also, the Court Clerk received an additional $12,587 of unauthorized payments from the city police account during the year ended June 30, 1998 for a total of $22,269 of payments in excess of her authorized compensation.

4. Missing Funds

Fines, court costs, and bonds totaling at least $11,847 which court records indicate were received by the municipal division but not deposited, are included in receipts and are presented as unaccountable disbursements on the financial statement for the year ended June 30, 1998.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Executive Summary

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
CITY OF HOWARDVILLE, MISSOURI
MUNICIPAL DIVISION
EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Cash receipts for fines, court costs, and bonds totaling at least $11,847 were received and not deposited during the period July 1, 1997 through May 18, 1998. In addition, payments in excess of the Court Clerk's authorized compensation totaling $22,269, ($9,682 from the court account and $12,587 from the city police account) were made between August 1997 and April 1998. Some receipt and disbursement information was not properly recorded, court monies were not remitted to the city and state, and city officials indicate signatures were forged on some checks, all of which helped to conceal the misappropriation of funds.

These misappropriations could have been prevented or detected on a more timely basis if adequate oversight and reviews had been performed and internal controls, as noted in the prior Management Advisory Report (MAR) and repeated in the current MAR, had been established.

Clois Taylor currently serves as the Municipal Judge of the city of Howardville. Earnestine Jackson served as the Municipal Judge prior to June 1998. Vannessa Frazier was appointed Court Clerk in June 1997 and her employment was terminated in July 1998. She pled guilty to felony stealing related to a $4,634 misappropriation discovered prior to our audit (the $4,634 is included in the amounts mentioned above). She was responsible for depositing monies, preparing disbursements, and reconciling bank statements for both the court account and the city police account.

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
CITY OF HOWARDVILLE, MISSOURI
MUNICIPAL DIVISION
MANAGEMENT ADVISOR REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statement of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit as of and for the years ended June 30, 1998, and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 11, 1999. In that report, we did not express an opinion on the special-purpose financial statement; as a result of internal control weaknesses, inadequate records, and evidence of fraud, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements of fines, court costs, and bonds for the period indicated above.

The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our procedures related to the municipal division's special-purpose financial statement. During those procedures, we also identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our procedures were not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. Missing Funds

The city of Howardville Municipal Division accepts cash, checks, and money orders for payment of fines, court costs, and bonds. The Court Clerk was responsible for receiving, recording, and depositing court monies as well as preparing disbursements and reconciling bank statements. In addition, the Court Clerk was responsible for accounting duties related to the city police account. Prior to August 1996, court monies were deposited directly into the city police account. In August 1996, a separate bank account was opened for the deposit of court monies; however, some court monies continued to be deposited directly into the city police account. Individuals authorized to sign checks for the court account and the city police account are limited to the City Clerk, the Mayor, and one alderman.

In April 1998, the Court Clerk was placed on paid administrative leave as a result of numerous overdrafts on the city police account. The Court Clerk's employment was terminated in July 1998 and she subsequently pled guilty to felony stealing. The clerk had prepared a deposit slip for $4,634 more than what was deposited in the bank. The city has filed a claim with the bonding company for $4,634 related to the information known at that time.

For the two years ended June 30, 1998, we compared amounts received by the court to amounts deposited into the court and the city police accounts. Court records indicate at least $11,757 of court monies were received between September 1997 and April 28, 1998, but were not deposited. An additional $90 payment was noted as received by the City Clerk on May 18, 1998, which was not deposited.

The amounts received by the court were determined by reviewing receipt slips and various other records that were available. For the year ended June 30, 1998, court dockets could not be located and receipt records were not complete. As a result, additional monies could be missing.

City officials indicated that during the year ended June 30, 1998, the Court Clerk's wages were to be paid from the city police account. Payments were to be made from the city general account when the balance in the city police account was not sufficient to cover the expense. We compared amounts paid to the Court Clerk from the city police, the city general, and the court bank accounts to payroll records and employee time sheets. Based on timesheets, payroll records and W-2 forms, the clerk earned a total of $7,133 in 1997 and 1998. Her net pay was $6,063, but she actually received $28,332. Payments in excess of authorized compensation were made to the Court Clerk totaling $22,269 ($9,682 from the court account and $12,587 from the police account) between August 1997 and April 1998. Some checks contained notations indicating the payment was for additional services provided or for reimbursement of expenses. However, no documentation was available to support these disbursements. In addition, the Mayor indicated some of the checks appeared to contain forged signatures. Because bank statements were missing and the bank was not able to provide copies of some checks, it is possible additional overpayments were made.

These misappropriations of funds went undetected due to several internal control weaknesses, including inadequate segregation of duties and lack of independent review, as discussed later in this report. Many of these weaknesses were also noted in our prior report.

Information gathered during our review has been turned over to the New Madrid County Prosecuting Attorney.

WE RECOMMEND the municipal division, along with the city, continue to work with law enforcement officials regarding any additional criminal prosecution and to obtain restitution of the missing funds and overpayments.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge provided the following response:

I came into office after these missing funds and overpayments had occurred. I will cooperate in any way I can and make available any records or documents I have.

2. Accounting Controls and Procedures

A. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and disbursing monies are not adequately segregated. The Court Clerk performs all of the duties related to the collection and disbursement of fines, court costs, and bonds. Neither the Judge nor other personnel independent of the cash custody and record-keeping functions provide any supervision or review of the work performed by the Court Clerk.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Since this is currently an office of one employee and proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a documented independent comparison of receipt slips issued to amounts deposited and an independent review of bank statements and reconciliations. Any unusual items or discrepancies should be investigated.

B.1. The municipal division uses prenumbered receipt slips and indicates the method of payment received (cash, check, money order). However, receipt slips are not issued for some monies received. As a result, the composition of receipt slips cannot be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

2. The numerical sequence of receipt slips is not accounted for properly. Some receipt slips were not issued in order and other receipt slips were backdated. The top copy of some voided receipt slips was not retained, and some receipt slips were skipped but not properly defaced to prevent later use.

To adequately account for all monies received, receipt slips should be issued for all monies as they are received, and the composition of receipt slips should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits. In addition, receipt slips should be issued in order and voided receipt slips should be properly defaced and retained.

C. Some cases are not reported on the court docket. In addition, the Municipal Judge does not sign the court dockets.

Section 479.070, RSMo 1994, requires the proceeding for every case commenced before the court to be entered on the docket, along with the ultimate disposition of the case. To ensure the proper disposition of all cases has been entered in the court records, the judge should sign the dockets after reviewing to ensure their propriety.

D. The Court Clerk does not maintain a bond ledger and does not prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities). A bond ledger indicating date and amount of receipt and date of disbursement is necessary to ensure proper accountability over bonds. Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust by the municipal division are sufficient to meet liabilities.

E. The municipal division allows defendants to make partial payments on fines and court costs. However, procedures have not been established to properly account for partial payments received and balances due. Defendants are required to sign a payment agreement form to document the amounts due and establish a payment schedule. However, partial payments received are not documented on the payment agreement forms. In addition, cases with balances due are not maintained on a balance due docket or other summary listing which can be reviewed by the Municipal Judge on a periodic basis.

Periodic supervisory review of balances due and adequate documentation of partial payments received are necessary to ensure that all amounts due are collected or that appropriate follow up action is taken.

F. Fines and court costs received are not properly turned over to the city. Instead, some monies are retained in the municipal division's bank account and are used to pay various court expenses, including salaries of the Judge and office supplies. Section 479.080, RSMo 1994, states that all fines and court costs shall be paid to and deposited monthly into the city treasury. All court expenses should be approved by the board of aldermen and paid by the city.

G.1. The municipal division operates a Traffic Violations Bureau (TVB) that allows certain offenses to be paid prior to the court date. A schedule listing the offenses which may be paid prior to court and the amount of fines and costs to be imposed for each offense has been posted at the TVB. However, a court order has not been issued to formally establish the TVB and the fine and cost schedule.

Section 479.050 RSMo 1994, states that a TVB may be established by the Municipal Judge. Supreme Court Rule No. 37.49 requires the Municipal Judge to establish the TVB by court order, to designate a TVB clerk, and to establish by schedule the amount of fines and court costs to be imposed for each offense.

2. Amounts collected by the Court Clerk at the TVB do not always agree to the fine and cost schedule. The Court Clerk does not have the authority to impose fines and costs except in those offenses and amounts established by the Municipal Judge in the TVB schedule. The Court Clerk should ensure that amounts collected at the TVB agree with the fine and cost schedule established by the judge.

H. During the audit period, the Court Clerk did not file a monthly report with the city of all cases heard in court. Section 479.080.3, RSMo 1994, requires the Court Clerk to prepare a monthly listing of all cases heard in court or prepaid at the TVB, including all fines and court costs collected, to be verified by the clerk or Municipal Judge and filed with the city's governing body.

I. The Police Chief collects fines, costs, and bonds. However, this individual is not bonded. Failure to properly bond all persons with access to assets exposes the municipal division and the city to risk of loss.

J. Complaint forms issued by the police department for nontraffic ordinance violations are not prenumbered. To ensure all complaint forms are properly accounted for and processed through the court, complaint forms should be prenumbered and the ultimate disposition of each form should be documented.

K. The municipal division did not always forward required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP. In August 1998, we reviewed 60 tickets issued during the two years ended June 30, 1998; 18 of the 44 tickets which should have been filed with the MSHP had not been filed. Section 302.225, RSMo 1994, requires records of any pleas or findings of guilty on traffic violations under the laws of the state, county, or municipal ordinance to be forwarded to the MSHP within ten days of the conviction date.

L. Formal bank reconciliations are not prepared for the municipal division’s bank account. In addition, a running checkbook balance is not recorded in the check register. As a result, the municipal division cannot ensure the amounts held for open bonds and the amounts turned over to the city each month are proper.

Monthly bank reconciliations are necessary to ensure accounting records are in agreement with the bank account and to detect errors on a timely basis. Maintaining a running checkbook balance ensures sufficient funds are available for disbursements.

Conditions similar to parts A-D. and I-K. were also noted in our prior audit report.

WE RECOMMEND the municipal division:

A. Establish a documented periodic review of municipal division records by an independent person.

B. Issue receipt slips for all monies as they are received and reconcile the composition of receipt slips issued to the composition of bank deposits. In addition, receipt slips should be issued in order and voided receipt slips should be properly defaced and retained.

C. Include all cases and the disposition of each case on the court docket as required by state law. The Municipal Judge should review and sign the court dockets to indicate approval of all recorded dispositions.

D. Maintain a bond ledger, prepare monthly listings of open items, and reconcile those listings to the monies held in trust.

E. Establish a balance due docket or other summary listing which can be reviewed by the Municipal Judge on a periodic basis, and ensure adequate documentation is maintained of partial payments received.

F. Ensure fines and court costs received are turned over to the city, and discontinue paying court expenses from the municipal division bank account.

G.1. Prepare a court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB and a fine and cost schedule.

2. Ensure amounts collected at the TVB agree with the fine and cost schedule established by the judge.

H. Prepare monthly reports of court actions, including fines and costs collected, and file these with the city's governing body in accordance with state law.

I. Request the city obtain bond coverage for all persons handling municipal division monies.

J. Request the city obtain prenumbered complaint forms, and work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each complaint form.

K. Forward records of conviction on traffic offenses to the MSHP as required by state law.

L. Prepare monthly bank reconciliations and maintain a running checkbook balance.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge provided the following response:

A. I will request that a periodic review of municipal division records be made by an independent person.

B. Receipt slips for all monies will be issued as they are received and a reconciliation made of receipts issued to the composition of bank deposits. Receipt slips shall be issued in order and voided receipt slips shall be properly defaced and retained.

C. All cases and dispositions of each case shall be included on the court docket as required by state law. I will review and sign the court docket to indicate approval of all recorded dispositions.

D. A bond ledger is now being maintained. Monthly listings of open items, and a reconciliation of those listings to monies held in trust are also being maintained.

E. A summary listing of the balance due on each docket is being established. This listing will be reviewed by me on a periodic basis. Documentation of partial payments is now being maintained.

F. Fines and court costs are being turned over to the city. No further court expenses will be paid from the municipal division court account.

G.1. A court order to authorize the establishment of a TVB and a fine and costs schedule will be prepared.

2. Amounts collected at the TVB will agree with the fine and cost schedule established by me.

H. Monthly reports of court actions, including fines and costs collected, are filed with the city's governing body in accordance with state law.

I. The request for all persons handling municipal division monies to be bonded has been discussed with the city officials. Presently the Court Clerk and I are bonded; the city's police are not.

J. Prenumbered complaint forms have been ordered. The court will work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each complaint form.

K. All records of convictions on traffic violations will be forwarded to the MSHP as required by state law.

L. A monthly bank reconciliation and a running checkbook balance are now being maintained.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the city of Howardville Municipal Division of the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
CITY OF HOWARDVILLE, MISSOURI
MUNICIPAL DIVISION
FOLLOW-UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the city of Howardville Municipal Division on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report on the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit Municipal Divisions issued for the two years ended December 31, 1992. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the municipal division should consider implementing these recommendations.

City of Howardville Municipal Division

A. The duties of receiving, recording, and depositing monies were not adequately segregated.

B.1. Receipts were not deposited on a timely basis.

2. The Police Chief did not issue receipt slips for bond monies.

3. Receipt slips were not issued in numerical sequence.

C. 1. A bond ledger was not maintained.

2. Monthly listings of open items were not prepared.

D.1. Neither the police department nor the municipal division maintained adequate records to account for the numerical sequence of traffic tickets assigned to and issued by officers and their ultimate disposition.

2. Ticket books were not assigned to officers in numerical sequence.

3. Summons/complaint forms issued for non-traffic violations were not prenumbered.

E. The Police Chief handled court monies but was not bonded.

F. Some cases were not included on court dockets.

G.1 CVC and LET fees were improperly assessed on non-moving traffic violations.

2. LET fees were not assessed on some non-traffic ordinance violations.

3. Procedures were not adequate to ensure all CVC fees due to the state were remitted.

H. The municipal division collected court costs of $19 per case.

I. Some records of conviction were not forwarded to the MSHP.

Recommendations:

The city of Howardville Municipal Division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court monies. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review of the reconciliation between receipts and deposits.

B.1. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

2&3. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

C.1. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances.

2. Prepare monthly listings of open items (liabilities) and reconcile these listings to monies held in trust by the city.

D.1. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets. A system should also be developed to account for the ultimate disposition of all traffic tickets.

2. Request the police department to assign all traffic tickets in numerical sequence.

3. Obtain and use prenumbered summons/complaint forms for non-traffic ordinance violations and account for the numerical sequence of those summons/complaint forms.

E. Request the city to consider obtaining bond coverage for all individuals handling court monies.

F. Prepare and retain court dockets listing all cases commenced before the court and the disposition of those cases.

G.1
& 2. Collect the $5 CVC fee and the $2 LET fee on all violations of municipal ordinances, except for nonmoving traffic violations and cases dismissed by the court, in accordance with state law.

3. Determine the amount which is due to the state for CVC fees previously collected and remit this amount to the state. In the future, the court should ensure all CVC fees are remitted to the state monthly as required by state law.

H. Collect court costs of only $12 as allowed by state law.

I. Forward all required records of convictions on traffic offenses to the MSHP within ten days as required by state law. In addition, court files should be reviewed for applicable tickets that should be forwarded to the MSHP.

Status:

A,C,
D.3,
E,F
& I. Not implemented. See MAR No 2.

B.1. Deposits were made in a timely manner during the year ended June 30, 1997. Procedures declined during the year ended June 30, 1998. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B.2
&3. Partially implemented. The Police Chief issues receipt slips for all monies received. However, the numerical sequence of receipt slips is not properly accounted for. See MAR No. 2.

D.1,
D.2,
G.1,
G.2
& H. Implemented.

G.3. CVC fees were remitted to the state on a monthly basis prior to July 1997. CVC fees collected between July 1997 and May 1998 were not remitted to the state which helped to conceal the misappropriation of court monies discussed in MAR No. 1. Although not repeated in the current MAR, our recommendation remains as stated above.

THIRTY-FOURTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
CITY OF HOWARDVILLE, MISSOURI
MUNICIPAL DIVISION
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

The city of Howardville Municipal Division is one of twenty municipal divisions within the Thirty-Fourth Judicial Circuit, which includes New Madrid and Pemiscot counties. The Honorable Fred Copeland serves as Presiding Judge.

The municipal division is governed by Chapter 479, RSMo 1994, and by Supreme Court Rule No. 37 titled "Ordinance Violations and Traffic Violations Bureau (TVB)." Section 479.050, RSMo 1994, provides that each municipal division may establish a TVB in which fines and costs are collected at times other than during court and transmitted to the city treasury.

Operating Costs

The operating costs and court salaries of the municipal division are paid by the municipality.

Organization

The Court Clerk is responsible for recording transactions as well as handling collections and disbursements. Fines, court costs, and bonds are deposited into a court bank account and are transmitted by check to the city treasury and state periodically. Court is held twice per month. A TVB has been established to receive payment of fines and court costs at times other than during court.

Personnel

Municipal Judge*	Clois Taylor
Court Clerk	Vannessa Frazier

* Earnestine Jackson served as Municipal Judge prior to June 1998.

 Mary Brockman served as Court Clerk from July 1996 through June 1997. Vannessa Frazier was appointed in June 1997 and was terminated in July 1998. Kelly Mann was appointed in July 1998 and resigned in October 1998. Latiece Jackson was appointed in October 1998 and resigned in February 1999.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON
THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit

We have audited the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997) of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit as of and for the year ended December 31, 1998 and years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; and April 30, 1998 and 1997, as identified by municipality and fiscal period in the table of contents. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the municipal divisions' management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special-purpose financial statements based on our audit.

Except as discussed in paragraphs four and five, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the special-purpose financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion.

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements were prepared for the purpose of presenting the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit and are not intended to be a complete presentation of the financial position and results of operations of the municipal divisions.

Records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and summons issued by the city of Carl Junction police department were not adequately maintained. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997.

Records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and summons issued by the city of Sarcoxie police department were not adequately maintained. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to receipts and disbursements beyond amounts recorded in the municipal division's records for the years ended April 30, 1998 and 1997.

Governmental Accounting Standards Board Technical Bulletin 99-1, Disclosures about Year 2000 Issues--an amendment of Technical Bulletin 98-1, requires disclosure of certain matters regarding the year 2000 issue. Such required disclosures include any significant amount of resources committed to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment; a general description of the year 2000 issue, including a description of the stages of work in process or completed as of the end of the reporting period to address year 2000 issues for computer systems and other electronic equipment critical to conducting operations; and an indication that the completion of these stages is not a guarantee that systems and equipment will be year 2000-compliant. The various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit have omitted such disclosures. We do not provide assurance that the municipal divisions are or will become year 2000-compliant, that the municipal divisions' year 2000 remediation efforts will be successful in whole or in part, or that parties with which the municipal divisions do business will become year 2000-compliant.

In our opinion, except for the effects, if any, on the financial statements of the matters discussed in the preceding three paragraphs, the special-purpose financial statements referred to in the first paragraph present fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash of the municipal divisions (other than the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997) of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit as of and for the year ended December 31, 1998 and years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; and April 30, 1998 and 1997, in conformity with the comprehensive basis of accounting discussed in Note 1, which is a basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

We had also planned to audit the accompanying special-purpose financial statements of the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997. These special-purpose financial statements are the responsibility of the municipal divisions' management.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of Carterville Municipal Division were inadequate. Receipts were not deposited intact and some receipts were not recorded. In addition, records accounting for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket issued by the police department were not maintained during the time period November 1, 1996 through December 31, 1997. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to the receipts and disbursements of fines, court costs, and bonds for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997.

Internal controls and accounting records of the city of Joplin Municipal Division were inadequate. An accurate cash control or daily listings of fines, court costs, and bonds received were not maintained, receipts were not always transmitted intact, and records reconciling amounts received to transmittals were not maintained. In addition, accurate listings of open items were not maintained. As a result, we were unable to satisfy ourselves by appropriate audit tests or other means as to the receipts and disbursements of fines, court costs, and bonds for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997. In addition, we were unable to assure ourselves of the amount of cash bonds held in trust at October 31, 1998 and 1997.

Because of the effects of the matters discussed in the preceding two paragraphs, the scope of our work was not sufficient to enable us to express, and we do not express, an opinion on the special-purpose financial statements of the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997.

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we also have issued our report dated February 3, 1999, on our consideration of the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting and on our tests of their compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information is presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the municipal divisions' management and was not subjected to auditing procedures applied in the audit of the special-purpose financial statements referred to above.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT ON COMPLIANCE
AND ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Presiding Judge
and
Municipal Judges
Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997) of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit as of and for the year ended December 31, 1998 and years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; and April 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 3, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion of the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit for the applicable fiscal periods. Except as discussed in the report of the financial statements of the municipal divisions referred to in the preceding sentence, we conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States.

We also had planned to audit the special-purpose financial statements of the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 3, 1999. In that report we did not express an opinion on those special-purpose financial statements.

Compliance

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit are free of material misstatement, we performed tests of the municipal divisions' compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grants, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed no material instances of noncompliance that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards. However, we noted certain other instances of noncompliance which are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

224 State Capitol • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4824 • FAX (573) 751-6539

Truman State Office Building, Room 880 • Jefferson City, MO 65101 • (573) 751-4213 • FAX (573) 751-7984

Internal Control Over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit, we considered the municipal divisions' internal controls over financial reporting in order to determine our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the special-purpose financial statements and not to provide assurance on the internal controls over financial reporting. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be reportable conditions. Reportable conditions involve matters coming to our attention relating to significant deficiencies in the design or operation of the internal controls over financial reporting that, in our judgment, could adversely affect the municipal divisions' ability to record, process, summarize, and report financial data consistent with the assertions of management in the special-purpose financial statements.

A material weakness is a condition in which the design or operation of one or more of the internal control components does not reduce to a relatively low level the risk that misstatements in amounts that would be material to the special-purpose financial statements being audited may occur and not be detected within a timely period by employees in the normal course of performing their assigned functions. Our consideration of the internal controls over financial reporting would not necessarily disclose all matters in the internal controls that might be reportable conditions and, accordingly, would not necessarily disclose all reportable conditions that are also considered to be material weaknesses. However, we noted certain matters involving the internal controls over financial reporting and their operation that we consider to be material weaknesses, and these matters are presented in the accompanying Management Advisory Report.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Notes to the Financial Statements

TWENTY-NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

A. Reporting Entity and Basis of Presentation

The accompanying special-purpose financial statements present only selected data for the funds administered by the various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit of the state of Missouri. The city of Oronogo Municipal Division is reported on separately.

Receipts, disbursements, and changes in cash are presented for each municipal division. The operating costs of each division are paid by the respective municipality and are not included in the financial statements.

The municipal division is responsible for cash bonds posted until case disposition allows appropriate disbursement. Bond monies relating to pending cases, whether in the custody of the city or the municipal division, are included in these financial statements.

B. Basis of Accounting

The Statements of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Cash are prepared on the cash basis of accounting; accordingly, amounts are recognized when they are received or disbursed. This basis of accounting differs from generally accepted accounting principles, which require revenues to be recognized when they become available and measurable or when they are earned and expenditures or expenses to be recognized when the related liabilities are incurred.

C. Fiscal Authority and Responsibility

The municipal divisions account for fines and court costs resulting from prosecution of violations of municipal ordinances before the municipal judge or received through the traffic violations bureau, as well as cash bonds posted. Municipal violations could include traffic offenses, both moving and nonmoving; parking meter and overtime parking offenses; and other violations for which amounts are received by the municipal divisions and remitted to the city treasury. The municipal divisions also may account for restitutions received and disbursed through the divisions.

2. Cash

Section 479.080, RSMo 1994, requires municipal divisions to deposit fines and court costs into the city treasury at least monthly. Some divisions maintain bank accounts into which fines and court costs are deposited and later remitted to the city treasury. Other divisions do not maintain bank accounts, transmitting fines and court costs directly to the city treasury.

Escrow bank accounts for bond monies received may be maintained by the city or the municipal division.
At the financial statement dates identified in the table of contents for the years ended 1998 and 1997, all bank account balances reported for the municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit were entirely covered by federal depositary insurance.

3. Disbursements to State

The municipal divisions collect various amounts that must be remitted to the state of Missouri. These amounts include surcharges for the Crime Victims' Compensation and Services to Victims Funds, the Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission Fund, and (until July 1, 1997, when municipal divisions were no longer required to assess the surcharge) the Independent Living Center Fund. The state's portions of these amounts are deposited into the city treasury for all municipal divisions, except the municipal divisions of the city of Duenweg, the city of Carterville, the village of Duquesne, the city of Carl Junction, and the city of Sarcoxie. Amounts remitted by the cities to the state are not included in the financial statements.

4. City of Joplin Municipal Division

Bonds posted by defendants for the city of Joplin Municipal Division are deposited directly into the city treasury. The amounts held by the city at year-end could not be determined and, therefore, are not included in the financial statements. In addition, bonds refunded to defendants could not be determined, and these amounts are not included in the financial statements.

MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT SECTION

Management Advisory Report -
State Auditor’s Current Recommendations

TWENTY-NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
MANAGEMENT ADVISORY REPORT -
STATE AUDITOR'S CURRENT RECOMMENDATIONS

We have audited the special-purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions (other than the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997) of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit as of and for the year ended December 31, 1998 and the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997; June 30, 1998 and 1997; and April 30, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 3, 1999. That report expressed a qualified opinion on the special purpose financial statements of the various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit for the applicable fiscal periods.

We also had planned to audit the special purpose financial statements of the municipal divisions of the city of Carterville and the city of Joplin as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997, and have issued our report thereon dated February 3, 1999. In that report we did not express an opinion on those special purpose financial statements.

The following Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our procedures related to the municipal divisions' special-purpose financial statements. During those procedures, we also identified certain management practices which we believe could be improved. Our procedures were not designed or intended to be a detailed study of every system, procedure, and transaction. Accordingly, the findings presented in the following report should not be considered as all-inclusive of areas where improvements may be needed.

1. City of Carl Junction Municipal Division

A. Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed when received by the police department dispatchers. The Court Clerk endorses these when received from the police department. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

B. Checks issued on the court's bank accounts require signatures of both the Court Clerk and Municipal Judge; however, the checks are sometimes signed in advance by the Municipal Judge. Signing checks in advance does not allow for proper review of the documentation to support the disbursement and diminishes the control intended by dual signatures.

C. The police department issues rediform receipt slips for bond monies rather than official prenumbered receipt slips. As a result, the receipt slips are not specifically printed for the police department which reduces the assurance that all receipt books are accounted for properly. In addition, several receipt slips were skipped and not properly voided, and the top copy of voided receipt slips was not always retained.

To adequately account for all receipts, official prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all bond monies received, skipped receipt slips should be properly voided, all copies of voided receipt slips should be retained, and the numerical sequence should be accounted for properly.

D. Neither the police department nor the court maintains adequate records to account for traffic tickets or summonses issued. Summons are not prenumbered, and the traffic ticket logs are maintained by issuance date rather than by numerical order.

Without a proper accounting for the numerical sequence of traffic tickets and summonses, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured that all documents issued were properly submitted to the court for processing. Prenumbered summonses should be obtained, and traffic ticket and summons logs listing the books assigned, each traffic ticket and summons in numerical order, the date issued, and the violator's name would ensure all documents issued were properly submitted to the court for processing, properly voided, or not prosecuted.

E. The following concerns were noted regarding court costs and fees:

1) The court charges court costs of $10 for each case filed. Section 488.012, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires court costs of $12 for each case filed in a municipal division.

2) The court collects $3 in Law Enforcement Training (LET) fees for each case filed and remits $1 to the Jasper County Treasurer and $2 to the city. Section 590.140, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, allows up to a $2 fee for LET to be remitted to the city. The city's ordinance only allows a $1 officer training fee to be collected for each case filed.

Conditions similar to Parts A. and D. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Carl Junction Municipal Division:

A Restrictively endorse all checks and money orders immediately upon receipt

B. Discontinue the practice of signing checks in advance.

C. Request the police department issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all bond monies received and account for the numerical sequence. In addition, all skipped receipt slips should be properly voided, and all copies of voided receipt slips should be retained.

D. Request the city obtain prenumbered summonses and work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets and summonses issued.

E. Collect court costs and fees in accordance with state law and city ordinance.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge provided the following response:

A. This procedure is being changed. The new Police Chief is reluctant to allow dispatchers to accept TVB funds.

B. This procedure was used as a matter of convenience during court. This practice has been discontinued. Bond refund recipients will now have to wait for their refunds.

C. The court will require the use of prenumbered receipt slips once the current stock is eliminated.

D. The court is working with the city for the acquisition of a computer system which will assist in the proper accounting of the numerical sequences of tickets and summonses.

The court previously (last audit) requested the police department utilize prenumbered summonses. The court does not control the police department. However, the new Police Chief has indicated his intent to utilize prenumbered summonses.

E.1. This brief mistake has been corrected.

2. This procedure has been adjusted to follow the new law. The court will bring the ordinance situation to the City Attorney's attention.

2. City of Carterville Municipal Division

A. Bond receipts are deposited when received but are not recorded on the cash control ledger until the bonds are refunded or applied to fines and court costs. In addition, amounts recorded on the ledger are not reconciled to deposits. During the year ended October 31, 1998, deposits exceeded recorded receipts by $899, and during the year ended October 31, 1997, recorded receipts exceeded deposits by $466.

To ensure receipts are accounted for properly and deposited intact, all receipts should be recorded on the cash control ledger when received, and recorded receipts should be reconciled to bank deposits. In addition, the court should investigate the differences between receipts and deposits during fiscal years 1998 and 1997 and take any actions deemed appropriate.

B. Checks issued on the court's bank account require signatures of both the Court Clerk and Municipal Judge; however, the checks are sometimes signed in advance by the Municipal Judge. Signing checks in advance does not allow for proper review of the documentation to support the disbursement and diminishes the control intended by dual signatures.

C. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are not prepared. At our request, the Court Clerk prepared a listing as of October 30, 1998; however, the reconciled bank account balance of $7,680 was $1,633 more than the listing.

Monthly listings of open items are necessary to ensure proper accountability over open cases and to ensure monies held in trust by the court are sufficient to meet liabilities. In addition, any unidentified monies held by the court should be investigated and disposed of in accordance with state law.

D. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts are not adequately segregated. The Court Clerk performs all duties related to the collection of fines, court costs, bonds, and restitutions.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisor's review or an independent review of the reconciliation between recorded receipts and deposits, and the bank reconciliations.

E. Neither the police department nor the court maintained adequate records to account for traffic tickets and summonses issued. Traffic ticket issuance logs are prepared, but the logs prior to January 1, 1998, could not be located. In addition, summons issuance logs have not been prepared since October 1994. As a result, numerous traffic ticket and summons numbers selected for review could not be located.

Without a proper accounting for the numerical sequence of traffic tickets and summonses, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured that all documents issued were properly submitted to the court for processing. A log listing the traffic ticket and summons books assigned, each traffic ticket and summons in numerical order, the date issued, and the violator's name would ensure all documents issued were properly submitted to the court for processing, properly voided, or not prosecuted.

Conditions similar to Parts A. and C. were also noted in our prior report.

Because of the problems noted above, we were unable to express an opinion on the financial statements of the city of Carterville Municipal Division as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997. These deficiencies are serious and should be corrected immediately.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Carterville Municipal Division:

A. Record all receipts when received on the cash control ledger and reconcile recorded receipts to bank deposits. In addition, the court should investigate the noted differences between receipts and deposits and take any actions deemed appropriate.

B. Discontinue the practice of signing checks in advance.

C. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile these listings to monies held in the court bank account. In addition, the court should determine the proper disposition of any unidentified monies remaining in the bank account.

D. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review or independent review of the court's receipt and deposit records and the bank reconciliations.

E. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets and summonses issued.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge provided the following response:

A. The court has developed an additional ledger to show the reconciliation of receipt slips to deposits. The court has discussed the monetary discrepancies with the Court Clerk. It is the court's understanding that the differences do not represent any funds missing and result mainly from timing differences of receipts or deposits on October 31 versus November 1 of the respective fiscal years.

B. This procedure was used as a matter of convenience during court. This practice has been discontinued. Bond refund recipients will now have to wait for their refunds.

C. It is the court's intent to begin including an open items listing with each monthly report.

D. The feasibility of a small city hiring additional personnel is limited. There are currently two employees in the office. The City Clerk does handle part of the duties with the Court Clerk. The court has requested the City Clerk to review and initial receipts and deposits made by the Court Clerk.

E. The court does not control the police department. However, it is the court's understanding that the police department's computer accounting system for citations is now functioning properly.

3. City of Carthage Municipal Division

A. Receipts are not always deposited intact. Bonds are occasionally refunded in cash and fines and court costs are held and not deposited until the related court date. To ensure receipts are accounted for properly, receipts should be deposited intact and bond refunds should be made by check.

B. The duties of issuing traffic tickets and receiving fines and court costs are not adequately segregated. Police officers, who issue traffic tickets, may receive fines and court costs when the court clerks are off duty.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of issuing traffic tickets and receiving fines and court costs.

Similar conditions were also noted in our prior report.

WE AGAIN RECOMMEND the city of Carthage Municipal Division:

A. Deposit receipts intact and make all bond refunds by check.

B. Segregate the duties of issuing traffic tickets and collecting fines and court costs.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge, Court Clerk, and Police Chief provided the following response:

A. Receipts are now deposited intact and bond refunds are returned by check only.

B. From June 1, 1996 to June 1, 1998, a total of 5,593 receipts were issued. Of this number, only 202 receipts were actually issued by an officer. The city has in place Directive No. 1.05 that safeguards against possible loss or misuse of funds.

4. City of Duenweg Municipal Division

A. Receipts are deposited approximately once a week and average about $600. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss, theft, or misuse of funds, receipts should be deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. The following concerns were noted relating to bond receipts:

1) The police department issues rediform receipt slips for bond monies rather than official prenumbered receipt slips. As a result, the receipt slips are not specifically printed for the police department which reduces the assurance that all receipt books are accounted for properly. In addition, receipt slips were not issued for $1,450 bond monies received in 1998. To adequately account for all receipts, official prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all bond monies received and the numerical sequence should be accounted for properly.

2) The Court Clerk does not issue receipt slips for bonds received from the police department or initial the receipt slips issued by the police department to indicate the bond monies were turned over to the court. To ensure bond monies are accounted for properly, the Court Clerk should issue receipt slips for all bonds or initial the receipt slips issued by the police department.

C. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts are not adequately segregated. The Court Clerk performs all duties related to the collection of fines, court costs, bonds, and restitutions.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisor's review or an independent review of the reconciliation between recorded receipts and deposits, and the bank reconciliations.

D. The duties of issuing traffic tickets and receiving fines and court costs are not adequately segregated. Police officers, who issue traffic tickets, may receive fines and court costs when the Court Clerk is off duty.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of issuing traffic tickets and receiving fines and court costs.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Duenweg Municipal Division:

A. Deposit receipts daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

B. Request the police department to issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all bond monies received and account for the numerical sequence. In addition, the Court Clerk should issue receipt slips for all bonds or initial the receipt slips issued by the police department when bond monies are turned over to the court.

C. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review or independent review of the court's receipts and deposit records and the bank reconciliations.

D. Segregate the duties of issuing traffic tickets and collecting fines and court costs.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Clerk provided the following response:

A. Receipts are now deposited daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100 with the exception of absence of the Court Clerk (sickness, vacation, training).

B.1. Prenumbered receipt slips for cash bonds have been ordered and received with "Duenweg Police Department" printed on each receipt. Prenumbered bond forms have also been ordered.

2. The Court Clerk will initial all receipt slips for bonds issued by the police department at the time the Court Clerk receives monies.

C. The City Treasurer now signs off on monthly bank reconciliations after reconciliation is done. An independent auditor will audit the city and court records each year.

D. The police officers are not to receive any fine money in absence of the Court Clerk unless it is collected as a bond.

5. Village of Duquesne Municipal Division

A. The following concerns were noted relating to bond receipts:

1) The police department issues rediform receipt slips for bond monies rather than official prenumbered receipt slips. As a result, the receipt slips are not specifically printed for the police department which reduces the assurance that all receipt books are accounted for properly. To adequately account for all receipts, official prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all bond monies received and the numerical sequence should be accounted for properly.

2) The Court Clerk does not issue receipt slips for bonds received from the police department or initial the receipt slips issued by the police department to indicate the bond monies were turned over to the court. To ensure bond monies are accounted for properly, the Court Clerk should issue receipt slips for all bonds or initial the receipt slips issued by the police department.

B. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts are not adequately segregated. The Court Clerk performs all duties related to the collection of fines, court costs, bonds, and restitutions.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisor's review or an independent review of the reconciliation between recorded receipts and deposits, and the bank reconciliations.

C. The duties of issuing traffic tickets and receiving fines and court costs are not adequately segregated. Police officers, who issue traffic tickets, may receive fines and court costs when the Court Clerk is off duty.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of issuing traffic tickets and receiving fines and court costs.

D. The court does not file monthly reports with the village of all cases heard in court. Section 479.080.3, RSMo 1994, requires the Court Clerk to prepare monthly listings of all cases heard in court, including all fines and court costs collected, to be verified by the Court Clerk or Municipal Judge and filed with the Village Clerk.

E. Summonses issued for nontraffic ordinance violations are not prenumbered. The village should obtain prenumbered summonses and account for their numerical sequence to ensure they are properly turned into the court for processing.

WE RECOMMEND the village of Duquesne Municipal Division:

A. Request the police department to issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all bond monies received and account for the numerical sequence. In addition, the Court Clerk should issue receipt slips for all bonds or initial the receipt slips issued by the police department when bond monies are turned over to the court.

B. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review or independent review of the court's receipts and deposit records and the bank reconciliations.

C. Segregate the duties of issuing traffic tickets and collecting fines and court costs.

D. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these with the village in accordance with state law.

E. Request the village to obtain prenumbered summonses and account for the numerical sequence.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge provided the following response:

A. The court has purchased one-write journals and printed prenumbered bond forms. This should eliminate these concerns relating to bond receipts.

B. The court's fine and bond accounts are now placed on a computerized system. Monthly, following court, the City Clerk reconciles the bank statements, check books, and journals as a check and balance of the Court Clerk.

C. The police department has restricted their collection of fines. When it is absolutely necessary for a police officer to assist, because of the limited number of city personnel, the funds will be handled through the one-write system.

D. This procedure has been implemented with a detailed report of the court's docket signed off by the Judge and reviewed by the City Clerk.

E. The court does not control the police department. However, it is the court's understanding the police department has purchased prenumbered summonses.

6. City of Joplin Municipal Division

A. Bond monies are initially received by the jail staff. The bond monies are turned over to the Court Clerk, recorded in the court's bond ledger, and transmitted to the city finance department for deposit into the city's bond fund. During our review of bonds, the following concerns were noted:

1) The court's bond ledger includes additional money received from the jail, such as warrant fees and fines and court costs. The warrant fees, fines, and court costs are transmitted to other city funds; therefore, bond receipts cannot be readily reconciled to transmittals to the bond fund.

To ensure all bond receipts are properly accounted for and transmitted to the city finance department, only bond receipts should be recorded in the bond ledger and amounts recorded in the ledger should be reconciled to transmittals.

2) The court's open-items (liabilities) listings are not accurate, and neither the court nor the finance department was able to determine the amount of bonds held by the city.

Bonds forfeited and applied to fines and court costs are not transferred from the bond fund as they occur. In 1998, these monies were retained in the bond fund until the fiscal year-end and the finance department requested the court to provide an open items listing. The finance department then transferred all bond monies from the bond fund to the general fund, excluding the current open items listing amount of $44,859. The court also has an open items listing from an old accounting system that totaled approximately $17,000, but that listing included some bonds that had already been paid out. In addition, the court indicated there are several old bonds that have not been turned over to the state's Unclaimed Property Section.

To ensure proper accountability over bonds, monthly open-items listings should be prepared and reconciled to the bond monies held by the city. The court should work with the finance department to ensure bonds forfeited and applied to fines and court costs are transferred from the bond fund to the general fund as they occur, or the court should maintain a separate bond bank account to ensure proper accountability over open cases and ensure monies held in trust are sufficient to meet liabilities. In addition, any unclaimed bonds remaining one year after final court disposition should be disbursed to the state's Unclaimed Property Section as required by Section 447.595, RSMo 1994.

B. Court receipts are initially recorded on cash register tapes which indicate the composition of the receipts received. Using the cash register information, daily receipt reports are prepared that list fines, court costs, and bonds received, and bonds forfeited and applied to fines and court costs; however, these reports do not indicate the composition of receipts. After a count is made of the cash register drawers, transmittal forms are prepared indicating the amount of cash, checks, and credit card slips transmitted to the city finance department.

The court does not adequately reconcile the cash register tapes, daily receipt reports, and transmittals as follows:

- Receipts are not transmitted intact to the finance department because city employees are allowed to cash personal checks from court receipts.

- The cash register tapes are not reconciled to transmittals; therefore, the court does not reconcile the composition of receipts (total cash, checks, and credit card payments) to the composition of transmittals to the finance department.

- Although the daily receipt reports are generated from cash register information, adjusting entries were made to the receipt reports without adequate documentation. For example, some reversing entries were made to remove some specific receipts from the daily reports, but the case file information indicated the related fines and court costs were received and there was no explanation to support the reversing entries. In addition, bond amounts which are forfeited and applied to fines and court costs are included on the daily receipt reports but are not always specifically identified. Because these amounts do not represent additional receipts, it is difficult to reconcile the daily receipt reports to the transmittal amounts.

- Daily receipt reports were not prepared on a timely basis during 1997. While it appears receipts were transmitted on a daily basis, some daily receipt reports were prepared as much as four months after the receipt and transmittal dates.

- The court identifies differences between the daily receipt totals and the transmittal totals, and our review noted numerous differences (both overages and shortages) between the receipt reports and the transmittal forms. While most of the differences were small, some larger differences were not explained or documented.

To ensure all receipts are properly accounted for and transmitted to the city finance department, the court should adopt procedures to ensure the cash register tapes, daily receipt reports, and transmittal forms agree before receipts are transmitted, and that differences between receipts and transmittals (overages and shortages) are investigated and resolved. The court should prepare accurate daily receipt reports which clearly distinguish between amounts actually received and bonds forfeited and applied to fines and court costs. In addition, the court should discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from court receipts and ensure the composition of receipts agrees to the composition of transmittals.

C. Monthly reports of fines, court costs, and bonds received and transmitted are not maintained. Monthly reports would facilitate the reconciliation of court and city finance department records. In addition, Section 479.080.3, RSMo 1994, requires the Court Clerk to prepare monthly listings of all cases heard in court, including fines and court costs collected, to be verified by the Court Clerk or Municipal Judge and filed with the City Clerk.

D. Peace Officer Standards and Training Commission (POSTC) fees collected by the court are transmitted to the city treasury. The city has not remitted to the state approximately $15,500 of POSTC fees collected during fiscal year 1998. Section 590.140, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires POSTC fees to be disbursed monthly to the state.

E. Crime Victims Compensation (CVC), Law Enforcement Training (LET), and POSTC fees are assessed on dismissed cases and are not assessed on non-moving violations. Sections 590.140 and 595.045, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, require these fees be charged on all violations except for dismissed cases.

Because of the problems noted above, we were unable to express an opinion on the financial statements of the city of Joplin Municipal Division as of and for the years ended October 31, 1998 and 1997. These deficiencies are serious and should be corrected immediately.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Joplin Municipal Division:

A.1. Record only bond receipts on the bond ledger and reconcile amounts recorded to amounts transmitted to the city finance department.

2. Prepare accurate and complete monthly listings of open items and reconcile these to the bonds held in trust by the city. The court should work with the finance department to ensure bonds forfeited and applied to fine and court cost are transferred from the bond fund to the general fund daily, or maintain a separate bond bank account. In addition, unclaimed bonds remaining after one year of court disposition should be disposed of in accordance with state law.

B. Adopt procedures to ensure accurate receipt reports are prepared on a daily basis, and reconcile the cash register tapes and receipt reports to amounts transmitted to the city finance department (including the composition of receipts). The court should investigate and resolve overages and shortages over a specified dollar amount. In addition, the court should discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from court receipts.

C. Prepare monthly reports of court actions, including fines and costs collected, and file these with the City Clerk in accordance with state law.

D. Calculate the amount of POSTC fees due the state and request the finance department to remit that amount, and ensure these fees are remitted monthly as required by state law.

E. Assess CVC, LET, and POSTC fees in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Municipal Judge and Court Administrator provided the following response:

A.1. The current Incode InCourt Computer Information System allows us to discontinue the use of the cash bond ledger altogether. Moneys collected from the jail are entered into the InCourt System and they are applied as they should be: moneys collected from commitment warrants are applied as fines and costs; cash bonds are entered as cash bonds and are applied as such.

In this system the moneys are not mixed and cash bonds can be and are entered as cash bonds and are tracked as such. Other moneys collected are entered, applied and tracked in the appropriate categories.

In principle we believe the moneys should not be mixed and the system ensures that they are not. The ledger is no longer necessary.

2. In January 1999, the court prepared an accurate and complete listing of all open cash bonds. Within the court this has been reconciled on a monthly basis. This information has been transmitted to the finance department and the two departments of the city (court and finance) are working together to reconcile the bond account.

The city prefers to have the Municipal Court transmit all moneys collected to the finance department and then have the finance department deposit the money and write all checks on the accounts. We believe this to be a better system and one with more checks and balances than would be in place if only one department of the city, the Municipal Court, maintained the cash bond account. We do agree that this account must be reconciled on a monthly basis and are well on the road to having this in place.

The city is in agreement that all unclaimed bonds remaining after one year of court disposition should be disposed of in accordance with state law. There was some confusion as to who should be doing this, the court or the finance department. The court will assume this responsibility.

B. These recommendations have been implemented. A new policy and procedure for cash collection and an interoffice memorandum relative to the cashing of personal checks have been issued.

C. Reports have been prepared for this current fiscal year and filed with the City Clerk.

D. Check #007437 for $15,500 was drafted and mailed to the state Department of Revenue on April 22, 1999.

E. Assessments of CVC, LET, and POSTC fees were changed in January 1999 and are correctly being assessed and not assessed on dismissed cases.

7. City of Sarcoxie Municipal Division

A. Our review noted the following concerns related to receipts:

1) The former Court Clerk did not issue receipt slips for $511 and $2,331 deposited in 1998 and 1997, respectively. To adequately account for all receipts, prenumbered receipt slips should be issued for all monies received and their numerical sequence should be accounted for properly.

2) The court allows partial payments for fines and court costs. Partial payments are not deposited until the entire amount due has been received. To adequately safeguard receipts and reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, partial payments should be deposited daily or as received.

3) The court accepts cash, checks, and money orders for fines, court costs, and bonds. Receipt slips issued by the court do not always indicate the method of payment received. To ensure receipts are deposited intact, the method of payment should be recorded on receipt slips, and the composition of receipt slips issued should be reconciled to the composition of bank deposits.

B. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) are prepared; however, an unidentified balance of approximately $500 remains in the bank account. The court should investigate the unidentified balance and dispose of this balance in accordance with state law.

C. The duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts are not adequately segregated. The Court Clerk performs all duties related to the collection of fines, court costs, and bonds.

To safeguard against possible loss or misuse of funds, internal controls should provide reasonable assurance that all transactions are accounted for properly and assets are adequately safeguarded. Internal controls would be improved by segregating the duties of receiving and depositing court monies from recording receipts. If proper segregation of duties cannot be achieved, at a minimum, there should be a supervisor's review or an independent review of the reconciliation between recorded receipts and deposits, and the bank reconciliations.

D. The police department has established separate logs of traffic tickets and summonses issued; however, the logs do not account for some tickets and summonses issued. During the audit, four ticket numbers selected for review and approximately 180 out of 500 summons numbers assigned to the police department were not listed on the log.

Without a proper accounting of the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of traffic tickets and summonses, the police department and the municipal division cannot be assured that all documents issued were properly submitted to the court for processing. A complete log listing each ticket/summons number, the date issued, and the violator's name would ensure all documents issued were properly submitted to the court for processing, properly voided, or not prosecuted.

E. The Municipal Judge does not always indicate approval of case dispositions recorded on the individual court dockets for cases handled through the court. To ensure the proper dispositions have been entered in the court records, the Municipal Judge should review each court docket and sign the docket to indicate approval of the recorded dispositions.

F. The following concerns were noted regarding court costs and fees:

1) Crime Victims Compensation (CVC) fees are not assessed for non-traffic ordinance violations. Section 595.045, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, requires these fees to be charged on all cases for violations of municipal ordinances, except for cases dismissed by the court.

2) The court charges a $10 fine for each seat belt violation and also assesses $20 in court costs and fees. Section 307.178.4, RSMo Cumulative Supp. 1998, states a fine not to exceed $10 may be imposed and no court costs shall be imposed on any person for a seat belt law violation.

Conditions similar to Parts B. and D. were also noted in our prior report.

WE RECOMMEND the city of Sarcoxie Municipal Division:

A.1. Issue prenumbered receipt slips for all monies received and account for the numerical sequence.

2. Deposit partial payment receipts daily or as received.

3. Indicate the method of payment on all receipt slips and reconcile the composition of receipts to bank deposits.

B. Investigate the identified cash balance and dispose of this balance in accordance with state law.

C. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, depositing, and reconciling court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review or independent review of the court's receipts and deposit records and the bank reconciliations.

D. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence of all traffic tickets and summonses issued.

E. Require the Municipal Judge's approval of all dispositions on the court docket.

F. Collect court costs and fees in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

The Court Clerk provided the following response:

A.1. Since June 1998, prenumbered receipt slips have been issued and the numerical sequence can be accounted for.

2. Since June 1998, all partial payments, like all other payments, have been deposited on a timely basis.

3. Since June 1998, the method of payment has been on a copy of the receipt slip kept by the court and receipts and deposits are balanced each month.

B. Since the $500 balance occurred prior to the current court administration, I do not have any idea how to begin looking for where it belongs. This money will be disposed of as advised.

C. The City Clerk will be asked to see if she will perform independent reviews.

D. This will be discussed with the police department.

E. Since June 1998, the Judge has signed the docket for each court session held and it is on file.

F.1. I am not responsible for actions of the previous clerk. Since June 1998, this has been implemented.

2. I am not responsible for actions of the previous clerk. For future cases, this law will be noted.

This report is intended for the information of the management of the various municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit and other applicable government officials. However, this report is a matter of public record and its distribution is not limited.

Follow-Up on State Auditor’s Prior Recommendations

TWENTY-NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
FOLLOW UP ON STATE AUDITOR'S PRIOR RECOMMENDATIONS

This section reports follow-up action taken by the municipal divisions of the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit on recommendations made in the Management Advisory Report (MAR) of our report issued for the two years ended 1994 and our report on the city of Carl Junction Municipal Division for the period May 1, 1994 to October 4, 1994 and the two years ended April 30, 1994. The prior recommendations which have not been implemented, but are considered significant, have been repeated in the current MAR. Although the remaining unimplemented recommendations have not been repeated, the municipal divisions should consider implementing these recommendations.

TWENTY-NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS

1. City of Carl Junction Municipal Division

   A separate report was issued for the city of Carl Junction Municipal Division. Recommendations applicable to this municipal division were included in that report.

2. City of Carterville Municipal Division

D. The Court Clerk did not initial the receipt slips issued by the police department to indicate the bond monies were turned over to the court.

Recommendation:

The city of Carthage Municipal Division:

A.1. Deposit receipts intact, maintain a change fund, if necessary, at a constant amount, and discontinue cashing bond refund checks.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

3. Issue receipt slips in numerical sequence.

4. Segregate the duties of issuing traffic tickets and collecting fines and court costs.

B. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all summonses and parking tickets.

C. Assess and collect the ILC fee in accordance with state law.

D. Initial the receipt slips or bond forms issued by the police department when bond monies are turned over to the court.

Status:

A.1. Partially implemented. A change fund is maintained at a constant amount; however, bonds are occasionally refunded in cash. See MAR No. 3.

A.2,
A.3&
B-D. Implemented.

A.4. Not implemented. See MAR No. 3.

4. City of Joplin Municipal Division

A. The police department did not maintain accurate records to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of summonses.

B. Traffic tickets were not always assigned in numerical order.

Recommendation:

The city of Joplin Municipal Division:

A. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all summonses.

B. Request the police department to assign traffic tickets in numerical sequence.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

5. City of Sarcoxie Municipal Division

A. A ledger or listing of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

B. The court filed monthly reports with the city of all cases heard in court; however, these reports were not verified by the Municipal Judge.

C. Bank reconciliations were not documented by the Court Clerk.

D. Monthly listings of open items were not prepared.

E. Complaints issued for nontraffic violations were not prenumbered, and records were not maintained to account for their issuance and disposition.

F. The City Prosecutor did not always sign traffic tickets and summonses not prosecuted.

Recommendation:

The city of Sarcoxie Municipal Division:

A. Maintain a bond ledger for all cash bonds received.

B. Prepare monthly reports of court actions, approved by the Municipal Judge, and file these in accordance with state law.

C. Retain documentation of monthly bank reconciliations.

D. Prepare monthly open-items listings and reconcile these listings to the monies held in trust, and follow up on cash balances that cannot be identified to open cases.

E. Request the city to obtain prenumbered complaints and account for their numerical sequence and ultimate disposition.

F. Ensure the City Prosecutor signs each ticket not prosecuted to indicate his approval.

Status:

A-C & F. Implemented.

D. Partially implemented. The court prepares monthly open items listings but an unidentified balance exists. See MAR No. 7.

E. Partially implemented. Prenumbered complaints (summonses) were obtained; however, their numerical sequence and ultimate disposition are not accounted for properly. See MAR No. 7.

6. City of Webb City Municipal Division

A.1. Receipts were not transmitted to the city daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

2. The method of payment was not indicated on some receipt slips.

3. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed.

4. The court cashed bond refund checks from official receipts.

B. A log of summonses assigned to police officers was not maintained. In addition, a record was not maintained indicating the ultimate disposition of all summonses.

C. The Police Chief destroyed several traffic tickets and did not document their disposal.

D.1. Bond forms were not prenumbered. In addition, the Court Clerk did not initial the receipt slips issued by the police department to indicate the bond monies were turned over to the court.

2. The court did not always maintain a copy of the bond forms issued by the police department.

E. The court did not charge the ILC fees as required by state law.

Recommendation:

The city of Webb City Municipal Division:

A.1. Transmit receipts to the city daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

2. Indicate the method of payment on each receipt slip issued and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to transmittals to the city and to bank deposits to the bond account.

3. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

4. Discontinue the practice of cashing bond refund checks from court receipts.

B. Work with the police department to ensure records are maintained to account for the numerical sequence and ultimate disposition of all summonses.

C. Ensure documentation is maintained for the destruction of unissued traffic tickets.

D.1. Issue prenumbered bond forms and account for the numerical sequence. In addition, the Court Clerk should initial the receipt slips or bond forms issued by the police department when bond monies are turned over to the court.

2. File a copy of the bond form in the applicable case files.

E. Assess and collect the ILC fee in accordance with state law.

Status:

A.1. Not implemented. Receipts are transmitted to the city once or twice a week. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

A.2-4,
B,C,
D.2
& E. Implemented.

D.1. Partially implemented. The Court Clerk does initial the receipt slips when bond monies are received from the police department; however, bond forms are not prenumbered. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

TWENTY-NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
CITY OF CARL JUNCTION MUNICIPAL DIVISION

1. Undeposited Funds

Our review noted undeposited funds of at least $6,833 for the period May 1, 1993 through October 4, 1994.

Recommendation:

The municipal division, along with the city, review the situation and take the necessary actions to determine the disposition of the $6,833 undeposited funds and obtain restitution for any amounts which may have been misappropriated.

Status:

The Municipal Judge notified the Jasper County Sheriff's office, the Jasper County Prosecuting Attorney's office, and the Missouri State Highway Patrol which investigated this matter. No charges were filed and restitution has not been obtained.

2. Receipt Procedures and Controls

A. Accounting duties were not adequately segregated.

B. Receipts were not deposited into the court's bank account intact or on a timely basis.

C. A cash control ledger or a listing of daily receipts was not maintained.

D. Checks and money orders were not restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

E. Bank reconciliations were not prepared.

F. Some receipt slips did not indicate the method of payment received.

G. The original copies of some voided receipt slips were not retained and one entire page of four receipt slips was torn out of a receipt book.

H. The court issued rediform receipt slips for monies received.

I. All police officers had access to court monies and a Traffic Violations Bureau (TVB) clerk had not been appointed.

Recommendation:

The municipal division:

A. Adequately segregate the duties of receiving, recording, and depositing court receipts. At a minimum, there should be a documented supervisory review or independent review of the court's receipts and deposit records and the bank reconciliations.

B. Deposit monies intact daily or when accumulated receipts exceed $100.

C. Maintain a cash control ledger or a listing of daily receipts and reconcile to bank deposits.

D. Restrictively endorse checks and money orders immediately upon receipt.

E. Prepare monthly bank reconciliations.

F. Indicate the method of payment on the receipt slips, and reconcile total cash, checks, and money orders received to bank deposits.

G. Retain copies of all receipt slips, including the original copies of voided receipt slips.

H. Issue official prenumbered receipt slips for all monies collected and account for their numerical sequence.

I. Limit access to undeposited cash to only those necessary for the operation of the court and designate an individual as TVB clerk.

Status:

A-C&E-I. Implemented.

D. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

3. Bond Procedures and Controls

A. A ledger or listing of bonds received and disbursed was not maintained.

B. Bonds were not always deposited into the court bank account.

C. Monthly listings of open items (liabilities) were not prepared.

Recommendation:

The municipal division:

A. Maintain a bond ledger to account for bond receipts, forfeitures, refunds, and balances.

B. Deposit all bonds into the court bank account and make all disbursements by check.

C. Prepare monthly listings of open items and reconcile these listings to monies held in trust.

Status:

A. Not implemented; however, separate bond receipt books and a bond bank account is maintained. Although not repeated in the current report, our recommendation remains as stated above.

B&C. Implemented.

4. Court Procedures

A. Some case files selected for review were not located.

B. The court did not file with the city monthly reports of all cases heard in court.

Recommendation:

The municipal division:

A. Retain all municipal court records in accordance with Supreme Court Administrative Rule 8.

B. Prepare monthly reports of court actions and file these in accordance with state law.

Status:

A&B. Implemented.

5. Ticket Accountability

A. Summonses issued for nontraffic ordinance violations were not numbered, and records were not maintained to track their issuance and disposition.

B. A record was not kept indicating the ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and summons issued.

Recommendation:

The municipal division:

A. Request the city to obtain prenumbered summonses and account for the numerical sequence.

B. Work with the police department to maintain a record indicating the ultimate disposition of each traffic ticket and summons. A system should be established to allow cross-referencing between police case numbers and court case numbers.

Status:

A&B. Not implemented. See MAR No. 1.

STATISTICAL SECTION

History, Organization, and
Statistical Information

TWENTY-NINTH JUDICIAL CIRCUIT
MUNICIPAL DIVISIONS
HISTORY, ORGANIZATION,
AND STATISTICAL INFORMATION

Organization

The Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit is composed of Jasper County. The Honorable George Baldridge serves as Presiding Judge. There are nine municipal divisions within the Twenty-Ninth Judicial Circuit. The city of Oronogo Municipal Division is reported on separately.

The municipal divisions are governed by Chapter 479, RSMo 1994, and by Supreme Court Rule No. 37 titled "Ordinance Violations and Traffic Violations Bureau (TVB)." Section 479.050, RSMo 1994, provides that each municipal division may establish a TVB in which fines and costs are collected at times other than during court and transmitted to the city treasury.

Operating Costs

The operating costs and court salaries of each municipal division are paid by the respectively municipality.

Municipal Division Organization, Personnel, and Caseload Information

1. City of Carl Junction

Organization

A part-time court clerk is primarily responsible for recording transactions as well as handling collections and disbursements. Police dispatchers collect fines, court costs, and bonds when the Court Clerk is off-duty. The court maintains two bank accounts; one for the deposit of fines, court costs, and restitution, and one for bonds. Fines and court costs are disbursed by check to the city treasury after each court date. Restitution monies are disbursed by check to the respective recipients. Bond deposits remain in the bond account pending disposition. Court is held once a month. A TVB has been established to receive payment of fines and court costs at times other than during court.

AUDIT REPORT

SPECIAL REVIEW
OF
HARRIS-STOWE STATE COLLEGE

From The Office Of State Auditor
Claire McCaskill

Report No. 99-33
May 12, 1999

Office Of The
State Auditor Of Missouri
Claire McCaskill

Audit Report # 99-33 May 12, 1999

The following findings are some of the problems discovered after our office conducted an audit of Harris-Stowe College in St. Louis.

Harris-Stowe has hired consultants to perform various professional services for the institution. Our review of these consulting expenditures disclosed various concerns regarding the procurement and documentation of these services.

For example, for several years Harris-Stowe has contracted with three former employees to provide consulting services. The related expenditures totaled $101,500 during fiscal year 1997 and the first half of fiscal year 1998. Two of these consultants write grant proposals and advise on various programs. The other individual serves as the College's Executive Institutional Consultant. For 1997 and prior, the College contracted with these three people without soliciting bids for the services as required. When the College realized these services should be bid, a Request for Proposals (RFP) for each of these services was prepared in fiscal year 1998.

The RFPs included restrictive qualifications and it appears they were written to mirror the three consultants' qualifications. One such restrictive qualification was that the person had to have "six years of successful administration of Harris-Stowe's Title III-B program". The manner in which these professional services were procured had the effect of compromising the intent of the bidding process and may have unfairly prevented other possible consultants from being considered.

The State Auditor recommended Harris-Stowe ensure consulting services are competitively bid in accordance with state purchasing guidelines, and that the procurement process is handled in a manner consistent with the intent of the law.

For a number of years, the College President's compensation package has included specified amounts for a tax sheltered annuity and a housing allowance. The College did not adequately oversee, properly account for and correctly report these fringe benefits for tax purposes for the tax years 1992 though 1995. Because it was Harris-Stowe's Board of Regents' intent that these benefits be tax free to the President, in 1996 the College paid the President additional "grossed-up" compensation totaling $192,839 to cover the related income tax liability. This amount included $21,088 in interest charges. As a result, the College incurred additional expenditures of at least $21,088.

The President is now responsible for paying the applicable taxes on his benefits.

FACT SHEET

Despite the tax reporting problems discovered and corrected for 1995 and prior, we also noted additional problems in accounting for and reporting fringe benefits of the President in 1996 and 1997. Also in fiscal year 1997, the College provided $100,000 more in life insurance coverage for the President than the amount authorized by the Board of Regents. The State Auditor has recommended specific improvements in the administration of compensation issues.

The College has established a five year master plan for campus expansion, which includes the design and construction of six new buildings on campus. Concerns were noted regarding the manner in which the College procured the design and construction management services related to the first of these new buildings, a new library/technology center building.

The College needs to improve documentation regarding the architectural firms considered for design services, and ensure a written description of the scope of the services is prepared as required by state law. The cost of the design services was approximately $175,000. In addition, the College did not advertise for proposals regarding construction management services (costing approximately $83,500) as required by state law, instead these services were negotiated with the firm which designed the building.

The College provides various insurance benefits for its employees. Our review of the College's handling of these benefits disclosed various problems. For example, the College did not reconcile billing statements and eligibility lists from its medical insurance carriers to appropriate personnel and payroll records on a periodic basis. This resulted in the College paying premiums for employees who no longer worked for Harris-Stowe.

Insurance premiums are not always paid on a timely basis. As of April 1998, some premiums had not been paid since December 1997. Furthermore, in early 1997, the College quoted the wrong premium rate to employees and the College paid an additional $16,700 from College funds making up for the mistake. Harris-Stowe needs to improve its control over its employee insurance programs.

Other findings included:

- Harris-Stowe's competitive bid requirements for purchases over $3,000 were not always followed.

- Harris Stowe has not solicited bids for its checking and depository services, nor have policies and procedures been established for the type of investments and bank accounts used by the College.

- The controls over the bank accounts, insufficient funds checks, and electronic transfers between bank accounts need to be improved.

Harris-Stowe agrees with the majority of the State Auditor's findings and is implementing the Auditor's recommendations.

STATE AUDITOR'S REPORT

CLAIRE C. McCASKILL
Missouri State Auditor

Honorable Mel Carnahan, Governor
and Board of Regents
and
Dr. Henry Givens, Jr., President
Harris-Stowe State College
St. Louis, Missouri 63103

We have conducted a special review of Harris-Stowe State College. The objectives of this review were to:

1. Review and evaluate selected College personnel practices and procedures.

2. Review and evaluate certain College purchasing practices and procedures.

3. Review certain internal control procedures, legal compliance issues, and management practices to determine the propriety, efficiency and effectiveness of those procedures and practices.

Our review was made in accordance with applicable generally accepted government auditing standards and included such procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances. For the year ended June 30, 1997, Harris-Stowe State College engaged KPMG Peat Marwick, Certified Public Accountants, to perform the annual audit of the College. Prior to fiscal year 1997, annual audits of the College were performed by Sailor, Khan and Company, Certified Public Accountants. To minimize any duplication of effort, we reviewed the audit reports and letters to management of these firms. We also reviewed budgetary and planning records, policies, and expenditure records. Our review included, but was not necessarily limited to the policies, practices, and transactions of fiscal year 1997, and the period from July 1, 1997, to December 31, 1997.

As part of our review, we assessed the College's management controls to the extent we determined necessary to evaluate the specific matters described above and not to provide assurance on those controls. With respect to management controls, we obtained an understanding of the design of relevant policies and procedures and whether they have been placed in operation and we assessed control risk. In order to assess control risk, we performed tests of controls to obtain evidence regarding the effectiveness of the design and operation of certain polices and procedures. For the purpose of this review, we have classified the management controls as purchasing and accounts payable, cash and accounts receivable, facilities planning operations, personnel, contracts, and safeguarding resources.

Our review was limited to the specific matters described above and was based on selective tests and procedures considered appropriate in the circumstances. Had we performed additional procedures, other information might have come to our attention that would have been included in this report.

The accompanying History, Organization, and Statistical Information are presented for informational purposes. This information was obtained from the College's management and was not subjected to the procedures applied in the review of Harris-Stowe State College.

The accompanying Management Advisory Report presents our findings and recommendations arising from our review of Harris-Stowe State College.

State Auditor's Current Recommendations

SPECIAL REVIEW OF HARRIS-STOWE STATE COLLEGE
SUMMARY OF FINDINGS

1. Payroll and Fringe Benefits Reporting (pages 9-13)

In 1995, instances of malfeasance were discovered involving two employees in the Comptroller's Office. Although the College has made changes in policies and procedures, various weaknesses were still noted in the controls over the payroll and personnel system.

The College did not adequately oversee, properly account for and correctly report the President's fringe benefits for tax purposes for the tax years 1992 through 1995. As a result, the College incurred additional expenditures of at least $21,088. We also noted additional problems in accounting for and reporting fringe benefits in 1996 and 1997.

2. Consulting Services (pages 13-16)

The College did not properly solicit competitive bids for consulting services provided by three former employees. Adequate documentation to support the evaluation and selection process for consultants was not always retained. The College sometimes pays bills for consulting services when adequate supporting documentation has not been submitted. The College's Executive Institutional Consultant sometimes approved payroll authorization forms and certain other expenses on behalf of the President.

3. Design and Construction Management Services (pages 17-18)

The College did not maintain adequate documentation regarding the architectural firms considered for the design services related to the first of six buildings to be constructed during the campus expansion. All information submitted were not maintained nor was a written description of the scope of services prepared. The College did not advertise for construction management services related to this building as required.

4. Expenditures (pages 18-21)

The College's competitive bid requirements for purchases over $3,000 were not always followed. The College needs to improve its controls over the review, approval, and payment of expenses. The College needs to look for ways to reduce its overall food costs. The College needs to develop policies or tighten controls over memberships and telephone calling cards. Some expenditures noted may not be a prudent, reasonable, or necessary use of College funds.

5. Cash Management (pages 21-26)

The College has not solicited bids for its checking and depositary services, nor have policies and procedures been established for the type of investments and bank accounts used by the College. The controls over the bank accounts, insufficient funds checks, and electronic transfers between bank accounts need to be improved.

6. Employee Benefits (pages 26-29)

The College does not reconcile billing statements and eligibility lists from its medical insurance carriers to appropriate personnel and payroll records on a periodic basis. Insurance premiums are not always paid on a timely basis. In early 1997, the College quoted the wrong premium rate to employees and the College paid an additional $16,700 from College funds when it elected to absorb the difference between the quoted and actual rate. The College needs to improve its control over the group life, accidental death/dismemberment, and long-term insurance program.

7. Accounts Receivable (pages 29-31)

Emergency loans made to students are not administered in accordance with College policy. Monthly reconciliations between the subsidiary ledgers and the general ledger accounts are not performed. The College should reevaluate the policy of allowing payroll advances to employees.

8. Accounting System and Controls (pages 31-34)

The College has not developed a policies and procedures manual for the accounting system, and the accounting staff did not appear to be properly trained and supervised. Access to the accounting system needs to be restricted. Forms W-2 are prepared based on an employee identification number rather than the employee's social security number. We noted various errors on the 1997 Forms 1099 MISC. Many expenditures were not coded correctly. An excessive number of employees have the capability to add vendors to the accounts payable system and to add account numbers to the Chart of Accounts. In addition, the vendor file has numerous duplicate vendors.

9. Payroll and Personnel Matters (pages 35-38)

The College needs to establish written job descriptions for its academic and non-academic positions and establish pay grade and/or salary range schedules for its employees. Personnel information related to individual employees was not always complete. A number of errors were noted in the employee leave records. The final payroll check to terminated employees was not always the proper amount or supported by adequate documentation. The College paid severance pay and unemployment benefits for two employees who left employment with the College under unfavorable circumstances. Performance appraisals were not prepared in accordance with College policy. The College's outside employment policy and employment contracts with the academic staff are in conflict with each other. Policies and procedures are not updated timely and changes are not distributed to all employees.

10. Food Service Contract (pages 39-40)

The College needs to improve its control and oversight over the food service operations and ensure any food service provider is required to comply with all contractual provisions.

11. Cellular Phones (pages 40-41)

The College needs to develop a formal written policy regarding the use of cellular phones. Cellular phone bills were not reviewed and authorized before payment and were not paid on a timely basis.

12. Fixed Assets (pages 41-43)

Deficiencies were noted in the College's fixed asset records and procedures. In addition, the College should ensure there is a valid reason for equipment items to be checked out for an extended period of time.

1. Payroll and Fringe Benefits Reporting

A. In 1995, the College President appointed a committee to investigate certain allegations related to the Comptroller's Office which had been brought to his attention. In September 1995, the committee reported various instances of malfeasance involving the Comptroller and a payroll clerk.

The College referred this matter to various federal agencies for further investigation, including law enforcement agencies. The College terminated the employment of these two individuals in December 1995. In November 1996, the former payroll clerk was ordered to make restitution of $4,254 to the College. In February 1997, the former Comptroller was indicted on charges of tax evasion and making false statements on a federal student aid application.

Although the College has made changes in the policies and procedures in the Comptroller's Office since that time, we still noted various weaknesses in the controls over the payroll and personnel system, as noted later in this report. The College should periodically review its policies and procedures over the payroll and personnel functions to ensure improper activity like that described above does not reoccur.

B. For a number of years, the College President's compensation package has included a base salary and fringe benefits which have included specified amounts for a tax sheltered annuity and a housing allowance. The College also has paid premiums for life insurance, spouse medical coverage and long-term care coverage, and has furnished the President an automobile. During our review, we noted that the College did not adequately oversee, properly account for, and correctly report the President's fringe benefits for tax purposes as follows:

1) In 1996, the College determined the taxable value of the fringe benefits provided to the President in previous years had not been reported as required to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) and state and local tax authorities, and applicable payroll taxes had not been withheld. It appears this situation was identified during the investigation of the problems noted in part A, above. Subsequently, the College worked with the IRS to determine the tax liability.

Since the income tax implications of these fringe benefits were not documented at the time they were provided, the Board of Regents conferred with various current and former board members and it was the recollection of these individuals that the board's intention was that these benefits were to be tax free to the President. Therefore, the Board of Regents decided the College would be liable for the tax liability for 1992 through 1995. To pay this liability, the College paid the President additional "grossed-up" compensation totaling $192,839 in 1996. This amount represents the initial income tax liability plus an additional amount to cover the increased tax liability on the reimbursed income tax liability.

As a result of this situation, the College incurred additional expenditures of at least $21,088, the estimated interest portion of the tax liability. It should be noted that correspondence in August 1989 from the College's auditors indicated the tax implications of a housing allowance and tax sheltered annuity had been researched and the auditors had concluded that it appeared these benefits should be included in gross income and subject to taxation. It appears the College did not follow the advice of their auditors in the proper handling of these benefits.

2) For 1996 and subsequent years, the Board of Regents decided the President would be liable for the applicable taxes on his fringe benefits. Despite the problems noted above which the College identified and corrected in 1996, our review of Forms W-2 and 1099 issued by the College for 1997 and 1996 disclosed additional problems as follows:

   a) In 1997, the College did not correctly calculate the cost of life insurance furnished the President by the College for coverage of more than $50,000. Under Internal Revenue Code Section 79(a), the cost of employer-provided group-term life insurance coverage greater than $50,000 is to be included in the employee's gross income, should be reported as compensation on the employee's W-2, and be subject to social security and Medicare tax. The College initially reported the taxable cost of excess group-term coverage for the President as $527. The proper amount was actually $4,914.

      The College reported the value of this life insurance benefit to the state's Office of Administration (OA), and OA included this amount on the President's W-2 issued by the state. When we reviewed this calculation, we determined the value of the life insurance reported did not include all months the life insurance was in effect. After we brought this matter to the attention of College personnel, the College sent corrected information to OA, and OA issued a revised 1997 W-2 for the President.

      It should be noted that this situation also applied to various other College employees, with the amount of compensation initially underreported for those individuals ranging from $1 to $333.

   b) In 1996, the Form 1099 issued for the President's fringe benefits did not include the value of the automobile furnished by the College. While we did not calculate the amount compensation was underreported in 1996 as a result of this situation, the value of the automobile furnished to the President in 1997 as determined by the College was $1,628.

3) In fiscal year 1997, the College provided $100,000 more in life insurance coverage for the President than the amount authorized by the Board of Regents. The Board of Regents had approved life insurance coverage of $300,000 for that fiscal year, while coverage of $400,000 was actually provided by the College.

For a number of years, the College has carried a separate $100,000 life insurance policy for the President. The College provided the remainder of the life insurance coverage for the President through its group-term insurance program for all employees. In 1997, the College did not consider the $100,000 policy in the insurance being provided the President, and paid the entire approved amount of life insurance for the President through the program for all employees. As a result of this situation, the College incurred excess costs for insurance premiums related to the President's insurance coverage.

The Vice-President of Business and Financial Affairs corrected this situation in 1998, after we began reviewing this area.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Periodically review its policies and procedures over the payroll and personnel functions to ensure controls are adequate and that improper payroll activities do not occur without being detected.

B.1 &2. Ensure all provisions of compensation packages are adequately documented and the tax liabilities and reporting requirements related to fringe benefits provided to all employees are handled and accounted for properly. In addition, the College should consider the advice of its auditors and other professionals and ensure pertinent information is considered and discussed with the Board of Regents, as needed and on a timely basis.

3. Ensure the benefits being provided the President are in accordance with the compensation package authorized by the Board of Regents.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The test of an institution's commitment to safeguard public funds is its ability to identify problems and take corrective action. Although no institution is immune from wrongful conduct by an individual employee, the institution must be vigilant to limit any potential loss of public funds. The Board of Regents of Harris-Stowe State College ("College") is pleased that the Office of the State Auditor ("Auditor") recognized the College's actions in investigating the misconduct of two employees in the Comptroller's Office two years prior to the state's audit of the College. The College's investigation resulted in the termination of both employees and contributed to their successful prosecution. The prompt actions of Dr. Henry Givens, President of the College, avoided any financial loss to the College. The College's remedial actions did not, however, end with the removal of two employees. Rather, at the direction of the Board of Regents and under the direction of Dr. Givens, the College reviewed its accounting and business practices, and the staffing of its financial departments. As the College pursued its expanding mission, it became even more imperative to employ professionals who would guarantee an efficient and safe handling of its funds. These efforts were initiated, and in large part completed, prior to the state's audit.

These prospective actions included, but were not limited to, retention of a new Vice President of Business and Financial Affairs, Rochelle Tilghman. Ms. Tilghman is a licensed certified public accountant possessing a Masters of Science degree in taxation. Her experience includes over twenty years of fiscal experience in local, state and federal environments. In addition, in 1998, the College hired a new Comptroller, Constance Bowman, who is responsible for monitoring the internal controls put in place to safeguard college funds. Ms. Bowman is a licensed certified public accountant with over ten years experience in the fiscal arena, including internal and external auditing, as well as management consulting for governmental agencies and not-for-profit organizations. Moreover, in 1996, the Board of Regents replaced its former external auditors with KPMG Peat Marwick, L.L.P. Since 1996, the College has received two unqualified opinions from KPMG. The Board of Regents believes that this team of internal professionals and external auditors will guarantee that college funds are fully utilized in carrying out the College's mission of providing the highest quality education to its students.

The College accepts the Auditor's recommendation and already has in place a procedure to monitor its payroll and personnel functions.

B. The presidents of each state college and university are provided with a residence without tax consequences or with a commensurate housing allowance. In the early years of Harris-Stowe, there were simply no funds available to provide Dr. Givens a residence on the College's campus. In recent years, the College has undergone a broad building program to provide classroom space for its expanding student programs. It was and is Dr. Givens' preference that all available funds be dedicated to student needs and not diverted to building the president a home. Acting under advice of outside professionals, the Regents provided Dr. Givens with a housing allowance intending it to be a tax-free benefit. Indeed, had the College built the president a home on campus, his housing would have been tax-free.

As noted by the Auditor's office, the College did not learn of the tax consequences attached to its provision of a housing allowance until early 1996. A memorandum from its external auditor in 1989 suggested there may be such tax consequences. However, this memorandum was provided to the College's Vice President for Business and Financial Affairs at the time, not to the College's President or Board of Regents. The memorandum was not forwarded to the President and the College's external auditor did not comment on this potential liability in any succeeding audit. Thus, neither the President nor the Board of Regents were made aware of the potential tax liability until it was discovered as a result of the work of the investigative committee formed by Dr. Givens in 1995.

When the President and Board of Regents discovered the tax issue in 1996, two steps were taken - one immediate and long-term. Since it had always been the Board of Regents' intent to provide a tax-free housing allowance consistent with other state college presidents, the Board of Regents assumed financial responsibility for the tax liability, consistent with the board's employment agreement with Dr. Givens. Long-term, the Board of Regents and Dr. Givens dealt with the issue of why this tax liability was not reported to the board or President in a timely manner. As previously noted, these actions included replacement of the College's outside accounting firm and replacement of the College's Vice President for Business and Financial Affairs. These actions were all taken prior to the state's audit of the College. Unfortunately, the failure to report resulted in an interest payment to the IRS of $21,088 that the College would not have expended if the tax issue had been promptly reported to the Board of Regents or to Dr. Givens. The College accepts responsibility for this $21,000 payment.

Since the College became part of the state system of higher education in 1979, the College had never been audited by the Office of the State Auditor. As a new college in the state system, assistance and guidance from the Office of the State Auditor would have been useful during this period.

2. Consulting Services

The College has hired consultants to perform various professional services for the institution. During the period reviewed, these services included grant writing; institutional support; accounting; legislative research; and fundraising. Our review of these consulting expenditures and their procurement noted the following concerns:

A. The state's OA has granted the College the authority, through Chapter 34 RSMo, to procure contractual services directly rather than referring their procurement to the OA, Division of Purchasing and Materials Management. The College must still comply with several of the state's purchasing guidelines. The College must solicit competitive bids for purchases of $3,000 or more. For purchases of $25,000 or more, the College must comply with requirements for public notice, solicitation and advertising in accordance with Sections 34.040 and 34.042 RSMo, Cum. Supp. 1997. According to OA guidelines, the phrase "solicit competitive bids" means that the College must provide a legitimate opportunity for prospective vendors to compete. For several years, the College has contracted with three former employees to provide consulting services for the College. Two of these consultants write grant proposals and advise on various programs, and they received approximately $15,000 and $18,500 , respectively, for the period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997. The other individual serves as the College's Executive Institutional Consultant and received approximately $68,000 for period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997.

   For 1997 and prior, the College contracted with these individuals without soliciting bids for the services as required. When the College realized these services should be bid, a Request for Proposals (RFP) for each of these services was prepared. However, the College's handling of the procurement process compromised the intent of Chapter 34, RSMo.

   It appears the RFPs were written to accommodate the consultants' qualifications. The RFPs contained restrictive qualifications such as "knowledge of HSSC, its people and its strengths ... six years successful administration of HSSC's Title III-B program"; "extensive knowledge of Harris-Stowe State College and its programs"; "extensive knowledge of the history of Harris-Stowe State College and its predecessor institutions ... exceptionally knowledgeable of the College's current academic programs, mission expansion and campus expansion efforts".

These qualifications outlined in the RFPs represented qualifications held primarily by the existing consultants and had the effect of excluding other possible consultants from consideration. The College received only one response to each of these three RFPs; those being from the consultants already providing the service. It appears the manner in which the College procured those services contributed to this lack of response.

Soliciting proposals and entering into a truly competitive bidding process does not preclude the College from selecting the vendor or individual best suited to provide the service required. Good bidding practices provide the College with a range of possible choices and allow it to make a better-informed decision to ensure necessary services are obtained from the best qualified vendor at the lowest and best cost.

B. The College did not always retain adequate documentation to support the evaluation of proposals received and the selection process. As a result, it was difficult to determine whether the procurement of various other services was handled properly.

1) The agreement for legislative research services in effect for the period November 1, 1997 to June 30, 1998, provided for consulting fees of at least $13,600. We obtained the RFP for these services and the response to the RFP from the consultant selected; however, the College could not provide us with information/documentation regarding the number of RFPs sent to or proposals received from other interested parties, or the review and selection criteria.

   In addition, the scope of services provided under this consulting agreement included obtaining various reports and other information which it appears would be readily available to the college. It is unclear why the college paid a consultant to obtain information which it could readily obtain itself. We also noted the agreement for legislative research services for the period October 1, 1996 to June 30, 1997, included similar services. This agreement provided for consulting fees of $16,000, requiring $7,000 of this amount to be paid at the inception of the agreement, before any services were performed.

2) The College pays a consultant $2,500 per month for fundraising services. It appears proposals for these services were solicited in April 1996, for fiscal year 1997. We observed a letter from the evaluation committee which indicated two responses were received and evaluated, and recommended the College retain the consultant already providing the service. However, the College could not provide us with a copy of the RFP identifying the scope of these services, or documentation that the College complied with the requirements of public notice, solicitation, and advertisement as required by state law.

   The current contract provides for the renewal of these services through fiscal year 2000.

All documentation related to the solicitation, advertisement, and evaluation of proposals should be retained to demonstrate the College's compliance with the state's competitive bidding requirements. In addition, the College should reconsider the need for paying a consultant to obtain information which it could readily obtain itself. In addition, payment for consulting services should be made after the services are provided.

C. The College sometimes pays bills for consulting services when adequate supporting documentation has not been submitted as follows:

1) The RFP for legislative research services provides for a suggested number of hours per month, with the consultant to be paid for a minimum number of hours in total for the entire contract period. We noted that when the consultant bills the College for services, he submits a narrative of his activities; however, his invoice does not indicate the number of hours worked during that period. As a result, the College has little assurance that the consultant is being paid based on the actual hours worked, or that the minimum number of hours as specified in the RFP will be fulfilled.

2) The monthly invoice for fundraising activities does not describe any tasks performed or when performed, but is simply a request for payment of the "monthly installment". As indicated earlier, the College could not provide us with documentation defining the scope of these services; therefore, it is difficult to calculate the reasonableness and propriety of the amounts paid.

The College should ensure that adequate supporting documentation is provided for any consulting services paid. Documentation should describe the tasks performed and the time spent on these duties if the consultant is paid on an hourly or other per unit basis. Lack of adequate documentation prevents the College from evaluating the appropriateness of the consultant services being billed.

D. The College's Executive Institutional Consultant sometimes approved payroll authorization forms and certain other expenses on behalf of the President. It does not appear a consultant should be authorizing and/or approving expenditure transactions in lieu of proper authorization by a College official.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Ensure consulting services are competitively bid in accordance with state purchasing guidelines, and that the procurement process is handled in a manner consistent with the intent of the law.

B. Ensure all information/documentation related to the solicitation, advertisement, and evaluation of the RFPs is properly retained. In addition, the College should reconsider the need to pay a consultant to obtain information which it can readily obtain itself. Also, payment for services should be made after the services are provided.

C. Ensure consultants are paid in accordance with contract provisions and only when adequate documentation to support the billings has been provided.

D. Consider the appropriateness of allowing a consultant to approve and/or authorize transactions which would generally be considered the responsibility of the College's management.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Pursuant to Chapter 34 of the Missouri Revised Statutes, the College is required to seek competitive bids for any purchase, rental, or lease of any equipment, article, or thing in excess of $3,000. While the College concurs with the Auditor's finding that it had not solicited competitive bids for some consulting services provided to the College prior to fiscal year 1998, the College does not agree that the manner in which it subsequently solicited bids for these services compromised the intent of Chapter 34.

First, each Request for Proposal ("RFP") for consulting services sets forth the specific qualifications necessary to perform the tasks associated with the consultation without a lengthy, and thereby costly, learning period. As a result, the College obtained the needed services from the best qualified vendor at the lowest possible cost. While the Auditor has concluded that these specific qualifications had the effect of excluding other candidates from consideration, the College believes that any number of its former employees and other higher education personnel in the St. Louis metropolitan area met the qualifications and could reasonably have submitted bids to provide the consulting services sought. Moreover, the use of emeritus employees to perform consulting services is an established and accepted practice at institutions of higher education.

Second, in a finding related to the intent of Chapter 34, the Auditor cites a number of purportedly "restrictive" qualifications contained in the RFPs distributed by the College. The Auditor suggests that every RFP reviewed contained each of the qualifications referenced. In fact, the qualifications cited by the Auditor were extracted from at least three different RFPs, none of which contained all of the "restrictive" qualifications referenced in the audit report.

Furthermore, though not mandated to do so by statute, the College solicited competitive bids for consulting services by publishing the RFPs in the St. Louis Record, a legal publication circulated in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Because the College does not believe that its actions relating to the solicitation of competitive bids for some consulting services for fiscal year 1997 were contrary to state purchasing guidelines or inconsistent with the intent of Chapter 34, the Auditor's recommendation is superfluous. With rare exception, the College has followed all state statutes and guidelines with respect to soliciting bids for consulting services. It should also be noted that in no case did the College expend public funds in excess of reasonable amounts for the services provided.

B. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation.

C. With respect to the instances cited, the College concurs with the Auditor's findings and recommendation. Moreover, the College requires the submission of a copy of the contract, the invoice, and the validating signature of the appropriate administrator after services are performed and before any payment for consulting services is rendered.

D. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and recommendation.

3. Design and Construction Management Services

The College has established a five-year master plan for campus expansion. The plan includes the design and construction of six new buildings on campus. In April 1995, the College contracted with an engineering and architectural firm for the design of the first of these six buildings, a new library/technology center building. The design fee was approximately $175,000. This agreement was subsequently amended in May 1997 to include construction management services for the new library/technology center building. The cost of these additional services was approximately $83,500. The total estimated construction cost of this building was approximately $2,100,000. We noted the following concerns regarding the procurement of design and construction management services of the new library/technology center building:

A. The College did not maintain adequate documentation regarding the architectural firms considered for the design services. Although the College had documentation indicating six firms were evaluated for design services, the College could only provide us with the information submitted by the firm selected. In addition, the College did not have a written description of the scope of the proposed services.

   The College should maintain complete documentation related to the procurement of architectural services, including all information received. In addition, Section 8.291, RSMo 1994, requires that a written description of the scope of the proposed services should be prepared during the procurement of engineering or architectural services as a basis for negotiations.

B. The construction management services were not procured in accordance with state law. The College negotiated with the firm which designed the building to provide construction management services without advertising for proposals for these services.

   Section 8.679, RSMo 1994, provides that if the cost of a construction project exceeds $1,500,000, proposals for construction management services shall be solicited by advertisement in a specified manner. The proposals are then to be evaluated based on various criteria as outlined in Section 8.681, RSMo 1994.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Retain all information received related to the procurement of engineering and architectural services. In addition, a written description of the scope of the proposed services should be prepared as required.

B. Advertise for the procurement of construction management services in accordance with state law.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation.

B. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation. It should also be noted that the amount paid by the College was consistent with, if not lower than, the St. Louis market rate for such services.

4. Expenditures

College records indicate expenditures, not including personal service costs, totaled approximately $4,325,000 and $9,900,000 for the period July 1, 1997 to December 31, 1997 and for the year ended June 30, 1997, respectively. Our review of these expenditures disclosed the following:

A. College purchasing guidelines require competitive bids for purchases over $3,000. For purchases over $25,000, the College must comply with requirements for public notice, solicitation, and advertisement in accordance with Chapter 34, RSMo. During our review of expenditures, we noted some items were not properly bid. For example, for the period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997, the College paid its recruiting/advertising firm over $26,000 for services (this amount does not include the actual costs of advertising). According to College personnel, this service has not been bid for several years. In addition, the College paid approximately $224,000 for janitorial services for the period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997. It appears this service was last bid in 1995. Also according to College personnel, the College bookstore service has not been bid since 1986. For the period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997, the College paid over $95,000 for the bookstore purchases. Other purchases noted that were not bid include robot kits and parts totaling $9,189, school banners totaling $7,972, and a chartered bus for the baseball team totaling $3,287.

Purchasing policies should be enforced to ensure items or services are purchased at the lowest and best price. In addition, competitive bidding also helps ensure all vendors are given an equal opportunity to participate in College business.

B. We noted the following weaknesses in the reviewing, approving, and paying of College expenses:

1) Many payments did not include adequate supporting documentation. For example, the invoices and other supporting documentation for meal charges did not generally identify the business purpose of the meal or the names of those individuals provided meals. In addition, payments made for credit card purchases were generally paid from the credit card statement, without an attached, itemized list of items purchased or services received. Hotel statements did not usually include an itemized statement of the charges.

Also, the College did not retain delivery slips for courier service; therefore, the delivery slips were apparently not reconciled to an invoice before payment was made.

2) Disbursements are made from a signed distributing order. The distributing order requires two signatures, an authorizing approval signature and approval signature. It appears the employee with knowledge about the disbursement generally authorizes the distributing order, and then the transaction is to be approved by the employee's supervisor. However, the College does not require the supporting documentation such as invoices to be reviewed or initialed by either the individual authorizing the disbursement or the supervisor who approves the disbursement.

3) The College did not always make payments on a timely basis. During our review of expenditures, we noted at least $1,900 was paid for late fees/charges on items such as cellular phone bills and credit card statements. In addition, we noted the College incurred an IRS penalty of $1,392 in late 1996 for insufficient or untimely payroll tax deposits.

4) It appears invoices are not always reviewed for mathematical accuracy prior to being paid. During our review, we noted overpayments, totaling over $600, to vendors because of mathematical errors on the invoices.

The College should establish policies and procedures to ensure bills are properly reviewed and authorized, invoices are mathematically accurate, and bills and other required payments are paid timely. In addition, the College should ensure that adequate documentation is attached to support all expenditures. All meal purchases should identify the business purpose and the individuals provided meals. Credit card and hotel statements should be supported by an itemized list of charges and delivery slips for courier services should be retained and reconciled to invoices.

C. The College's expenditure records indicate that during the period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997, food expenditures totaled over $94,000 from various unrestricted funds. Those food costs included expenses related to travel by College employees on official business and food purchases related to various meetings of the faculty, staff, President's cabinet, and Board of Regents.

While a certain level of food expenses is probably necessary, those costs need to be assessed in terms of their importance compared to other critical education needs of the College. The College should review this area and look for ways to reduce its overall food costs.

D. During our review of expenditures, we noted various types of expenditures for which policies have not been developed. These areas include the following:

1) For the period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997, College records indicate the College spent approximately $30,000 for individual memberships and dues to various organizations. A written policy should be developed to clarify what types of memberships are allowed, and perhaps, limit the number or dollar amount per employee. A written policy would provide guidance for employees in determining memberships that would be allowed, as well as give the College greater control over expenditures and ensure the memberships are beneficial to the College.

2) The College provides telephone calling cards to some employees to use for College business. According to College personnel, only international calls are reviewed so the call can be charged to the proper department. Our review of the telephone calling cards disclosed some calls were made on weekends and some calls were made to the applicable employee's home. No documentation was maintained to indicate whether these calls were of a personal nature or for the benefit of the College.

The College should ensure adequate controls are established over charges incurred on telephone calling cards.

E. During our review, we noted other expenditures which may not be a prudent, reasonable, or necessary use of College funds as follows:

1) We noted instances where tickets were purchased for faculty and staff, students, regents, and special guests for events such as awards dinners and/or dinner roasts, sporting events, and concerts. College records indicated over $20,000 was spent on cultural and social event tickets for the period July 1, 1996 to December 31, 1997.

2) The Harris-Stowe Foundation is a not-for-profit corporation established to provide support and assistance to the College. During our review, we noted the College sometimes provides meals for Foundation meetings. In addition, we noted the College spent over $2,300 in August 1997 for an appreciation dinner for the Foundation Board. Providing public funds to private organizations appears to be inappropriate and may violate provisions of the Missouri Constitution.

It is important that all expenditures be viewed in terms of the critical needs of the College. In times of limited resources, expenditures should be evaluated and compared to the overall goals and responsibilities of the College. In addition, the College should not donate public funds to its Foundation.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Ensure purchases of goods or services are properly bid in accordance with established purchasing policies and state law.

B. Establish written policies and procedures to ensure bills are properly reviewed and authorized, invoices are mathematically accurate, and bills and other required payments are paid timely. In addition, the College should ensure that adequate supporting documentation is retained and attached for all payments.

C. Review food expenses closely to ensure they are necessary and benefit the College. An effort should be made to reduce expenditures in this area, if possible.

D.1. Establish a policy which addresses payment of employee dues and memberships. The policy should cover the number of memberships that will be paid per employee or establish an annual dollar amount that may be spent by an employee. It should address the types of organizations which may be joined at the College's expense, limiting such memberships to those which will benefit the College.

2. Establish adequate controls to ensure the proper use of telephone calling cards.

E. Ensure all expenditures are necessary and a proper use of College funds. The College should not donate public funds to the Foundation.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-C. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendations.

D. Participation by institutions of higher education, including the faculty and professional staff, in the multitude of collegiate professional associations is highly encouraged by the national higher education accreditation organizations and is indeed a requisite for professional growth. The College's participation level is appropriate and is considered by the College to be a necessity. Moreover, individual memberships are carefully scrutinized by the appropriate Vice President and must be related to the College's mission. Institutional memberships are recommended by Vice Presidents and ultimately considered for approval by the College's President.

The College has maintained adequate internal controls to prevent employees from misusing long distance telephone calling cards. It should be noted that only 16 of the 160 College employees have been issued long distance telephone calling cards. Issuance of the calling cards is based solely on the employees' job assignment. Calling cards have been issued to employees, all of whom travel regularly on behalf of the College. It should further be noted that the costs associated with the use of long distance telephone calling cards is minimal.

E. During the period referenced by the Auditor, the College was heavily engaged in a major fundraising effort to support its mission and campus expansion. To date, fundraising efforts have brought in $21.7 million of its $30 million goal. Participation in community events is deemed an integral part of the development effort. Furthermore, tickets to some cultural events were purchased, using earmarked grant funds, for participants in the College's programs for low income and first generation pre-college and college students.

The College concurs with the Auditor's findings with respect to the Harris-Stowe Foundation and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation.

5. Cash Management

Our review of the controls, policies, and procedures related to the College's banking practices and handling of receipts disclosed the following concerns:

A. The College has not solicited bids for its checking and depositary services nor entered into a written agreement with its depositary bank. To ensure the quality of banking services and ensure interest earnings received by the College are maximized, the College should procure its banking services through a competitive bid process. In addition, the College should enter into a written agreement with its depository bank.

All such agreements should require that deposits in excess of Federal Depositary Insurance Corporation (FDIC) limits be secured by bank assets pledged to the College. In addition, the bank service agreement provisions should include, but not be limited to, any bank fees for check printing, checking account services, safe deposit boxes, interest charges for borrowed funds, and interest rates for invested funds. A written depositary contract helps both the College and the bank understand and comply with the requirements of any banking arrangement.

B. The College has not established policies and procedures for the type of investments and bank accounts needed to maximize the interest earnings of the College. Currently, receipts are deposited in regular checking accounts, super negotiable order of withdrawal accounts, a saving account, and a money market account. Funds deposited for the campus expansion are invested in certificates of deposit, U. S. Treasury notes, and other government securities.

Monies in the College's unrestricted account that are not needed for day-to-day business are swept daily by the bank into a treasury money market account. This treasury money market account is exempt from state income tax. As a result, it appears the investment return was probably lower than investments which are taxable. Since the College does not pay state tax, it appears this account did not provide the College with as high a return as other investment alternatives.

The average rate of return on this account in 1997 was approximately 4.6 percent. In contrast, the rate of return on overnight repurchase agreements of the State Treasurer's office in fiscal year 1997 was approximately 5.5 percent. Considering the average balance of this account was approximately $580,000 in 1997, it appears the College could have earned an additional $5,200 in interest in that year had it maintained this money in a comparable higher yielding account.

Monies should be maintained in the highest yielding investment legally possible, while still considering the liquidity needs of the College and security of the funds. The College should establish policies and procedures for the appropriate types of investments, including bank deposits and government securities that meet its needs.

C. The College collects monies for tuition and fees, from federal, state, and local grants and contracts, and from private donations. The majority of these monies are received by check, money order, credit card, and wire transfer; however, over 10 percent is received in cash. The Cashier's Office collects and deposits these funds. Our review of the Cashier's Office noted the following concerns:

1) The College has twenty-eight bank accounts, and it appears a separate bank account has been established whenever monies are received for a specific program. At the time of our review, we noted four accounts had a zero balance and were not being used. Another account had a balance of approximately $1,300 and was also inactive.

A large number of bank accounts requires additional record keeping and increases the likelihood that errors will occur in the handling of funds. Overall efficiency could be improved by reducing the number of accounts to as few accounts as needed. Consolidating existing accounts would also allow funds to be pooled for increased investment opportunities.

2) Bank reconciliations are not adequate and are not prepared on a timely basis. In addition, according to College personnel, there is limited supervisory review of the bank reconciliations. During a review of the December 1997 bank reconciliations for the unrestricted account, general disbursement account, and the payroll account we noted the following problems with the bank reconciliations of these accounts:

* The amount of outstanding checks on the reconciliations was not always supported by a detailed list of checks.

* Some transfer amounts recorded in the general ledger did not agree to the amounts actually transferred per the bank statements. In addition, some transfer amounts recorded on the general ledger never appeared on the bank statements.

* Some credit card receipts which were refunded (due to students dropping classes) and deducted from the bank account were not recorded in the general ledger.

* On December 11, 1997, the bank validated a deposit with included $174 in cash; however, this amount did not get credited to the account in December 1997. College personnel were not aware of this bank error until we brought it to their attention in March 1998. The $174 was identified on the December 1997 bank reconciliation as a deposit in transit. The bank credited $174 to the College's account in March 1998.

* Some adjustments on the reconciliations appeared to be plug numbers to agree bank to book, and were carried forward from month to month. These adjustments are not investigated and corrected on a timely basis.

* We noted seven payroll checks, totaling $2,102, which had been outstanding since June or September 1996.

Monthly bank reconciliations are necessary to ensure the accounting records agree with bank records and to detect misstatements on a timely basis. In addition, checks outstanding for over a year should be investigated and reissued if necessary.

3) Receipts are not deposited intact. The College allows employees to cash personal checks out of daily cash receipts. Cashing personal checks from daily receipts is a poor practice and reduces the accountability for monies received.

4) Checks and money orders are not restrictively endorsed until deposits are prepared. To reduce the risk of loss or misuse of funds, checks and money orders should be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D. Individuals giving the College checks which are returned by the bank for insufficient funds (NSF) are assessed a fee of $15. If the NSF check is from a student, the check amount and fee is recorded on the student's account along with a "hold". A hold on a student's account is intended to prevent further activity (such as registering for classes, receiving grades, ordering transcripts, etc.) until the amount due is paid. Our review of the controls, policies, and procedures over NSF checks disclosed the following problems.

1) The College has not established policies and procedures over the collection of NSF checks. Since September 1997, the College has handled the collection of the NSF checks and related fees. Prior to that, collection was handled by an outside contractor.

The College should prepare written guidelines for the collection of NSF checks. These guidelines should include timely notification and follow-up procedures.

2) The College does not maintain a summary record listing the NSF checks and their disposition. During a review of the bank statements, we noted NSF checks of $189 (in May 1997) and $747 (in August 1997) which were charged against the College's bank account. However, the College was not able to provide information about the payees; whether the check amounts and $15 fees were collected; or whether a hold was placed on the students' accounts, if applicable.

All NSF checks and their disposition should be documented in a summary record to ensure such checks are collected, handled, and accounted for properly.

3) Prior to September 1997, NSF checks and the $15 fee were collected by a collection agency. Because the College did not maintain a summary record of NSF checks and because the collection agency did not identify the checks collected and paid the College monthly, the College cannot readily determine which checks were collected by the agency and the balance due the College.

In February 1998, the College received $3,757 from the agency for NSF checks sent to the agency prior to September 1997 and collected by the agency after September 1997. Because of the poor records, $1,582 of the payment has not been identified and applied to the appropriate students' accounts. College personnel stated that they are still attempting to resolve this situation.

4) The College does not consistently assess and collect the $15 fee. During our review of NSF checks for 1997, we noted that the fee was not collected on one check written by a college employee or on three checks written by students. Two of the students were allowed to enroll even through a hold was placed on their student account. In addition, we noted one instance where the hold was removed because the NSF check amount was paid; however, the fee was not collected.

The College should ensure the $15 fee is assessed and collected. Students should not be allowed to enroll when such amounts due the college are outstanding.

E.1. The College makes numerous electronic transfers (by phone) from the various bank accounts to the general disbursement and payroll clearing accounts; however, an adequate record of the transfers between accounts is not maintained. Documentation for these transfers generally consists of notations on scraps of paper. In addition, it appears authorization for the transfers is generally verbal and given after the transfers are made. Also, as noted above, some transfers recorded on the general ledger did not agree with the amounts transferred between bank accounts.

2. In September 1997, the College transferred $100,000 into the payroll clearing account. According to College personnel, the $100,000 was to serve as a "cushion" to prevent overdrafts. However, this cushion according to the December 1997 bank reconciliations was $74,911. It appears this cushion was reduced because subsequent amounts which should have been transferred to the payroll clearing account according to payroll records were not the actual amounts transferred.

A record of transfers between bank accounts should be maintained and reconciled to the general ledger accounts and bank statements on a monthly basis. In addition, authorization for any transfers should be documented and given before the transfers are made. In addition, if the monthly transfers made to the payroll clearing account are made correctly, there should not be a need for the "cushion" which has been established.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Seek competitive bids for its banking services on a periodic basis, and enter into a written agreement with its depositary bank.

B. Establish policies and procedures authorizing the type of investments which are appropriate and which ensure the College's funds are maintained in the highest yielding investments available.

C.1. Reduce the number of bank accounts maintained to as few as needed to efficiently account for the College's monies.

2. Prepare accurate and timely bank reconciliations. Complete documentation should be prepared to support conclusions, any necessary adjustments, and to facilitate an independent review. In addition, an adequate supervisory review of the bank reconciliations should be performed.

3. Require all receipts be deposited intact and discontinue the practice of cashing personal checks from daily receipts.

4. Require all checks and money orders be restrictively endorsed immediately upon receipt.

D.1. Establish written guidelines for the collection of NSF checks. These guidelines should include timely notification and follow-up procedures.

2. Establish a summary record which lists all NSF checks and documents their disposition.

3. Continue efforts to identify and apply the $1,582 to the proper student accounts.

4. Require the $15 NSF check fee be consistently assessed and collected. In addition, the College should ensure its policy for holds on student accounts is followed.

E. Establish a record of bank transfers and reconcile the record to the general ledger accounts and bank statements on a monthly basis. In addition, authorization for any bank transfers should be documented and be given before the transfers are made. Further, the College should ensure the monthly transfers made to the payroll clearing account are made correctly and reevaluate the need for the "cushion" which has been established.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and recommendation. The College is in the process of developing specifications for the procurement of banking services.

B. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation. Policies and procedures relating to the investment of the College's funds were developed by the Vice President of Business and Financial Affairs and approved by the College's Board of Regents on August 20, 1998.

C. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation. In particular, as of June 30, 1998, the number of active bank accounts maintained by the College was reduced significantly. Additionally, the cashier's office is now fully staffed with employees trained in accounting procedures and policies.

D. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation. Guidelines for handling and processing NSF checks have been established and implemented by the College.

E. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and recommendation. A written procedure for the electronic transfer of the College's funds has been established and implemented.

6. Employee Benefits

The College provides group health insurance coverage to employees, at no cost to the employee. Employees can choose to join a Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) or a Preferred Provider Organization (PPO). Employees are to pay the premium for family coverage through payroll deductions. In addition, the College provides group life, long term disability, and accidental death\dismemberment insurance, at no cost to the employee. Our review of these benefits disclosed the following concerns:

A. The College does not reconcile billing statements and eligibility lists from its medical insurance carriers to appropriate personnel and payroll records on a periodic basis. As a result, the following problems were noted:

1) The February 1998 HMO billing statement included eight employees who had previously terminated employment with the College. The statement also included one employee who moved to part-time status in September 1997, even though the College's policy is to provide health care benefits only to full-time employees.

   As we were reviewing this area, the Director of Human Resources reconciled the current HMO statement and eligibility list to personnel and payroll records and requested a credit for overpayments made to the HMO. As a result, in April 1998, the College received a credit of approximately $6,300 on its statement. This credit included adjustments back to July 1997 and it appears corrected the problems noted during our review.

2) We noted that in February 1998, an employee covered under the PPO plan was not properly charged $323 for the family portion coverage under the plan. Family coverage is to be paid by the employee and the premium amount is to be deducted from the employee's payroll check. The employee selected this coverage in January 1998; however, the College had not updated its payroll records to deduct this amount monthly from the employee's payroll check. As a result, the College inadvertently paid these premium costs. In addition, the February 1998 PPO billing statement also included an employee who was receiving HMO coverage. According to the employee's personnel file, the employee selected HMO coverage and should have been removed from the PPO coverage. As a result, the College incurred costs under both plans for this employee for a period of time. We also noted the College paid the premium for a part-time adjunct faculty employee. As noted above, College's policy is to provide health care benefits only for full-time employees.

By not reconciling the medical insurance carriers billing statements and/or eligibility list to its personnel and payroll records, the College has little assurance that it is paying the proper premium amounts, that employees are receiving the proper benefits, or that withholdings from an employee's wages are handled and accounted for properly. The College should reconcile medical insurance billing statements to appropriate personnel and payroll records on a periodic basis, and ensure terminated employees are removed promptly from the system. In addition, the College should establish procedures and controls which ensure that insurance rates and employee deductions are the proper amount, that premiums are only paid to the provider selected by the employee, and that benefits are paid only for full-time employees.

B. As of April 1998, the College had not paid PPO premiums to the carrier since December 1997. In addition, the monthly billing statements for the HMO in 1998 included a balance due of approximately $40,000. When we inquired about this balance, College personnel determined that the April 1997 premiums had not been paid.

The College should ensure that medical insurance premiums are paid on a timely basis. Not doing so could jeopardize the insurance coverage being provided to employees and/or result in additional costs being assessed for late payment of the premiums.

C. In early 1997, before employees had selected their plan option, the wrong premium rate was quoted to employees for the employee and children option of the HMO plan. According to College officials, when this error was discovered the College initially decided to absorb the difference between the rate quoted the employees ($31 per month) and the rate which was paid to the carrier ($78 per month) for those employees who had selected this plan option. As a result of this situation, an additional $16,700 was paid from College funds to the HMO carrier for the employee and children plan for the period March 1997 to December 1997. These costs would have been paid by the employees had this been handled correctly.

To avoid similar mistakes in the future, the College should ensure adequate care is taken to ensure the costs of various health plan options are quoted correctly to employees. In addition, the College should not pay costs which are not the responsibility of the College.

D. The College provides group life, accidental death/dismemberment, and long-term disability insurance to its employees. Employees may also purchase additional supplemental life insurance. The College acts as the administrator for this plan. Our review of the College's handling of the insurance program disclosed the following concerns:

1) The College maintains a spreadsheet related to the employees' insurance basis, the type of benefits and rates, age of employee, etc. The spreadsheet is used to calculate the monthly insurance premium due the insurance carrier. We noted numerous errors in the spreadsheet which appeared to be formula errors. For example, the insurance basis for an employee (two and one-half times the employee's annual salary) was not always the correct amount. Also, the amounts noted for the employees' annual salaries and the supplemental insurance basis were not always correct. As a result, the College has little assurance the premium paid is the proper amount.

2) The March 1998 spreadsheet included a student worker and a terminated employee. In addition, two other employees were included twice. As a result, the College incurred additional premium costs which should not have been paid.

3) The payroll records did not include the proper deduction amount for four employees selecting supplemental insurance. As a result, the College, in effect, paid some premium costs which should have been paid by employees.

4) As of April 1998, the College had not paid the premiums related to this insurance program for February and March 1998. Premium payments are due to the insurance company on the first day of each month. As noted earlier, it is important that premiums be paid on a timely basis to ensure insurance coverage for the employees is not jeopardized and to avoid late assessments.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Ensure medical insurance billing statements are reconciled to the appropriate personnel and payroll records on a periodic basis. In addition, the College should ensure that terminated employees are removed promptly from the system and its policy of providing benefits for only full-time employee is followed.

B. Ensure medical insurance premiums are paid on a timely basis.

C. Ensure the health insurance rates are quoted correctly to employees and, in the future, refrain from paying the cost of benefits that should be paid by the employees.

D. Establish policies and procedures to ensure the insurance plan is administered properly. This would include ensuring the premiums are paid on a timely basis and are the correct amount.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-D. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendations.

7. Accounts Receivable

The College has established various accounts receivable including accounts related to payroll advances made to employees, emergency loans made to students, and student accounts for tuition and fees. Our review of these accounts receivable noted the following concerns:

A. The College provides short-term emergency loans to students. Such loans, are not to exceed $75 and are to be repaid within thirty days. These funds are provided by the College and private donors. The balance of outstanding emergency loans at February 28, 1998, totaled approximately $6,300.

Many of these loans have been outstanding for a significant period of time, with some of these loans dating back to 1995. According to accounting personnel, the College has not established any procedures (such as sending statements to the students) to collect past due accounts. Instead, a hold is placed on the student account, which is intended to prevent the student from receiving any further services from the College (such as receiving a transcript or registering for classes) until the loan is repaid. However, even with a hold, a student may enroll in classes with special permission. We also noted seventeen loans, totaling $2,387, which were for more than $75. In addition, several students received an additional loan when they already had an outstanding loan.

The College should establish procedures for the collection of emergency loans. In addition, students should not receive emergency loans in excess of the established limit or receive an additional loan if a previous loan has not been repaid. The emergency loan program should be administered in accordance with established policies and effectively managed to safeguard the College from possible loss of funds or prevent College funds from being committed for an extended period of time.

B. The balance of the subsidiary ledger for student emergency loans does not agree with the general ledger amount. The College has not recorded general ledger journal entries recommended by its independent auditors for the year ended June 30, 1997, and does not reconcile the subsidiary ledger to the general ledger on a monthly basis.

In addition, the balance of the subsidiary ledger for student accounts receivable (outstanding tuition and fees) was $406,868 at March 31, 1998. However, the general ledger account balance was $330,837 at that date. According to accounting personnel, a reconciliation between the subsidiary ledger and the general ledger is not performed because there are errors in the general ledger which have been carried forward from period to period, and because the College has not recorded general ledger journal entries recommended by its auditors for the year ended June 30, 1997. A monthly reconciliation between the subsidiary ledgers and the general ledger accounts would detect errors or irregularities on a timely basis.

C. The College allows employees to request payroll cash advances for the purpose of assisting them when facing unusual or unexpected financial obligations. Two payroll advances may be obtained by an employee during any fiscal year and the advances are available on or after the sixth working day of the month. The payroll advance is limited to 25 percent of the prior month's net payroll amount. Reimbursement of an advance is made through a payroll deduction or a post-dated check.

Such payroll advances decrease the control over expenditures and increase the paperwork for the accounting office. For example, an employee who is normally paid through the state payroll system must be moved to the local payroll system from the state system when a payroll deduction is made for a payroll advance. Then, the next month, the employee must be reentered on the state system. The College should reevaluate this policy of allowing payroll advances.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Establish collection procedures for student emergency loans and enforce the policy of limiting loans to $75.

B. Perform a monthly reconciliation between the subsidiary ledgers and the general ledger for the emergency loans and the student accounts receivable. In addition, adjusting journal entries should be posted on a timely basis.

C. Reevaluate the policy of allowing payroll advances to employees.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. Only those students who have made satisfactory arrangements for repayment of past due emergency loans are allowed to register for and remain enrolled in classes. In addition, in November 1998, the College revised its written policy and procedure to more effectively prevent students with past due balances from registering for classes.

B. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation. As of July 1998, the subsidiary and general ledgers are reconciled on a monthly basis.

C. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation. The policy allowing employees to obtain a limited number of cash advances was repealed by the College's Board of Regents on September 23, 1998.

8. Accounting System and Controls

The College has developed an accounting system and procedures to enable it to process revenue and expenditure transactions. A review of the accounting system and related procedures disclosed the following areas of concern:

A. The accounting department has experienced a high turnover in personnel in the last several years. Supervisors and staff in the accounts payable, accounts receivable/cashier, and payroll sections have been moved to new positions or assigned additional responsibilities because of the turnover. During our review, we noted that some employees did not appear to always understand their duties/responsibilities. According to accounting personnel, they receive little supervised on-the-job training after accepting new positions or duties. In addition, there is no accounting manual that provides guidance about policies, procedures, controls, or documentation.

Employees need written policies and procedures to ensure operations are conducted in accordance with management's intent and applicable legal provisions, and to assist employees in properly performing their assigned responsibilities. In addition, employees should receive adequate training and supervision to ensure they understand their duties/responsibilities.

B. The College's accounting system is computerized and the software modules include the general ledger, report writer, accounts receivable, accounts payable, and payroll/personnel. The security software package controls who can access the accounting system. During our review of computer security, we noted the following concerns.

1) It appears access to the various functions within the modules is not adequately limited. In addition to two software support personnel, the supervisors for accounts receivable, payroll, and accounts payable, a payroll clerk, the Director of Human Resources, and the Vice President for Business and Financial Affairs can access all modules. Eight other employees have access to all modules except for payroll/personnel. As a result, some employees have access to functions which they do not need to perform their duties.

   By not adequately restricting access to various functions within the modules, the risk of unauthorized use or modification of the data is increased.

2) The College has not revoked access to the accounting system on a timely basis when an employee terminates employment. At our request, College personnel provided a list of employees who still could access the accounting system. Four former employees were included on the list. When an employee terminates employment, that individual's access to the accounting system should be revoked promptly.

C. Full-time employees whose salaries are funded by various grants, employees who receive overtime pay, and employees who receive supplemental pay for additional duties are paid through the local payroll system. In addition, all part-time employees and student workers are paid through the local payroll system. An employee receives an identification number for the type of pay from the local payroll system.

   As a result of this situation, an employee may have more than one identification number. For example, an employee may have three identification numbers; one for pay from grant funds, one for overtime pay, and one for supplemental pay for additional duties. We noted that for 1997, approximately thirty-five employees received more than one Form W-2 from the local payroll system. This is because the Forms W-2 are generated based on the employee's identification number, rather than the employee's social security number.

   Better control over payroll expenditures would be achieved by issuing Forms W-2 based on the employees' social security numbers. This could also possibly reduce the administrative time required to process these forms.

D. The College issues Forms 1099 MISC to vendors who receive payments of $600 or more in the aggregate during a calendar year in accordance with federal tax requirements. These forms are to be issued to the vendor by January 31. During our review of the 1997 Forms 1099 MISC, we noted various errors. For example, we noted a Form 1099 MISC was not issued to a vendor who received over $600, some amounts on the Forms 1099 MISC did not agree to the College's expenditure records, and some social security numbers were not correct on the Forms 1099 MISC. When we brought these matters to the attention of College personnel, the College issued corrected 1997 Forms 1099 MISC to the applicable vendors/individuals.

The College should establish procedures to ensure the Forms 1099 MISC are issued in all applicable instances and include accurate information.

E. The College has developed a very detailed, descriptive expenditure coding system. For example, phone costs can be broken down into several different categories including local service, internal system service, long distance service, leased phones, telephone maintenance/repair, telephone purchase, cellular/wireless phone, and voice mail. This coding system, if properly used, would provide an excellent basis for monitoring expenditures.

However, during our review of expenditures we noted many expenditures were coded incorrectly. For example, the College did not always appropriately split the costs of meals and membership dues for the St. Louis Club and the Missouri Athletic Club. Sometimes, the entire month's bill was charged to meals and other times the entire month's bill was charged to membership dues. In addition, food provided by the College's food service vendor was sometimes charged to meals and other times to catering. Many items were coded to a category called "Other Public Relation Costs" or "Miscellaneous Professional Services", rather than using a code which would be more descriptive of the expenditure.

Properly coding expenditures enables the College to better monitor how funds are spent. Such information could assist College personnel in making budgeting decisions and allocating resources.

F.1. The College uses an automated invoice processing system to process bills paid by the College. To receive payment, vendors must be entered in the system with a vendor number. According to personnel, only employees in the Purchasing and Accounts Payable department actually add vendors; however, all personnel with access to the accounting software package (approximately sixteen employees) have the capability to add vendors to the system.

This capability could allow unauthorized payments to be processed. Greater controls should be established to ensure only authentic vendors are entered on the payment system. Ways to enhance controls would be to reduce the number of employees with the computer capability to add vendor records, and initiate a supervisory review of newly established vendor numbers.

2. Our review of the vendor list disclosed numerous duplicate vendor names, each with a separate vendor number. Many times the duplicate entry was due to a slight difference in spelling such as "St. Louis" vs "Saint Louis". The current software package will not permit the removal of vendors, except by purging them from the file. According to personnel, the College has never purged the vendor file.

Deleting duplicate vendor names and inactive vendors would give the College better control over vendor information and would result in a more efficient operation.

G. Numerous College personnel can add account numbers to the College's computerized Chart of Accounts. These new account numbers are not always approved by the appropriate management employees. According to College personnel, the account number, especially the expenditure code, is not always consistent from fund to fund.

Greater controls should be established to ensure only properly approved account numbers are added to the Chart of Account. Ways to enhance controls would be to reduce the number of employees with the computer capability to add accounts, and initiate a supervisory review and approval of newly established accounts.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Develop a policies and procedures manual for the accounting system. In addition, the College should take steps to ensure the accounting staff is properly trained and supervised.

B. Take steps to restrict access to the various functions within the accounting modules to only those personnel who need access to perform their duties. In addition, the College should promptly revoke access by terminated employees to the accounting system modules.

C. Consider preparing Forms W-2 based on social security number rather than employee identification number.

D. Establish procedures to ensure Forms 1099 MISC are issued in all applicable instances and include complete and accurate information.

E. Instruct accounting personnel on proper coding procedures to ensure expenditures are classified appropriately.

F.1. Evaluate the controls over vendor records and consider reducing the number of people with access to these computer records. In addition, newly established vendor numbers should be reviewed periodically by someone in a supervisory position.

2. Purge the vendor file of duplicate and inactive vendors on a periodic basis.

G. Evaluate the controls over the Chart of Accounts and consider reducing the number of people with the ability to add new accounts. Newly established accounts should be approved by someone in a supervisory position and be consistent from fund to fund.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A&D. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendations.

B. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation within the limitations of the College's current accounting software package.

C. While the College concurs generally with the Auditor's findings, issuing more than one Form W-2 to an employee who works overtime or is compensated from various sources is sometimes the only effective manner of ensuring that the employee's wages are accurately and properly reported to the Internal Revenue Service, Missouri's Department of Revenue, and the city of St. Louis Collector of Revenue.

E. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and has implemented the Auditor's recommendation. Moreover, training, clarifications, and guidance on various subjects are provided on a continuous basis both in-house and by the state Office of Administration.

F. While the College concurs with the Auditor's findings, many of the problems noted are due to the limitations of the College's existing accounting software package. However, the College has never had an unauthorized vendor added to the vendor file.

G. While the College concurs with the Auditor's findings, many of the problems noted are due to the limitations of the College's existing accounting software package, which does not provide for limited access to certain accounting functions. However, internal controls have been established to prevent the addition, either inadvertently or deliberately, of any unauthorized vendor. An updated version of the College's current accounting software package has been obtained and is being installed. The College is reviewing the availability of improved accounting software packages and has committed to acquisition of a new software package in 2001.

9. Payroll and Personnel Matters

Personal service costs represent the College's single largest expenditure category. These costs (salaries and fringe benefits) totaled over $8,500,000 for the year ended June 30, 1997. Our review of the College's payroll records and personnel policies and procedures disclosed the following concerns:

A. The College has not established written job descriptions for its academic and non-academic positions. Written job descriptions are necessary to document the duties, responsibilities, and qualifications for each position, and help ensure that qualified people fill the positions. Written job descriptions could also help the College identify duplicate and overlapping duties and non-essential positions, as well as providing a basis in which to evaluate employee job performance.

B. The College has not established pay grade and/or salary range schedules to determine salaries for its academic and non-academic employees. The lack of an established pay and/or salary range may lead to confusion and assertions of inequity and preferential treatment among College staff.

Each position should be graded as to pay and/or salary range to ensure individuals are fairly compensated, commensurate with their job responsibilities and experience, and to ensure limited financial resources are allocated in the most efficient and effective manner.

C. Complete personnel information for individual employees was not always maintained. Missing information included employment applications, authorizations of initial employment salary rates and salary increases, withholding authorization forms, and employee performance appraisals.

Complete personnel information related to individual employees should be maintained to help ensure payroll expenditures and deductions are handled and accounted for properly.

D. The Human Resources Office is responsible for maintaining the College's employee leave records. A review of the records noted the following exceptions:

1) We noted a number of errors during our review, which appear to be caused by employee mistakes. For example, vacation accrual rates were not always adjusted for the employee's length of service. Some leave taken was not recorded at the correct amount on the computerized leave record. We also noted an instance when accrued unused sick leave at termination was not reported to the state properly. In addition, leave recorded on the leave slips did not always agree to the leave recorded on the employees' time sheets. We also noted that an explanation was not always provided for leave marked as "other". As a result, some leave balances did not appear to be correctly stated.

2) Documentation for compensatory time earned is maintained by various college offices, instead of being centralized in the Human Resources Office. As a result, documentation to support compensatory time earned was handled inconsistently and was not always adequate to document that the compensatory time was actually earned.

The College should ensure that employees receive adequate training to help ensure the leave accumulation system is maintained accurately. In addition, the documentation for compensatory time earned should be centralized within the Human Resources Office.

E. During our review of terminated employees, we noted the following concerns:

1) We noted an employee was underpaid $648 upon termination in November 1996. This error occurred because the College only paid the employee for unused vacation time, and not for the days worked up to the date of termination. After we brought the situation to the attention of College personnel, the College issued a check for $648 to the former employee in May 1998.

2) We noted the termination date of former employees as recorded in the College's payroll system was not always correct. It appears this problem was caused because 1) the payroll system was not always updated when an employee terminates employment or 2) the proper termination forms were not filed in the individual's personnel file.

In 1998, the Director of Human Resources "cleaned up" personnel files and recorded the date the file was cleaned up as the termination date.

3) Three personnel files reviewed did not contain an employment contract and/or a payroll authorization form to document the approved salary at the date of termination. In addition, two personnel files did not contain the final check computation form. As a result, it was not possible to determine if the final payment made to these employees was proper in these instances.

4) Sometimes the final check computation form was initially prepared and then verified/approved by the same individual. We also observed one instance where the terminating employee completed her own final check computation form, and the form was not verified/approved by a second individual.

5) The College requested the resignation of two employees, for cause in December 1995. However, these employees subsequently received severance pay, totaling $7,751 and $1,694. These employees also filed for unemployment benefits, which the College did not contest.

College policy provides that an employee can be suspended or dismissed, without prior written notice, for serious offenses. It does not appear to be a prudent use of public funds to pay severance pay or unemployment benefits to employees who are terminated for cause or who have left employment with the College under unfavorable circumstances.

The lack of proper termination and salary authorization could lead to errors in employee payments. The College should ensure the final check computation form is properly computed, verified, and filed in the employee's personnel file, and supported by adequate documentation. In addition, the computerized payroll files should be updated promptly. Further, the College should consider the appropriateness of paying severance pay or not contesting unemployment benefits for employees who are terminated for cause or left employment with the College under unfavorable circumstances.

F. College policy requires that a performance appraisal be completed for each employee once a year. Nine of twenty-four personnel files reviewed did not contain a current performance appraisal.

The College should ensure employee performance appraisals are prepared in accordance with established policy. Performance appraisals can lead to improvement of performance and be used to evaluate employees for salary increases, promotion, and other personnel action.

G. The College's outside employment policy allows employees to engage in other employment or consulting provided that such work does not interfere with the employee's work at the College. Employees who engage in outside employment or consulting must complete a "Secondary Employment Information Form," have it approved by that individual's supervisor, and file the form with the Human Resource Office within thirty days of the start of the other employment. Secondary employment forms are filed in the employee's personnel file.

During our review of this area, we noted one employee also taught six hours at a local community college, but a secondary employment form was not in that individual's personnel file. Upon further investigation, we determined that the employment contracts with the academic staff provide that only if an employee engages in other employment of twelve or more hours per week is the employee required to obtain written permission before entering into the outside employment.

It appears the College's outside employment policy and employment contracts with the academic staff are in conflict with each other. The College needs to clarify its policy regarding outside employment for at least those employees on the academic staff.

H. The College has developed numerous policies and procedures to guide faculty and staff in the performance of their duties. It appears that changes to the policies and procedures are not updated on a timely basis and are not distributed to all employees.

The Faculty Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual and the Non-Instructional Staff Personnel Policies and Procedures Manual were last updated in 1991 and 1995, respectively. The Board has updated some of the policies in these handbooks in the last several years.

Maintaining complete policy manuals is important to ensure accurate information is available to employees in an easily accessible form. Manuals should be updated on a timely basis and revisions promptly distributed to all employees.

WE RECOMMEND the College:

A. Develop written job descriptions for all positions which includes duties, responsibilities, and qualifications.

B. Consider adopting a pay salary range schedule for both the academic and non-academic staff.

C. Ensure complete personnel information is maintained for all employees.

D. Establish training for employees to reduce the errors made in the leave system. In addition, the College should ensure documentation to support compensatory time earned is filed in the Human Resources Office.

E. Establish checks and balances to ensure the final payment to terminated employees is proper and supported by adequate documentation. In addition, the College should consider the appropriateness of paying severance pay or not contesting unemployment benefits for employees terminated for cause or who have left employment with the College under unfavorable circumstances.

F. Ensure employees are evaluated annually in accordance with College policy.

G. Review and revise its outside employment policy, as necessary and ensure it is consistent with the provisions of any employment contracts.

H. Ensure personnel policies are updated on a timely basis with revisions distributed to all employees.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and recommendation. The College's experienced Director of Human Resources, hired in January 1998, has been charged with the task of developing job descriptions for both academic and non-academic positions.

B. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and recommendation, to the extent appropriate for institutions of higher education. The College's Director of Human Resources has been charged with the task of developing pay grades and/or salary ranges appropriate to colleges and universities and consistent with the College's governance policies.

C-F. & H. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and is in the process of implementing the Auditor's recommendations.

G. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and recommendation. The College's current policy regarding secondary employment is currently under review by the College's administration.

10. Food Service Contract

The College has used the services of three different cafeteria food service providers in the last several years. Our review of this situation disclosed following concerns:

A. The contract for the food service provider in 1996 required the College to reimburse the provider for all costs of operation not covered by sales. In addition, the College was required to pay a fee of $500 per month. In any month in which sales exceeded all expenses plus the $500 fee, the excess amount was to be returned to the College. We reviewed a $10,000 payment to this provider. The invoice appeared to be for several months' losses plus the monthly fee. There was no supporting documentation from the provider substantiating the losses. It appears the College paid the provider pending review and verification of the provider's expenses; however, College personnel could not provide us any documentation to indicate that a subsequent verification of the operating losses was performed.

B. A second provider handled the food service activity from February to December 1997. The contract included a provision that if the providers' gross sales did not exceed $16,000 for a given month, the College would reimburse the provider 75 cents for each dollar of shortfall, up to a maximum of $600. The provider was to furnish the College its operating statements, an accounting of all sales and a copy of sales tax receipts (filed with state). We reviewed two subsidy payments of $600, and noted the provider did not furnish monthly operating statements and copies of its sales tax reports to support these requests for reimbursement. However, the College paid the amounts requested.

The College terminated its contract with this provider in December 1997 because of unsanitary conditions.

C. Since January 1998, the College has contracted for food service on a month-to-month basis until the service can be rebid. The current agreement provides the College will pay the provider $600 per month when sales are less than $10,000, and the provider will pay the College two and one-half percent of all monthly sales greater than $10,000. According to College personnel, as of April 1998, the College had not received adequate financial information from this provider. At that time, the College had not made any payments nor had the provider paid any monies to the College.

The College needs to improve its oversight and control over the food service operations. The College should ensure its food service provider complies with the provisions of any agreement entered into and ensure it receives adequate financial information related to the provider's profit or loss on operations. Such information should be reviewed on a timely basis and subsidy payments should not be made unless there is sufficient supporting documentation.

WE RECOMMEND the College improve its control and oversight over the food service operations and ensure any food service provider is required to comply with all contractual provisions. This would include furnishing adequate financial information regarding the profit or loss on operations and making required payments to the College, as applicable. Any financial information received should be reviewed on a timely basis and any subsidy payments should not be made unless there is sufficient supporting documentation.

AUDITEE'S RESPONSE

A-C. The College concurs with the Auditor's findings and is in the process of implementing the Auditor's recommendation.

11. Cellular Phones

For the period July 1, 1997 to December 31, 1997, and for the year ended June 30, 1997, the College expended approximately $7,700 and $13,500, respectively, for cellular phone usage. The College has a separate contract for each of its nine cellular phones. The monthly fee for four of the phones is $145, which includes 500 peak and unlimited off- peak minutes. The monthly fee for the other five phones ranges from $20 to $33 per month. During our review of cellular phone usage, we noted the following concerns:

A. The College has not developed a formal written policy regarding cellular phone usage.

B. Six of fifteen (40 percent) cellular phone bills reviewed were not supported by adequate documentation. Two of the bills only included a remittance slip to support the payment. The other four bills did not include a detail list of the calls made.

C. The College allows the cellular phones to be used for personal business; however, any additional costs related to this usage is to be reimbursed to the College. A review of this situation disclosed the following concerns:

1) Except for the President's bills, there was no indication the bills were reviewed by the individual assigned the phone (to identify personal calls) or reviewed and approved by that employee's supervisor.

   We noted several bills included numerous calls to the applicable employee's home phone number. In several instances, over fifty calls were made to the home phone number in a one month period. Calls were also made on weekends and outside the employee's regular work schedule, with some calls made after midnight. While some of these calls may have been for College business, there was no documentation maintained to support this usage.

2) According to College personnel, the reimbursement of personal calls on cellular phones is handled by secretaries in the various vice president's offices. The individual who used the phone is to indicate which calls are personal and the secretary calculates the amount due the College. The individual then pays the reimbursement amount at the Cashier's Office.

   During our review, a receipt could not be located in the Cashier's office to support a reimbursement in four instances where we were told a reimbursement had been made. In addition, since a detail billing was not available for some bills, we could not determine if reimbursement for any personal calls was made in these instances.

Considering the personal usage of cellular phones does not provide any clear benefit to the College, consideration should be given to prohibiting such use, except in cases of emergency.
